5. Material changes in the status of property and equipment such as changes in location, sale of items, and any purchase or sale of the real estate should be recorded for the management information.

POLICY NUMBER FOURTEEN: RISK MANAGEMENT

The school should maintain an insurance program to protect the school against any losses that may occur due to the many normal and unusual hazards. Insurance policy and coverage should be approved by the Board of Directors, and comply with LACOE's MOU requirements. Insurance certificates should be kept on file in the school's administrative office at all times and available for inspection.

POLICY NUMBER FIFTEEN: DEBT MANGEMENT

The purpose of this policy is to enhance the school's ability to manage its debts in a fiscally conservative and prudent manner. The effects of decisions regarding types of borrowing, covenants and terms, interest rates, and payment structure directly impact the school's ability to continue operation.

1. The Executive Director is responsible for administering and maintaining the school's current obligations under direction of the Board. The Executive Director's Finance Committee should meet with the Executive Director and Board regarding the status of the school's existing debt and to make specific recommendations.
2. No new debt should be incurred without approval of the Board.
3. Advance written notification of all borrowings should be provided to LACOE as per the current MOU requirements.
4. All approved annual budgets should include timely repayments of all outstanding debt, or include a reasonable repayment plan for such debt if timely repayment is not possible.
5. Prior to incurring any borrowing, the Executive Director should prepare a financial analysis showing the effect of the borrowing on current and future operations for the Board to make an informed decision.
6. The school should take all practical precautions and proactive measures to avoid borrowing decisions that can negatively impact current or future operations.

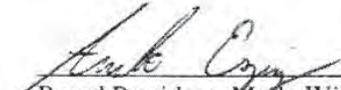

POLICY NUMBER SIXTEEN: CONFLICT OF INTERESTS

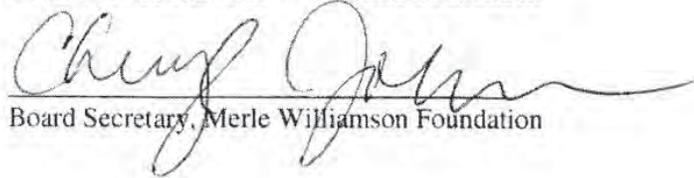

Any Board member with a financial interest in a matter presented to the Board shall fully disclose such interest prior to Board discussion on the issue and shall excuse him/herself from the discussion and voting on the matter.

All school officials mentioned in this handbook shall adhere to and maintain compliance with all requirements set forth in the Merle Williamson Foundation Conflict of Interest Policy and the County's Conflict of Interest Policy.

All school officials mentioned in this handbook shall adhere to and maintain compliance with all requirements set forth in Government Code 1090 et. Seq. and the Political Reform Act of 1974.

Recommendations for Inclusion in Fiscal Policy

After reviewing the fiscal policy for WAYS, we recommend the addition and revision of the following procedures:

1. Policy Number One: Budget Preparation and Implementation Policy-Ensure the budget is in compliance with Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (GAAP), board policy, and finance-related legal requirements. All expenditures will match budget expectations. Revenue from any Federal or State sources will be committed in accordance with all specific federal/state laws or requirements applicable.
2. Policy Number Two: Time Sheet and Payroll Procedures-Designate an employee to maintain personnel files.
 - Each personnel file should contain the following information, at minimum:
 - Employment application or resume
 - A record of background investigation results
 - Date of employment
 - Employment agreement
 - Position, pay rates, and changes therein
 - Authorization of payroll deductions
 - Earning records for non-active employees
 - W-4 Form
 - I-9 Form
 - Termination data, when applicable
 - All personnel files are to be kept locked in a locking file cabinet in the business office.
 - Payroll deductions are to be recorded properly and paid to the appropriate third parties on a timely basis. Also, all payroll reports to third parties shall be submitted on a timely basis.
3. Policy Number Three: Purchase and Other Procurement Procedures-Formal bidding procedures will be used for service and other contracts anticipated to cost more than $10,000 (ten thousand dollars). Specification and bidding requirements should include:
 - Specifications to be prepared by the administration
 - Specifications to be approved by the Board
 - Specifications to be mailed to any identified potential bidders
 - All bids to be submitted in sealed envelopes and plainly marked as indicated in the bid specifications

 - The bidder to whom the award is made to be required to enter into written contract and purchase order.

4. Policy Number Four: Contracting Policies and Procedures

- The contractor must provide the school with a completed form DE542, Employment Development Department Report of Independent Contractor, at the time of signing the contract
- All contracts that exceed $25,000 should be signed and approved by the Board

If so, then reasons for the nonpayment of these invoices should be discussed with the responsible staff member.

6. Policy Number Six: Reimbursements

- Reimbursement forms must be approved by the Executive Director, the supervisor, and signed by the recipient.

7. Policy Number Seven: Use of Corporate Credit Cards and Procedures

- The Board will authorize the credit card uses as follows:
 - Travel related expenses
 - Meeting/conference expenses
 - Online purchases where purchase orders are not accepted

The Petty Cash Fund reconciliation and associated receipts should be attached to the check request for replenishment.
- The petty cash account should be reconciled monthly. When the petty cash account is reconciled, the appropriate expense account should be charged in the school's general ledger. Once reconciled, request for replenishment can be processed.
- The Director of Operations should review petty cash transactions and make periodic counts of petty cash fund
- The petty cash account may not be used to cash payroll checks or other personal checks.

9. Policy Number Nine: Financial Reporting Review Procedures – The school's accounting system will be in conformity with the California School Accounting Manual. Accounting method will follow Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (GAAP) guidelines for nonprofit reporting. All budgets and financial reports will be presented using full accrual accounting in alignment with annual audited financial statements. The school will follow the financial reporting guidelines required by Education Code section 47604.33, 47605(m) and 47604(3).

FISCAL POLICY

POLICY NUMBER ONE: BUDGET PREPARATION AND IMPLEMENTATION

ANNUAL BUDGET

The school shall annually adopt a budget as a planning tool to implement its strategic plan. The budget will be approved by the Board, and implemented by the management staff. The staff will also update the board on the status of the budget through the Finance Committee and make necessary adjustments as needed.

BACKGROUND:

In order to manage the resources of the school, a budget has to be prepared to reflect the priorities of the school, and also help achieve its goals and objectives.

PROCEDURES:

Executive Consultant:

- Informs the School Director of the guidelines and procedures for the year's budget process. Provide the management staff with the formats and timelines for preparing the school budget.
- Review the budget and check the calculations and the basis for the calculations.
- Make revenues estimates in coordination with the School Director, taking into consideration the state funding, fundraising, investment activities and other income sources.
- Prepare a draft budget based on the requests by the School Director taking into account other operating expenses of the school, and all other contractual obligations of the school. This budget will include both capital and operating budgets for the fiscal year.
- Meet with the School Director and review the budgets, their assumptions and computations related to both revenue projections and expenditure estimates. In reviewing the budgets for recommendation to the finance committee the priorities of the school, revenue availability and fiscal responsibility must be considered.
- Prepare the final recommended budget based on agreements reached from the meeting with the School Director for presentation to the Finance Committee and Board of for approval.

POLICY NUMBER TWO: TIME SHEET AND PAYROLL POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

PAYROLL

All employees on payroll must be hired by the School Director and must have worked for the hours being paid, those hours having been properly documented and approved by the School Director. The expense must be properly recorded in the accounting records to the correct account to facilitate availability of accurate and timely financial information for management's use in making decisions.

BACKGROUND:

The school hires employees to work on its operations, in order to achieve its objectives. The employees in turn get paid on a timely basis and the information on these costs is made available to school management for decision making.

PROCEDURES:

Responsibility of the employee:

- Punch in time card and fill in the time sheet on a daily basis when you come in for work, when you take lunch or any other absence, when you return back to on the same day and when you leave for the day. Any specific arrangements outside normal hours should be discussed and approved by the Principal prior to beginning of the assignment.
- No overtime can be worked before obtaining approval from the Principal.
- Salaried employees are required to sign a sign-in log on a daily basis.
- At the end of each pay period each hourly employee is required to finish completing their time sheet that was being completed on each working day and give them to the Administrative Assistant for approval. The employee should make sure they complete the total regular hours, overtime hours, vacation, sick, and other hours worked each day and for the pay period. If you work on more than one job on a regular basis you should complete a time sheet for each job. Just state what hours you worked for each job on the same time sheet if you work more than one job on an irregular basis.
- The properly completed and approved time sheet is put in the box of the Administrative Assistant no later than the date it is due for processing. Delay in submitting the time sheet can affect employee pay date.

- If you are a new employee, make sure that you complete a personnel information package, including a W-4 form that gives us information on your tax status. We cannot give you all the money due you without knowing your tax information. Any information related to direct deposit, tax sheltered annuity or any other voluntary deductions should be given to the Financial Consultant no later than the deadline given to you by the business office. If you are hired after the start of a pay period, you will not be paid until the pay period following the period you started working.

Responsibility of the Administrative Assistant:

- Provide all staff with time sheet, sign-in sheet, time card, due date for time sheet, due date for voluntary deductions set up, time clock and other employee package items necessary to accurately complete information for payroll and benefit accrual.
- Collect all the time sheets in your box and any others around the time clock area.
- Verify that the time recorded on the time sheet corresponds with the time clock records. Any unexplained discrepancies should be reported to the Principal for correction or explanation. Any incomplete or unapproved time sheet should be referred to the School Director for completion and approval immediately in time to promptly prepare payroll.
- Verify the time sheet to make sure the computations are accurate and that the information and approvals are made by the appropriate persons and write the account numbers where the salaries will be charged on the time sheets.
- After verifying that everything is correct and that you have every employee's time sheet, sort out using the previous period time report and input into the HRS (see HRS system procedures). Also process the E4 payroll for the pay period, ESA for the 25th and regular monthly payroll for the 10th.
- Print the input information for the School Director to approve for transmission.
- Input new hire and any other employee change information as you get the information from the employee.
- After the checks come back from BBM, verify all the checks to make sure that everything are correct and that the checks appear accurate. Additionally check the payroll reports sent to you to make sure everything balances both to the time reported and other relevant deductions. If there is anything that appears unusual, inform the Financial Consultant or a School Director. Put the checks in envelopes ready to be distributed to employees and leave with the receptionist together with a sign-in list. Instruct the receptionist that nobody should pick-up another persons check without written authority to do so. Before the receptionist gives a check to an employee that employee must sign the list provided as evidence that they have received their check.

Responsibility of School Director:

- Make sure that the new employee package is completed and accurately filled out prior to starting work, especially the I-9, Immigration and Naturalization Form and W-4, Employee Tax Information. The employee should also be given a copy of the employee handbook so they can be aware of the school policies and procedures that affect them.
- Negotiations regarding pay and other benefits should take into consideration the budgetary constraints to make sure that we do not commit to what we cannot pay.
- A personnel action form (PAF) must be completed and given to the Financial Consultant stating how much the employee will be paid, what the effective date is, and what account will be charged for this expense. The PAF and the completed package must be given to the Financial Consultant so that payroll arrangements can be made and personnel file opened for the new employee.
- The School Director must make sure the employee follow the school policies and procedures that relate to them. Any infraction should be cured according to school policies and procedures related to employee discipline.
- Make sure that all employees complete a time sheet and give it to them for their approval on a timely basis.
- Ensure that the time sheet as completed by employees reflect their attendance, including breaks and lunch time, before approving the time sheet.
- Make sure that employees are allowed to take breaks in the mornings and in the afternoons and a lunch break for those who work full-time. Generally, rest periods (breaks) are taken every four hours of work and meal periods (lunch) when someone works six or more hours a day.

- Ensure that overtime worked by the employee is approved in advance and that there is enough funding available to cover the overtime and other related costs.

POLICY NUMBER THREE: PURCHASE AND OTHER PROCUREMENT POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

PURCHASES:

The school will purchase the materials needed to implement the plans and strategies set out by the board and the charter in order to achieve its objectives. In making these purchases the school must ensure that the materials being purchased are necessary for running the school. The school will also ensure that economy of resources is exercised in judging whether there is a need to purchase a certain item, as the school has limited resources for many competing priorities. The purchase must give the school the best deal (price, quality and other criteria considered), and also ensure that there are funds available to pay for the materials. All purchases must be approved by the School Director. The purchase must be documented and recorded in the accounting books.

PROCEDURES:

- All purchases must be initiated by completing a purchase order. Exceptions may be granted by the School Director or Executive Consultant for purchase of certain small items that are less than $100 or in emergency situations.
- Before completing the purchase order the purchaser must assure that there are unencumbered funds budgeted for this purpose and the purchase is being charged to the correct budget category. If there is any question regarding the availability of funds, the Staff Consultant can be contacted for an answer.
- The purchaser must demonstrate, by providing copies of three bids or estimates that the vendor picked provides us with the best deal for the service or product being purchased. (The lowest price may not always be the best deal for the school.)
- For the purpose of getting bids, purchases of $2,999 or less can be done by phone bids, purchases of between $3,000 and $9,999 can be done by written bids on vendor's letterhead. Purchases of $10,000 or more need to be advertised in a more formal competitive bidding process.
- In cases where a particular vendor is known to give us the best deal, once a year research of prices and services is enough to satisfy this criterion.

In such a case copies of the result of the research should be kept on file to be referred to when needed.

- There may also be cases where a vendor is a sole source vendor, which means that the vendor is the only vendor that can supply this product or service. In such an instance it will be impossible to provide bids, but it must be demonstrated that the vendor is the sole source.
- Purchase orders will be issued by Administrative Assistant. The form must be originally filled out, including who to deliver the order to and the account number to which the expenditure is to be charged. The original is given to the Administrative Assistant to fax to the vendor with a return confirmation from the vendor after being approved by the Staff Consultant and the School Director, a copy for the School Director's file, Staff Consultant's file and a copy to the Administrative Assistant (receiving). All originals and copies of purchase orders must have the signatures of the Principal and Staff Consultant.
- All purchase orders must be approved by the Principal and Staff Consultant.
- When the purchaser gets the order they will keep the items in a safe place for use, after making sure that the order received agrees with the purchase order. In certain instances the order might be tracked as to who is using them, so we can allocate them to various programs.

Procedures for Receipt of Order (Administrative Assistant)

- When the order arrives the Administrative Assistant compares the quantity on the packing slip, the purchase order and the order received to make sure they agree. If they agree the packing slip will be initialed and sent to the Staff Consultant with a copy to the School Director.

Administrative Assistant:

- When the original purchase order is received from the Staff Consultant, it is immediately faxed to the vendor. This will be done after checking to make sure the order is charged to the correct account, and funds are available signified by the approval of the School Director and Staff Consultant, evidenced by their signatures.
- A copy of the purchase order is kept in an open purchase order file pending the time the order is filled. It is discarded when the invoice for the purchase is processed. The purchase order is encumbered in the Accounting system to set aside the funds so it will be available to pay for the bill. The purchase order is unencumbered when we pay the bill.

- The Administrative Assistant will check incoming orders to make sure they are consistent with the packing slip and the purchase order. The orders will then be stamped or tagged as property of the Wisdom Academy depending on what kind of item it is. Books will be stamped and equipment will be tagged, while supplies will be inventoried issued as necessary.
- The Administrative Assistant will check all the documentation and make sure they are complete, accurate, and consistent with one another. The Administrative Assistant will also make sure that the correct budget category is being charged and the amount of the bill is computed accurately.
- As part of checking the documentation, the Administrative Assistant will ensure that the invoice being paid is an original invoice, not a copy, and that we are not paying from a statement of account. Please refer to commercial warrant processing for more details on bills processing.

POLICY NUMBER FOUR: CONTRACTING POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

1. All contracts must be approved by the School Director and Staff Consultant. Contracts of up to $2,999 require at least three phone bids, between $3,000 and $9,999 requires three written bids on contractor's letterhead. Contracts of $10,000 and above require formal competitive bidding process. For more information, please see purchase procedures.
2. Before approving a contract, it must be determined that funds are available for this purpose and the payment terms clearly and satisfactorily stated in the contract, considering cash flow needs of the school.
3. In the case of a construction contract, the contractor must be licensed by the state board and have the financial capability to execute the contract, except in cases where an exception is allowed by a Principal.
4. The contractor must have workers compensation and other general liability insurance that will name the school as additionally insured, except in cases where the school agrees to cover the contractor as part of terms of the contract.
5. The contractor must submit a bill based on the original approved contract for the Principal to approve for payment. In the event of change orders, they must be pre-approved by a Principal or their designee and Staff Consultant.
6. The contractor must provide the school with a completed form W-9, taxpayer identification number, at the time of signing the contract.
7. Before the payment is made for construction contracts, the contractor must provide the school with a lien release as to labor and materials to exempt the school from any legal action including mechanics lien related to non payment of labor and material.
8. Before approving payment, the School Director will be certain that the construction was executed satisfactorily (in some cases an expert opinion might be sought to determine this).
9. It is customary to withhold 10% of the contract price until final determination is made on the successful completion of the contract. This will therefore be the practice of the school.
10. A copy of the contract should be filed in the business services office as soon as the contract is signed, to ensure that all documentation is complete and accurate.

11. All independent contractors must be persons that are in business for themselves, set their hours, and are responsible for results and not persons that are normally considered as employees. All other part-time or one-time persons employed by the school should be put on the payroll system, as they are actually employees and not independent contractors. All independent contractors must have a written contract following the procedures outlined above.

POLICY NUMBER FIVE: COMMERCIAL WARRANT POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

COMMERCIAL WARRANTS:

All disbursements, except for those made through the Revolving Cash Fund, Payroll System and Petty Cash, must be made through the Commercial Warrant.

BACKGROUND:

The school has a responsibility to process all payments in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles and other government accounting standards in order to discharge its fiduciary responsibilities as delegated by the board of directors.

PROCEDURES:

Administrative Assistant:

- Picks up mails from the bills mailbox and distribute to various departments where necessary for check requests and approval of the bill.
- Checks the utilities and other general office bills for any error before giving to the School Director for check request approval.
- Double check requests and bills to make sure that all the information and documentation is correct. This information and documentation includes payee, account numbers, original invoice (payments cannot be made with a copy of the invoice or statement of account), relevant purchase order and receiving reports, amounts and appropriate approvals. If any information or documentation is inaccurate or incomplete, the check request must be returned to the responsible party so it can be corrected immediately, for timely processing of the check request. Check requests must not be left with anyone for an unreasonably long period of time as to incur the school, credit problems.
- The check requests are filed in a folder until the scheduled day for input, when they are inputted into the computer system to generate warrants the following day. All the warrant document numbers must be serially numbered, taking time to make sure the first warrant of each batch or day follows the last number as specified in the commercial warrant register. A serial number log must be kept to ensure the numbering system is being adhered to. Each time a number is used it is crossed out to prevent the reuse of the number a second time.

- After inputting each warrant it must be printed and kept on file pending the time the check or warrant comes back from the county.
- After all the check requests are entered in the system a copy of the payments pending district approval report should be printed. This report together with all the check requests and a copy of the appropriation control report should be given to the School Director for approval. A copy of the approved payments should be put on file for future reference.
- Pick up the mail from Bali Business Management the following day and verify that all the warrants were generated and everything related to the warrant is correct. Then attach a copy of the warrant to the check request together with the warrant request earlier printed from the system, staple them together and complete the payment information on the check request. Stamp the documentation as paid and file the whole package in the paid bills folder, after the checks are approved by the check signer.
- Put the checks in an envelope for mailing. If someone has to pick up a check in the office they must sign a log, and if it is an unknown person picture-identification or drivers license should be reviewed to make sure that it is the right person.

The Administrative Assistant:

- Make sure that the bill being approved is a bill the school incurred and that those who incurred them are authorized to incur the bill, and that sufficient amounts are available in the budget to pay for the bill.
- Must be sure that services or goods were actually delivered as ordered and the amounts billed are agreed to and the bill was not previously paid and the invoice is not a duplicate or copy.
- Must be sure that the invoice is being charged to the right budget line item (account number and object code). This information must be provided by completing a check request form, and attaching the invoice, copy of the purchase order and a receiving advice or report noted on the purchase order. Any discrepancy between the invoice and the purchase order must be noted on the bill and reported to the Financial Consultant or School Director.
- The check request must be made in a timely manner for payment to prevent incurring collection and other credit problems.

School Director:

- Make sure that there is enough cash flow to pay the warrants being requested before approving the bills. This can be accomplished by reviewing the cash balance on the report provided by Financial Consultant.
- Check to see that the checks were written to the same payee as stated on the check request and bill.
- Keep the budget managers or persons who incur expenditures informed about cash flow in case they have to defer incurring certain expenditures, pending improvement in cash flow.
- Before signing any check, make sure the documentation is attached and that the check request information is completely filled out with prior approvals attached.
- Checks in excess of $2,500 require two signatures.

POLICY NUMBER SIX: EMPLOYEE ADVANCE POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

EMPLOYEE ADVANCES:

All employee advances must be properly documented and recorded in the school accounting books for the correct amounts, to help facilitate prompt collection of the advance from the employee.

BACKGROUND:

From time to time the school may make advances to its employees for various reasons including payroll checks not received on time, vacation advance, emergency and other extenuating circumstances.

PROCEDURES:

Responsibility of requesting employee:

- Request in writing to be submitted to the School Director for approval.
- Make sure that the emergencies are limited to unusual health bills, death or serious illness in the staff member's immediate family requiring unusual financial outlay, or unusual automobile repairs.
- Substantiating documentation must be provided with the request.
- The amount being requested must not be more than one third of the employee regular or average paycheck for a pay period.
- Repayment must be made over a period not to exceed three months, through payroll deductions beginning with the pay period subsequent to the date of the advance.
- Authentication of the advance, by signing an agreement detailing the terms of the advance, to remain on file.
- Advance is immediately due and payable in full upon the separation or termination of employment.
- The employee must be a regular full time staff member who has served for at least six months.

Responsibility of the Administrative Assistant:

- To ensure that the employee is qualified for approval for the advance, appropriate required documentation is attached to the request and all other guidelines are followed.
- Determine if the circumstances surrounding the request are appropriate and recommend Principal's approval.

Responsibility of School Director:

- Determine if there is enough cash flow to accommodate this request considering all the other priorities of the school.
- Consider the circumstance and the history of this employee as it relates to requests for advance in deciding whether or not to approve the request.
- Approve or disapprove the request after considering the guidelines for approval of the request.
- Give a copy of the approval to the Financial Consultant for filing or processing and the School Director for communication to the employee.
- Give a copy of any termination or separation notice to the Financial Consultant to compute final check and complete the separation notice form.

Responsibility of the Administrative Assistant:

- Generate the check from the Revolving Cash Fund for the School Director to sign and charging the advance to an employee advance account.
- Complete an agreement between the school and the employee to be signed by the employee and the School Director.
- Set up payroll deduction for the advance, beginning the pay period following the date the check was given to the employee.
- File a copy of the check, approved request and agreement in the employee advance file, and employee personnel file.
- Reconcile the Employee Advance account, to make sure that the amount on the account reflects the agreement currently on file.
- Deduct any amount outstanding from the final check to the employee in case of separation or termination.

POLICY NUMBER SEVEN: USE OF CORPORATE CREDIT CARDS AND PROCEDURES

Credit cards secured for the school through our bankers will allow us the convenience of charging purchases on the account, therefore saving staff the trouble of using their funds to purchase needed materials.

Furthermore, it will save the school from cutting many checks for reimbursements. Instead one check will be cut to our bankers.

- The cash advance feature CANNOT be activated or used for any reason.
- The card can be used only for business purchases. NO PERSONAL USE.
- The duplicate receipt must always be turned in to Administrative Assistant, after purchase is made to allow for easy processing of the bills. The account number to be charged must be stated on the receipt.
- Before charging anything to the card, the purchaser must determine what budget line items should be charged for this expenditure and whether the budget item has enough funds in the account to accommodate the charges, considering all other charges previously made to this account. If in doubt about the availability of the funds, please consult the responsible budget manager.
- Any missing or lost credit card must be immediately reported to the Financial Consultant and the Bank, so that security measures regarding cancellation and reissue can be accomplished in time to prevent illegal charges to the account.
- The card can be used to charge things for other staff as long as verification is made as to the availability of funds for the purchase. The card can be used for small purchases that normally require payment before order, it should not be used for items that can be put on purchase orders and billed to us in the normal way. Do not use the credit card in such a way as to circumvent our normal purchase order or billing system. Examples of things that can be charged include airline tickets for training and seminars, books and instructional supplies.
- The Financial Consultant and the School Director are responsible for ensuring that the credit card holders follow these procedures. Any abuse of the credit card policies should be reported to the Financial Consultant or the School Director. The school reserves the right to terminate any credit card due to abuses including lack of following credit card policies and procedures.

- The School Director must approve any expenditure related to any direct benefit of the credit card user. No one can approve an expenditure that is for his or her own benefit.
- The Administrative Assistant must turn in all credit card statements to the Financial Consultant. The Administrative Assistant will give each credit card holder his or her statements.
- Credit card holders will prepare a check request for each credit card statement with all attached documentation, including receipts and account numbers. This will ensure orderly and efficient processing of the bills to avoid the charging of interest.

POLICY NUMBER EIGHT: PETTY CASH POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

The school will maintain a petty cash fund to make it expedient to disburse small purchases that are needed to operate the school business. The items to be disbursed out of these funds are limited to small items of $25 or less.

PROCEDURES:

Administrative Assistant:

- The Administrative Assistant has oversight over the implementation of the petty cash policies and procedures.
- Processes requests for issuance of petty cash after being approved by the School Director.
- Processes replenishment of petty cash on a regular basis.
- Ensures that the replenishment expenditures are supported by authentic purchase receipts approved by the School Director.
- Monitors all the petty cash given to holders to make sure they are replenishing them on a regular basis and remind the holders of the need to replenish the fund so that expenditures can be recorded. If the holder does not have expenditures for several months, this may indicate that the petty cash might not be necessary.
- When a petty cash is originally issued to a holder, it must be logged in a petty cash log; any increases to the petty cash amount must be recorded in the log.
- Petty cash is reimbursed in the same manner as any other reimbursement or bill. In urgent situations, reimbursements can be done from the revolving cash fund.

Petty Cash Holders

- Request for issuance of petty cash from the School Director based on a compelling need supported by convincing reasons.
- Makes sure that the petty cash fund in their possession is securely locked in a cabinet at all times, making sure that nobody else has access to the fund.
- The petty cash holder has a personal responsibility for the funds in their possession.
- Issuance of funds to staff who need them must be evidenced by a receipt signed by staff and petty cash issuer.

- Before issuing the funds to the staff the holder must ascertain that the staff is going to spend the money on a budgeted expenditure approved by the School Director.
- Must ensure those given petty cash bring back an authentic receipt approved by the Administrative Assistant with the appropriate account number where the expenditure will be charged.
- The School Director's signature on the purchase receipt is evidence that the expenditure is approved by the School Director and it is for an expenditure that has been budgeted by the school for this purpose and the goods or services is to be used for a specific school business purpose. The signature also means that there is available balance in the line item to accommodate the expenditure.
- When the staff gives the petty cash holder an authentic purchase receipts approved by the School Director, the issuance receipt should be endorsed by the holder as paid and copy of the paid issuance receipt given to the Administrative Assistant. If there is a cash balance returned by the staff it should be reflected on the issuance receipt. The paid issuance receipt should be attached to the purchase receipt.
- When the petty cash is low the holder should fill out the petty cash replenishment form and request for replenishment of the petty cash fund equal to the amount of the purchase receipts in their possession. The total amount of the replenishment and the petty cash on hand should always be equal to the amount originally issued to the holder.

Staff Requesting the Use of Petty Cash:

- Before requesting for petty cash fund staff must make sure that the expenditure is approved by the School Director and there is available funds for that expenditure.
- Make sure that a purchase receipt is obtained for the goods or services purchased and the receipt is approved by the School Director with the appropriate account number written on the receipt before giving it to the petty cash holder.
- Return any excess cash to the petty cash holder together with the receipt to relieve the staff of the responsibility of the cash originally received.
- Once a staff receives funds from the petty cash holder, the staff is personally responsible for the funds, until they bring back an approved receipt with account numbers plus any left over cash in exchange for a release of liability. This is evidenced by a copy of a paid issuance receipt by the holder of the petty cash.

POLICY NUMBER NINE: ACCOUNT RECONCILIATION POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

As part of our internal control procedures, the school will reconcile and review the result of operations to make sure the transactions are charged to the appropriate accounts and that the operations are being executed as planned.

Financial Operations Review-Procedures:

- At mid month and the final week before the close of a month the transactions posted to accounts will be reviewed to ensure that they are posted to the right accounts. Month end adjusting entries must be made at this time (final week) to make sure the financial statements reflect correctly the activities of the month. These reconciliations will be done by the Financial Consultant.
- On the 5th day following the end of the month, revenue and other balance sheet accounts will be reviewed and reconciled for the final time, by the Financial Consultant and appropriate adjustments made in the following month's financial report.
- The reports will be provided to the School Director for review and comments on the 7th day following the end of the month.
- On the 11th day following the end of the month, there will be a meeting between the School Director, and the Financial Consultant to review the budget reports for the previous month.
- On the 14th day following the end of the month complete financial reports will be given to the School Director for comments and mailing to Finance Committee to review before their meeting (if necessary). At this point any recommendations will be given by the Financial Consultant for the Principal and the Finance Committee to consider.

POLICY NUMBER TEN: PROGRAM CASH RECEIPTS AND DEPOSIT POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

PROGRAM CASH RECEIPTS:

All programs and other pass through payments will be paid to the office and given to the Administrative Assistant periodically for deposit to the bank.

BACKGROUND:

The school will run various programs including meals, after school programs and pass through programs. Checks and cash are usually received at the reception desk for registration for these events.

PROCEDURES:

Responsibilities of the Office:

- Each parent is issued a receipt (original) when payment is made for any of these programs. Parents who have a history of insufficient funds checks (as provided by Financial Consultant) will be required to pay cash.
- Satellite site receipts will be brought to the main office on a daily basis for safekeeping. The Administrative Assistant will include the amounts received from the satellite site (if any) in their balancing of the total receipts for the school.
- Checks and cash are kept in a secured cabinet locked in a box until deposit is made to the bank.
- The checks must be stamped "for deposit only", using the appropriate stamp for the program bank account, to reduce any risk of loss.
- Three staff persons have access to the key so they can retrieve funds for deposit or store funds collected from parents (under no circumstances should this amount be used for any reason except as approved by the Finance Consultant or School Director). This amount is not petty cash and therefore should not be used for that purpose. Please use petty cash fund to pay for small emergency items.
- The office prepares deposit tickets on Tuesdays and Fridays, making sure the total amounts on the deposit tickets agree with the total receipts attached (duplicate). $100 from petty cash fund will be left in the cash box for the purpose of making change when payments are received from parents.

- Any discrepancy between the deposit tickets and the attached receipts should be noted and reported to the Financial Consultant and the School Director so that further investigation can be conducted to resolve the problem.
- The income log must be compared with the incoming attendance and participation log from the program department, to make sure they agree and explain any discrepancies between them.
- The program to be credited with these funds should be noted on the deposit ticket or receipt.
- The receipts and deposit tickets will be given to the Administrative Assistant by 12 noon for deposit to the bank. A copy of the deposit ticket should be made and kept with the office, showing the signature of the Administrative Assistant as evidence that they have received the amounts listed on the ticket.

Responsibilities of the Administrative Assistant:

- The Administrative Assistant will review the whole packet to make sure that everything is completed accurately.
- A copy of the deposit ticket and duplicate receipts are filed in the program deposits file and the original deposit ticket and the funds are deposited at the bank.
- The deposit receipt from the bank must be attached to the duplicate deposit ticket in the program account file.
- Attendance log or report is compared with duplicate receipts for the respective programs to make sure everything agrees, any discrepancy must be investigated and when necessary reported to Financial Consultant or School Director.
- By the middle of the month following the end of a month, bank reconciliation is prepared and any "non sufficient funds" checks identified in a separate report. Letters will be written to the issuers of the checks so they can pay the amounts, plus service charge of $15 per bounced check.
- Each month after the bank reconciliation or when the program is complete, depending on the program, a check will be generated from the program account to our county account or outside vendor depending on the program requirements.

POLICY NUMBER 12. REVOLVING CASH FUND POLICY AND PROCEDURES

The School will maintain a Revolving Cash Fund to accommodate immediate cash needs that will normally not be met by the commercial warrant system. The school will make all efforts to make all payments through the commercial warrants system. Only check requests that are needed immediately due to circumstances beyond our control will be disbursed through this system.

PROCEDURES:

- All requests must be made by a check request, with all the supporting documents for the approval of the School Director.
- The request will follow the normal procedures for commercial warrant check requests.
- Poor planning will not qualify as a reason for approving this request.
- Receipts are required immediately after an event for requests of advance deposits.

School Director:

- Approval will be made based on the documentation provided and the compelling reasons why the request must be approved.
- No requests should be approved for convenience as these requests create additional burden and work for the school and circumvents the accounting process and may understate our expenditures.
- No approvals should be made without the request coming from budget manager, who checks the budget availability and the urgency for this request.
- The approved request will be given to the Administrative Assistant for processing.

Financial Consultant:

- All approved requests must be disbursed from the Revolving Cash Fund bank account the same day.
- Any request for an RCF check must be directed to the School Director.
- Requests should only be entertained from the School Director.

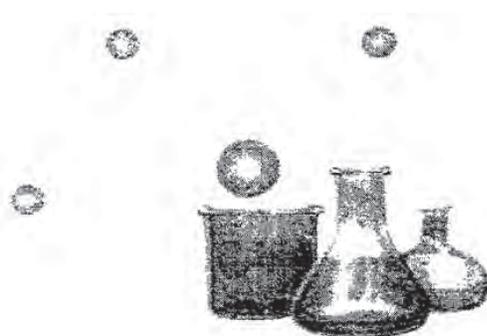

- All requests must be checked to make sure all required information is complete before issuing the check. The School Director should be alerted if all the necessary information is not complete.
- Make sure there is available balance in the RCF account before issuing any check. This will be accomplished by keeping a running balance after issue of checks and deposit of check to the RCF account.
- Reimburse the RCF no later than the 25th of every month to make certain that the expenditures are recorded in the correct month to void understanding our financial statements.
- Reimbursement of RCF including petty cash must be made to the School Director and charged to the respective account numbers already provided before the RCF checks were generated.
- Do not reimburse any RCF check or petty cash without the required receipts, account number and other required documentation.

- POLICY NUMBER TWO: TIME SHEET AND PAYROLL POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

PAYROLL

All employees on payroll must be hired by the Executive Director and must have worked for the hours being paid, those hours having been properly documented and approved by the Executive Director. The expense must be properly recorded in the accounting records to the correct account to facilitate availability of accurate and timely financial information for management's use in making decisions.

BACKGROUND:

The school hires employees to work on its operations, in order to achieve its objectives. The employees in turn get paid on a timely basis and the information on these costs is made available to school management for decision making.

PROCEDURES:

Responsibility of the employee:

- Punch in time card on a daily basis when you come in for work, when you take lunch or any other absence, when you return back to work on the same day and when you leave for the day. Any specific arrangements outside normal hours should be discussed and approved by the Executive Director prior to beginning of the assignment.
- No overtime can be worked before obtaining approval from the Executive Director.
- Salaried employees are required to sign a sign-in log on a daily basis.
- At the end of each pay period each hourly employee is required to finish completing their time sheet that was generated by the computer system and give them to Administrative Assistant for approval. The employee should make sure they complete the total regular hours, overtime hours, vacation, sick, and other hours worked each day and for the pay period. If you work on more than one job on a regular basis you should complete a time sheet for each job. Just state what hours you worked for each job on the same time sheet if you work more than one job on an irregular basis.
- The properly completed and approved time sheet is put in the box of the Administrative Assistant no later than the date it is due for processing. Delay in submitting the time sheet can affect employee pay date.
- If you are a new employee, make sure that you complete a personnel information package, including a W-4 form that gives us information on your tax status. We cannot give you all the money due you without knowing your tax information. Any information related to direct deposit, tax sheltered annuity or any other voluntary deductions should be given to the Financial Consultant no later than the deadline given to you by the business office. If you are hired after the start of a pay period, you will not be paid until the pay period following the period you started working.

Responsibility of the Administrative Assistant:

- Provide all staff with time sheet, sign-in sheet, time card, due date for time sheet, due date for voluntary deductions set up, time clock and other employee package items necessary to accurately complete information for payroll and benefit accrual.
- Collect all the time sheets in your box and any others around the time clock area.
- Verify that the time recorded on the time sheet corresponds with the time clock records. Any unexplained discrepancies should be reported to the Executive Director for correction or explanation. Any incomplete or unapproved time sheet should be referred to the Executive Director for completion and approval immediately in time to promptly prepare payroll.

- Verify the time sheet to make sure the computations are accurate and that the information and approvals are made by the appropriate persons and write the account numbers where the salaries will be charged on the time sheets.
- After verifying that everything is correct and that you have every employee's time sheet, sort out using the previous period time report and give to the Executive Director for approval and transmittal to the Executive Consultant. Also process the Salaried payroll for the pay period, ESA for the 15th and regular monthly payroll for the 30th.
- Print the input information for the School Director to approve for transmission to Executive Consultant.
- Send new hire and any other employee change information to the Executive Consultant as you get the information from the employee.
- After the checks come back from BBM, verify all the checks to make sure that everything is correct and that the checks appear accurate. Additionally check the payroll reports sent to you to make sure everything balances both to the time reported and other relevant deductions. If there is anything that appears unusual, inform the Financial Consultant or a Executive Director. Put the checks in envelopes ready to be distributed to employees and leave with the receptionist together with a sign-in list. Instruct the receptionist that nobody should pick-up another persons check without written authority to do so. Before the receptionist gives a check to an employee that employee must sign the list provided as evidence that they have received their check.

Responsibility of Executive Director:

- Make sure that the new employee package is completed and accurately filled out prior to starting work, especially the I-9, Immigration and Naturalization Form and W-4, Employee Tax Information. The employee should also be given a copy of the employee handbook so they can be aware of the school policies and procedures that affect them.
- Negotiations regarding pay and other benefits should take into consideration the budgetary constraints to make sure that we do not commit to what we cannot pay.
- A personnel action form (PAF) must be completed and given to the Financial Consultant stating how much the employee will be paid, what the effective date is, and what account will be charged for this expense. The PAF and the completed package must be given to the Financial Consultant so that payroll arrangements can be made and personnel file opened for the new employee.
- The Executive Director must make sure the employee follow the school policies and procedures that relate to them. Any infraction should be cured according to school policies and procedures related to employee discipline.
- Make sure that all employees complete a time sheet and give it to them for their approval on a timely basis.
- Ensure that the time sheet as completed by employees reflect their attendance, including breaks and lunch time, before approving the time sheet.
- Make sure that employees are allowed to take breaks in the mornings and in the afternoons and a lunch break for those who work full-time. Generally, rest periods (breaks) are taken every four hours of work and meal periods (lunch) when someone works six or more hours a day.
- Ensure that overtime worked by the employee is approved in advance and that there is enough funding available to cover the overtime and other related costs.

POLICY NUMBER THREE: PURCHASE AND OTHER PROCUREMENT POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

PURCHASES:

The school will purchase the materials needed to implement the plans and strategies set out by the board and the charter in order to achieve its objectives. In making these purchases the school must ensure that the materials being purchased are necessary for running the school. The school will also ensure that economy of resources is exercised in judging whether there is a need to purchase a certain item, as the school has limited resources for many competing priorities. The purchase must give the school the best deal (price, quality and other criteria considered), and also ensure that there are funds available to pay for the materials. All purchases must be approved by the Executive Director. The purchase must be documented and recorded in the accounting books.

PROCEDURES:

- All purchases must be initiated by completing a purchase order. Exceptions may be granted by the Executive Director or Executive Consultant for purchase of certain small items that are less than $100 or in emergency situations.
- Before completing the purchase order the purchaser must assure that there are unencumbered funds budgeted for this purpose and the purchase is being charged to the correct budget category. If there is any question regarding the availability of funds, the Staff Consultant can be contacted for an answer.
- The purchaser must demonstrate, by providing copies of three bids or estimates that the vendor picked provides us with the best deal for the service or product being purchased. (The lowest price may not always be the best deal for the school.)
- For the purpose of getting bids, purchases of $2,999 or less can be done by phone bids, purchases of between $3,000 and $9,999 can be done by written bids on vendor's letterhead. Purchases of $10,000 or more need to be advertised in a more formal competitive bidding process.
- In cases where a particular vendor is known to give us the best deal, once a year research of prices and services is enough to satisfy this criterion. In such a case copies of the result of the research should be kept on file to be referred to when needed.
- There may also be cases where a vendor is a sole source vendor, which means that the vendor is the only vendor that can supply this product or service. In such an instance it will be impossible to provide bids, but it must be demonstrated that the vendor is the sole source.
- Purchase orders will be issued by Administrative Assistant. The form must be originally filled out, including who to deliver the order to and the account number to which the expenditure is to be charged. The original is given to the Administrative Assistant to fax to the vendor with a return confirmation from the vendor after being approved by the Director of Operations, a copy for the Director of Operations's file, Staff Consultant's file and a copy to the Office Assistant (receiving). All originals and copies of purchase orders must have the signatures of the Director of Operations.
- All purchase orders must be approved by the Director of Operations.
- When the purchaser gets the order they will keep the items in a safe place for use, after making sure that the order received agrees with the purchase order. In certain instances the order might be tracked as to who is using them, so we can allocate them to various programs.

Procedures for Receipt of Order (Office Assistant)

- When the order arrives the Office Assistant compares the quantity on the packing slip, the purchase order and the order received to make sure they agree. If they agree the packing slip will be initialed and sent to the Staff Consultant with a copy to the Director of Operations.

Administrative Assistant:

- When the original purchase order is received from the Director of Operations, it is immediately faxed to the vendor. This will be done after checking to make sure the order is charged to the correct account, and funds are available signified by the approval of the Director of Operations, evidenced by his signatures.
- A copy of the purchase order is kept in an open purchase order file pending the time the order is filled. It is discarded when the invoice for the purchase is processed. The purchase order is encumbered in the Accounting system to set aside the funds so it will be available to pay for the bill. The purchase order is unencumbered when we pay the bill.
- The Administrative Assistant will check incoming orders to make sure they are consistent with the packing slip and the purchase order. The orders will then be stamped or tagged as property of the Wisdom Academy depending on what kind of item it is. Books will be stamped and equipment will be tagged, while supplies will be inventoried issued as necessary.

- The Administrative Assistant will check all the documentation and make sure they are complete, accurate, and consistent with one another. The Administrative Assistant will also make sure that the correct budget category is being charged and the amount of the bill is computed accurately.
- As part of checking the documentation, the Administrative Assistant will ensure that the invoice being paid is an original invoice, not a copy, and that we are not paying from a statement of account. Please refer to commercial warrant processing for more details on bills processing.

POLICY NUMBER FOUR: CONTRACTING POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

1. All contracts must be approved by the School Director and Staff Consultant. Contracts of up to $4,999 may require at least three phone bids, between $5,000 and $9,999 may require three written bids on contractor's letterhead. Contracts of $10,000 and above require formal competitive bidding process. For more information, please see purchase procedures.
2. Before approving a contract, it must be determined that funds are available for this purpose and the payment terms clearly and satisfactorily stated in the contract, considering cash flow needs of the school.
3. In the case of a construction contract, the contractor must be licensed by the state board and have the financial capability to execute the contract, except in cases where an exception is allowed by a Principal.
4. The contractor must have workers compensation and other general liability insurance that will name the school as additionally insured, except in cases where the school agrees to cover the contractor as part of terms of the contract.
5. The contractor must submit a bill based on the original approved contract for the Principal to approve for payment. In the event of change orders, they must be pre-approved by a Executive Director or designee.
6. The contractor must provide the school with a completed form W-9, taxpayer identification number, at the time of signing the contract.
7. Before the payment is made for construction contracts, the contractor must provide the school with a lien release as to labor and materials to exempt the school from any legal action including mechanics lien related to non payment of labor and material.
8. Before approving payment, the Executive Director will be certain that the construction was executed satisfactorily (in some cases an expert opinion might be sought to determine this).
9. It is customary to withhold 10% of the contract price until final determination is made on the successful completion of the contract. This will therefore be the practice of the school.
10. A copy of the contract should be filed in the business services office as soon as the contract is signed, to ensure that all documentation is complete and accurate.
11. All independent contractors must be persons that are in business for themselves, set their hours, and are responsible for results and not persons that are normally considered as employees. All other part-time or one-time persons employed by the school should be put on the payroll system, as they are actually employees and not independent contractors. All independent contractors must have a written contract following the procedures outlined above.

POLICY NUMBER FIVE: CHECK REQUESTS POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

CHECK REQUESTS:

All disbursements, except for those made through the Revolving Cash Fund, Payroll System and Petty Cash, must be made through the Check Request.

BACKGROUND:

Revised: 07252012
Approved: 01312013

The school has a responsibility to process all payments in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles and other government accounting standards in order to discharge its fiduciary responsibilities as delegated by the board of directors.

PROCEDURES:

Administrative Assistant:

- Picks up mails from the bills mailbox and distribute to various departments where necessary for check requests and approval of the bill.
- Checks the utilities and other general office bills for any error before giving to the Director of Operations for check request approval.
- Double check requests and bills to make sure that all the information and documentations are correct. This information and documentation includes payee, account numbers, original invoice (payments cannot be made with a copy of the invoice or statement of account), relevant purchase order and receiving reports, amounts and appropriate approvals. If any information or documentation is inaccurate or incomplete, the check request must be returned to the responsible party so it can be corrected immediately, for timely processing of the check request. Check requests must not be left with anyone for an unreasonably long period of time as to incur the school, credit problems.
- The check requests are sent to Executive Consultant for input into the computer system for payment. All the check numbers must be serially numbered, taking time to make sure the first check of each batch or day follows the last number as specified in the check register. A serial number log must be kept to ensure the numbering system is being adhered to. Each time a number is used it is crossed out to prevent the reuse of the number a second time.
- Pick up the mail from Bali Business Management the following day and verify that all the checks were generated and everything related to the check is correct. Then attach a copy of the check to the check request, staple them together and complete the payment information on the check request. Stamp the documentation as paid and file the whole package in the paid bills folder, after the checks are approved by the check signer.
- Put the checks in an envelope for mailing. If someone has to pick up a check in the office they must sign a log, and if it is an unknown person picture identification or drivers license should be reviewed to make sure that it is the right person.

The Administrative Assistant:

- Make sure that the bill being approved is a bill the school incurred and that those who incurred them are authorized to incur the bill, and that sufficient amounts are available in the budget to pay for the bill.
- Must be sure that services or goods were actually delivered as ordered and the amounts billed are agreed to and the bill was not previously paid and the invoice is not a duplicate or copy.
- Must be sure that the invoice is being charged to the right budget line item (account number and object code). This information must be provided by completing a check request form, and attaching the invoice, copy of the purchase order and a receiving advice or report noted on the purchase order. Any discrepancy between the invoice and the purchase order must be noted on the bill and reported to the Financial Consultant or Director of Operations.
- The check request must be made in a timely manner for payment to prevent incurring collection and other credit problems.

Director of Operations:

- Make sure that there is enough cash flow to pay the checks being requested before approving the bills. This can be accomplished by reviewing the cash balance on the report provided by Financial Consultant.
- Check to see that the checks were written to the same payee as stated on the check request and bill.
- Keep the budget managers or persons who incur expenditures informed about cash flow in case they have to defer incurring certain expenditures, pending improvement in cash flow.

Revised: 07262012
Approved: 01312013

- Before signing any check, make sure the documentation is attached and that the check request information is completely filled out with prior approvals attached.
- Checks in excess of $10,000 of non recurring item require two signatures.

POLICY NUMBER SIX: REIMBURSEMENTS

All employee reimbursement check requests must be accompanied by filling out a reimbursement form with attached documentation including receipts and invoices of the reimbursements. Mileage reimbursement check requests must be accompanied by a form detailing the mileage description with a starting point and ending point. The description will also include the date of the travel and the number of miles travelled for each entry or date. Mileage will be reimbursed at the IRS rate that is applicable at that particular time.

POLICY NUMBER SEVEN: USE OF CORPORATE CREDIT CARDS AND PROCEDURES

Credit cards secured for the school through our bankers will allow us the convenience of charging purchases on the account, therefore saving staff the trouble of using their funds to purchase needed materials. Furthermore, it will save the school from cutting many checks for reimbursements. Instead one check will be cut to our bankers.

- The cash advance feature CANNOT be activated or used for any reason.
- The card can be used only for business purchases. NO PERSONAL USE.
- The duplicate receipt must always be turned in to Administrative Assistant, after purchase is made to allow for easy processing of the bills. The account number to be charged must be stated on the receipt.
- Before charging anything to the card, the purchaser must determine what budget line items should be charged for this expenditure and whether the budget item has enough funds in the account to accommodate the charges, considering all other charges previously made to this account. If in doubt about the availability of the funds, please consult the responsible budget manager.
- Any missing or lost credit card must be immediately reported to the Financial Consultant and the Bank, so that security measures regarding cancellation and reissue can be accomplished in time to prevent illegal charges to the account.
- The card can be used to charge things for other staff as long as verification is made as to the availability of funds for the purchase. The card can be used for small purchases that normally require payment before order, it should not be used for items that can be put on purchase orders and billed to us in the normal way. Do not use the credit card in such a way as to circumvent our normal purchase order or billing system. Examples of things that can be charged include airline tickets for training and seminars, books and instructional supplies.
- The Financial Consultant and the Executive Director are responsible for ensuring that the credit card holders follow these procedures. Any abuse of the credit card policies should be reported to the Financial Consultant or the Executive Director. The school reserves the right to terminate any credit card due to abuses including lack of following credit card policies and procedures.
- The Executive Director must approve any expenditure related to any direct benefit of the credit card user. No one can approve an expenditure that is for his or her own benefit.
- The Administrative Assistant must turn in all credit card statements to the Financial Consultant. The Administrative Assistant will give each credit card holder his or her statements.
- Credit card holders will prepare a check request for each credit card statement with all attached documentation, including receipts and account numbers. This will ensure orderly and efficient processing of the bills to avoid the charging of interest.

POLICY NUMBER EIGHT: PETTY CASH POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

The school will maintain a petty cash fund to make it expedient to disburse small purchases that are needed to operate the school business. The items to be disbursed out of these funds are limited to small items of $25 or less.

PROCEDURES:

Administrative Assistant:

- The Administrative Assistant has oversight over the implementation of the petty cash policies and procedures.
- Processes requests for issuance of petty cash after being approved by the School Director
- Processes replenishment of petty cash on a regular basis.
- Ensures that the replenishment expenditures are supported by authentic purchase receipts approved by the School Director.
- Monitors all the petty cash given to holders to make sure they are replenishing them on a regular basis and remind the holders of the need to replenish the fund so that expenditures can be recorded. If the holder does not have expenditures for several months, this may indicate that the petty cash might not be necessary.
- When a petty cash is originally issued to a holder, it must be logged in a petty cash log; any increases to the petty cash amount must be recorded in the log.
- Petty cash is reimbursed in the same manner as any other reimbursement or bill. In urgent situations, reimbursements can be done from the revolving cash fund.

Petty Cash Holders

- Request for issuance of petty cash from the Executive Director based on a compelling need supported by convincing reasons.
- Makes sure that the petty cash fund in their possession is securely locked in a cabinet at all times, making sure that nobody else has access to the fund.
- The petty cash holder has a personal responsibility for the funds in their possession.
- Issuance of funds to staff who need them must be evidenced by a receipt signed by staff and petty cash issuer.
- Before issuing the funds to the staff the holder must ascertain that the staff is going to spend the money on a budgeted expenditure approved by the School Director.
- Must ensure those given petty cash bring back an authentic receipt approved by the Administrative Assistant with the appropriate account number where the expenditure will be charged.
- The Executive Director's signature on the purchase receipt is evidence that the expenditure is approved by the Executive Director and it is for an expenditure that has been budgeted by the school for this purpose and the goods or services is to be used for a specific school business purpose. The signature also means that there is available balance in the line item to accommodate the expenditure.
- When the staff gives the petty cash holder an authentic purchase receipts approved by the Executive Director, the issuance receipt should be endorsed by the holder as paid and copy of the paid issuance receipt given to the Administrative Assistant. If there is a cash balance returned by the staff it should be reflected on the issuance receipt. The paid issuance receipt should be attached to the purchase receipt.
- When the petty cash is low the holder should fill out the petty cash replenishment form and request for replenishment of the petty cash fund equal to the amount of the purchase receipts in their possession. The total amount of the replenishment and the petty cash on hand should always be equal to the amount originally issued to the holder.

Staff Requesting the Use of Petty Cash:

- Before requesting for petty cash fund staff must make sure that the expenditure is approved by the Executive Director and there is available funds for that expenditure.
- Make sure that a purchase receipt is obtained for the goods or services purchased and the receipt is approved by the Executive Director with the appropriate account number written on the receipt before giving it to the petty cash holder.

- Return any excess cash to the petty cash holder together with the receipt to relieve the staff of the responsibility of the cash originally received.
- Once a staff receives funds from the petty cash holder, the staff is personally responsible for the funds, until they bring back an approved receipt with account numbers plus any left over cash in exchange for a release of liability. This is evidenced by a copy of a paid issuance receipt by the holder of the petty cash.

POLICY NUMBER NINE: FINANCIAL REPORTING REVIEW POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

Total Education Solutions
CONSULTING AND SERVICES AGREEMENT

This Consulting and Services Agreement ("Agreement") is entered into as of the Commencement Date set forth in Section 1 below by and between Total Education Solutions, Inc. ("TES"), a California corporation, and Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists ("Client").

RECITALS

A. TES engages in the business of providing education and consulting services to nonprofit and for profit education and social services agencies.

B. Client is a Public Charter School that offers educational programs to California students at locations identified on Appendix A hereto (the "Service Locations").

C. Client wishes to engage TES to provide certain services with respect to Client's education and/or social service program (the "Program") and TES wishes to provide such services, pursuant to the terms and conditions set forth below.

AGREEMENT

In consideration of the promises and covenants contained herein, the parties agree as follows:

1. COMMENCEMENT DATE AND TERM

This Agreement shall commence at 12:01 a.m. on March 15, 2013 (the "Commencement Date"), and shall continue until 11:59 p.m. on June 30, 2015 (the "Term").

2. SERVICES TO BE PROVIDED BY TES

During the Term of this Agreement, TES shall provide the services described on Appendix B hereto in connection with the Program (the "Services") to students assigned by Client to the Program and TES shall provide personnel as may be reasonably necessary to provide the Services (the "TES Personnel"), according to the Client's written or electronic Request for Service.

3. ADDITIONAL SERVICES

If Client requests any services from TES in addition to the Services, such additional services will be provided by TES only if the parties have mutually agreed in writing or by electronic request upon the specific additional services, the scope of such additional services, and the additional compensation to TES for such additional services.

4. CALENDAR

Services will not be provided by TES on Client holidays, Client breaks, or TES holidays. Client must provide a copy of school calendar to TES prior to the start of commencement of this Agreement and provide at least 10 business days notice of other school closures to avoid paying TES for missed sessions.

TES observes the following legal holidays: Independence Day, Labor Day, Veteran's Day, Thanksgiving Day, the day after Thanksgiving, Christmas Eve, Christmas Day, New Year's Eve, New Year's Day, Martin Luther King, Jr. Day, Presidents Day, Cesar Chavez Day, and Memorial Day. If TES holidays do not coincide with Client holidays, make-up services will be offered to Client's students.

5. RECORDS

TES agrees that all files, documents, records, and materials created by TES in the course of providing the Services during the Term of this Agreement, other than TES' internal and business documents, shall be the property of Client. TES agrees that upon expiration or termination of this Agreement for any reason, TES shall deliver such property of Client to Client, subject to Sections 11(c) and 12(e)(ii) below. Both during and after the Term of this Agreement, TES shall be permitted to inspect and/or duplicate, at its own expense, any individual student file or record regarding the Program to the extent necessary to assure proper provision of Services, to meet professional responsibilities to students, to assist in the defense of any claim or threatened claim against TES or TES Personnel, and for the resolution of billing disputes, provided that such inspection or duplication is permitted and conducted in accordance with then applicable legal requirements and then prevailing standards for the confidentiality of student and/or parent records. TES Personnel shall not disclose pupil records to any unauthorized person or entity without the consent required by the Family Educational and Privacy Act (20 U.S.C. §1232g) and any other applicable laws, unless the disclosure is otherwise permitted by law.

6. RESPONSIBILITIES OF CLIENT

(a) Student Records. During the term of this Agreement, Client shall provide TES with such student records, including Individualized Education Programs ("IEP"), as may be reasonably necessary for the proper provision of the Services. In accordance with Federal laws, special education services, such as those provided by TES, cannot be delivered to special education students without IEPs. TES must verify an IEP prior to provision of Services to students. For other students, written or electronic request is required in order to provide non-IEP services.

During the Term of this Agreement, Client shall comply in all respects with TES policies and procedures relating to student absences, difficulty contacting/serving students, and service refusal as described on appendix C. TES may modify appendix C from time to time on no less than thirty (30) business days advance written notice to Client.

(e) Facilities. TES will provide Services to Client at Client's facility, and Client shall provide a facility (including space, facilities, furniture and furnishings) reasonably necessary for TES to provide the Services. TES utilizes a web-based database to document services, including student attendance and progress notes. Client shall provide all TES employees assigned to serve Client's students access to an on-site computer with connection to the Internet. The on-site computer does not need to be for the exclusive use of TES employees, and use of Client's computer(s) by TES employees will be solely for documentation purposes. There shall be no charge to TES to utilize Client owned, controlled, or leased sites or facilities and equipment arising from or related to the provision of Services. Additional Client sites or facilities may be added only if the parties have mutually agreed in writing.

(f) Payment. Client shall compensate TES for the Services as provided in Section 9 below.

7. ADDITIONAL RESPONSIBILITIES OF TES

(a) Qualifications, Credentials, Licenses. All TES Personnel will be qualified in all material respects to provide the Services they provide on behalf of TES hereunder. All instructors and therapists provided by TES under this Agreement will meet State of California requirements for providing the Services, such as holding a California credential, certification or license and/or TB test clearance appropriate for providing the requested service. Upon written request, TES shall provide Client with a list of all TES Personnel that will serve students enrolled in the Program. Such a list will identify the credentials/licenses held by each of the TES Personnel. TES shall notify Client within forty-five (45) business days of any change of TES Personnel that are providing Services directly to students under this Agreement. An officer of TES shall certify to Client that TES Personnel providing instruction or therapy services hereunder are trained and accept responsibility as mandated child abuse reporters pursuant to California law, which certification shall accompany the list described in this Section 7(a).

(b) Fingerprinting Requirements. TES shall conduct such criminal background checks of all TES Personnel through the Department of Justice ("DOJ") as required by applicable law and, upon receipt of DOJ clearance, certify to Client that no TES Personnel working with students of Client have been convicted of a violent or serious felony (as defined by applicable law) or are the subject of a criminal action pending upon charges of commission of a violent or serious felony (as defined by applicable law). The list of TES Personnel described in Section 7(a) above shall identify those TES Personnel who have been so cleared by DOJ.

(c) Commencement of Services. TES will contact students and/or the student's parent or guardian if requested to do so by the Client, for the purpose of commencing services to such students within ten (10) business days after written notification from the Client (in one of the manners permitted by Section 16(f) below, which include facsimile and electronic mail). TES shall have (5) business days following such notification to notify Client in writing if TES is unable to commence Services to a student due to type of service requested or because the service requested is not otherwise consistent with the obligations of TES set forth in this Agreement.

(d) Attendance Reporting. TES shall keep accurate records of student attendance and time spent by TES Personnel in providing Services to students in the Program. Copies of such records will be provided to Client on a monthly basis with the invoices described in Section 9 below.

(e) Service Logs. TES Personnel shall maintain auditable logs of Services provided. Such logs will be made available to Client, upon request, within five (5) business days. For purposes of this Agreement, the term "business days" shall not include Saturdays, Sundays or holidays. Should TES not be able to provide such requested Services, TES will notify Client in Writing, within ten (10) calendar days.

(f) Program Monitoring. TES shall comply with Client's reasonable requests for periodic monitoring of student progress. Client shall have access to observe students in the instructional setting, to interview the TES Personnel providing instruction or therapy to Client's students, and to review the progress of such students, provided that TES shall be compensated (in accordance with Section 9) for all time spent by TES Personnel in such interview and review processes.

(g) Progress Reports. For each student assigned to the Program by Client, TES shall provide Client and the applicable Parent(s) with a written progress report which shall identify current levels of performance and suggested goals of such student by agreed upon dates each school year.

(h) Annual Reviews. For each student assigned to the Program by Client, TES shall provide Client and the applicable parent(s) with a written progress report that shall identify current levels of performance and suggested goals of the student at least five (5) business days prior mutually agreed upon dates such as scheduled IEP meetings provided that TES has been given no less than ten (10) business days advance written notice of such IEP meetings as required by Section 6(b) above.

(i) Compliance with Laws. During the term of this Agreement, TES shall comply in all respects with all applicable federal and state statutes, laws, regulations, ordinances and rules relating to the provision of special education services.

TES Personnel shall review and become familiarized with documents provided to TES by Client or otherwise made available to TES relating to the individual needs of students in the Program, including but not limited to evaluations, reports, observations, and family history.

(l) TES Client Information. TES will provide access to specific client information through its online portal, Total View, and hereby grants to Client a non-exclusive license while this Agreement is in effect for the sole and exclusive purpose of fulfilling its obligations to TES and allowing TES to fulfill its obligations under this Agreement. Client acknowledges and agrees that Total View and its related services and information constitute the property of TES and TES Proprietary Information (as defined in Section 15(a) below) and that Client's use of the Total View is subject to Section 15(a) below. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, Client agrees that (1) access to Total View will be terminated upon the expiration or earlier termination of this Agreement, and (2) Client may not copy or reproduce the information found in Total View, in whole or in part, without the prior written consent of TES (which TES may grant or deny in its sole and absolute discretion). (a) Indemnification by TES. TES shall defend, indemnify, and hold harmless Client and its officers, directors, agents and employees from all liabilities and claims for damages for death, illness, or injury to persons or damage to property (including without limitation, consequential damages) arising from the fulfillment of TES' obligations hereunder and resulting from the negligence or willful misconduct of TES or its agents, employees, or subcontractors.

(c) Notice, Cooperation, and Opportunity to Defend. The party entitled to be indemnified under this Section 11 (the "Indemnified Party") shall promptly notify in writing the party required to provide indemnification under this Section 11 (the "Indemnifying Party") of any matter giving rise to an obligation to indemnify and the Indemnifying Party shall defend such claim at its expense with counsel reasonably acceptable to the Indemnified Party, provided that the Indemnifying Party may not settle any such claim without the consent of the Indemnified Party, which consent will not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned, or delayed. The Indemnified Party agrees to cooperate with the Indemnifying Party and to make reasonably available to the Indemnifying Party any records or documents in the possession of the Indemnified Party that are relevant to or necessary to defend such claim. If the Indemnified Party desires to participate in the defense of a claim being defended by the Indemnifying Party, it may do so at its sole cost and expense, provided that the Indemnifying Party shall retain control over such defense. In the event the Indemnifying Party does not defend and resolve such claim, the Indemnified Party may do so without the indemnifying Party's participation, in which case the Indemnifying Party shall pay the expenses of such defense and any settlement, award, or judgment arising therefrom, and the Indemnified Party may settle or compromise such claim without the Indemnifying Party's consent. The failure of any Indemnified Party to give notice as provided herein shall not relieve the Indemnifying Party of its obligations hereunder except to the extent that the Indemnifying Party is actually prejudiced by such failure to give notice.

(d) Without in any way limiting the foregoing, each party shall bear responsibility for receiving, replying to, and/or complying with any audit exceptions or compliance investigations made by any state or federal agencies that are the result of the acts, omissions or conduct of such party or its respective employees or agents.

(e) The provisions of this Section 11 shall expressly survive the expiration or termination for any reason of this Agreement.

12. TERMINATION

(a) Without Cause. Either party may terminate this Agreement, without cause, upon at least sixty (60) business days prior written notice.

(b) Dispute Over Charges. Either party may terminate this Agreement upon no less than forty (40) business days notice as provided in Section 9(a)(ii) above.

(c) For Nonpayment. TES may terminate this Agreement for Client's breach of its obligations to timely pay amounts due to TES under Section 9(a)(i) or 9(b) above, provided that TES gives written notice of such breach and Client does not pay TES the amount due (plus any interest due thereon under Section 9(a)(iii) above) within five (5) business days of such notice.

(d) With Cause. Either party may terminate this Agreement upon the other party's material breach of any term or condition of this Agreement (other than a breach described in paragraphs (b) or (c) above) by giving not less than twenty (20) business days written notice of termination to the other party.

(c) Effect of Termination. Upon the expiration or termination for any reason of this Agreement,

(i) TES will, within twenty (20) business days of termination, present a final invoice for all TES Services provided through the effective date of termination, which shall be due and payable in full within twenty (20) business days of delivery to Client, subject to Section 9(a)(iii) above.

(ii) TES shall, upon receipt of the payment described in Section 12(e)(i) above, turn over to Client all records of Client maintained by or under the control of TES.

(f) All obligations of the parties, except for those described in this Section 12 and those that, by the express terms of this Agreement, expressly survive its expiration or termination, shall cease.

13. INDEPENDENT CONTRACTORS

The parties hereto acknowledge and agree that the relationship created between TES and Client as a result of this Agreement is strictly that of independent contractors. Nothing contained herein shall be construed as creating a partnership or joint venture relationship between the parties. Each party hereto shall be responsible for all compensation, salaries, taxes, withholdings, contributions, benefits, and worker's disability compensation insurance with respect to all personnel employed or contracted by such party and shall indemnify, defend, and hold harmless the other party and its officers, directors, agents, contractors, representatives and employees, from and against any and all liability, loss, damages, claims, causes of action, and expenses associated therewith (including without limitation attorneys' fees) caused or asserted to have been caused, directly or indirectly, by or as a result of same. The provisions of this Section shall survive the expiration or termination for any reason of this Agreement.

14. NO HIRE AGREEMENT

(a) No Hiring by TES.

(i) TES recognizes that Client's employees are unique and valuable resources of Client who have been trained by Client, that the Services to be provided hereunder are feasible only if TES has access to and interaction with Client's employees under the terms of this Agreement, and that, but for this Agreement, TES would not have access to Client's employees. TES further acknowledges that Client's employees may have certain legal obligations, arising in contract and otherwise, to Client, which may include obligations limiting Client's employees from going to work for a competitor and/or unfairly competing with Client. Accordingly, TES agrees that during the term of this Agreement and for a period of six (6) months following the expiration or termination of this Agreement for any reason (the "No Hire Period"), neither TES nor any person who serves as an officer, director, employee, or agent of TES during the term of this Agreement ("TES-Affiliated Person") shall, without the advance written consent of Client (which Client may grant or deny in its sole and absolute discretion), hire, employ, or contract with any person(s) employed by Client at any time during the six (6) months preceding such hiring, employment, or contracting, or directly recruit or solicit any such person(s) to become employed by or to contract with TES or any other person or entity, unless TES pays to Client a Recruiting Fee (as defined in Section 14(a)(ii) below) for each such person TES or any TES-Affiliated person hires, employs, or contracts with, or agrees to hire, employ or contract with, during the No Hire Period (herein, a "Hired Client Worker").

(ii) The Recruiting Fee for each Hired Client Worker will be the greater of (A) seven-thousand dollars ($7,000.00), (B) 10% of the Hired Client Worker's annual salary at the time of termination of his or her employment or contract with Client, or (C) 10% of the total compensation paid by Client to the Hired Client Worker during the twelve (12) months immediately preceding termination of his or her employment or contract with Client. Any Recruiting Fee incurred under this sub-paragraph shall be payable in full by TES within ten (10) calendar days of TES' receipt of written notice from Client setting forth the basis for the imposition of the Recruiting Fee. The parties agree that the damages Client would suffer as a result of TES' hiring, employing, or contracting with any Hired Client Worker would be difficult or impossible to quantify and that the Recruiting Fee constitutes a reasonable, good-faith estimate of those damages, based on all information known and discoverable by the parties as of the date hereof. In the event TES challenges the enforceability of the Recruiting Fee and the Recruiting Fee is held to be unenforceable by a court or arbitrator, generally or with respect to a specific Hired Client Worker, Client shall be entitled to any and all damages or other relief provided in law or in equity, including attorney fees and costs.

(b) No Hiring by Client.

(i) Client recognizes that each of the TES Personnel are unique and valuable resources of TES who have been trained by TES, that the Services to be provided hereunder are feasible only if TES Personnel have access to and interaction with Client and its agents and representatives under the terms of this Agreement, and that, but for this Agreement, Client would not have access to TES' employees. Client further acknowledges that TES Personnel have certain legal obligations, arising in contract and otherwise, to TES, which include obligations not to accept positions with TES' clients without the prior written consent of TES, not to solicit any TES client for employment or a competing business, or otherwise take any action to interfere with the relationship between TES and its clients. Accordingly, Client agrees that during the No Hire Period, neither Client nor any person who serves as an officer, director, employee, or agent of Client at any time during the term of this Agreement ("Client-Affiliated Person") shall, without the prior written consent of TES (which TES may grant or deny in its sole and absolute discretion), hire, employ, or contract with any TES Personnel or any other person(s) employed by TES at any time during the six (6) months immediately preceding such hiring, employment, or contracting, or directly recruit or solicit any such person(s) to become employed by or to contract with Client or any other person or entity, unless Client pays to TES a Recruiting Fee (as defined in Section 14(b)(ii) below) for each such person Client or any Client-

Affiliated Person hires, employs, or contracts with, or agrees to hire, employ, or contract with during the No Hire Period (herein, a "Hired TES Worker").

(b) The Recruiting Fee for each Hired TES Worker will be the greater of (A) seven-thousand dollars ($7,000.00), (B) 10% of the Hired TES Worker's annual salary at the time of termination of his or her employment or contract with TES, or (C) 10% of the total compensation paid by TES to the Hired TES Worker during the twelve (12) months immediately preceding termination of his or her employment or contract with TES. The Recruiting Fee shall be additional compensation due to TES under Section 9 herein, shall be invoiced to Client in accordance with Section 9, and shall be due and payable in full within ten (10) calendar days, notwithstanding the provisions of Section 9(a)(ii) and subject to the provisions for the payment of interest and collection costs in Section 9(a)(iii). TES shall be entitled to apply all payments received from Client to any unpaid Recruiting Fee prior to any other item of Compensation due to TES under Section 9 herein. The parties agree that the damages TES would suffer as a result of Client's or a Client-Affiliated Person's hiring, employment, or contracting with any Hired TES Worker would be difficult or impossible to quantify and that the Recruiting Fee constitutes a reasonable, good-faith estimate of those damages based on all information known and discoverable by the parties as of the date hereof. In the event Client challenges the enforceability of the Recruiting Fee and the Recruiting Fee is held to be unenforceable by a court or arbitrator, generally or with respect to a specific Hired TES Worker, TES shall be entitled to any and all damages or other relief provided in law or in equity, including attorney fees and costs.

(c) Notification, Costs. Upon a breach of any party's obligations under this Section 14, the non-breaching party shall be entitled to be indemnified by the breaching party from any loss or harm, including without limitation, attorney fees and collection costs, in connection with any breach or enforcement of the breaching party's obligations under this Section 14. Each party will notify the other party in writing immediately upon any breach of this Section 14 of which it is aware.

(d) Equitable Relief and Indemnification. Each party acknowledges that and agrees that due to the unique nature of TES Personnel and the employees of Client, respectively, and the competitively valuable nature of the trade secrets and confidential information of the other party to which its employees and contractors have access and knowledge, any breach of a party's obligations under this Section 14 may allow the breaching party or third parties to compete unfairly with the non-breaching party, resulting in irreparable harm to the non-breaching party that cannot be adequately compensated. Therefore, upon any such breach or any threat thereof, the non-breaching party shall be entitled to appropriate equitable relief in addition to whatever remedies it might have at law. In addition, upon any breach of any party's obligations under this Section 14, the non-breaching party shall be entitled to be indemnified by the breaching party from any loss or harm, including without limitation, attorney's fees, in connection with any breach or enforcement of the breaching party's obligations under this Section 14. Each party will notify the other party in writing immediately upon any breach of this Section 14 of which it is aware.

(e) Survival. The obligations of the parties under this Section 14 shall expressly survive the expiration or termination for any reason of this Agreement.

15. CONFIDENTIALITY

(a) TES Proprietary Information. Client acknowledges and agrees that TES owns all right, title and interest in and to the TES materials and TES systems used in the performance of the Services hereunder, including, without limitation, all trade secrets, policies, procedures, know how, protocols, policies, operating manuals (expressly including the TES Client Manual), specifications, software, forms, education materials, financial information, as well as additions and modifications thereto developed and/or used by TES in the furtherance of TES operations and in performance of TES' obligations under this Agreement (collectively the "TES Proprietary Information"). Client shall maintain the confidentiality of all such TES Proprietary Information and shall not divulge such information to any third parties both during the term of this Agreement and after its termination except (i) as may be necessary for the discharge of its obligations under this Agreement, and (ii) as required by law. Client shall take reasonable precautions against disclosure of any TES Proprietary Information to unauthorized persons by any of its officers, directors, employees or agents. Client shall not directly or indirectly, without the express prior written permission of TES, use the TES Proprietary Information for any purpose except to the limited extent necessary for the provision of Services under this Agreement. Upon termination of this Agreement for any reason, Client shall cease all use of TES Proprietary Information and shall return to TES all manifestations and copies thereof in Client's possession or control except to the extent Client is allowed continued use of completed forms as set forth in Section 7(i).

(b) Client Proprietary Information. TES acknowledges and agrees that in the course of performance of its obligations under this Agreement, TES will have access to certain information proprietary to Client, which may include but is not limited to trade secrets, policies, procedures, operating manuals, specifications, software, business or strategic plans, budgets, salary information, contractual arrangements or negotiations, financial information, and employee information (collectively, the "Client Proprietary Information"). All of such Client Proprietary Information shall be and remain the property of Client at all times, and TES shall have no right, title or interest therein. TES shall maintain the confidentiality of all Client Proprietary Information and shall not divulge such information to any third parties, except (i) as may be necessary for the discharge of its obligations under this Agreement and (ii) as required by law. TES shall take reasonable precautions against disclosure of any Client Proprietary Information to unauthorized persons by any of its officers, directors, employees or agents. Upon termination of this Agreement for any reason, TES shall cease all use Client Proprietary Information and shall return to Client all manifestations and copies thereof in TES' possession or control except to the extent that the information is retained for TES' internal and business records.

(c) Equitable Relief and Indemnification. Each of the parties acknowledges and agrees that due to the unique nature of its proprietary information there can be no adequate remedy of law for any breach of its obligations hereunder, and that any such breach may allow the breaching party or third parties to unfairly compete with the non-breaching party resulting in irreparable harm to the non-breaching party that cannot be adequately compensated. Therefore, upon any such breach or any threat thereof, the non-breaching party shall be entitled to temporary, preliminary, and permanent injunctive relief in addition to whatever other remedies it might have at law and equity and to be indemnified by the breaching party from any loss or harm, including without limitation, actual attorney fees, in connection with any breach or enforcement of the breaching party's obligations hereunder or the unauthorized use or release of any such proprietary information. Each party will notify the other party in writing immediately upon the occurrence of any unauthorized release or other breach of which it is aware.

(d) Survival. The obligations of the parties under this Section 15 shall expressly survive the expiration or termination for any reason of this Agreement.

16. MISCELLANEOUS

To the Board of Directors
Wisdom Academy for Young Scientist
Los Angeles, California

Dear Board Members:

Thank you for your interest in our firm. We are excited about this opportunity to provide auditing services for Wisdom Academy for Young Scientist. In the pages that follow we will introduce the key members of our firm, discuss our background and give you some reasons why we believe that Hill, Morgan and Associates, LLP can be of great benefit to Wisdom Academy for Young Scientist.

Who is Hill, Morgan and Associates, LLP?

We are a firm of Certified Public Accountants licensed under the statute of the State of California with two offices in Los Angeles County. We began operations in February 2003 under the leadership of the firm's two partners Jeffrey Hill and Raymond Morgan. Each of the partners has over 20 years of experience in non-profit auditing and accounting, most of which came from their past employment with a prominent local CPA firm. As a result of this past experience, we are experts in regards to the rules and regulations with respect to generally accepted auditing standards and Government Auditing Standards. In addition, our firm is on the State Controller's list of firms eligible to conduct audits of California charter schools. One of our firm's goals is to provide quality hands-on auditing and accounting services too non-profit organizations.

Why should Hill, Morgan and Associates, LLP be selected as your auditors?

Below are several factors as to why we can be of great benefit to Wisdom Academy for Young Scientist.

• Quality professional services

The organizational design of Hill, Morgan and Associates, LLP is such that it allows our clients to receive quality professional services. It is not standard practice for CPA firms to utilize a person with over 20 years of experience to be involved with the day-to-day fieldwork of an audit. However, as mentioned above, one of our goals is to provide quality hands on services. As a result, your School receives the benefit of having an efficient audit because there is no learning curve with respect to having a first year or second year staff conducting your audit. In addition, your School will receive quality technical assistance when applicable because we can raise issues noted during the audit fieldwork, immediately discuss those issues with your management team and provide a resolution.

• Prior experience with similar non-profit organizations

The partners of Hill, Morgan and Associates, LLP have a significant amount of experience auditing charter schools. Please see the professional reference section on page three. This prior experience will benefit your School in that we can provide quality professional services.

• Timely and dependable services

Our firm's track record for providing timely quality services has already been established and can be verified through communication with the professional references included in this proposal. The Partner assigned to this engagement will be accessible to meet face-to-face with your School's Board of Directors and management to resolve audit issues on a year-around basis.

• Audit fees

The organizational design of Hill, Morgan and Associates, LLP results in your School receiving more direct audit services for your dollar. This is accomplished because our firm does not have any significant overhead cost. As a result our fees will be competitive or better than what you are currently paying because our fees will not include the overhead costs that are common to other CPA firms.

§ 15497. Local Control and Accountability Plan and Annual Update Template.

Introduction:

LEA: Los Angeles County Office of Education Contact (Name, Title, Email, Phone Number): Deara Okonkwo, Ed.D., Vice Principal, wayscharter@gmail.com, (323) 752-6655 LCAP Year: 2014

Local Control and Accountability Plan and Annual Update Template

The Local Control and Accountability Plan (LCAP) and annual update template shall be used to provide details regarding local educational agencies' (LEAs) actions and expenditures to support pupil outcomes and overall performance pursuant to Education Code sections 52060, 52066, 47605, 47605.5, and 47606.5.

For school districts, pursuant to Education Code section 52060, the LCAP must describe, for the school district and each school within the district, goals and specific actions to achieve those goals for all pupils and each subgroup of pupils identified in Education Code section 52052, including pupils with disabilities, for each of the state priorities and any locally identified priorities.

For county offices of education, pursuant to Education Code section 52066, the LCAP must describe, for each county office of education-operated school and program, goals and specific actions to achieve those goals for all pupils and each subgroup of pupils identified in Education Code section 52052, including pupils with disabilities, who are funded through the county office of education Local Control Funding Formula as identified in Education Code section 2574 (pupils attending juvenile court schools, on probation or parole, or mandatorily expelled) for each of the state priorities and any locally identified priorities. School districts and county offices of education may additionally coordinate and describe in their LCAPs services provided to pupils funded by a school district but attending county-operated schools and programs, including special education programs.

Charter schools, pursuant to Education Code sections 47605, 47605.5, and 47606.5, must describe goals and specific actions to achieve those goals for all pupils and each subgroup of pupils identified in Education Code section 52052, including pupils with disabilities, for each of the state priorities as applicable and any locally identified priorities. For charter schools, the inclusion and description of goals for state priorities in the LCAP may be modified to meet the grade levels served and the nature of the programs provided, including modifications to reflect only the statutory requirements currently applicable to charter schools in the Education Code.

The LCAP is intended to be a comprehensive planning tool. LEAs may reference and describe actions and expenditures in other plans and funded by a variety of other fund sources when detailing goals, actions, and expenditures related to the state and local priorities. LCAPs must be consistent with school plans submitted pursuant to Education Code section 64001. The information contained in the LCAP, or annual update, may be supplemented by information contained in other plans (including the LEA plan pursuant to Section 1112 of Subpart 1 of Part A of Title I of Public Law 107-110) that are incorporated or referenced as relevant in this document.

For each section of the template, LEAs should comply with instructions and use the guiding questions as prompts (but not limits) for completing the information as required by statute. Guiding questions do not require separate narrative responses. Data referenced in the LCAP must be consistent with the school accountability report card where appropriate. LEAs may resize pages or attach additional pages as necessary to facilitate completion of the LCAP.

State Priorities

The state priorities listed in Education Code sections 52060 and 52066 can be categorized as specified below for planning purposes, however, school districts and county offices of education must address each of the state priorities in their LCAP. Charter schools must address the priorities in Education Code section 52060(d) that apply to the grade levels served, or the nature of the program operated, by the charter school.

A. Conditions of Learning:

Teacher: degree to which teachers are appropriately assigned pursuant to Education Code section 44258.9, and fully credentialed in the subject areas used for the pupils they are teaching; pupils have access to standards-aligned instructional materials pursuant to Education Code section 60119; and school facilities are maintained in good repair pursuant to Education Code section 17002(d). (Priority 1)

Implementation of State Standards: implementation of academic content and performance standards adopted by the state board for all pupils, including English learners. (Priority 2)

Course access: pupil enrollment in a broad course of study that includes all of the subject areas described in Education Code section 51210 and subdivisions (a) to (f), inclusive, of Section 51220, as applicable. (Priority 7)

Expelled pupils (for county offices of education only): coordination of instruction of expelled pupils pursuant to Education Code section 48926. (Priority 9)

Transfer youth (for county offices of education only): coordination of services, including working with the county child welfare agency to share information, responding to the needs of the juvenile court system, and ensuring transfer of health and education records. (Priority 10)

B. Pupil Outcomes:

Pupil achievement: performance on standardized tests, score on Academic Performance Index, share of pupils that are college and career ready, share of English learners that become English proficient, English learner reclassification rate, share of pupils that pass Advanced Placement exams with 3 or higher, share of pupils determined prepared for college by the Early Assessment Program. (Priority 4)

Other pupil outcomes: pupil outcomes in the subject areas described in Education Code section 51210 and subdivisions (a) to (i), inclusive, of Education Code section 51220, as applicable. (Priority 8)

C. Engagement:

Parent involvement: efforts to seek parent input in decision making, promotion of parent participation in programs for unduplicated pupils and special need subgroups. (Priority 3)

Pupil engagement: school attendance rates, chronic absenteeism rates, middle school dropout rates, high school dropout rates, high school expulsions rates. (Priority 5)

School climate: pupil suspension rates, pupil expulsion rates, other local measures including surveys of pupils, parents and teachers on the sense of safety and school connectedness. (Priority 6)

Section 1: Stakeholder Engagement

Meaningful engagement of parents, pupils, and other stakeholders, including those representing the subgroups identified in Education Code section 52062.5, critical to the LCAP and budget process. Education Code sections 52062 and 52063 specify the minimum requirements for school districts; Education Code sections 52068 and 52069 specify the minimum requirements for county offices of education, and Education Code section 47606.5 specifies the minimum requirements for charter schools. In addition, Education Code section 48985 specifies the requirements for translation of objectives.

Instructions: Describe the process used to engage parents, pupils, and the community and how this engagement contributed to development of the LCAP or annual update. Note that the LEA's goals related to the state priority of parental involvement are to be described separately in Section 2, and the related actions and expenditures are to be described in Section 3.

Grading Questions:

- 1) How have parents, community members, pupils, local bargaining units, and other stakeholders (e.g., LEA personnel, county child welfare agencies, county office of education foster youth services programs, court-appointed special advocates, foster youth, foster parents, education rights holders and other foster youth stakeholders, English learner parents, community organizations representing English learners, and others as appropriate) been engaged and involved in developing, reviewing, and supporting implementation of the LCAP?
- 2) How have stakeholders been included in the LEA's process in a timely manner to allow for engagement in the development of the LCAP?
- 3) What information (e.g., quantitative and qualitative data/metrics) was made available to stakeholders related to the state priorities and used by the LEA to inform the LCAP goal setting process?
- 4) What changes, if any, were made in the LCAP prior to adoption as a result of written comments or other feedback received by the LEA through any of the LEA's engagement processes?
- 5) What specific actions were taken to meet statutory requirements for stakeholder engagement pursuant to Education Code sections 52062, 52068, and 47606.5, including engagement with representative parents of pupils identified in Education Code section 52062.5?
- 6) In the annual update, how has the involvement of these stakeholders supported improved outcomes for pupils related to the state priorities?

Wisdom Academy is located in South Los Angeles and serves Kindergarten through fifth grade students. Opened in 2006, Wisdom Academy has quickly gained a strong reputation as an academically high performing school successfully serving a population of students traditionally labeled as underperforming. for local funding to support its operations.

The Local Control and Accountability Plan (LCAP) is a three year plan that must be developed by school districts and submitted along with the budget by July 1 of each year due to the passage of the Local Control Funding Formula (LCFF), part of the State Budget Act (AB 97 and SB 91). The LCAP is a description of the annual goals of each school district, charter school, and county office of education, and describes how each entity will expend its budget to support the district's goals. LCFF replaces the revenue bond funding model and categorical funding, and emphasizes a local determination of how the funds are used, with input by school community stakeholders. The LCAP outlines how the eight state priorities will be addressed, and how the identified student subgroups will be served.

The development of our Local Control Accountability Plan consisted of a collaborative effort amongst diverse stakeholders of the school community. In an effort to engage the school community, Wisdom Academy began by holding four LCAP/LCFF introductory meetings for all stakeholders WAYS community. (Agendas and attendees available upon request.) The meetings were offered at varied times and alternate dates to provide several options for the WAYS community. During the meetings, essential components of LCFF and LCAP were addressed and the school formed a LCAP Committee to begin developing the Plan. Attendees reviewed the state Board of Education approved LCAP template and requirements, and were given copies of the regulations. Supportive resources were viewed (West Ed LCFF/LCAP video). Upon draft development, a survey was conducted along with focus group and interviews to review critical areas of the LCAP. The Board of Directors, School Site Council, District English Learner Advisory Council, Certificated and Classified Staff were also involved in reviewing and supporting the implementation of the LCAP. WAYS used the following quantitative data for the goal setting process: attendance data, suspension/expulsion rates, data on teacher miss-assignment, instructional materials use rate, facility inspection data, CST EIA proficiency rate, CST math proficiency rate, English Learner reclassification rate, Long Term English Learner data, and parent survey data.

Increased emphasis on student attendance and increased opportunities for parent engagement

LCAP Committee synthesized input to include three major goal areas in the LCAP over the next three years.

1. Increase opportunities for academic support to enable all students to achieve proficiency in English Language Arts and Mathematics [result of student achievement data and input from students, parents and teachers]
2. Engage parents and families to support student success in school [result of parent involvement data, and school climate data]
3. Create safe and welcoming learning environments where students attend and are connected to their school [result of stakeholder surveys and school climate data]

Section 2: Goals and Progress Indicators

For school districts, Education Code sections 52060 and 52061, for county offices of education, Education Code sections 52066 and 52067, and for charter schools, Education Code section 47606.5 require(s) the LCAP to include a description of the annual goals, for all pupils and each subgroup of pupils, for each state priority and any local priorities and require the annual update to include a review of progress towards the goals and describe any changes to the goals.

Instructions: Describe annual goals and expected and actual progress toward meeting goals. This section must include specifics projected for the applicable term of the LCAP, and in each annual update year, a review of progress made in the past fiscal year based on an identified metric. Charter schools may adjust the chart below to align with the term of the charter school's budget that is submitted to the school's authorizer pursuant to Education Code section 47604.33. The metrics may be quantitative or qualitative, although LEAs must, at minimum, use the specific metrics that statute explicitly references as required elements for measuring progress within a particular state priority area. Goals must address each of the state priorities and any additional local priorities; however, one goal may address multiple priorities. The LEA may identify which school sites and subgroups have the same goals, and group and describe those goals together. The LEA may also indicate those goals that are not applicable to a specific subgroup or school site. The goals must reflect outcomes for all pupils and include specific goals for school sites and specific subgroups, including pupils with disabilities, both at the LEA level and, where applicable, at the school site level. To facilitate alignment between the LCAP and school plans, the LCAP shall identify and incorporate school-specific goals related to the state and local priorities from the school plans submitted pursuant to Education Code section 64001. Furthermore, the LCAP should be developed with, and input requested from, school site-level advisory groups (e.g., school site councils, English Learner Advisory Councils, pupil advisory groups, etc.) to facilitate alignment between school-site and district-level goals and actions. An LEA may incorporate or reference actions described in other plans that are being undertaken to meet the goal.

Guiding Questions:

- 1) What are the LEA's goal(s) to address state priorities related to "Conditions of Learning"?
- 2) What are the LEA's goal(s) to address state priorities related to "Pupil Outcomes"?
- 3) What are the LEA's goal(s) to address state priorities related to "Engagement"(e.g., pupil and parent)?
- 4) What are the LEA's goal(s) to address locally-identified priorities?
- 5) How have the unique needs of individual school sites been evaluated to inform the development of meaningful district and/or individual school site goals (e.g., input from site level advisory groups, staff, parents, community, pupils; review of school level plans; in-depth school level data analysis, etc.)?
- 6) What are the unique goals for subgroups as defined in Education Code sections 42238.01 and 52052 that are different from the LEA's goals for all pupils?
- 7) What are the specific predicted outcomes/metrics/noticeable changes associated with each of the goals annually and over the term of the LCAP?
- 8) What information (e.g., quantitative and qualitative data/metrics) was considered/reviewed to develop goals to address each state or local priority and/or to review progress toward goals in the annual update?
- 9) What information was considered/reviewed for individual school sites?
- 10) What information was considered/reviewed for subgroups identified in Education Code section 52052?
- 11) In the annual update, what changes/progress have been realized and how do these compare to changes/progress predicted? What modifications are being made to the LCAP as a result of this comparison?

Section 3: Actions, Services, and Expenditures

For school districts, Education Code sections 52060 and 52061, for county offices of education, Education Code sections 52066 and 52067, and for charter schools, Education Code section 47606.5 require the LCAP to include a description of the specific actions an LEA will take to meet the goals identified. Additionally Education Code section 52064 requires a listing and description of the expenditures required to implement the specific actions.

Instructions: Identify annual actions to be performed to meet the goals described in Section 2, and describe expenditures to implement each action, and where these expenditures can be found in the LEA's budget. Actions may describe a group of services that are implemented to achieve identified goals. The actions and expenditures must reflect details within a goal for the specific subgroups identified in Education Code section 52052, including pupils with disabilities, and for specific school sites as applicable. In describing the actions and expenditures that will serve low-income, English learner, and/or foster youth pupils as defined in Education Code section 42238.01, the LEA must identify whether supplemental and concentration funds are used in a districtwide, schoolwide, countywide, or charterwide manner. In the annual update, the LEA must describe any changes to actions as a result of a review of progress. The LEA must reference all fund sources used to support actions and services. Expenditures must be classified using the California School Accounting Manual as required by Education Code sections 52061, 52067, and 47606.5.

Guiding Questions:

- 1) What actions/services will be provided to all pupils, to subgroups of pupils identified pursuant to Education Code section 52052, to specific school sites, to English learners, to low-income pupils, and/or to foster youth to achieve goals identified in the LCAP?
- 2) How do these actions/services link to identified goals and performance indicators?
- 3) What expenditures support changes to actions/services as a result of the goal identified? Where can these expenditures be found in the LEA's budget?
- 4) In the annual update, how have the actions/services addressed the needs of all pupils and did the provisions of those services result in the desired outcomes?
- 5) In the annual update, how have the actions/services addressed the needs of all subgroups of pupils identified pursuant to Education Code section 52052, including, but not limited to, English learners, low-income pupils, and foster youth; and did the provision of those actions/services result in the desired outcomes?
- 6) In the annual update, how have the actions/services addressed the identified needs and goals of specific school sites and did the provision of those actions/services result in the desired outcomes?
- 7) In the annual update, what changes in actions, services, and expenditures have been made as a result of reviewing past progress and/or changes to goals?

A. What annual actions, and the LEA may include any services that support these actions, are to be performed to meet the goals described in Section 2 for ALL pupils and the goals specifically for subgroups of pupils identified in Education Code section 52052 but not listed in Table JB below (e.g., Ethnic subgroups and pupils with disabilities)? List and describe expenditures for each fiscal year implementing these actions, including where these expenditures can be found in the LEA's budget.

7. Describe the LEA's increase in funds in the LCAP year calculated on the basis of the number and concentration of low income, foster youth, and English learner pupils as determined pursuant to 5 CCR 15496(a)(5). Describe how the LEA is expending these funds in the LCAP year. Include a description of, and justification for, the use of any funds in a districtwide, schoolwide, countywide, or charterwide manner as specified in 5 CCR 15496. For school districts with below 55 percent of enrollment of unduplicated pupils in the district or below 40 percent of enrollment of unduplicated pupils at a school site in the LCAP year, when using supplemental and concentration funds in a districtwide or charterwide manner, the school district must additionally describe how the services provided are the most effective use of funds to meet the district's goals for unduplicated pupils in the state priority areas. (See 5 CCR 15496(b) for guidance.)

For the 2011-12 LCAP year, Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists is receiving approximately $3,575,405 in Supplemental and Concentration funds. The increased funds have been allocated to school sites to support the actions and services identified in the LCAP. For each school-wide action or service a description and justification of the use has been provided. Due to the nature of our personalized learning program, an intervention specialist will enhance our ability to individualize the intervention process. Further, we have established funds for low-income students to provide additional academic tutoring or other supports as needed. We believe that this approach will have the greatest impact on our low-income population. These funds will directly support our SES population through ELA and Math. Ensure high quality teachers for all students - A portion of the funding is allocated to provide increased compensation to teachers. Providing competitive salaries ensures Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists' ability to attract and retain high quality teachers. This also includes providing comprehensive professional development for teachers.

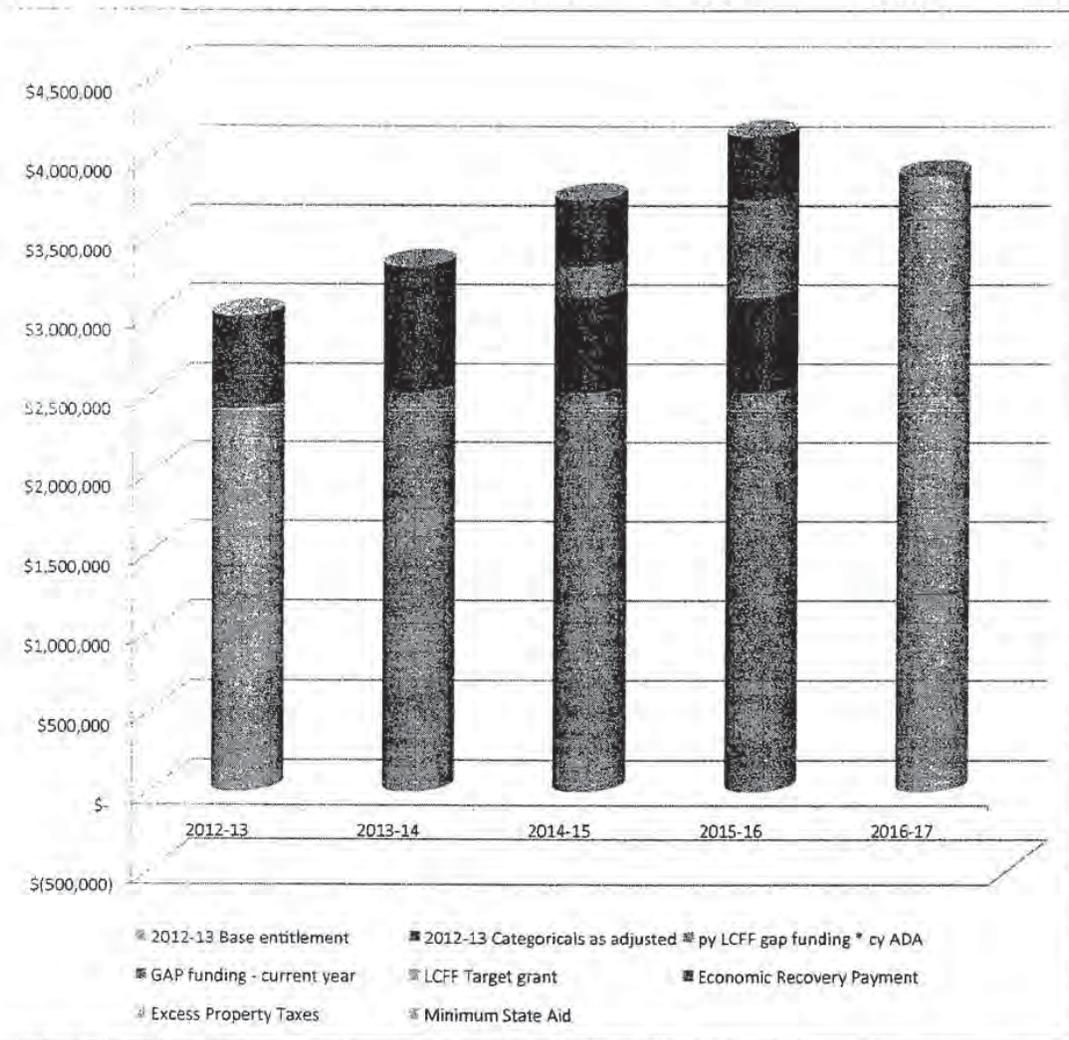

In compliance with the requirements of 5 CCR 15496, demonstrate how the services provided in the LCAP year for low income pupils, foster youth, and English learners provide for increased or improved services for these pupils in proportion to the increase in funding provided for such pupils in that year as calculated pursuant to 5 CCR 15496(a)(7). Identify the percentage by which services for unduplicated pupils must be increased or improved as compared to the services provided to all pupils in the LCAP year as calculated pursuant to 5 CCR 15496(a). An LFA shall describe how the proportionality percentage is met using a quantitative and/or qualitative description of the increased and/or improved services for unduplicated pupils as compared to the services provided to all pupils.

B. Information Items:

Board Report: Ms Walker, board member, gave report on LACOE's capacity meeting with Jan Isenberg and team. The meeting was held at the county office and lasted approximately 2 hrs. Ms Walker felt the meeting was positive-many questions were asked as stated above. Board members present participated in answering the questions.

New Board Members: In attendance at the meeting are the following persons to join the WAYS governing board: Mr. Jonathan Fields, Ms Dorothy Valenti, Ms Kandee Lewis, and Ms Alexandria Love -- the future WAYS board members addressed the board and audience giving a brief synopsis of education, skill sets, expertise, experience and why they want to become apart of the WAYS family. Each potential member brings a wealth of educational experience, community knowledge, boardroom knowledge and experience, and fundraising acumen. The WAYS BOD and members present welcomed each individual with open arms.

Executive Director's Report: State of the organization --school is still operating well, going through the appeal process at LACOE. INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

I have audited the accompanying statement of financial position of Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists (WAYS) (a California not-for-profit organization), as of June 30, 2012, and the related statements of activities and changes in net assets, and cash flows for the twelve months period then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists' management. My responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on my audit. The prior year summarized comparative information has been derived from the organization's 2011 financial statements and, in my report dated December 14, 2011, I expressed an unqualified opinion on those financial statements.

I conducted my audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America; the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards issued by the Comptroller General of the United States and the Education Audit Appeals Panel's Standards and Procedures for Audits of California K-12 Local Educational Agencies. Those standards require that I plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. I believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In my opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists as of June 30, 2012, and the changes in its net assets and cash flows for the twelve months period then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, I have also issued a report dated December 31, 2012 on my consideration of Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists' internal control over financial reporting and on my tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grant agreements and other matters. The purpose of this report is to describe the scope of our testing of internal control over financial reporting and compliance and the results of that testing, and not to provide an opinion on the internal control over financial reporting or on compliance. That report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards and should be considered in assessing the results of our audit.

My audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the financial statements of Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists. The accompanying schedule of federal awards required by U.S. Office of Management and Budget Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments and Non-Profit Organizations and the additional supplementary information section is presented for the purpose of additional analysis and is not a required part of the financial statements. Such information is the responsibility of management and was derived from and relates directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statements. The information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the financial statements and, in my opinion is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

WAYS conforms to accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (GAAP) as prescribed by the Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB) and the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA).

Financial Statements Presentation

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared in conformity with the disclosure and display requirements of FASB ASC 958-205, (prior authoritative literature: SFAS No. 117, Financial Statements of Not-for-Profit Organizations). Accordingly, WAYS' financial statements are present on the following three classes of net assets: (a) unrestricted net assets, (b) temporarily restricted net assets, and (c) permanently restricted net assets.

Temporarily restricted and permanently restricted net assets are created only by donor-imposed restrictions on their use. All other net assets, including board-designated or appropriated amounts, are legally unrestricted and are reported as part of the unrestricted class.

Amounts received that are designated for specific use in future periods are reported as temporarily restricted. When the restriction expires, temporarily restricted net assets are reclassified to unrestricted net assets for expenditure.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect certain reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of financial statements and the reported revenues and expenses during the year. Accordingly, actual results could differ from those estimates.

Independent Auditor's Report on Internal Control Over Financial Reporting and on Compliance and Other Matters Based on an Audit of Financial Statements Performed in Accordance With *Government Auditing Standards

Board of Directors
Merle Williamson Foundation, dba.
Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists (WAYS)
Los Angeles, California

I have audited the financial statements of Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists (WAYS) as of and for the year ended June 30, 2012, and have issued our report thereon dated December 31, 2012. I conducted my audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States.

Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

Management of Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists (WAYS) is responsible for establishing and maintaining effective internal control over financial reporting. In planning and performing my audit, I considered Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists' internal control over financial reporting as a basis for designing my auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing my opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists' internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists' internal control over financial reporting.

A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent, or detect and correct misstatements on a timely basis. A material weakness is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the entity's financial statements will not be prevented, or detected and corrected on a timely basis.

My consideration of internal control over financial reporting was for the limited purpose described in the first paragraph of this section and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control over financial reporting that might be deficiencies, significant deficiencies, or material weaknesses. I did not identify any deficiencies in internal control over financial reporting that I consider to be material weaknesses, as defined above.

Independent Auditor's Report on Internal Control Over Financial Reporting and on Compliance and Other Matters Based on an Audit of Financial
*continued

A significant deficiency is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control that is less severe than a material weakness, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance. I consider the deficiencies described in the accompany schedule of findings and questioned costs to be significant deficiencies that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards and which are described in the accompanying Schedule of Finding and Questioned Costs as Finding 11-01/30000 and 11-02/30000. Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists' response to the findings identified in my audit is described in the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. I did not audit Wisdom for Young Scientists' response and, accordingly, I express no opinion on it.

Compliance and Other Matters

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists' financial statements are free of material misstatement, I performed tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grant agreements, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audit, and accordingly, I do not express such an opinion. The results of my tests disclosed no instances of noncompliance or other matters that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the Board of Directors, management, the Los Angeles County of Education, the California Department of Education, the State Controller's Office and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT ON STATE COMPLIANCE

Board of Directors
Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists
 Los Angeles, California

I have audited the financial statements of the Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists (WAYS) as of and for the year ended June 30, 2012 and have issued my report thereon dated December 31, 2012. I conducted my audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. I have also audited the WAYS' compliance with the requirements specified in the State's audit guide, Standards and Procedures for Audits of California K-12 Local Education Agencies 2011-12, published by the Education Audit Appeals Panel, applicable to the WAYS' statutory requirements identified below for the year ended June 30, 2012. Compliance with the requirements referred to above is the responsibility of the WAYS' management. My responsibility is to express an opinion on the WAYS' compliance based on our audit.

The auditing standards referred to above require that I plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether noncompliance with the compliance requirements referred to above that could have a material effect on the state laws and regulations applicable to the items in the schedule below occurred. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence about the WAYS' compliance with those requirements and performing such other procedures as were considered necessary in the circumstances. I believe that my audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion. My audit does not provide a legal determination of the WAYS' compliance with those requirements.

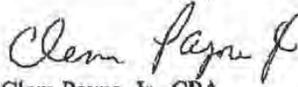

In connection with the audit referred to above, I selected and tested transactions and records to determine the WAYS' compliance with the state laws and regulations applicable to the following items:

State Compliance Procedures for Charter Schools:	Procedures In Audit Guide	Procedures Performed
Class Size Reduction Program
General Requirements	7	Not Applicable
Option One Classes	3	Not Applicable
Option Two Classes	4	Not Applicable
Only One School Serving Grades L-3	4	Not Applicable
After School Education and Safety Program:
General Requirements	4	Yes
After School	5	Yes
Before School	6	Not Applicable
Contemporaneous Records of Attendance	3	Yes
Mode of Instruction	1	Yes
Non-classroom – Based Instructions/ Independent Study	15	Not Applicable
Determination of Funding for Non-class Based Instructions	3	Not Applicable
Annual Instructional Minutes – Classroom Based	4	Yes

The term "Not Applicable" is used above to mean either that WAYS did not offer the program during the current fiscal year or that the program applies only to a different type of local education agency.

In my opinion, Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists complied, in all material respects, with the compliance requirements referred to above that could have a direct and material effect on each of its state programs for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2012.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists' Board of Directors, management, the Los Angeles County Office of Education, the California Department of Education, and the State Controller's Office and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.

Independent Auditor's Report

Report on Financial Statements

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists, which comprise the statement of financial position as of June 30, 2013, and the related statements of activities and cash flows for the year then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the consolidated financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our qualified audit opinion.

Basis for Qualified Opinion

Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists did not maintain a detail of capital assets or depreciation. As a result we are unable to obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence about the balances recorded in capital assets. Consequently, we were unable to determine whether any adjustments to these amounts were necessary.

Qualified Opinion

In our opinion, except for the effects of the matter described in the Basis for Qualified Opinion paragraph, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists as of June 30, 2013, and the changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Other Matters

Supplementary and Other Information

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the consolidated financial statements as a whole. The accompanying Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards, as required by Office of Management and Budget Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the financial statements. The accompanying additional supplementary information, as required by the Standards and Procedures for Audits of California K-12 Local Education Agencies 2012-13, published by the Education Audit Appeals Panel is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the financial statements. Such information is the responsibility of management and was derived from and relates directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statements. The information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the financial statements and certain additional procedures, including comparing and reconciling such information directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statements in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. In our opinion, the information is fairly stated, in all material respects, in relation to the financial statements as a whole.

Other Reporting Required by Government Auditing Standards

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we have also issued our report dated January 29, 2014 on our consideration of Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists' internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grant agreements and other matters. The purpose of that report is to describe the scope of our testing of internal control over financial reporting and compliance and the results of that testing, and not to provide an opinion on internal control over financial reporting or on compliance. That report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards in considering Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists' internal control over financial reporting and compliance.

Notes to the Financial Statements

Year Ended June 30, 2013

A. Organization and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Organization

Merle Williamson Foundation doing business as Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists (the Academy) was organized on September 12, 2006 as a charter school pursuant to California Education Code §47600 under a charter agreement with Los Angeles Unified School District in July, 2006. Effective July 1, 2011, the Academy was charter under the authority of the Los Angeles County Office of Education (LACOE). The Academy operates under a locally elected Board form of government and provides educational services to grades K-5 as mandated by the State and/or Federal agencies.

The Academy is a California public charter academy organized for the purpose of providing rigorous academic environment to a population of students traditionally labeled as underperforming or high-risk students. The Academy's vision is to create a transformational learning climate in which students become empowered to be leaders, self-responsible learners, agents of change, and true scientists.

Basis of Presentation

Financial statement presentation follows the recommendations of the Financial Accounting Standards Board in its Accounting Standards Codification (ASC) No. 958, Financial Statements of Not-for-Profit Organizations. Under ASC No. 958, the Academy is required to report information regarding its financial position and activities according to three classes of net assets:

- Unrestricted net assets represent expendable funds available for operations, which are not otherwise limited by donor or grant restrictions.
- Temporarily restricted net assets consist of contributed funds or grants subject to donor or grant imposed restrictions contingent upon specific performance of a future event or a specific passage of time before the Academy may spend the funds.
- Permanently restricted net assets are subject to irrevocable donor restrictions requiring that the assets be maintained in perpetuity usually for the purpose of generating investment income to fund current operations.

The Academy had no permanently restricted net assets during the year.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Accordingly, actual results could differ from those estimates.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

For the purposes of the statement of cash flows, the Academy considers all highly liquid debt equity instruments purchased with an original maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

Investments

The Academy's method of accounting for investments, in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, is the fair value method. Fair value is determined by published quotes. Changes in fair value of investments results in increases or decreases in unrealized fair values of equity investments. Adjustments to fair values are reflected as unrealized gain/loss on investments in the accompanying statement of activities.

Accounts Receivable

Accounts receivable arise in the normal course of operations. It is the policy of management to review the outstanding accounts receivable at year end, as well as bad debt write-offs experienced in the past, and establish an allowance for doubtful accounts for uncollectible amounts. No allowance was considered necessary as management believes that all amounts are collectible.

Capital Assets

Property and equipment are recorded at cost, or estimated fair value at the date of donation. Depreciation is computed using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the respective assets. The cost of assets sold or retired and related amounts of accumulated depreciation are eliminated from the accounts in the year of disposal, and any resulting gain or loss is included in the Academy's earnings. Management has elected to capitalize and depreciate all assets costing $1,000 or greater and a useful life of 1 year or more. All other assets are charged to expense in the year incurred. The Academy's policy is to evaluate the remaining lives and recoverability in light of the current conditions. It is reasonably possible that the Academy's estimate to recover the carrying amount of the property and equipment will change. Estimated useful lives range from one to fifty years depending on the asset.

Unearned Revenue

Unearned revenue arises when potential revenue does not meet both the "measurable" and "available" criteria for recognition or when resources are received by the Academy prior to the Academy meeting the requirements for legal claim to the resources.

In subsequent periods, when both revenue recognition criteria are met or when the Academy has legal claim to the resources, the liability for unearned revenue is removed from the statement of financial position and revenue is recognized.

Revenue Recognition

Contributions received are recorded as unrestricted, temporarily restricted, or permanently restricted support, depending on the existence and/or nature of any restrictions.

All donor or grant restricted support is reported as an increase in temporarily or permanently restricted net assets, depending on the nature of the restriction. When a restriction expires (that is, when a stipulated time restriction ends or purpose restriction is accomplished), temporarily restricted net assets are reclassified to unrestricted net assets and reported in the statement of activities as net assets released from restrictions.

Contributed Materials and Services

Contributed materials are recorded at their fair market value where an objective basis is available to measure their value. Such items are capitalized or charged to operations as appropriate. The Academy receives services donated by volunteers in carrying out the Academy's operations. The services do not meet the criteria as contributions and are, therefore, not recognized in the financial statements.

Donated Property and Equipment

Donations of property and equipment are recorded as contributions at their estimated fair value at the date of donation. Such donations are reported as increases in unrestricted net assets unless the donor has restricted the donated asset to a specific purpose. Assets donated with explicit restrictions regarding their use and contribution of cash that must be used to acquire property and equipment are reported as restricted contributions. Absent donor stipulations regarding how long those donated assets must be maintained, the Academy reports expirations of donor restrictions when the donated or acquired assets are placed in service as instructed by the donor. The Academy reclassifies temporarily restricted net assets to unrestricted net assets at that time.

Block Grant Revenues and Payments in Lieu of Property Taxes

The Academy's primary funding source is a combination of local property taxes and state revenues. The California Department of Education computes two block grants based on statewide charter school rates multiplied by the Academy's average daily attendance (ADA) as reported at the Second Principal apportionment period (P2). The result is then reduced by property tax revenues transferred from the District to the Academy, which is funding in lieu of property taxes. The balance is paid from the state General Fund, in the form of the General Purpose Block Grant and the Categorical Block Grant.

Advertising

Advertising costs are expensed when incurred.

Income Taxes

The Academy is a 509(a)(1) publicly supported non-profit organization that is exempt from income taxes under Sections 501(a) and 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code. The Academy is also exempt from California franchise or income tax under Section 23701d of the California Revenue and Taxation Code. The Academy may be subject to tax on income which is not related to its exempt purpose. For the year ended June 30, 2013, no such unrelated business income was reported and, therefore, no provision for income taxes has been made.

The Academy follows provisions of uncertain tax positions as addressed in ASC 958. The Academy recognizes accrued interest and penalties associated with uncertain tax positions as part of the income tax provision, when applicable. There are no amounts accrued in the financial statements related to uncertain tax positions for the year ended June 30, 2013.

The Academy files informational and income tax returns in the United States and in the state of California. The federal income tax and informational returns are subject to examination by the Internal Revenue Service for three years after the returns are filed. State and local jurisdictions have statutes of limitation that generally range from three to five years.

H. Operating Leases

On December 1, 2012 the School entered into a lease agreement with Elder T. Turner for use of facilities. The agreement does not contain a purchase option and does not meet the requirements for capitalization. As such, the lease has not been recorded on the statement of financial position. The agreement provides for monthly payments of $1,750 for a period of 60 months. The agreement contains a termination clause providing for cancellation after a specified number of days written notice to the lessor, but it is unlikely that the School will cancel the agreement prior to the expiration date. Future minimum lease payments under the agreement are as follows:

J. Commitments and Contingencies

State and Federal Allowances, Awards, and Grants

The Academy has received federal and state funds for specific purposes that are subject to review and audit by the grantor agencies. Although such audits could generate disallowances under terms of the grants, it is believed that any required reimbursement will not be material. As a result, no liability has been accrued.

Sick Leave

Sick leave is accumulated without limit for each employee at the rate of one day for each month worked. Leave with pay is provided when employees are absent for health reasons; however, the employees do not gain a vested right to accumulate sick leave. Employees, therefore, are never paid for any sick leave balance at termination of employment or any other time. Therefore, it is not appropriate to accrue the value of the accumulated sick leave.

K. Employee Retirement System

Qualified employees are covered under multiple-employer defined benefit pension plan by an agency of the State of California. Certificated employees are members of the State Teachers' Retirement System (CalSTRS). The risks of participating in this multi-employer plan are different from single-employer plan in the following aspects:

1. Assets contributed to the multi-employer plan by one employer may be used to provide benefits to employees of the other participating employers.
2. If a participating employer stops contributing to the plan, the unfunded obligations of the plan may be borne by the remaining participating employers.
3. If the School chooses to stop participating in some of its multi-employer plans, the School may be required to pay those plans an amount based on the underfunded status of the plan, referred to as a withdrawal liability.

The Academy's participation in this plan for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2013, is outlined in the table below. The "EIN/Pension Plan Number" column provides the Employee Identification Number (EIN) and the three-digit plan number, if applicable. Unless otherwise noted, the most recent Pension Protection Act (PPA) zone status available in 2013 and 2012 is for the plan's year-end at June 30, 2012 and June 30, 2011, respectively. The zone status is based on information that the School received from the plan and is certified by the plan's actuary. Among other factors, plans in the red zone are generally less than 65% funded, plans in the yellow zone are less than 80% funded, and plans in the green zone are at least 80% funded. The "FIP/RP Status Pending/Implemented" column indicates plans for which a financial improvement plan (FIP) or a rehabilitation plan (RP) is either pending or has been implemented.

Pension Fund	Plan Number	Year Ended June 30		Pending/Implemented	Year Ended June 30			Employees Participating	Surcharge Imposed

CalSTRS:

The Academy contributes to the State Teachers' Retirement System (CalSTRS), a cost-sharing multiple employer public employee retirement system defined benefit pension plan administered by CalSTRS. Required contribution rates are set by the California Legislature and detailed in Teachers' Retirement Law. Contribution rates are expressed as a level of percentage of payroll using the entry age normal actuarial cost method. CalSTRS also uses the level percentage of payroll method to calculate the amortization of any unfunded liability. Copies of the STRS annual report may be obtained from the STRS, 7667 Folsom Boulevard, Sacramento, California 95826.

For the fiscal year ended June 30, 2013 active plan members were required to contribute 8% of their salary and the employer contribution rate was 8.25% of annual payroll. CalSTRS issues a separate comprehensive annual financial report that includes financial statements and required supplementary information. The Academy made contributions as noted above. For the year ended June 30, 2013 the State contributed $55,094 on behalf of the Academy.

L. Adjustment to Beginning Net Assets

Deficit in beginning temporarily restricted net assets was the result of program expenditures in excess of restricted revenue sources. These expenditures were covered by unrestricted sources and as such the beginning balance is being adjusted to reflect those expenditures from unrestricted sources rather than temporarily restricted sources.

M. Related Party Transactions

The Academy's Director of Operations and Vice Principal are brother and sister. The principal is associated with a dance studio which the Academy has had a history of doing business with for the ASES program. For the year ended June 30, 2013 the Academy paid $24,000 to the studio for services provided in the ASES program.

N. Subsequent Event

In July 2013 the Academy entered into operating lease agreements for facilities with OCI Development Corporation. The lease terms provide for use of three facilities for one year in exchange for rents of $18,657 per month. The lease agreement, as of the date of this audit report, has not been approved by the governing board. The agreement has been tabled to be reviewed and approved at a later date.

In August 2013 the Academy entered into an operating lease for facilities with Salvation Army. The lease terms provide for use of facilities for one year in exchange for rents of $13,388 per month through May of 2014 with an increase in rent of $1,513 for June and July 2014. The lease agreement, as of the date of this audit report, has not been approved by the governing board. The agreement has been tabled to be reviewed and approved at a later date.

In December 2013 the Academy sold a vehicle for $26,000. Concurrent with the sale of the vehicle was a payoff of the lease agreement associated with the vehicle. The payoff of the lease agreement and the sale of the vehicle, as of the date of this audit report, has not been approved by the governing board. The items were tabled to be reviewed and voted on at a later date.

Independent Auditor's Report on Internal Control Over Financial Reporting and on Compliance and Other Matters
Based on an Audit of Financial Statements Performed in Accordance With *Government Auditing Standards

To the Board of Directors
Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists
Los Angeles, California

We have audited, in accordance with the auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards issued by the Comptroller General of the United States, the financial statements of Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists (a nonprofit organization), which comprise the statement of financial position as of June 30, 2013, and the related statements of activities, and cash flows for the year then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements, and have issued our report thereon dated January 29, 2014.

Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements, we considered Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists' internal control over financial reporting (internal control) to determine the audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists' internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Academy's internal control.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the preceding paragraph and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be material weaknesses or significant deficiencies and therefore, material weaknesses or significant deficiencies may exist that were not identified. However, as described in the accompanying schedule of findings and questioned costs, we identified certain deficiencies in internal control that we consider to be material weaknesses and/or significant deficiencies.

A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent, or detect and correct, misstatements on a timely basis. A material weakness is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the entity's financial statements will not be prevented, or detected and corrected on a timely basis. We consider the deficiencies described in the accompanying schedule of findings and questioned costs as items 2013-1, 2013-2, 2013-3, 2013-5, 2013-6 and 2013-9 to be material weaknesses.

A significant deficiency is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control that is less severe than a material weakness, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance. We consider the deficiencies described in the accompanying schedule of findings and questioned costs as items 2013-4, 2013-7 and 2013-8 to be significant deficiencies.

Compliance and Other Matters

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists' financial statements are free from material misstatement, we performed tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grant agreements, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audit, and accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed instances of noncompliance or other matters that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards and which is described in the accompanying schedule of findings and questioned costs as items 2013-9, 2013-10 and 2013-11.

The Academy's Response to Findings

The Academy's response to the findings identified in our audit is described in the accompanying schedule of findings and questioned costs. The School's response was not subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the financial statements and, accordingly, we express no opinion on it.

Purpose of this Report

The purpose of this report is solely to describe the scope of our testing of internal control and compliance and the results of that testing, and not to provide an opinion on the effectiveness of the Academy's internal control or on compliance. This report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards in considering the Academy's internal control and compliance. Accordingly, this communication is not suitable for any other purpose.

Independent Auditor's Report on Compliance for Each Major Program and on Internal Control Over Compliance
Required by OMB Circular A-133

To the Board of Directors
Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists
Los Angeles, California

Report on Compliance for Each Major Federal Program

We have audited Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists' compliance with the types of compliance requirements described in the OMB Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement that could have a direct and material effect on each of Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists' major federal programs for the year ended June 30, 2013. Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists' major federal programs are identified in the summary of auditor's results section of the accompanying schedule of findings and questioned costs.

Management's Responsibility

Management is responsible for compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to its federal programs.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on compliance for each of Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists' major federal programs based on our audit of the types of compliance requirements referred to above. We conducted our audit of compliance in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America; the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States; and OMB Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations. Those standards and OMB Circular A-133 require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether noncompliance with the types of compliance requirements referred to above that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program occurred. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence about ABC Academy's compliance with those requirements and performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion on compliance for each major federal program. However, our audit does not provide a legal determination of Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists' compliance.

Opinion on Each Major Federal Program

In our opinion, Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists complied, in all material respects, with the types of compliance requirements referred to above that could have a direct and material effect on each of its major federal programs for the year ended June 30, 2013.

Report on Internal Control Over Compliance

Management of Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists are responsible for establishing and maintaining effective internal control over compliance with the types of compliance requirements referred to above. In planning and performing our audit of compliance, we considered Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists' internal control over compliance with the types of requirements that could have a direct and material effect on each major federal program to determine the auditing procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances for the purpose of expressing an opinion on compliance for each major federal program and to test and report on internal control over compliance in accordance with OMB Circular A-133, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of internal control over compliance. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of ABC Academy's internal control over compliance.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the preceding paragraph and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be material weaknesses or significant deficiencies and therefore, material weaknesses or significant deficiencies may exist that were not identified. However, as described in the accompanying schedule of findings and questioned costs, we identified certain deficiencies in internal control that we consider to be material weaknesses.

A deficiency in internal control over compliance exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent, or detect and correct, misstatements on a timely basis. A material weakness in internal control over compliance is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the entity's financial statements will not be prevented, or detected and corrected on a timely basis. We consider the deficiency described in the accompanying schedule of findings and questioned costs as item 2013-9 to be material weaknesses.

A significant deficiency in internal control over compliance is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control that is less severe than a material weakness, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance. We did not identify any deficiencies which we considered to be significant deficiencies in internal control over compliance.

The Academy's response to the internal control over compliance finding identified in our audit is described in the accompanying schedule of findings and questioned costs. The Academy's response was not subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of compliance and, accordingly, we express no opinion on the response.

The purpose of this report on internal control over compliance is solely to describe the scope of our testing of internal control over compliance and the results of that testing based on the requirements of OMB Circular A-133. Accordingly, this report is not suitable for any other purpose.

Independent Auditor's Report on State Compliance

To the Board of Directors
Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists
Los Angeles, California

Report on State Compliance

We have audited the Academy's compliance with the types of compliance requirements described in the Standards and Procedures for Audits of California K-12 Local Education Agencies 2012-13, published by the Education Audit Appeals Panel, that could have a direct and material effect on each of the Academy's state programs identified below for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2013.

Management's Responsibility for State Compliance

Management is responsible for compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to its state programs.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on compliance for each applicable program as identified in the State's audit Guide Standards and Procedures for Audits of California K-12 Local Education Agencies 2012-13 published by the Education Audit Appeals Panel. We conducted our audit of compliance in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America; the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards issued by the comptroller General of the United States; and the State's audit guide Standards and Procedures for Audits of California K-12 Local Education Agencies 2012-13 published by the Education Audit Appeals Panel. Those standards and audit guide require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether noncompliance with the compliance requirements referred to above that could have a direct and material effect on the state programs noted below. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence about the Academy's compliance with those requirements and performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion. Our audit does not provide a legal determination of the district's compliance with those requirements.

In connection with the audit referred to above, we selected and tested transactions and records to determine the district's compliance with the state laws and regulations applicable to the following items:

The term N/A is used above to mean either the Academy did not offer the program during the current fiscal year or the program applies to a different type of local education agency.

Basis for Qualified Opinion on State Compliance

As described in items 2013-10 and 2013-11 in the accompanying schedule of findings and questioned costs, the Academy did not comply with some requirements associated with the class size reduction program and the after school education and safety program. Compliance with such requirements is necessary, in our opinion, for the Academy to comply with the requirements applicable to the programs.

Qualified Opinion on State Compliance

In our opinion, except for the noncompliance described in the Basis for Qualified Opinion paragraph, Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists complied, in all material respects, with the compliance requirements referred to above that are applicable to the statutory requirements listed in the schedule above for the year ended June 30, 2013.

The Academy's Response to Findings of State Compliance

The Academy's responses to the findings identified in our audit are described in the accompanying schedule of findings and questioned costs. The Academy's responses were not subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the financial statements and, accordingly, we express no opinion on it.

Purpose of this Report

The purpose of this report is solely to describe the scope of our testing of internal control and compliance and the results of that testing, and not to provide an opinion on the effectiveness of the School's internal control or on compliance. This report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with Standards and Procedures for Audits of California K-12 Local Education Agencies 2012-13, published by the Education Audit Appeals Panel. Accordingly, this communication is not suitable for any other purpose.

WISDOM ACADEMY FOR YOUNG SCIENTISTS

Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs

Year Ended June 30, 2013

A. Financial Statement Findings

Finding 2013-1 (30000)

Bank Reconciliations

Criteria or Specific Requirement

Determine that the Academy has sufficient internal controls to ensure proper recording of transactions and safeguarding of assets.

Condition

Upon completion of bank reconciliations, each month an adjustment is made to the financial statements for any amounts that are unknown as to the nature of the transaction. These amounts are being posted into suspense accounts with the intent of subsequently posting a journal entry to record the transactions into the correct expenditure or revenue account. At year end these items were not reconciled and posted into the proper accounts. In addition, these items are not supported by any documentation that verifies the amounts are appropriate or approved.

Questioned Costs

$13,735 recorded in suspense account

Context

Some items recorded in the bank reconciliations are not supported by invoices or approval documentation.

Effect

The Academy is at risk of recording errors and misappropriation of assets.

Cause

The Academy has not established adequate procedures to ensure that supporting documentation is provided for all transactions associated with the bank accounts. As a result, the individual charged with responsibility for reconciling bank accounts does not have sufficient information to adequately report information. Management officials from the school site are not providing information necessary to post correcting journal entries. In addition, these items are not being reviewed subsequent to completion of bank reconciliations.

Recommendation

Establish procedures to ensure supporting documentation is provided for all transactions. Ensure that the procedures include documentation of approval for expenditures and for subsequent review by management of the Academy.

LEA's Response

The Academy will review this recommendation and subsequently establish necessary procedures to ensure supporting documentation is maintained for all transactions.

WISDOM ACADEMY FOR YOUNG SCIENTISTS

Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs

Year Ended June 30, 2013

Finding 2013-2 (30000)

Payroll Expense Reconciliations

Criteria or Specific Requirement

Determine that amounts for payroll are accurately reported and reconcile to supporting documentation.

Condition

Payroll expenses were not consistently reconciled to the general ledger.

Questioned Costs

None

Context

Adjusting journal entries were posted to the financial statements to correct the payroll liability and payroll expense.

Effect

The financial statements were misstated by a material amount.

Cause

The Academy has not adequately established written policies and procedures to ensure the timely reconciliation of payroll expenses and liabilities.

Recommendation

Establish clear policies and procedures to reconcile payroll liabilities and expense accounts monthly. The reconciliation should be reviewed and approved by management.

LEA's Response

The Academy will review this recommendation and subsequently establish necessary procedures to ensure appropriate controls over payroll reporting.

Finding 2013-3 (30000)

Year End Accruals and Closing Process

Criteria or Specific Requirement

Determine that the financial statements are accurately reported.

Condition

The Academy did not record closing transactions for accounts receivable, accounts payable, prepaid expenses, and capital assets. In addition, journal entries were posted to the financial statements resulting in recording differences between the trial balance provided for audit purposes and the amounts reported to the Los Angeles County Office of Education for inclusion in their unaudited actuals submitted to the California Department of Education.

Questioned Costs

None

WISDOM ACADEMY FOR YOUNG SCIENTISTS

Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs

Year Ended June 30, 2013

Context

Adjusting journal entries were posted to the financial statements to correct accounts receivable, accounts payable, prepaid expenses, and capital assets.

Effect

The financial statements were misstated by a material amount.

Cause

The Academy has not adequately established written policies and procedures for year-end closing and recording of accruals.

Recommendation

Establish clear written policies and procedures for year-end closing which includes reconciliation of revenue and expense items sufficient to record accruals for accounts receivable, accounts payable, prepaid expenses and capital assets. Review year-end financial statements to ensure accuracy of reporting. Establish a timeline for closing to ensure no changes are made after submission of financial statements to oversight agencies.

LEA's Response

The Academy will review this recommendation and subsequently establish necessary procedures to ensure accurate reporting of financial statements.

Finding 2013-4 (30000)

Payroll Documentation

Criteria or Specific Requirement

Ensure that individuals charged to payroll are employees of the Academy and that there are adequate controls over payroll to safeguard the assets of the organization.

Condition

Personnel Action Forms which document employee's position and approved pay rates are not complete. In 100% of Personnel Action Forms reviewed there were missing approval signatures on the forms. In addition, in 9 out of 10 I-9's reviewed the forms are not being completed correctly. The I-9 forms were either missing the documentation of what items were reviewed to verify eligibility for employment, missing employer signature of verification, or both.

Questioned Costs

None

Effect

The Academy is exposed to risk of noncompliance with I-9 requirements. In addition, the Academy is exposed to risk of paying individuals who are not approved by management.

Cause

The Academy has not established adequate procedures which require hiring documentation be completed and reviewed prior to filing away in the employee file.

Recommendation

Establish policies and procedures to ensure that hiring documentation is being completed, including approval signatures, and reviewed by management.

WISDOM ACADEMY FOR YOUNG SCIENTISTS

Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs

Year Ended June 30, 2013

LEA's Response

The Academy will review this recommendation and subsequently establish necessary procedures to ensure appropriate controls over payroll.

Finding 2013-5 (30000)

Capital Assets

Criteria or Specific Requirement

Verify that amounts reported for Capital Assets are correctly stated and that estimates of useful lives are reasonable.

Condition

The Academy is unable to provide a detail of Capital Assets or a depreciation schedule to support amounts recorded in the financial statements. In addition, purchases of capital assets were inappropriately recorded as expenses rather than increases to capital assets. The Academy did not calculate and record depreciation. We attempted to contact the previous auditor to obtain information regarding balances in capital assets but received no response.

Context

Adjusting journal entries were posted to the financial statements to record current year additions and an estimate of depreciation.

Effect

There is not sufficient audit evidence to determine if amounts recorded in capital assets are correct or if there is a material misstatement in the financial statements associated with capital assets. In addition, the Academy is exposed to risk associated with disappearance of capital assets as there is not a tracking system for such items.

Cause

The Academy has not adequately established policies for tracking capital assets and ensuring that they are appropriately recorded in the financial statements. The Academy has relied on previous auditors to post adjusting journal entries for additions and depreciation. The Academy has not established procedures for disposal of capital assets.

Recommendation

Obtain an appraisal of all capital assets owned by the Academy to ensure that all assets of the Academy are tracked and recorded. Establish inventory procedures to ensure that all items are still in custody of the Academy at year end. Establish procedures to ensure recording of additions and depreciation are done as a part of year end closing procedures.

LEA's Response

The Academy will review this recommendation and subsequently establish necessary procedures to ensure accurate reporting of capital assets.

Year Ended June 30, 2013

Finding 2013-6 (30000)

Credit Card Supporting Documentation

Criteria or Specific Requirement

Ensure that the Academy has procedures in place to ensure allowable expenditures and safeguard assets.

Condition

The school is using credit cards to purchase some items and subsequently repaying the credit cards with a check. The credit card statements are being used as supporting documentation for the check written; however, the credit card statements do not include receipts for all expenditures for which they were used.

Questioned Costs

$5,858 known credit card expenses from sample selected.

Context

Credit card statements are being used as the only supporting documentation for some expenditure items.

Effect

Expense items paid with credit cards are not adequately supported by itemized receipts and approval documentation. The Academy is exposed to risk of misappropriation of assets.

Cause

The Academy has not established adequate written procedures requiring attachment of supporting invoices or receipts for credit card transactions.

Recommendation

Establish written procedures requiring the attachment of supporting invoices or receipts for all credit card transactions.

LEA's Response

The Academy will review this recommendation and subsequently establish necessary procedures to ensure supporting documentation is maintained for all transactions inclusive of credit card transactions.

Finding 2013-7 (30000)

Beginning Net Assets

Criteria or Specific Requirement

Ensure that amounts reported in the financial statements are materially correct.

Condition

Beginning net assets were not in agreement with prior year audited ending net assets. The Academy was unable to provide reconciling items that supported adjustments to beginning net assets. We attempted to contact the previous auditor to obtain a reconciliation and prior year audit adjusting journal entries but received no response.

WISDOM ACADEMY FOR YOUNG SCIENTISTS

Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs

Year Ended June 30, 2013

Questioned Costs

None

Context

Amounts reported by the Academy as beginning net assets varied from the prior year audit report by $9,727. An adjustment was posted to bring the beginning balance in agreement with prior year audit report.

Effect

Beginning net assets were not in agreement with prior year audited ending net assets.

Cause

The Academy did not have procedures to reconcile beginning net assets with prior year audit report and did not have procedures in place to track prior year adjustments.

Recommendation

Establish written procedures to reconcile beginning net assets with audited ending net assets from the previous year.

LEA's Response

The Academy will review this recommendation and subsequently establish necessary procedures to ensure beginning net assets reconciles to audited ending net assets.

Finding 2013-8 (30000)

Inconsistent Reporting

Criteria or Specific Requirement

Verify that the Academy has reported accurate financial statements to oversight agencies.

Condition

The Academy is reporting to the Internal Revenue Service that they are operating on a calendar year but reporting to the Los Angeles County Office of Education and California Department of Education that they are operating on a fiscal year beginning July 1 and ending June 30. The financial reporting to the different oversight agencies is not consistent based upon different reporting of fiscal years.

Questioned Costs

None

Context

Established in California statute local education agencies report under a fiscal year beginning July 1 and ending on June 30. Internal Revenue Code requires that tax returns be prepared based upon the fiscal year of operation.

Effect

There is inconsistent reporting between the Academy and government agencies.

Cause

The Academy has not established a fiscal year with the Internal Revenue Service.

WISDOM ACADEMY FOR YOUNG SCIENTISTS

Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs
Year Ended June 30, 2013

Recommendation

File necessary reports with the Internal Revenue Service to align tax reporting years with the Academy's fiscal year.

LEA's Response

The Academy will review this recommendation and subsequently take action to ensure consistent reporting between government agencies.

B. Federal Award Findings

Finding 2013-9 (50000)

Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards

Federal Major Program Identification

Award Year	Program	CFDA #	Federal Grantor	Pass-Through Agency
2012-13	National School Lunch Program	10.555	U.S. Department of Agriculture	California Department of Education
2012-13	Special Education Cluster	84.027	U.S. Department of Education	California Department of Education

Criteria or Specific Requirement

Determine that amounts reported in the Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards are accurately reported.

Condition

The Academy did not separately track expenditures for federal programs in their financial software.

Questioned Costs

Amounts expended under federal major programs audited were:

2012-13 National School Lunch Program (10.555) - $212,061

2012-13 Special Education Cluster (84.027) - $99,925

Context

OMB Circular A-133 requires the presentation of a schedule of expenditures of federal awards for any agency expending greater than $500,000 of federal awards.

Effect

The Academy had to go through every expenditure item to identify which items were expended under federal awards. It took a significant amount of time to complete the schedule of expenditures of federal awards and delayed the timing of audit procedures associated with the Single Audit requirements under OMB Circular A-133. In addition, failure to track expenditures separately exposes the Academy to risk of understating federal expenditures or potentially using the funds in unallowable manners such as supplanting required services.

WISDOM ACADEMY FOR YOUNG SCIENTISTS

Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs

Year Ended June 30, 2013

Cause

The Academy has not established policies and procedures requiring separate tracking of federal expenditures. There are not adequate internal controls in place to evaluate federal expenditures to ensure that they are accurately reported, meet program requirements, and are not used to supplant existing services.

Recommendation

Establish written policies and procedures requiring separate tracking of federal expenditures. Review expenditures to ensure they meet program requirements.

LEA's Response

The Academy will review this recommendation and subsequently establish necessary procedures to ensure accurate reporting of federal expenditures.

C. State Award Findings

Finding 2013-10 (40000)

Class Size Reduction Program

Criteria or Specific Requirement

Verify that amounts reported on the form J-7CSR were accurate and were based on average daily enrollment taken from the first day of school through April 15 of the school year being reviewed.

Condition

In our review of the form J-7CSR the data was prepared using average monthly enrollment based upon the last day of the school month rather than average daily enrollment from the first day of classes through April 15.

Questioned Costs

None, See recommendation below

Context

Education Code Section 52124.5 states that school districts and charter schools should compute the average daily enrollment for each class by adding the active enrollment for each class for each instructional day starting from the first day of school through April 15, and dividing that total by the count of instructional days.

Effect

The eligible students reported for grade 1 was understated by 1 student.

Recommendation

Establish procedures to accurately calculate average daily enrollment for classes included in the class size reduction program. Revise the form J-7CSR to accurately report eligible students for grade 1. Revisions should be as follows:

Grade	Class Size	Eligible Students Original	Eligible Students Revised	Change in Funding
1 st Grade	21.45 – 22.44	18	36	$ 19,278
1 st Grade	22.45 – 22.94	17	0	$(18,207)
Net Change in Funding				$ 1,071

WISDOM ACADEMY FOR YOUNG SCIENTISTS

Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs

Year Ended June 30, 2013

LEA's Response

The Academy will review this recommendation and subsequently establish necessary procedures to ensure accurate calculations for the form J-7CSR. The Academy will amend the form J-7CSR to accurately reflect class sizes for the 2012-13 fiscal year.

Finding 2013-11 (40000)

After School Education and Safety Program

Criteria or Specific Requirement

- A. Verify that elementary students being reported for attendance are participating in the full day of the program except as consistent with the LEA's established early release policy.
- B. Verify that Indirect Costs are not in excess of 5% or the LEA's established indirect cost rate, whichever is lower.

Condition

- A. Sign out sheets for the after school education and safety program did not include time student was released for 827 out of 896 days tested. It could not be determined if these students participated in the full day of the program or if they met early release policy of the LEA.
- B. The Academy used an indirect cost rate of 5.26% which exceeds the allowable 5% for the program.

Questioned Costs

Program revenues were $112,500. Amounts in excess of allowable indirect costs were $2,660.

Context

- A. Education Code 8483(a)(2) states that it is the intent of legislature that elementary school students attend the full day of the program every day in which students participate, except as consistent with the LEA's early release policy.
- B. Education Code 8483.9(a) limits indirect costs to the lesser of the LEA's approved indirect cost rate or 5%.

Effect

- A. It cannot be determined if the students participated for the entire day of the program.
- B. The Academy exceeded allowable indirect costs.

Cause

- A. The Academy has not established adequate policies and procedures to document time students were released from the program to ensure that only students who participated in the full day or met an early release exception based on the LEA's policies were counted towards attendance reported.
- B. The Academy has not established adequate policies and procedures to ensure that indirect costs are not charged at amounts greater than allowable amounts for the program.

Recommendation

Establish procedures to document time students are released from the program and ensure that they meet requirements of the program to be counted for attendance purposes. Establish procedures to ensure correct indirect cost rates are being utilized.

I will be in Bakersfield on Friday and will oversee FCMAT's uploading of the final documents to the SharePoint website. I expect you will hear from Hazel Fields at FCMAT on Friday or Monday at the latest with access info to the site. We have not paid much attention to the items you said you wanted and did not want, since we are not charging for the electronic copies, so there will probably be duplicates of some things you already have obtained from your client.

Please note that FCMAT has obtained from a private records search company background information on six individuals who I believe are associated with WAYS. They are Deara Ijoma Okonkwo, Emeka Enwezor, Jason C. Okonkwo, Kendra U. Okonkwo, Obiesie S. Enwezor and Rachel Enwezor. The terms of our contract with the company do not allow us to release these records to anyone else without our losing the ability to continue to use the firm in connection with AB 139 fraud audits. I believe that these reports include no commentary or evaluative work, only reports from what are probably public records. In light of the proprietary nature of these reports, we will not be providing them, but all other records of any kind in our possession regarding WAYS will be included on the SharePoint website.

Subject: Public Records Request to FCMAT

Ms. Procopio:

I am the attorney for the Fiscal Crisis and Management Assistance Team (FCMAT) and am replying to your request for records in FCMAT's possession regarding its report on the WAYS charter school. We are in the process of compiling the records and I want to explain the process we are using.

Those records that FCMAT has in electronic form are being uploaded to a website known as SharePoint. You will be contacted early next week by someone from FCMAT who will give you information about how to access that secure website with appropriate log-in information.

I have also been provided with 2 CDs from Mike Ammermon, a private consultant to FCMAT who worked on the report, containing all of his files pertaining to WAYS (all of which he maintained electronically). I will be mailing these discs to you directly.

There may be a file of physical documents concerning WAYS at FCMAT's offices in Bakersfield. Debi Deal, the lead person assigned to the WAYS matter, will be in Bakersfield on Tuesday, July 8. Once she has reviewed the file she can advise me as to whether there is anything not already stored electronically and how much. I will then discuss with you whether you want FCMAT to make copies or you will send someone to Bakersfield to inspect and designate which copies you want (or have your own copying service make copies in that office).

In any event, we are moving as quickly as possible to get you the documents in the most convenient manner. I am not aware of any documents that we intend to withhold for any reason.

Feel free to contact me by reply email or at 661-345-2321.

RELEASE/DISMISSAL OF EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

BACKGROUND:

WAYS received a Notice to Cure from LAUSD regarding the Conflict of Interest matter in September 2011.

HISTORY:

There have been many attempts to cure the notice without the release of the Executive Director. This Board felt as if the notice was cure. However, LAUSD did not accept these decisions as curing the notice. To move swiftly to the Corrective Action Plan, we, the board must make a decision to release the Executive Director from her responsibilities.

Once the Corrective Action Plan is in place and the action items are completed, we can reinstate the Executive Director.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS CORRECTIVE ACTION PLAN RE: CONFLICT OF INTEREST

BACKGROUND AND PURPOSE

Kendra Okonkwo is the owner of two properties which she has leased to Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists ("WAYS") for use as a charter school facility. Mrs. Okonkwo is also the current Executive Director of WAYS. The lease between Mrs. Okonkwo and WAYS was approved by the Board of Directors ("Board") of WAYS.

Additionally, in accordance with the requirements of the Political Reform Act, and in accordance with the exemptions described under Government Code Section 1090, prior to Board consideration and approval, Mrs. Okonkwo disclosed her interest in the lease and then left the room during Board deliberations. Mrs. Okonkwo did not participate in any way in the consideration of approval of the lease. Unfortunately despite multiple witnesses to this fact, the minutes do not reflect the disclosure and recusal. Additionally, WAYS currently pays rent that is below current fair market rates for similar facilities.

Despite the disclosure and recusal by Mrs. Okonkwo, the Los Angeles Unified School District ("LAUSD"), in 2010-2011, indicated to WAYS that it was concerned regarding conflicts of interests in the lease of the property by Mrs. Okonkwo and WAYS. Despite attempts to resolve LAUSD's concerns, LAUSD believes that the issue remains unresolved. Further, the Ways Board and Mrs. Okonkwo wish to avoid actual or perceived conflicts of interest going forward. WAYS has been extremely successful academically, and the WAYS Board and Mrs. Okonkwo want to ensure the continued existence of the school.

The purpose of this Corrective Action Plan ("CAP") is to cure the conflict of interest ("COI") in reference to government code 1090 as it pertains to the Executive Director owning property on which Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists (WAYS) is located.

DESCRIPTION OF INCIDENT

In January 2011, the Executive Director presented LAUSD with documents of the transfer of deeded property and a new lease agreement with OCI Corporation. These items were not accepted by LAUSD due to various reasons (see LAUSD's Resolution of Denial). Due to LAUSD not accepting the documents, the Board of Directors from WAYS approved further investigation.

Further investigation will be completed by Mrs. Cathy Ferraro of Ferraro and Associates of Beverly Hills and Mr. Baron James of BRC Advisors. Mrs. Ferraro was referred by the Board President and Mr. James was referred by the Board Secretary. Both parties have been contacted for review of documents, please see below for findings.

FINDINGS

One of the realtors consulted was Ferraro & Associates of Beverly Hills, Cathy Ferraro and her late mother established Ferraro & Associates Realty in 1972, which remains independently owned today. On their 35th anniversary, Ferraro & Associates Realty received special commendations from the cities of Beverly Hills and Los Angeles. In 2009 Ferraro & Associates Realty was named one of the top five best real estate agents in Beverly Hills.

Ferraro & Associates Realty is located at 433 N. Camden Drive, 4th Floor, Beverly Hills, California 90210 (CA DRE #00745604)

Cathy Ferraro was consulted regarding all documents presented to LAUSD which included the notarized deeds of property, state recorders stamp, lease agreement with OCI and LAUSD's resolution of denial.

Since OCI was not a corporation at the time the transferred property deed was recorded, this makes the full transaction null and void. The recorded deed was improperly handled by describing the transfer as a Revocable Trust when there is no documentation of a Trust. Also, the notary for 660, 710, and 702 E Manchester is not complete because a legal notary is all on one page, as shown on the 8778 S. Central property.

In order to correct this matter the following needs to take place:

1. Rescind Grant Deed to delete revocable trust, this was used for tax reasons
2. Transfer from individuals to sole owned corporation
3. Notarize properly (all stamps on same page of document notarizing)
4. Pull corporate documents
5. Record new documents with the Secretary of State

Cathy Ferraro recommends that the Board hire a real-estate attorney; this attorney will legally transfer all property as agreed upon by the Okonkwo family. The new documents must be recorded with the proper documents attached (corporate documents from OCI, trust documents (if using a trust), and notarization of the deeds on the same page). Cathy Ferraro did not present a written evaluation because the consult was free of charge and she suggested a course of action that she thought would best alleviate the issues on hand.

The second realtor consulted was Mr. Baron A. Jones, Managing Director of BCR Advisors Commercial Real Estate in the Downtown Los Angeles Office, 700 S. Flower Street, Suite 1400 of Los Angeles, California 90017 (CA DRE#00704130) and he is still reviewing all documents. His recommendations may supplement this corrective action plan.

Mr. Jones a 30 year sales and administrative veteran of the commercial real estate industry where his professional career started at Cushman & Wakefield of California as an Associate in the Financial Services Group. He specialized in land and office building sales for nearly 10 years, achieved a Vice President position, averaging a sales growth of 16.5% per. He then teamed with Bridge Asset Management, a California-based subcontractor for the Resolution Trust Corporation ("RTC"). We resolved numerous complex non-performing loan and REO transactions for the RTC, of which he was a Co-Leader. This resulted in the execution of more than $1.2 Billion... in non-performing loan and asset workouts in California, New Jersey, and New York, which took place during the FSLIC Savings & Loan crisis two decades ago.

Mr. Jones later joined Grubb & Ellis Company as an Associate, rising to Senior Vice President within 2½ years. I personally created, procured and closed with my team the largest single Western Regional disposition assignment for a Japanese Conglomerate, which led to nearly $241 million in commercial property sales. I successfully executed more than $130 million in further core and value-added transactions in office, industrial, retail, as well as multifamily product.

Currently, he serves as a Managing Director for BRC Advisors. Responsibilities include: new business development, mentoring new associates in the Best Practices of sourcing, evaluating, underwriting, deal packaging, negotiating, and closing investment opportunities.

In exhibit A, you will find a letter from our attorneys detailing their informal investigation of the property documents.

CORRECTIVE ACTION ITEMS

ACTION ITEM 1:

The charter petition was submitted to Los Angeles County Office of Education ("LACOE") in the appeal process for renewal to operate Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists Charter School. To immediately cure the conflict of interest the board will immediately release Mrs. Okonkwo from her position as the Executive Director of WAYS.

The Executive Director has a valuable presence at the school and has done an outstanding job as the founder and Executive Director of the school. However, to release the Executive Director at this time is a business decision to alleviate the Conflict

This General Release of All Claims and Settlement Agreement ("Agreement") is made as a compromise between the Board of Directors of Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists ("WAYS") and Kendra Okonkwo ("Okonkwo") in the complete, final and binding settlement of all claims and potential claims, if any, with respect to their employment relationship.

In consideration of the obligations identified below assumed by each of the parties, it is hereby agreed by and between the parties that all disputes, controversies, and potential disputes or causes of action or claims arising out of, or in any way connected with, Okonkwo's employment relationship with WAYS, whether known or unknown, suspected or unsuspected, which Okonkwo has or may have against WAYS, including but not limited to its parent corporation, subsidiaries, shareholders, officers, trustees, employees, past and present, successors, predecessors, assigns, and agents are settled on the following material terms:

 - f. WAYS shall not contest any application for unemployment insurance benefits Okonkwo files with the EDD.
 - g. Okonkwo shall return any and all School property in her possession, including but not limited to [REDACTED].  - h. WAYS and Okonkwo agree that the events leading to this Agreement, the fact that the Agreement has been entered into and the terms and conditions of the Agreement are and shall be maintained in privacy and confidence. Both parties agree that this confidentiality is a material term of the Agreement and Release. Without waiving their agreement concerning confidentiality, the parties agree that the terms of this settlement may be disclosed if required by law, including to any state agency or political subdivision or any state or federal taxing authority. Such disclosure shall not be deemed a breach of this Agreement. Nothing in this paragraph is intended to restrict Okonkwo from communicating with prospective employers and job referral sources about her job experience at WAYS, the nature and extent of her job responsibilities, her level of performance, the dates of her employment, and the facts supporting her cessation of employment with WAYS.

2. Release: In consideration of the terms stated above and in this Agreement, Okonkwo acknowledges complete satisfaction of, and does hereby forever release, absolve, and discharge WAYS, including but not limited to its parent corporation(s), subsidiaries, shareholders, officers, trustees, employees, past and present, successors, predecessors, assigns, agents, attorneys, and representatives from any and all causes of action, judgments, liens, indebtedness, damages, claims (administrative or otherwise), liabilities, and demands, and causes of action of whatever kind or nature, whether known or unknown, suspected or unsuspected, which Okonkwo now has or holds, or at any time has held against WAYS its parent corporation(s), subsidiaries, shareholders, officers, trustees, employees, past and present, successors, predecessors, assigns and agents. “A general release does not extend to claims which the creditor does not know or suspect to exist in his favor at the time of executing the release, which, if known by him, must have materially affected his settlement with the debtor.”
4. No Admission of Fault: This Agreement is in settlement of disputed claims pursuant to Evidence Code Section 1152, and shall not be construed as an admission of fault or liability by either party in relation to any underlying circumstances.
5. No Further Claims: It is further understood and agreed that neither of the above-mentioned parties, nor any representatives or any related person, shall pursue any further or additional complaints or claims of any kind arising from or related to the subject of the foregoing releases, acquittals, discharges and waivers, whether against the released parties herein or against any other party, whether formal or informal, whether direct or indirect, whether administrative or otherwise.
6. Opportunity For Review: Okonkwo and WAYS each acknowledge that they have carefully read and understand the contents of this Agreement and that this Agreement constitutes the entire agreement and understanding of the parties. The parties further agree that the terms of this Agreement are contractual and that both parties, their heirs, successors, and assigns are bound by it, and that any dispute as to its terms or its interpretation is governed by the laws of the state of California. Should any court of law find any term or clause invalid under the prevailing law, then that term or clause only shall be omitted from enforcement, all other terms and conditions remaining enforceable. Okonkwo has been advised that she has the right to have this entire Agreement reviewed and/or explained to her by independent legal counsel, at her expense, if she so desires.

7. No Assignments: Okonkwo represents and warrants that there has been no assignment or other transfer of interest in any claim, which she may have against WAYS, its officers, agents, and employees. Okonkwo agrees that if she hereafter commences, joins in, or in any manner seeks relief through any suit arising out of, based upon or relating to any of the claims released hereunder, or in any manner asserts against WAYS, its officers, agents and employees, any of the claims released hereunder, then Okonkwo shall pay to WAYS, in addition to any damages caused by WAYS thereby, all attorneys' fees incurred by WAYS in defending and otherwise responding to said suit or claim.
8. Disclaimer: This Agreement shall not be subject to attack on the grounds that any or all of the legal theories or factual assumptions used for negotiating purposes were for any reason inaccurate or inappropriate.
9. Attorneys' Fees: Should any litigation commence between the parties hereto concerning this Agreement or the rights and duties of either party hereto, whether it be an action for damages, equitable or declaratory relief, the prevailing party in such litigation shall be entitled to, as an element of its costs of suit in addition to other relief as may be granted by the arbitrator or Court, reasonable sums as and for attorneys' fees, or such prevailing party may recover such attorneys' fees in a separate action brought for that purpose. The "prevailing party" shall be the party who is entitled to recover its costs of suit, whether or not the suit proceeds to final judgment. A party not entitled to recover its costs shall not recover attorneys' fees. No sum of attorneys' fees shall be counted in calculating the amount of judgment for purposes of determining whether a party is entitled to recover its costs or attorneys' fees.
10. Interpretation of Agreement: This Agreement shall be construed as a whole in accordance with its fair meaning in accordance with the laws of the State of California. The language of the Agreement shall not be construed for or against any particular party. The venue and forum for any action to enforce this Agreement shall be the Superior Court of the State of California in and for the County of Los Angeles.
11. Sole Agreement: This Agreement represents the sole and entire agreement between the parties and supersedes any and all prior agreements, negotiations, and discussions by and between the parties hereto with respect to the subject matter covered hereby.
12. Amendments: Any amendments to this Agreement must be in writing signed by duly authorized representatives of the parties hereto and stating the intent of the parties to amend this Agreement.
13. Severability: Should any provision of the Agreement be declared or determined by any court of competent jurisdiction to be illegal, invalid or unenforceable, the legality, validity and enforceability of the remaining parties, terms, and provisions shall not be affected thereby, and said illegal, invalid or unenforceable part, terms or provisions shall be deemed not to be part of this Agreement.

14. Counterparts: This Agreement may be executed in two or more counterparts, which shall, in the aggregate, be signed by all parties and constitute an Agreement. Each counterpart shall be deemed an original instrument as against any party who has signed it.

Re: Demand for unpaid compensation and contracted agreements.

To the WAYS Board of Directors,

I previously submitted to you letters offering a settlement unpaid compensation and contracted agreements, yet I am unaware of whether a resolution has been rendered. Cordially, I will detail some of the support behind my claims:

1. I did not receive any form of compensation for my employment agreement with MWF entered on July 10, 2005, commencing July 1, 2005 and ending June 30, 2006 (See attachment A).
2. I did not receive any form of payment for the Lease Agreement with MWF entered on April 21, 2005, commencing July 1, 2005 and ending June 30, 2006 (See attachment B).
3. Although immensely more expensive than the sum of the receipts attached, I did not receive reimbursement for these start up expenses during the inception of our charter (See attachment C).
4. In accordance with my employment agreement with MWF (attachment A) condition 17. Automobile Expenses, MWF shall provide the Executive Director an automobile vehicle and operating expenses for her use in conducting MWF business and reasonable personal use during the period of this contract. January 20, 2012

Dear WAYS' Board of Directors,

Happy New Year to all our dedicated Board Members. I wish all a New Year filled with peace, joy, love and prosperity.

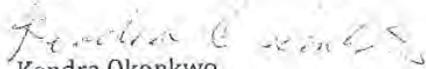

Per the request of the Board members, the purpose of my writing is to present my proposed settlement. While it is unfortunate that majority of you are new, thus not having knowledge of the start up costs I personally invested to initiate the Charter School, we still have founding Board Member, Karen Haynes apart of our Directors and Dr. Libby who is known our Special Education Consultant both whom could attest that since the inception of our organization in 2002, no other Board member made any significant monetary contribution to WAYS. The funds came entirely from my personal savings, mortgaging my home and my former private Pre-School, Wisdom Pre-School.

I have made many attempts to have the Board settle me to no avail. I am thankful that this current Board is moving forward to do a fair settlement. I was going to ask for $700,000 for the money owed, interest accrued and damages. However, I do not want a situation where the organization will be financially unstable. Thus, I will be content with a settlement of $350,000 that will help me in the new project (Middle School) that I am currently working to establish.

The Board may settle me in lump sum or installments. However, I will charge the interest rate of 6.25 percent which is what I am currently paying for the loan I took out to set up the school.

Thank you for your kind consideration.

Respectfully,

Kendra Okonkwo

Hello, Ms Kendra

I hope you are well and happy.

I have been given the responsibility of Board Treasurer, which comes with certain duties of which I am most familiar; i.e., finance, policies, procedures, protocol, and established rules. I was asked to contact you regarding the former Executive Director's contractual payout.

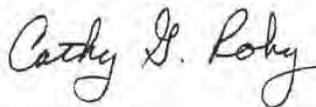

There are several matters left undone that require the Board's immediate attention and action. Among them, the question of certain school properties that remain in your possession; your name still associated with school bank accounts; and, unpaid reimbursements for costs associated with your end of term.

Mr. Cureton, Ms Adell, and I would like to meet with you to discuss how we might facilitate these matters and quickly get you paid. We would like to meet with you at your earliest convenience, perhaps have a nice lunch, where we can work out a strategy that's amenable to all. If you can fit us in your schedule soon, please give us a call and we'll work out the details.

Thank you for your insight in providing a framework for the future of WAYS. In all our hearts, we know the education of our youth is of utmost importance. We look forward to your continued good will and wise advice as we forge a new school year at WAYS.

Let's STAND together for the students of WAYS, once again

Best regards,

Cathy G. Roby

LACOE's MOU and conditions of approval for the charter state that WAYS should provide LACOE with written notice before the school enters into a contract with the former director. The former director presented a claim for damages against WAYS, which we have tendered to our insurer. It is hopeful that the former director will agree to settle that claim rather than litigate. That settlement, if reached, will of course be in the form of a contractual agreement. Although we do not believe that this is the sort of "contract" described in the MOU, we are providing this communication to you as written notice in an abundance of caution and in continuance of our good faith efforts to work cooperatively with LACOE. The details of the settlement negotiations are, of course, attorney-client privileged at this time. When and if a settlement agreement is reached, the document will be public.

RE: INSURER: Scottsdale Insurance Company
INSURED: Merle Williamson Foundation
POLICY NO.: EKI 3051653
CLAIMANT: Kendra Okonkwo
OUR REF. NO.: 1436995

Dear Mr. Cabil:

Freedom Specialty, on behalf of Scottsdale Insurance Company ("Insurer") again acknowledges receipt of the January 20, 2012 and May 21, 2012 demand letters from Kendra Okonkwo, former executive director (the "demand letter"). The above referenced Business and Management Indemnity Policy ("Policy") with the Insurer provides insurance protection to Merle Williamson Foundation ("Merle Williamson"). Nevertheless, the Policy may not cover all of the allegations in the above referenced matter. Existing law requires us to send this letter, which is known as a "Reservation of Rights" letter. This Reservation of Rights letter is not an attempt on our part to avoid our responsibilities to you under the Policy, but to apprise you of our obligations and rights. For the reasons set forth below, the Insurer will provide a defense to the Insured for this matter, subject to the terms and conditions of the Policy and our reservation of rights, set forth herein.

Should you have any questions or concerns after reading this letter, please feel free to contact me at any time. To assist you in understanding this letter, we suggest that the Policy be reviewed together with this letter. This letter does not modify the terms and conditions of the Policy. Please note that the words that appear in bold print are defined in the Policy.

In the demand letter, Ms. Okonkwo alleges breach of employment contract, failure to reimburse business expenses, and breach of lease agreement. Ms. Okonkwo demands $400,000 to settle this matter and has threatened legal action.

The demand letter was reviewed under the Policy, specifically the Employment Practices Coverage Section ("EP Coverage Section"), Policy No. EKS 3051653 which has a Policy Period effective from November 8, 2011 to November 8, 2012. The EP Coverage Section provides a maximum limit of liability of $1,000,000 and a retention of $15,000.

We recognize that the allegations in this matter are unsubstantiated contentions at this time. Nothing in this letter is intended to suggest or imply that these allegations have any legal or factual merit. Nevertheless, we must reserve our right to decline coverage should any of the Exclusions set forth in Section C. of the EP Coverage Section, the Endorsements to the Policy, or any other provision of the Policy prove to be applicable.

insuring Clause A. of the EP Coverage Section provides that the "Insurer shall pay the Loss of the Insureds which the Insureds have become legally obligated to pay by reason of an Employment Practices Claim first made against the Insureds during the Policy Period,...for an Employment Practices Wrongful Act taking place prior to the end of the Policy Period."

In pertinent part, an Employment Claim is defined as a written demand against an Insured for damages or other relief brought by or on behalf of an Employee. An Employee is defined, in pertinent part, to be full time or part-time employee and a natural person who is leased or contracted to perform work. Ms. Okonkwo alleges an employment relationship with Merle Williamson. To the extent that Ms. Okonkwo is found not to be an Employee of Merle Williamson, there is no coverage for this matter.

First, please note that the definition of Loss, except with respect to potential coverage of punitive or exemplary damages, liquidated damages and the multiple portion of any multiplied damage award, does not include taxes, fines, penalties or matters uninsurable under the law pursuant to which the Policy is construed. Loss also does not include amounts owed under any employment contract, partnership, stock or other ownership agreement or any other type of contract. In addition, Loss does not include benefits or any amount owed as wages.

We note that the demand letter alleges breach of lease agreement, which is not an Employment Practices Wrongful Act. While there is no coverage for this allegation, the Insurer will provide a defense for the entire matter.

Second, we note that Section G. 1., of the Employment Practices Coverage Section of the Policy, as amended by Endorsement No. 6, states that if any Loss covered under the EP Coverage Section is covered under any other valid and collectable insurance, then this Policy shall be primary insurance. Please make sure that any and all other appropriate insurers are placed on notice of this matter and provide us with copies of your notice letters, the applicable insurance policies and the insurers' responses with regard to coverage.

Section F. grants the Insurer the duty to defend this Claim. The Insurer has assigned the law firm of Jackson Lewis LLP to represent Merle Williamson in the defense of the allegations made in the demand letter. Please note again that the Policy has a Retention of $15,000. Consequently, the firm will bill Merle Williamson directly up to the Retention amount.

Section F. 4 provides that the Insureds agree not to settle or offer to settle any Claim, incur any Costs Charges and Expenses or otherwise assume any contractual obligation or admit any liability with respect to any Claim without the Insurer's written consent. Consequently, the Insurer will not be liable for any settlement Costs, Charges and Expenses, assumed obligation or admission to which it has not consented.

The Insurer's position with respect to this matter is based upon the information provided to date, and is subject to further evaluation as additional information becomes available. The Insurer reserves its right to assert additional terms and provisions under the Policy and at law, which may become applicable as new information is learned.

If you believe this claim has been wrongfully denied or rejected, in part or whole, you may have the matter reviewed by the California Department of Insurance. The address is State of California Department of Insurance, Claims Services Bureau, 11th Floor, 300 South Spring Street, South Tower, Los Angeles, California 90013. The telephone number is 1-800-927-4357 (Calling from within CA); 213-897-8921 (Outside California).

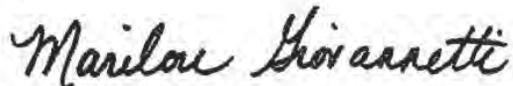

Scottsdale expressly reserves all rights and defenses under the Policy, at law and/or in equity, whether or not specifically referenced herein, to deny coverage and/or rescind the Policy upon any terms, conditions, exclusions, endorsements and other provisions of its policy and any underlying policy, including statements, declarations and omissions made in connection with the application(s), therefore as may apply. No present or subsequent action taken by Scottsdale is to be construed as a waiver of any position set forth in this letter or any rights otherwise available to it pursuant to the Policy, at law, and/or in equity.

Please do not hesitate to contact me at (212) 329-6954, should you have any questions or wish to discuss this matter further.

Very truly yours,

Dear Ms. Deal and Mr. Ammermon,

I am writing you regarding the audit WAYS is currently undergoing, and recent communication regarding one of the WAYS vendors, OSE Business Services.

The WAYS Administrative Team has presented to the WAYS Board that the FCMAT audit team conducted an introductory meeting in November 2013. During this meeting the WAYS staff attested to do all that is possible to assist in the Audit, and provided FCMAT full access to the WAYS records both on and off site. I am also aware that interviews of WAYS administrators and one board member has transpired, pursuant the FCMAT Audit.

In Mr. Ammermon's email dated December 11, 2013, you made several concerning statements and inquiry regarding the OSE Business Services vendor. I have monitored the communication regarding OSE Business Services regarding your inquiry, and found it evident that OSE Business Services was willing to respond to your inquiry. However, they were unavailable to meet with you and this is where the situation and communication became stagnant. Prior to your email, there were no reports of concerns about OSE Business Services presented to the WAYS Board.

I am unsure whether or how this will effect the FCMAT audit, and ultimately the school; however, in light of your concerns regarding the company and their apparent decision to not meet with with the FCMAT audit team to sort out the uncertainty expressed in Mr. Ammermon's email, I believe that their decision did not serve the best interest of the school. At upcoming February 27, 2014 WAYS Board Meeting, the FCMAT Audit will be discussed with regard to the recent communication regarding OSE, with the intention that the WAYS Board will consider and respond to the expressed concerns. In the interim, until consideration is taken and direction is given from the WAYS Board, the WAYS administration have been directed to place all orders from OSE on hold.

Since this item will be considered at the February 27, 2014 WAYS Board Meeting Agenda in public session, I am also formally inviting you to make a presentation to the WAYS Board of Directors regarding the FCMAT audit, other concerns, and recommendations. WAYS is continuously growing and eager to receive any recommendations from your team regarding ways in which we can refine our practices and policies.

I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

Armando Espinoza

WISDOM ACADEMY FOR YOUNG SCIENTISTS
REPORT TO THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Meeting Date:
February 27, 2013

Board Meeting Agenda Item Description:
c. 2013-14 School Year Employment Agreements

Recommendation:
Approve the 2013-14 School Year Employment Agreements

Background:

The following Summary of Employment Agreements includes employee separations, new hires, earning increases, and changes in current status for all WAYS personnel. WAYS personnel are contracted on an "at-will" annual basis. All personnel are appropriately credentialed for the assignments for which they are being hired. All employment agreements will terminate effective June 30, 2014.

In conservative spending efforts, salary increases for seven classified and two certificated employee were not considered in the operating budget that received Board approval on July 26, 2013. Salary increases for all 9 employees are included in the Summary of Employment Agreements attached. Significant increases in classified salaries account for the increased staffing need for supervision, security, and operational procedures.

All salary increases total $24,698. Additional staffing increases total $60,534. Effective dates will be reflected in the individual employment agreements.

Implication:

In efforts to remain transparent in the practices of WAYS and compliant with all California laws and regulations regarding employment applicable to Charter Schools, WAYS Board shall consider all employment contracts at a public meeting.

By approving the 2013-14 school year employment agreements, the operational needs of the school will be met.

Fiscal Impact:

Certificated Salaries: $26,740 increase in salary expenses
Classified Salaries: $85,232 increase in salary expenses

Items to be presented:

- I. Los Angeles Department of Building and Safety (LADBS) – Orders to Comply (OTC)
 - a. Initial: Construction start date: August 3, 2011; estimated end date: August 12, 2011
 - b. I was directed by Mr. Cureton, Executive Director, on August 2, 2011 to postpone OTC Construction until further notice, as ordered by the Board of Directors (BOD) on August 2, 2011.
 - c. Orders To Comply work initiated November 29, 2010. Formal Proposals received March-April 2011. Selected contract, RPM Construction Management, signed April 13-14, 2011.
 - d. I suggested to the previous Executive Director, Kendra Okonkwo, and the Board of Directors that the construction be postponed due to uncertainty of Charter School approval during the renewal process.
 - e. All necessary extensions have been acquired.
 - f. July 15, 2011, meeting with RPM Construction management to review scope of work to be completed, contract, and price. We negotiated the price from $57,900 down to the final price $53,100 without relinquishing any of the duties in the scope of work from the initial contract.
 - g. New contract from RPM Construction Management needs to be approved by the Executive Director before August 11, 2011 to ensure that work will be completed in time before school opens.
 - h. It is imperative, that the funds remain reserved and that this work is completed in order to guarantee that our facilities remain ADA complaint, permitted for its use, and safe for our students.
 - i. RPM has a legal binding contract previously signed by our school that could possibly be grounds for a potential lawsuit that will cost us significantly more than the cost of the project and still require us to complete the corrections issued to by LADBS.
 - j. We need to comply with the orders in order to provide adequate disabled persons access to the public, since we are a public facility. We need to do this in a reasonable time to avoid construction-taking place during instruction, while students, and more staff and public are present, and to avoid potential claims and lawsuits against our school in this matter, which is ultimately in the best interest of the organization.
 - k. Regarding WAYS versus OCI responsibility of cost, this matter should be resolved upon the commencement and completion of the project. We should remember to protect ourselves from any potential legal action by any entity and the public, provide the community with the proper disabled persons access.

Board Meeting Agenda Item Description:

n. Adoption of LACOE implemented SIRAS Special Education Information System

Recommendation:

Approve the adoption of LACOE implemented SIRAS Special Education Information System

Background:

The Special education management Information program is a user-friendly, comprehensive database system that collects and compiles data, develops statistical reports, and performs error checks. It also warns the user of upcoming evaluations and IEPs. It is 100% compliant to the California State's CASEMIS reporting system (Student Data Table, Service Table, Discipline Data Table, and Post Secondary). No need to remember codes, simply make a selection and the code is inserted automatically. It also manages a variety of non-CASEMIS related information such as summer school, case manager and school psychologist information, STAR data, emergency, medical, transportation, referral data, and much more. When new information not in the database must be tracked, it is also easy to add new data fields. The program has a "search and sort" feature that when coupled with the modifiable list feature, makes searches, sorts and report building a snap.

Implication:

A new system has to be adopted for next school year. The current system is old and doesn't adequately check for submission errors, which leads to a lot of extra time being spent on compliance issues for state submission. The new system is much more automated and automatically updates changes based on input. It doesn't require the knowledge of codes, which makes data entry much more simple. Any kind of document can be attached which allows for a complete record of older information to be scanned into the computer and added to their file for a complete thoroughness of record. Once the new system is purchased, within three weeks, the current information will be ported over to the new service by LACOE, followed by a subsequent training the staff that will be responsible for data entry.

Special Education Support Program (IEP Development Software)

SIRAS has been called the "Cadillac of IEP programs" because of its many comprehensive and integrated features, its ability to guide the user to ensure compliance, and for its simplicity. SIRAS is more than just an IEP program that produces forms. It checks the accuracy of the paperwork, checks and documents the student's compliance status, and manages paperwork. The user navigates through the SIRAS software using a simple and logical user interface. When using the many popup menus and the GoalWizard SIRAS can translate your IEP forms from English into Spanish onto the Spanish IEP forms instantly. With 16 years of experience, SIRAS is the only IEP program entirely designed and created by special education teachers and related services to accommodate their needs.

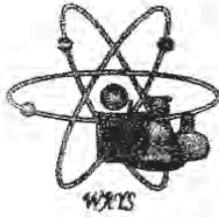

CASEMIS / Student Reporting System

The Special education management information program is a user-friendly, comprehensive database system that collects and compiles data, develops statistical reports, and performs error & warning checks. It also warns the user of upcoming evaluations and IEPs. It is 100% compliant to the California State's CASEMIS reporting system (Student Data Table, Service Table, Discipline Data Table, and Post-Secondary). At the time of reporting, as part of our service, Siras Systems produces the results of the CDE CASEMIS Program within SIRAS. It also manages a variety of non-CASEMIS related information such as summer school, case manager and school psychologist information, STAR & DRDP data, emergency, medical, transportation, referral data, and much more. Additionally when new information not in the database must be tracked, new fields can be created on the fly. The program has a "search and sort" feature that when coupled with the customizable list, makes searches, sorts and report building a snap.

April 25, 2012

State of School

WAYS currently has 495 students with an Average Daily Attendance rate of 449.48 and a monthly Average Daily Attendance Rate of 92%. The school is operating soundly.

Recruitment for New School Year

I have been approached by several individuals who have invited us to recruit at their facilities for incoming kindergarteners. This process should begin immediately to ensure the Kindergarten and 1-5 enrollment remains strong for the incoming school year.

Student Testing

Student testing will begin the week of May 14 and end the May 31. Parents are encouraged to support to the efforts of our school community to raise our test scores by making sure their children eat a healthy breakfast and attend school daily.

Extended Learning Time

For three months our school community has extended the instructional day for our students to provide additional practice for the approaching California Standards Test. The school day ends normally at 2:45, however, grades 2-5 will continue to dismiss at 3:00 pm until the end of testing.

Teacher Appreciation Week

Teacher Appreciation week is next week, April 30 – May 4. When possible, please show your support of our outstanding, committed teachers.

Collaborative Meetings with Mr. Wynder

Mr. Wynder and I meet once per week to plan instructionally and analyze the results of data from benchmark assessments.

Accelerated Reader

Our teaching staff is very grateful for the implementation of Accelerated Reader. The program is being used on a daily basis. Parent reports will be sent home this Friday to update our parents on their child's current reading level.

5th Graders had an awesome experience at Arrowhead Ranch Science Camp

Our fifth grade class recently returned from an amazing week of learning at Arrowhead Ranch Science Camp. Over 20 fifth graders were accompanied by Mr. Jason to the camp which gives students an outside view of

Thank you to our board members who attended the Family Night for March - The WAYS Spelling Bee and Reading Camp Out held on March 29. A fun and exciting time was witnessed at this event as many of our students were awarded trophies and medals for their participation in the spelling bee. We invite you to attend our Math Bee occurring at next month's Family Night on Thursday, May 10 at 6:00 pm.

Internship Program with University of Phoenix

WAYS recently entered into a partnership with the University of Phoenix to provide internship experiences for students in the area of Human Services. We have one intern so far and have received positive feedback regarding the program from our staff members. We have been approved as an intern agency with the University of Phoenix for up to 10 interns.

Principals' Report
Presented by Lawrence Wynder and Alake Watson
Presented to Governing Board of WAYS on December 15, 2011

Student Achievement

To support the teachers in the subject of Math, we have conducted hour-long observations in most classrooms. Teachers are receiving immediate and specific feedback about math instruction, student engagement, and achieving results. We are also improving our assessment system and grading policies to address the needs of all students. Teachers are now expected to allow re-dos and retakes for all students who fail to score at proficient or above on lesson assessments and standards based projects. Mr. Cabil has asked Mr. Wynder to conduct lessons for all grade levels and model lessons for teachers to establish clear expectations for high quality instruction in addition to conducting on-going hour-long observations. Mr. Wynder will also use lesson assessment data and school-wide bi-weekly assessments to produce student performance data that will further guide instructional improvement.

Both school sites have begun the student leadership program. The program was designed to select student leaders to build school spirit, develop a college going culture, and plan fun and engaging activities that support learning. The leadership program's first initiative is to organize fun and informative assemblies that immediately engage students in learning as soon as they step on school grounds.

Throughout this week's assemblies, student leaders shared inspirational quotes, announced the SAT and science words of the day, shared facts such as "This Day in History", and gave reports about various programs offered by colleges and universities. After presentations were complete, students were selected from the audience to answer questions related to the assembly presentations.

So far, the leadership program and "learning assembly" has been a success. Students are learning new academic language, listening to inspirational quotes, learning about science related historical events, and thinking about college and career goals. In addition to the school wide benefits that may result from this program, we believe it will greatly benefit members of the student leadership club. Student leaders are being challenged to complete on-going projects, conduct research on various topics, and prepare for daily presentations. We believe this will complement the Mock Trial Program and other programs currently happening at WAYS that challenge our promising students.

Science Program Implementation

Both Principals aspire to bring a more solid learning experience in science to WAYS. Ms. Watson met with Mr. Cabil and received his approval to contact our former science consultant to bring the program back to WAYS. This program was demonstrably successful. A meeting to discuss set up the program is scheduled for December 20. We expect to begin the program in January.

Fire Cadet Program

Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists was focus of a recent grant award from Verizon Wireless. The award in the amount of $24,000 went to the Junior Fire Fighter Foundation. A press release for the grant was distributed and WAYS will be featured in local media in the coming weeks along with our fourth and fifth grade boys who are participants in the program, and Captain Brian Burton, founder. The program will culminate on Friday, December 16.

Verizon Awards $24,900 Grant to Community-Based Organization to Educate Boys About Abuse Prevention

Junior Firefighter Youth Foundation will include domestic violence prevention training for 4th and 5th graders who attend the Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists

Los Angeles, Calif. — Verizon awards a $24,900 grant to the Junior Firefighter Youth Foundation (“Foundation”) for its signature Junior Fire Cadet Program (“Program”) enabling the Foundation to include a domestic violence prevention training component. The grant presentation will take place at 3:15 p.m. at the site of the training - Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists at 706 E. Manchester Blvd. in Los Angeles.

“Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists is the first of several schools that provides life-changing training as a part of the Program’s curriculum,” said Foundation Founder Captain Brent Burton of the Los Angeles County Fire Department. “The Foundation’s after school program focuses on making smart choices, and targets 4th and 5th graders, it runs for seven weeks and meets for 1 1/2 hours one day per week on the campus of selected elementary schools,” added Burton.”

The Verizon grant will help fund a domestic violence educational training program taught by Dr. Dayatrice Darrington, a clinical psychologist, who will begin the discussion by exploring the five categories of domestic violence - physical aggression, assault, emotions, pain, and shame. “I ask the children how they perceive abuse and if they can give examples,” she explained. “My goal is to educate the children about what is abuse, how to identify abusers, how to take proactive actions, how to react in the situation, where to find and get help, and provide them with coping skills about how to handle their own conflicts.”

“Domestic violence is a troubling issue that affects communities everywhere. Verizon is proud to partner with community organizations like the Junior Firefighter Foundation, who are on the front-lines of domestic violence prevention,” stated Gene Eng, vice president of Strategic Programs for Verizon.

About the Junior Firefighter Youth Foundation

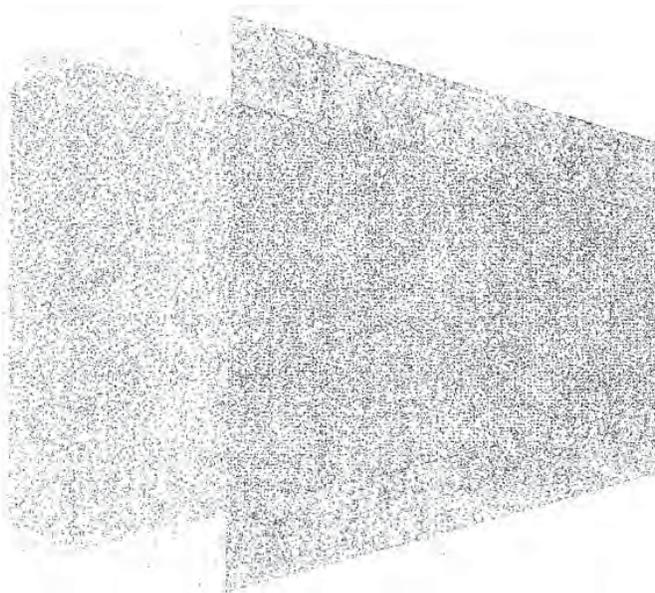

The Program was founded in 2003 by Burton who is the current president of the African American Firefighter Museum and former President of the Stentorians of Los Angeles County. Assisting Captain Burton are LAFD Firefighters Derwin Pitts and Cliff Taitt. For more about the Foundation or the Junior Fire Cadet Program, go to www.jrffyouthfoundation.org.

State of the School Address

WAYS has made much progress since the beginning of the new year. Welcome back Governing Board Members and Friends of WAYS.

We currently have 274 students with full classes at each grade level, the exception of a few seats (three seats) in first grade. Our Average Daily Attendance Rate for PA reporting was 95.2% (2/23/11).

According to our LEA CSR report 8 classes have 20 or fewer students qualifying WAYS for a total of 160 or expected enrollment.

WAYS has begun the process of registering students for the coming school year. A heavy recruitment campaign should begin during the month of February to secure our targeted number of 520 students for the coming school year.

WISDOM ACADEMY FOR YOUNG SCIENTISTS
2012-2013 APPROVED BUDGET
OPERATING BUDGET NARRATIVES AND ASSUMPTIONS

- ◆ Revenue projection is based on an exercise of caution in view of continuing state budget crisis.
- ◆ ADA funding rates are projected to reflect about $500 per ADA decrease from 2011-2012 rates. We are assuming that the ballot initiative proposed by the Governor will not be approved by the voters and the economic situation in the state will not get better. Additionally the state Legislative Analyst stated that the Governor's revenue estimates may be too optimistic and the revenue may be lower by about $1 billion.
- ◆ The rate assumptions and decisions regarding funding for next year is based on advice from LACOE, CSDC, CCSA.
- ◆ Enrollment is based on 520 students with class sizes ranging from 20 to 30. Attendance rate is projected to be 90 percent and projected attrition rate of 5 percent.
- ◆ Salaries and benefits are adjusted based on the enrollment and class size adjustments to reflect the economic realities of the School. The board was initially advised to reduce the number of teachers to 20 but it was decided to reduce the teachers to 21. As part of the budget realities the board will make changes to the administrative team to right size the administration of the school. It may be pertinent to note that LAUSD laid off some staff took a 5% pay cut for the remaining staff and days of furlough.
- ◆ Supplies reflect the amount expected to be spent on the number of students projected to be enrolled based on average cost of books and experience of the school given the change in our curriculum this coming year. The School has been advised to buy only supplies that are necessary to educate the children and eliminate the waste seen in 2011-2012 fiscal year.

- ◆ Services and other operating expenses include consultants, lease costs, food service and other expenses. Capital Expenditures include equipment and facilities expenditures. Services include special education costs, curriculum consultants, staff development, and transportation for student field trips – all of which are specifically to further support student and curriculum needs.

Principals' Report

Presented by Lawrence Wynder and Alake Watson

Presented to Governing Board of WAYS on November 3, 2011

Student Achievement

Administrators, Teachers and Students are currently implementing the achievement plan through targeted instructional goals, best practices such as diagnostic (i.e., Stanford 10), formative and quarterly assessments, common planning time, common lesson planning, interactive notebooks, establishing clear objectives and SMART goals, using technology in the classroom (i.e., teachers were trained on the usage of the SMART boards), using performance charts, using a common grading system.

We have had ESLR awards and student achievement awards ceremonies. We want to focus more on creating incentives for attendance to increase our current average daily attendance rate from 92 – 97%.

We are encouraged by the vision of the Executive Director, Edward Cabil, to implement more rigorous instruction in English Language Arts with a concentration on Grammar. He has informed us of his intent to meet the current Department of Education's demand for implementing a pilot project that addresses African American students.

Friday we had personality day. A fun time was had by parents and students.

Achievement Plan

A draft of the Achievement Plan was submitted to the Executive director for review and comment and was forwarded LACOE on October 29, 2011. Please find a copy of the draft attached. The administration of the school needs the support of the governing board to ensure that the resources and support needed to implement the achievement plan.

WAYS000793

Attendance and Enrollment

We currently have 495 students at WAYS. Inquiries concerning enrollment are being made daily. Our monthly and 20 day attendance reports were submitted to LACOE and the CDE. Our month 2 attendance will be submitted tomorrow, November 4. Our current ADA is 92%.

Revised Charter Elements

Revised charter elements were submitted to LACOE are a response on the elements is expected next week.

School Calendar for November

Please see attached.

Concerns regarding the budget presented during budget meeting on 11-3-11

It was brought to our attention that the school is operating at deficit. However, a review of the budget does not reveal deficit. Also, keep in mind the school has a large reserve. We would like to request a revised budget based on the following suggestions:

- As one school, balance out the budget between areas in both schools and create a budget for one school
- We recommend that the allocation for substitute teachers (line item 1110) at $70, 338.00 be reduced and funds be allocated to administrative and teacher salaries
- We recommend that funds allocated for teacher's extra duties be reduced and balanced out at both sites and funds from the reduction be applied to professional development and administrative and teacher salaries.
- Review line item 8220 child nutrition be balanced out between sites according to free and reduced lunch applications at each site.

WAYS000794

Request for comparable and competitive salary

We would like to request that the Board do a review of comparable salaries for teachers and administrators at California Public Schools, traditional and charter. We want to discourage the misconception that charter school employees are paid less than on average than traditional schools.

Also, we would like to request a salary scale that reflects comparable salaries, years of experience and education levels.

Also, we would like the board to keep in mind that WAYS teachers and administrators commonly exceed the 8 hr. work day and we are not compensated over time as is in district schools.

Jan,

As I shared with you and Judy earlier, I visited WAYS yesterday and met with Ed Cabil and Jason Okonkwo. I shared with them that the purpose of my visit was not to investigate any complaints as they had suggested in their prior e-mail communications but to follow-up on concerns that I have identified-specifically as it relates to credit cards.

Both Ed and Jason stated that they may deem any actions taken by me to be of an investigative nature and they also stated they need to be notified of any investigation and provided documentation. They also stated that any findings be communicated to them along with recommendations for corrective actions and they will work with LACOE to resolve them.

Ed stated that LACOE had issued a notice of violation that cited "complaints" made against WAYS and he has requested from LACOE the supporting document regarding complaints but has not received the documentation.

Back to the purpose of my visit, I'll try to keep it short.

We discussed our concerns over WAYS credit card usage and oversight. The ED acknowledged weaknesses in internal controls and stated he is committed and is working on putting in place policies and procedures to strengthen internal controls but that he has been distracted with numerous issues with LACOE and incurring legal costs. He said he has only been in the position for two months and asked for time to work through the issues. Some of the actions he stated WAYS has taken while not yet formalized in policies and procedures include: (1) stop using the credit card under the name of its former executive director; (2) WAYS has applied and received new credit card under its own name (Ed and Jason are authorized users); (3) minimize credit card usage; utilize purchase orders instead; (4) plan to stop the practice of charging for fuel; to implement mileage reimbursement.

They were cooperative for the most part except certain questions I posed they perceived them to be of an investigative nature and would either not respond or would not elaborate. For example, I asked why the former executive director made charges after she had been terminated (they clarified that she was "released"), they would only said that the account was open by her for the benefits of WAYS. I asked how those charges benefit the school but did not receive a response. The ED repeatedly shared that WAYS perceived LACOE to be working to close the school and he will do whatever it takes to keep it open.

DO maintain all charges made by him are for valid business purposes. The ED stated he verbally approves the credit charges made by the DO and that he trusts him.

I shared with them that until policies and procedures are put in place, these concerns remain unresolved. My plan is to work with them and validate that they have implemented what they said they have/will do. I would need to visit their back-office provider in the future to review documents. They stated the official financial records are maintained with the back-office provider.

Given their perceived relationship with LACOE, I am in need of guidance as to how to move forward. Actions taken may be misinterpreted as an "investigation".

I am available to meet to further discuss.

Mr. Cabil:

I have concerns with your internal controls identified through the normal course of performing my oversight responsibilities. Since my concerns are preliminary pending further discussion and review, I prefer to meet and discuss them first with you. Perhaps, my concerns are not valid but without having an opportunity to discuss and review documents with you and your staff, it would be difficult to move forward or provide any meaningful feedbacks to you.

I am sure as the executive director of WAYS, you would be interested in hearing my concerns and would want to make any necessary corrective actions. While it would be helpful to be able also speak with you staff to gain a better understanding of your operations and internal controls, I will leave that discretion up to you.

Would you have one hour available to meet with me next week? I appreciate your comment about getting "any problem fixed for the benefits of the children" and I share the same.

As far as the communication between you and our superintendent, I am not part of that process so I cannot really comment. I follow protocols and that does not typically involve having direct communication with our superintendent.

Mr. Chan,

WAYS is happy to promptly respond to all reasonable requests from LACOE. That having been said, your request is a bit suspicious in light of Superintendent Delgado's November 17, 2011 "Notice of Investigation" and my November 28, 2011 response letter, copies of which are attached. Perhaps you are unaware of the correspondence with Dr. Delgado. We have not yet received any response from Dr. Delgado, nor have we received copies from LACOE nor any response whatsoever concerning the records we requested. LACOE's statutory response deadline per the Government Code was yesterday.

I suggest that you confer with Dr. Delgado and please confirm that there is no "complaint" as suggested in LACOE's November 17, 2011 letter. If there is any such "complaint", please provide a copy immediately so that we may have an opportunity to address any problem at our school, if there is any such problem. At this point, we have no reason to believe there is any problem at all. LACOE did not respond or provide copies of anything by December 1 as we requested, and failed to meet its December 8 statutory deadline.

Your broad request to meet with "staff" for an unstated period of time, for unstated reasons is not reasonable, especially under these circumstances. LACOE's Government Code violation in that regard is especially troubling. Please specify the purpose of your request and specify what information you would like us to provide, and the estimated time duration of your meeting. Our staff is fully occupied educating children. Any meeting must be scheduled at a time and in a manner that accommodates our educational program. By you providing the requested information, I can ensure that the appropriate staff are present to address the subject of your inquiry, whatever that might be. As I stated to Dr. Delgado, if you have any specific concern with the implementation of any provision of the charter, please let us know so that we can engage in meaningful dialogue and get any real problem fixed for the benefits of the children.

Thank you Vo. I look forward to you providing the requested information and a meaningful meeting.

Sincerely,

Ed Cabil

Mr. Cabil:

This is to request to schedule a visit to WAYS' office to meet with you and your staff to discuss your fiscal operation and internal controls. Please let me know which day(s) next week (except for Tuesday, December 13) would work for you.

In your reference, I am including a couple items below taken from the Monitoring and Oversight Memorandum of Understanding (MOU).

- Internal Fiscal Controls: The Charter School shall develop and maintain internal fiscal control policies governing all financial activities. Such policies and procedures are subject to review during site visits to see that they are being implemented.

- LACOE reserves the right to make unannounced visits to the Charter School. EC § 47604.32(b) requires LACOE to conduct a site visit annually. The purpose of the visits shall be to monitor the instructional program and operations in accordance with County Board of Education Policy 6650.

Also, EC § 47604.3 states a "A charter shall promptly respond to all reasonable inquiries, including but not limited to, inquiries regarding its financial records, from its chartering authority, the county office of education that has jurisdiction over the school's chartering authority, or from the Superintendent of Public Instruction and shall consult with the chartering authority, the county office of education, or the Superintendent of Public Instruction regarding any inquiries."

Thank you in advance for your cooperation.

Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists

November 28, 2011

Arturo Delgado, Ed.D.
Superintendent
Los Angeles County Office of Education
9300 Imperial Highway
Downey, CA 90242-2890

Re: Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists Charter School

Dear Superintendent Delgado:

As the Executive Director of the Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists Charter School ("WAYS"), I am responding to your letter dated November 17, 2011 concerning what you have called a "Notice of Investigation".

First and foremost, you incorrectly cite Education Code section 47604.4 as authority to "investigate" whether WAYS "has the capacity to govern the school and implement the charter." The Education Code provides no such authority. In fact, the Education Code specifically provides the authority to make determinations about the likely success of charter implementation to the LACOE Board as part of the charter approval or denial procedure. Please see Education Code section 47605(b)(2). By granting the charter on June 7, 2011, the LACOE Board implicitly determined that the school is likely "to successfully implement the program set forth in the petition". You have cited no facts or even allegations to the contrary.

You have misinterpreted section 47604.4. That section provides that the County Superintendent may monitor and conduct an investigation into the operations of a charter school. Of course, you must have a reasonable, articulated basis for doing so. And because LACOE is the school's authorizer, your oversight is further affected by the charter itself. Your letter vaguely states that you have "received complaints regarding the operation of the school." However, the supporting documentation you attached to your letter demonstrates nothing of the sort. Rather, it is a series of emails from your staff attempting to schedule what its calls a "Capacity Interview". There is no mention whatsoever of any "complaint". And there is no such process as a "capacity interview" authorized by the Education Code or the charter.

Please immediately provide copies of any and all "complaints" referred to in your November 17, 2011 letter. If there is in fact a complaint, WAYS will respond. To the extent a LACOE investigation is reasonable and appropriate, we will of course fully and immediately cooperate to the extent necessary.

If you do not provide copies of the "complaints" by December 1, 2011, we will presume that no such complaint exists. If there is a problem at the school, we wish to resolve it immediately for the benefit of our students.

WAYS does not concede that you have authority to conduct what appears to be a fishing expedition / witch hunt under authority of the Education Code. If you believe you have a reasonable basis to conduct an investigation about anything whatsoever concerning WAYS, please immediately inform us of that basis and your supporting facts.

We do not wish to engage in prolonged disputes with you concerning charter oversight. If you truly have a specific concern with the implementation of any provision of our charter, please let us know so that we can engage in meaningful dialogue and get any real problem fixed for the benefit of the children. Your vague, unsupported allegations and incorrect read of the Education Code are not helpful.

Sincerely,

Edward Cabil

representation or warranty, express or implied in fact or by law, as to the condition of the Premises. The Lease term ("Term") shall begin on the Commencement Date and end on the Expiration Date unless sooner terminated pursuant to the provisions of this Lease. Landlord shall have the right, at any time upon entering into a contract for the sale of the premises, to cancel this lease, and the term hereby granted, upon giving to the Tenant 30 days' notice of intention to do so, and upon the expiration of said 30 days, the Tenant agrees to vacate the premises and to surrender this lease and the term hereby granted at the end of the then current school year. Such extension shall be subject to all other terms of this lease except that the rent will reflect a 3.5% increase.

In addition, this Lease may be terminated by either party in the event that the Tenant's Charter School Contract with LACOE is, for any reason, revoked or not renewed.

4. USE. Tenant shall use the Premises, at all times during the Term, for the Use and for no other use or purpose. Tenant shall, at its cost, fully comply with all laws, statutes, codes, rules, regulations, ordinances, orders, judgments, decrees, writs, permits, certificates, licenses, or other authorizations, directions or requirements. Tenant shall not do or permit any act to be done or to exist upon the Premises, which may (a) be dangerous, unless safeguarded as provided for by Legal Requirements; (b) constitute a public or private nuisance; (c) interfere with Landlord's own operations in the building, including loitering or trespassing by its invitees; or (d) make any insurance void or voidable or cause any increase in insurance premiums. Tenant shall faithfully observe and comply with rules and regulations as promulgated by Building management from time to time. Landlord shall not be responsible for the nonperformance by others of any of such rules and regulations. "Hazardous Materials" are defined as any flammable explosives, radioactive materials, oil or petroleum products and their by products, asbestos, polychlorobiphenyls, hazardous materials, hazardous wastes, hazardous or toxic substances, or related materials as defined under or regulated by any Legal Requirements, including, without limitation, the following statutes and the regulations promulgated under their authority: (a) the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation, and Liability Act of 1980, as amended (42 U.S.C. §§ 9601 et seq.); (b) the Hazardous Materials Transportation Act, as amended (49 U.S.C. §§ 1801 et seq.); and (c) the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act of 1976, as amended (42 U.S.C. §§ 6901 et seq.).

Landlord shall provide Tenant with a copy of the most current Certificate of Occupancy and Fire Inspection Report for the property. Landlord shall notify Tenant immediately in the event of any change in status.

4.1 Tenant representations and warranties

4.1.3. Tenant understands that its obligation to pay rent is independent of any restrictions or limitations on its intended uses, such that any restrictions, limitations, or prohibitions of its intended use by any governmental authority shall not relieve tenant of its obligation to pay rent.

5. RENT. Tenant shall pay Base Rent and all sums due under this Lease (together, "Rent") when due, without notice or demand. Base Rent is payable monthly in advance on or before the first of each calendar month during the Term (prorated for partial months, if any). Other sums shall be paid upon notification by Landlord. If payment is not received when due, an administrative fee and late charge of 5% of base rent shall be immediately due and payable without notice or demand. This provision is not a grace period; it is not a penalty, but liquidated damages to defray administrative and related expenses. An additional administrative fee and late charge shall become immediately due and payable on the first of each month for which any portion of a payment (or administrative fee and late charge) remains unpaid, and for processing of any check returned unpaid. Tenant acknowledges that Rent payments shall be made by Tenant to Landlord without any claim on the part of Tenant for diminution, setoff, or abatement. Nothing shall suspend, abate, or reduce any Rent.

5.1 Additional Rent. All taxes, insurance costs, utilities, and maintenance costs which Tenant is required to pay by this lease, and any other sum which Tenant is required to pay to Landlord or third parties shall be additional rent.

6. SECURITY DEPOSIT. Upon the execution of this Lease, Tenant shall deposit with Landlord a Security Deposit in the amount set forth in Section 1.8 above. No interest shall be paid on the Security Deposit. Landlord shall not be required to keep the Security Deposit separate from its other accounts and no trust relationship is created with respect to the Security Deposit.

7. SERVICES. No electric current shall be used except as provided by Landlord; no electric cable or wire shall be brought into the Premises except with Landlord's prior written consent. Tenant shall not use machines that use more than standard current or which shall overload the Building's circuits. Any consumption of electricity in excess of that which is customary for all tenants, or requiring special circuits or equipment, shall require Landlord's prior approval and the cost thereof shall be paid to Landlord. Landlord is not providing security services. Parking shall be provided as described in 1.5.

7.1. Utilities and Other Services: The following utilities are included in the monthly rent: Electricity, Heat, Cooling and Janitorial. The Landlord shall provide janitorial services to clean the Premises, common areas and restroom facilities in compliance with all applicable laws, including without limitation criminal background checks for persons providing such services if required by law.

8. REPAIRS AND MAINTENANCE

8.1 Landlord's Obligations. The following shall be the responsibility of Landlord:

(a) Repairs and maintenance of the roofs and gutters, exterior walls (including painting), bearing walls, structural members, and foundations.

(b) Repair of sidewalks, driveways, curbs, parking areas, and areas used in common by Tenant and Landlord or tenants of other portions of the Building.

(c) Repair and maintenance of exterior water, sewage, gas, and electrical services up to the point of entry to the leased Premises.

(d) Repair of the heating and air conditioning system other than ordinary maintenance.

(e) Repair of interior walls, ceilings, doors and windows and related hardware, light fixtures, switches, and wiring and plumbing from the point of entry to the Premises.

(f) Ordinary maintenance of the heating and air conditioning system and any repairs necessary because of improper maintenance.

8.2 Tenant's Obligations. The following shall be the responsibility of Tenant with respect to the office space it exclusively occupies:

(a) Repair of interior walls, ceilings, doors and windows and related hardware, light fixtures, switches, and wiring and plumbing from the point of entry to the Premises.

(b) Any repairs necessitated by the negligence of Tenant, its agents, employees and invitees [

8.3 Landlord's Interference With Tenant. Any repairs, replacements, alterations or other work performed on or around the Premises by Landlord shall be done in such a way as to interfere as little as reasonably possible with use of the Premises by Tenant. Tenant shall have no right to an abatement of rent nor any claim against Landlord for any inconvenience or disturbance resulting from Landlord's activities performed in conformance with the requirement of this provision.

8.4 Reimbursement For Repairs Assumed. If either party fails or refuses to make repairs which are required by this Section 4, the other party may make the repairs and charge the actual costs of repairs to the first party. Such expenditures by Landlord shall be reimbursed by Tenant on demand together with interest at the rate of nine percent per annum from the date of expenditure by Landlord. Such expenditures by Tenant may be deducted from rent and other payments subsequently becoming due or, at Tenant's election, collected directly from Landlord. Except in an emergency creating an immediate risk of personal injury or property damage, neither party may perform repairs which are the obligation of the other party and charge the other party for the resulting expense unless at least 30 days before work is commenced the defaulting party is given notice in writing outlining with reasonable particularity the repairs required, and such party fails within that time to initiate such repairs in good faith.

8.5 Inspection of Premises. Landlord shall have the right to inspect the Premises at any reasonable time or times to determine the necessity of repair. Whether or not such inspection is made, the duty of Landlord to make repairs shall not mature until a reasonable time after Landlord has received from Tenant notice in writing of the repairs that are required.

9. CONDITION OF PREMISES. Tenant shall not make or suffer to be made any alterations, additions, improvements, or utility installations (collectively, "Alterations") to the Premises, including painting, or any part thereof without the prior consent of Landlord. Tenant shall not, without Landlord's prior consent that may be granted or withheld in Landlord's sole discretion, paint, install window treatment, hang shelves or paintings or otherwise alter the Premises. Tenant may not install signs within or without the Premises that can be seen from any other part of the Building, or from outside the Building, without Landlord's prior written consent. Landlord and Landlord's employees and other agents shall have the right, but not the obligation, upon reasonable notice to Tenant, and at reasonable times, to enter upon and pass through the Premises from time to time in order to (a) make an examination of the Premises, and (b) show the Premises to prospective purchasers, mortgagees, prospective mortgagees, and others. In the event of an emergency, Landlord and Landlord's agents shall have the right, but not the obligation, without any notice to Tenant, to take such actions, whether on or off the Premises, as Landlord shall deem appropriate to respond to the emergency. Tenant shall accept the Premises in its "as-is" condition.

10. INSURANCE AND TAXES.

10.1 Liability Insurance. Tenant shall, at its own cost and expense, maintain commercial general liability insurance protecting against loss of life, bodily

Injury and property damage, any and all liability occasioned by negligence, occurrence, accident, or disaster with respect to the Premises and Tenant's operations thereon, with such insurable limits as Landlord may from time to time require, but in no event less than Two Million and No/100 Dollars ($2,000,000.00) combined single limit bodily injury and property damage liability on an occurrence basis with a Two Million and No/100 Dollars ($2,000,000.00) aggregate. Such insurance shall name Landlord as additional insured, and Tenant shall provide Landlord with an additional insured endorsement, and such insurance shall be primary and not excess to Landlord's insurance. Tenant's insurance shall be with an insurer acceptable to Landlord. Tenant shall provide a copy of the policy, or a binding certificate, to Landlord upon execution of this Lease.

10.2 Property Insurance. Landlord shall keep the Premises insured at Landlord's expense against fire and other risks covered by a standard fire insurance policy with an endorsement for extended coverage.

10.3 Waiver of Subrogation. Neither party shall be liable to the other (or to the other's successors or assigns) for any loss or damage caused by fire or any of the risks enumerated in a standard fire insurance policy with an extended coverage endorsement, and in the event of insured loss neither party's insurance company shall have a subrogated claim against the other.

10.4 Taxes. Tenant is exempt for property tax assessment pursuant to Revenue and Taxation Code section 202(a)(3). Tenant and Landlord agree to reasonably cooperate in order to obtain exemption determination from County Tax Assessor.

11. INDEMNIFICATION. Tenant agrees to defend, indemnify and save harmless Landlord against and from any and all claims by or on behalf of any person or persons, firm or firms, corporation or corporations, arising from Tenant's use of the Premises or the conduct of its business or from any activity, work or thing done, omitted, permitted or suffered by Tenant in or about the Premises, and will further defend, indemnify and save the Landlord harmless against and from any and all claims arising from any breach or default on Tenant's part in the performance of any covenant or agreement on Tenant's part to be performed, pursuant to the terms of this Lease, or arising from any act or negligence of Tenant, and from and against all costs, counsel fees, experts fees, expenses and liabilities incurred in or about any such claim or action or proceeding brought thereon; and in case any action or proceeding to be brought against Landlord by reason of any such claim, Tenant upon notice from the Landlord covenants to resist or defend at Tenant's expense such action or proceeding by counsel reasonably satisfactory to Landlord; Tenant as a material part of the consideration to Landlord hereby assumes all risk of damaged to property in, upon, or about the part of the Premises which Tenant exclusively occupies from any source to whomsoever belonging, and Tenant hereby waives all claims in respect thereof against Landlord and agrees to defend and save Landlord harmless from any action, dispute, complaint or otherwise relation to any violation of the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 and all regulations issued thereunder that are within Tenant's responsibility.

Landlord agrees to defend, indemnify and save harmless Tenant against and from any and all claims by or on behalf of any person or persons, firm or firms, corporation or corporations, arising from Landlord's use of the Premises or the conduct of its business or from any activity, work or thing done, omitted, permitted or suffered by Landlord in or about the Premises, except to the extent of Tenant's negligence or willful misconduct, and will further defend, indemnify and save the Tenant harmless against and from any and all claims arising from any breach or default on Landlord's part in the performance of any covenant or agreement on Landlord's part to be performed, pursuant to the terms of this Lease, or arising from any act or negligence of Landlord, and from and against all costs, counsel fees, experts fees, expenses and liabilities incurred in or about any such claim or action or proceeding brought thereon; and in case any action or proceeding to be brought against Tenant by reason of any such claim, Landlord upon notice from the Tenant covenants to resist or defend at Landlord's expense such action or proceeding by counsel reasonably satisfactory to Tenant.

12. CONSTRUCTION LIENS. Except with respect to activities for which Landlord is responsible, Tenant shall pay as due all claims for work done on and for services rendered or material furnished to the Premises and shall keep the Premises free from any liens. If Tenant fails to pay any such claims or to discharge any lien, Landlord may do so and collect the cost as additional rent. Any amount so added shall bear interest at the rate of nine percent per annum from the date expended by Landlord and shall be payable on demand. Such action by Landlord shall not constitute a waiver of any right or remedy which Landlord may have on account of Tenant's default.

13. DAMAGE AND DESTRUCTION

13.1 Partial Damage. If the Premises are partly damaged and paragraph 13.2 below does not apply, the property shall be repaired by Landlord at Landlord's expense. Repairs shall be accomplished with all reasonable dispatch subject to interruptions and delays from labor disputes and matters beyond the control of Landlord and shall be performed in accordance with the provisions of paragraph 4.3 above.

13.2 Destruction. If the leased Premises are destroyed or damaged such that the cost of repair exceeds 40 percent of the value of the structure before the damage, either party may elect to terminate the lease as of the date of the damage or destruction by notice given to the other in writing not more than 45 days following the date of damage. In such event, all rights and obligations of the parties shall cease as of the date of termination, and Tenant shall be entitled to the reimbursement of any prepaid amounts paid by Tenant and attributable to the anticipated term. If neither party elects to terminate, Landlord shall proceed to restore the leased Premises to substantially the same form as prior to the damage or destruction. Work shall be commenced as soon as reasonably possible and thereafter shall proceed without interruption except for work stoppages on account of labor disputes and matters not under control of Landlord.

13.3 Rent Abatement. Rent shall be abated during the repair of any damage to the extent the Premises are untenantable, except that there shall be no rent abatement where the damage occurred as the result of the fault of Tenant.

14. EMINENT DOMAIN

14.1 Partial Taking. If a portion of the Premises is condemned and paragraph 9.2 does not apply, the lease shall continue on the following terms:

(a) Landlord shall be entitled to all of the proceeds of condemnation, and Tenant shall have no claim against Landlord as a result of the condemnation.

(b) Landlord shall proceed as soon as reasonably possible to make such repairs and alterations to the Premises as are necessary to restore the remaining Premises to a condition as comparable as reasonably practicable to that existing at the time of the condemnation.

(c) After the date on which title vests in the condemning authority or an earlier date on which alterations or repairs are commenced by Landlord to restore the balance of the property in anticipation of taking, the rent shall be reduced in proportion to the reduction in value of the leased Premises as an economic unit on account of the partial taking. If the parties are unable to agree upon the amount of the reduction of rent, the amount shall be determined by arbitration in the manner as is provided in Section 17.

(d) If a portion of Landlord's property not included in the leased Premises is taken and severance damages are awarded on account of the leased Premises, or an award is made for detriment to the leased Premises as a result of activity by a public body not involving a physical taking of any portion of the leased Premises, this shall be regarded as a partial condemnation to which subparagraphs 9.1(a) and (c) apply, and the rent shall be reduced to the extent of reduction in rental value of the Premises as though a portion had been physically taken.

14.2 Total Taking. If a condemning authority takes all of the leased Premises or a portion sufficient to render the remaining Premises reasonably unsuitable for the use which Tenant was then making of the Premises, the lease shall terminate as of the date the title vests in the condemning authorities. Such termination shall have the same effect as a termination under paragraph 9.1(a) above. Landlord shall be entitled to all of the proceeds of condemnation, and Tenant shall have no claim against Landlord as a result of the condemnation.

14.3 Sale in Lieu of Condemnation. Sale of all or part of the leased Premises to a purchaser with the power of eminent domain in the face of a threat or probability of the exercise of the power shall be treated for the purposes of this Section 9 as a taking by condemnation.

15. ASSIGNMENT; SUBLETTING. Tenant shall not in any manner make or allow any assignment, subletting, or occupancy arrangement or any encumbrance of the Premises or this Lease. Any attempt to do any of the foregoing without Landlord's prior written consent shall be void. A change in ownership of Tenant shall be deemed an assignment.

16. DEFAULT; REMEDIES.

16.1 An Event of Default shall occur if any payment to be made under this Lease is not made when due; if any obligation of Tenant is not timely performed or Tenant shall otherwise be in default of a provision of this Lease; or if Tenant shall be brought within the purview of a Bankruptcy Court, whether adjudicated a bankrupt or not.

16.2 If there is an Event of Default by Tenant, Landlord, at Landlord's option, may elect to do one or more of the following: (a) accelerate all of the remaining Rent for the Term, in which event all Rent shall become immediately due and payable; (b) terminate this Lease and re-enter the Premises and remove all persons and property from the Premises, by summary proceedings or by any other suitable action or proceeding at law, or otherwise; or, (c) without terminating this Lease, re-enter the Premises and remove all persons and property from the Premises, by summary proceedings or otherwise, and relet the Premises. If Landlord elects to terminate this Lease, Tenant shall quit and peacefully surrender the Premises to Landlord, without any payment by Landlord for doing so, on or before the effective date of termination, and all Rent shall be paid up to the effective date of termination, together with such expenses, including attorneys' fees, as Landlord shall incur in connection with such termination. No receipt of money by Landlord from Tenant after termination of this Lease shall reinstate, or extend the Term, affect any notice previously given by Landlord to Tenant, or operate as a waiver of the right of Landlord to enforce the payment of Rent. If Landlord shall terminate this Lease, Landlord shall be entitled to retain, free of trust, all sums then held by Landlord pursuant to any of the provisions of this Lease. In the event of any re-entry and/or dispossession by summary proceedings or otherwise without termination of this Lease, all Rent shall become due and shall be paid up to the time of such re-entry and/or dispossession, together with such expenses, including attorneys' fees, as Landlord shall incur in connection with such re-entry and/or dispossession by summary proceedings or otherwise; all Rent for the remainder of the Term may be accelerated and due in full; and Landlord may relet all or any part of the Premises, either in the name of Landlord or otherwise, for a term which may, at Landlord's option, be equal to, less than, or greater than the period which would otherwise have constituted the balance of the Term. Tenant shall pay, as additional Rent, to Landlord, as they are incurred by Landlord, such reasonable expenses as Landlord may incur in connection with reletting including, without limitation, attorneys' fees, brokerage commissions, and expenses incurred in altering, repairing, and putting the Premises in good order and condition and in preparing the Premises for reletting. If Tenant shall not have paid accelerated Rent, Tenant shall pay in monthly installments on the due dates for Rent payments for each month of the balance of the Term, the amount by which any Rent payment exceeds the net amount, if any, of the rents for such period collected on account of the reletting of the Premises; any suit brought to collect such amount for any months shall not prejudice in any way the rights of Landlord to collect the deficiency for any subsequent months by a similar action or proceeding. Landlord shall have as Landlord's absolute property, any sums collected by Landlord upon reletting the Premises after Landlord shall resume possession of the Premises including, without limitation, any amounts by which the sums so collected shall exceed the continuing liability of Tenant under this Lease. If Landlord shall have accelerated and collected Rent payments and subsequently shall have relet the Premises, then Landlord, after deducting all costs related to reletting shall pay to Tenant the amount remaining which is collected as Rent for each month, to the extent Landlord shall have previously received the Rent for such month from Tenant.

17. RELOCATION. Landlord may relocate Tenant to another location in the Building, without releasing Tenant of any obligation under this Lease for the full Term. If Landlord remodels a substantial portion of the Building and deems the Premises to be needed for other purposes than this Lease, Landlord may relocate Tenant in the Building or terminate this Lease.

18. MISCELLANEOUS

18.1 Neither Landlord nor any disclosed or undisclosed principal of Landlord (or officer, director, stockholder, partner or agent of Landlord or of any such principal), nor any successor of any of them, shall have any personal liability for any such failure under this Lease or otherwise. The provisions of this Section shall apply only to Landlord and the parties above-described. They shall not be for the benefit of any insurance company or other third party. Except as specifically set forth in this Lease, Tenant hereby expressly waives its rights under any and all Laws, to terminate this Lease (whether prior to or after the commencement of the Term) or to withhold any payment owed by Tenant under this Lease, on account of any damage, condemnation, destruction, or state of disrepair of the Premises, or any part thereof, it being the parties' intent that the provisions of this Lease shall govern the parties' rights and obligations with respect to such matters. Any holder(s) of any fee mortgage shall have no obligations whatsoever under this Lease. This Lease shall at all times be subordinate to any fee mortgage encumbering the Property, if the holder of any fee mortgage shall succeed to Landlord's interest in this Lease, Tenant shall, upon request, attorn to such holder in writing. In the event of any transfer of Landlord's interests, Landlord shall be released and relieved from all liability and responsibility thereafter accruing to Tenant and Landlord's successor shall be liable and responsible to Tenant with respect to all obligations of Landlord under this Lease accruing from and after the date of such transfer.

18.2 Tenant shall, on the last day of the Term or upon any termination of this Lease, surrender and deliver up the Premises to Landlord "broom clean" and in good condition and repair, subject to ordinary wear and tear, with all equipment and tenant improvements removed if Landlord so requests. All personal property and other belongings that are left upon the Premises at the time of such surrender shall be deemed to have been abandoned. The cost to Landlord of removal, sale and/or storage of such property shall be paid to Landlord by Tenant.

If Tenant does not immediately surrender the Premises to Landlord at the end of the Term, then Tenant shall pay to Landlord double the amount of the Rent payable by Tenant for the last month of the Term for each month or portion thereof that Tenant holds over, plus all damages that Landlord may suffer on account of Tenant's failure to surrender possession to Landlord, and shall indemnify and save Landlord harmless from and against all claims made by any succeeding tenant of the Premises or broker procuring such tenant, related to delay in delivering possession to such succeeding tenant, so far as such delay is occasioned by failure of Tenant so to surrender the Premises. No receipt of money by Landlord from Tenant after termination of this Lease or the service of notice of suit or judgment for possession shall reinstate or extend the Term or affect any such notice, demand, suit or judgment. No act or thing done by Landlord or its agents, including acceptance of keys to the Premises, during the Term shall be deemed an acceptance of a surrender of the Premises, and no agreement to accept a surrender of the Premises shall be valid unless it be made in writing and subscribed by a duly authorized officer or agent of Landlord

18.3 At any time and from time to time during the Term, within ten (10) days after request by Landlord, Tenant will execute, acknowledge, and deliver to Landlord and its designees, a certificate which states (a) that this Lease is unmodified and in full force and effect, or if there have been modifications, that this Lease is in full force and effect as modified, and identifying the modification agreements; (b) the date to which the Rent has been paid; (c) the nature and extent of any existing default by either party as to which a notice has been given to the other party; (d) whether or not there are any setoffs, defenses, or counterclaims against enforcement of the obligations to be performed under this Lease existing in favor of Tenant; and (e) other matters which Landlord may reasonably request.

18.4 If a claim for brokerage or similar fees in connection with this transaction is made by any other broker, agent, salesman, or finder other than Brokers claiming to have dealt through or on behalf of one of the parties to this Lease, then such party shall indemnify, defend, and hold harmless the other party from all liabilities, damages, claims, costs, fees, and expenses (including reasonable attorneys' fees) with respect to such claim for brokerage. The provisions of this Section shall survive the expiration or termination of this Lease.

18.5 Each Notice shall be deemed to have been given (a) when in writing; (b) when sent by personal delivery, facsimile, Federal Express or other widely recognized overnight delivery service, or registered or certified mail; (c) upon receipt or refusal of receipt by the person to whom it is addressed; and (d) when addressed to each applicable person at the applicable addresses set forth on the first page of this Lease, or to such other person or address as a party shall in the future designate by giving notice to the other.

18.6 Each party represents to the other that it has full legal right, power, and authority to enter into, execute, and perform this Lease. All the rights and remedies of Landlord under this Lease or pursuant to present or future law shall be deemed to be separate, distinct, and cumulative. No one or more of them, whether exercised or not, nor any mention of or reference to any one or more of them in this Lease, shall be deemed to be in exclusion of, or a waiver of, any of the others, or of any of the rights or remedies which Landlord may have under this Lease, at law, and/or in equity. Landlord shall have, to the fullest extent permitted by law, the right to enforce any rights or remedies separately and to pursue any lawful action or proceedings to exercise or enforce any right or remedy without thereby waiving or being barred or estopped from exercising and enforcing any other rights and remedies by appropriate action or proceedings. No waiver by Landlord of any breach by Tenant of any term or condition of this Lease, and no failure by Landlord to exercise any right or remedy in respect of any such breach, shall constitute a waiver or relinquishment for the future, or bar any right or remedy of Landlord in respect of, any other breach of such term or condition or any breach of any other term or condition of this Lease. No payment by Tenant or receipt of payment by Landlord of an amount less than the full amount then due Landlord under this Lease shall be construed as anything other than a partial payment of such sum then due and owing. No endorsement or statement on any check or letter or any form of payment or accompanying document shall be deemed to be an accord and satisfaction or other form of settlement; Landlord may accept any such payment without prejudice to its rights to recover the balance of sums due and owing under this Lease or to pursue any other remedy permitted under this Lease.

18.7 Whenever under this Lease Landlord's consent or approval is expressly or impliedly required, it may be arbitrarily withheld. If Tenant requests Landlord's consent or approval, and if in connection with such request Landlord seeks the advice of its attorneys, architect and/or other adviser or expert, then Tenant shall pay such persons' costs and fees related to such request and the preparation of related documents, which costs and fees shall be limited to $750 per request for matters in the normal course of Tenant's business. Such limitation shall not apply for extraordinary matters such as Improvements or remodeling, or any work of any nature that might affect the Building's structural integrity or building systems.

18.8 All obligations of Tenant that are or may be intended by their nature to be performed and/or complied with after the expiration or earlier termination of this Lease shall survive such expiration or termination. Express provisions in this Lease that require or permit survival in specific instances, or as to specific obligations, shall not be deemed a limitation upon the generality of this survival clause. Every provision of this Lease shall be valid and be enforced to the fullest extent permitted by law. If any provision of this Lease, or the application of such provision to any person or circumstance, shall be determined by appropriate judicial authority to be illegal, invalid, or unenforceable to any extent, such provision shall, only to such extent, be deemed stricken from this Lease as if never included. The remainder of this Lease, and the application of such provision to persons or circumstances other than those as to which such provision is held illegal, invalid, or unenforceable, shall not be affected. In this Lease, "attorneys' fees means without limitation, accountants' and attorneys' fees, including fees for the services of paralegals and similar persons, consultant fees, investigation and laboratory fees, court costs, and litigation expenses at the trial and all appellate levels, and through collection.

18.9 The captions and headings contained in this Lease are for convenience and reference only, shall not be deemed to be a part of this Lease or construed as limiting, amplifying, or modifying in any manner the provisions of this Lease, and shall not otherwise affect the interpretation of this Lease. All references to Exhibits or Sections are to Exhibits or Sections of this Lease. Whenever the context of any provision of this Lease so requires, pronouns of any gender shall include the other genders, words in the singular shall include the plural, and words in the plural shall include the singular. This Lease may be executed and delivered in two or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed to be an original and all of which, taken together, shall be deemed to be one instrument. The parties shall take all such actions and execute all such documents as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of this Lease, whether or not specifically provided for in this Lease. Time is of the essence as to all material terms of this Lease. This Lease shall be construed and governed in accordance with the laws of the State of California without application of conflict of law principles. All of the parties to this Lease have participated fully in its negotiation and preparation. Accordingly, this Lease shall not be more strictly construed against any one of the parties. Landlord shall not be deemed, in any way or for any purpose, to have become, by the execution of this Lease or any of the provisions of this Lease, or any action taken under this Lease, a partner of Tenant, in Tenant's business or otherwise, or a member of any joint enterprise or venture with Tenant.

18.10 This Lease contains the sole and entire agreement, and supersedes all other prior written or oral agreements, between the parties with respect to the subject matter of this Lease. This Lease may be changed, amended, or modified only by an agreement in writing signed by the party against whom such change, amendment, or modification is sought to be enforced. The terms and conditions of this Lease shall bind the parties and their respective successors and assigns, and shall inure to the benefit of the parties and their respective permitted successors and assigns. Any waiver of rights by either party shall be deemed not only to be a waiver of such rights by such party but also a waiver of such rights for and on behalf of such party's successors and assigns.

18.11 Claims, disputes, or other matters in controversy arising out of or related to the lease shall be subject to mediation as a condition precedent to binding dispute resolution.

18.12 The parties shall endeavor to resolve their disputes and claims ("Claims") by mediation, which, unless the parties mutually agree otherwise, shall be administered by the American Arbitration Association in accordance with its applicable procedures in effect on the date of the Agreement. A request for mediation shall be made in writing, delivered to the other party to the Lease, and filed with the person or entity administering the mediation. The request may be made concurrently with the filing of binding dispute resolution proceedings but, in such event, mediation shall proceed in advance of binding dispute resolution proceedings, which shall be stayed pending mediation for a period of 60 days from the date of filing, unless stayed for a longer period by agreement of the parties or court order. If arbitration is stayed pursuant to this Section 18.13, the parties may nonetheless proceed to the selection of the arbitrator(s) and agree upon a schedule for later proceedings.

18.13 The parties shall share the mediator's fee and any filing fees equally. Agreements reached in mediation shall be enforceable as settlement agreements in any court having jurisdiction thereof.

18.14 Any Claim subject to, but not resolved by, mediation shall be subject to arbitration which, unless the parties mutually agree otherwise, shall be administered by the American Arbitration Association in accordance with its applicable rules in effect on the date of the Agreement. A demand for arbitration shall be made in writing, delivered to the other party to the Lease, and filed with the person or entity administering the arbitration. The party filing a notice of demand for arbitration must assert in the demand all Claims then known to that party on which arbitration is permitted to be demanded.

18.15 A demand for arbitration shall be made no earlier than concurrently with the filing of a request for mediation, but in no event shall it be made after the date when the institution of legal or equitable proceedings based on the Claim would be barred by the applicable statute of limitations. For statute of limitations purposes, receipt of a written demand for arbitration by the person or entity administering the arbitration shall constitute the institution of legal or equitable proceedings based on the Claim.

18.16 The award rendered by the arbitrator or arbitrators shall be final, and judgment may be entered upon it in accordance with applicable law in any court having jurisdiction thereof. The party determined to be the prevailing party in the arbitration shall be entitled to an award of its reasonable costs and fees, including attorneys' fees and expert's fees, incurred therein.

18.17 The foregoing agreement to arbitrate shall be specifically enforceable under applicable law in any court having jurisdiction thereof.

18.18 In case suit shall be rightfully brought for possession of the Premises, the prevailing party shall recover reasonable attorney's fees from the other in each such suit. It is further mutually agreed by and between Landlord and Tenant, that the respective parties hereto shall and they hereby do waive trial by jury in any action, proceeding or counterclaim brought by either of the parties hereto against the other on any matters whatsoever arising out of or in any way connected with this Lease, the relationship of Landlord and Tenant, Tenant's use or occupancy of the Leased Premises, and/or any claim of injury or damage, and any emergency statutory or any other statutory remedy. Should Landlord seek recourse to enforce any of its rights under this Lease, Tenant agrees to waive any defense which it might otherwise have that Landlord has any adequate remedy at law. Tenant further agrees that it shall not interpose any counterclaim or set off in a summary proceeding or in any action based in whole or in part on nonpayment of rent.

18.19 IT IS MUTUALLY AGREED BY AND BETWEEN LANDLORD AND TENANT THAT THEY SHALL AND THEY HEREBY DO WAIVE TRIAL BY JURY IN ANY ACTION, PROCEEDING, OR COUNTERCLAIM BROUGHT BY EITHER LANDLORD OR TENANT AGAINST THE OTHER ON ANY MATTERS ARISING OUT OF OR IN ANY WAY CONNECTED WITH THIS LEASE, THE RELATIONSHIP OF LANDLORD AND TENANT, AND/OR TENANT'S USE OF OR OCCUPANCY OF THE PREMISES, TENANT FURTHER AGREES THAT IT SHALL NOT INTERPOSE ANY COUNTERCLAIM OR COUNTERCLAIMS (EXCEPT COMPULSORY COUNTERCLAIMS) IN ANY SUMMARY PROCEEDING OR IN ANY ACTION BASED UPON NONPAYMENT OF RENT OR ANY OTHER PAYMENT REQUIRED BY TENANT UNDER THIS LEASE.

18.20 The parties have executed this Lease on the date set forth in the first paragraph.

The Lease term ("Term") shall begin on the Commencement Date and end on the Expiration Date unless sooner terminated pursuant to the provisions of this Lease. 5. RENT. Tenant shall pay Base Rent and all sums due under this Lease (together, "Rent") when due, without notice or demand. Base Rent is payable monthly in advance on or before the first of each calendar month during the Term (prorated for partial months, if any). Other sums shall be paid upon notification by Landlord. If payment is not received when due, an administrative fee and late charge of 5% of base rent shall be immediately due and payable without notice or demand. An additional administrative fee and late charge shall become immediately due and payable on the first of each month for which any portion of a payment (or administrative fee and late charge) remains unpaid, and for processing of any check returned unpaid. Tenant shall not use machines that use more than standard current or which shall overload the Building's circuits. Any consumption of electricity in excess of that which is customary for all tenants, or requiring special circuits or equipment, shall require Landlord's prior approval and the cost thereof shall be paid to Landlord. Landlord is not providing security services. Parking shall be provided as described in 1.5.

7.1. Utilities and Other Services. The following utilities are included in the monthly rent: electricity, heat, cooling, and janitorial. The Landlord shall provide janitorial services to clean the Premises, common areas, and restroom facilities in compliance with all applicable laws.

8.3. Landlord's Interference with Tenant. Any repairs, replacements, alterations or other work performed on or around the Premises by Landlord shall be done in such a way as to interfere as little as reasonably possible with use of the Premises by Tenant. Tenant shall have no right to an abatement of rent nor any claim against Landlord for any inconvenience or disturbance resulting from Landlord's activities performed in conformance with the requirement of this provision.

8.4. Reimbursement for Repairs Assumed. If either party fails or refuses to make repairs which are required by this Section 4, the other party may make the repairs and charge the actual costs of repairs to the first party. Such expenditures by Landlord shall be reimbursed by Tenant on demand together with interest at the rate of nine percent per annum from the date of expenditure by Landlord. Such expenditures by Tenant may be deducted from rent and other payments subsequently becoming due or, at Tenant's election, collected directly from Landlord. Except in an emergency creating an immediate risk of personal injury or property damage, neither party may perform repairs which are the obligation of the other party and charge the other party for the resulting expense unless at least 30 days before work is commenced the defaulting party is given notice in writing outlining with reasonable particularity the repairs required, and such party fails within that time to initiate such repairs in good faith.

8.5. Inspection of Premises. Landlord shall have the right to inspect the Premises at any reasonable time or times to determine the necessity of repair. Whether or not such inspection is made, the duty of Landlord to make repairs shall not mature until a reasonable time after Landlord has received from Tenant notice in writing of the repairs that are required.

9. CONDITION OF PREMISES. Tenant shall not make or suffer to be made any alterations, additions, improvements, or utility installations (collectively, "Alterations") to the Premises, including painting, or any part thereof without the prior consent of Landlord. Tenant shall not, without Landlord's prior consent that may be granted or withheld in Landlord's sole discretion, paint, install window treatment, hang shelves or paintings or otherwise alter the Premises. Tenant may not install signs within or without the Premises that can be seen from any other part of the building, or from outside the building, without Landlord's prior written consent. Landlord and Landlord's employees and other agents shall have the right, but not the obligation, upon reasonable notice to Tenant, and at reasonable times, to enter upon and pass through the Premises from time to time in order to (a) make an examination of the Premises, and (b) show the Premises to prospective purchasers, mortgagees, prospective mortgagees, and others. In the event of an emergency, Landlord and Landlord's agents shall have the right, but not the obligation, without any notice to Tenant, to take such actions, whether on or off the Premises, as Landlord shall deem appropriate to respond to the emergency. Tenant shall accept the Premises in its "as-is" condition.

10. INSURANCE AND TAXES.

10.1. Liability Insurance. Tenant shall, at its own cost and expense, maintain commercial general liability insurance protecting against loss of life, bodily injury and property damage, any and all liability occasioned by negligence, occurrence, accident, or disaster with respect to the Premises and Tenant's operations thereon, with such insurable limits as Landlord may from time to time require, but in no event less than Two Million and No/100 Dollars ($2,000,000.00) combined single limit bodily injury and property damage liability on an occurrence basis with a Two Million and No/100 Dollars ($2,000,000.00) aggregate. Tenant's insurance shall be with an insurer acceptable to Landlord. Tenant shall provide a copy of the policy, or a binding certificate, to Landlord upon execution of this Lease.

10.2. Property Insurance. Landlord shall keep the Premises insured at Landlord's expense against fire and other risks covered by a standard fire insurance policy with an endorsement for extended coverage. Tenant shall bear the expense of any insurance insuring the Tenant's property on the premises against such risks.

10.3. Waiver of Subrogation. Neither party shall be liable to the other (or to the other's successors or assigns) for any loss or damage caused by fire or any of the risks enumerated in a standard fire insurance policy with an extended coverage endorsement, and in the event of insured loss neither party's insurance company shall have a subrogated claim against the other.

10.4. Taxes. Tenant is exempt for property tax assessment pursuant to Revenue and Taxation Code section 202(a)(3). Tenant and Landlord agree to reasonably cooperate in order to obtain exemption determination from County Tax Assessor. In the event that clearance is not obtained or lost, Tenant shall pay all real property taxes and assessments on the Premises (for Tenant's portion of Premises) when due.

11. INDEMNIFICATION. Tenant agrees to defend, indemnify and save harmless Landlord against and from any and all claims by or on behalf of any person or persons, firm or firms, corporation or corporations, arising from Tenant's use of the Premises or the conduct of its business or from any activity, work or thing done, omitted, permitted or suffered by Tenant in or about the Premises, and will further defend, indemnify and save the Landlord harmless against and from any and all claims arising from any breach or default on Tenant's part in the performance of any covenant or agreement on Tenant's part to be performed, pursuant to the terms of this Lease, or arising from any act or negligence of Tenant, and from and against all costs, counsel fees, experts fees, expenses and liabilities incurred in or about any such claim or action or proceeding brought thereon; and in case any action or proceeding to be brought against Landlord by reason of any such claim, Tenant upon notice from the Landlord covenants to resist or defend at Tenant's expense such action or proceeding by counsel reasonably satisfactory to Landlord. Tenant as a material part of the consideration to Landlord hereby assumes all risk of damaged to property in, upon, or about the part of the Premises which Tenant exclusively occupies from any source to whomsoever belonging, and Tenant hereby waives all claims in respect thereof against Landlord and agrees to defend and save Landlord harmless from any action, dispute, complaint or otherwise relation to any violation of the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 or all regulations issued thereunder that are within Tenant's responsibility.

Landlord agrees to defend, indemnify and save harmless Tenant against and from any and all claims by or on behalf of any person or persons, firm or firms, corporation or corporations, arising from Landlord's use of the Premises or the conduct of its business or from any activity, work or thing done, omitted, permitted or suffered by Landlord in or about the Premises, except to the extent of Tenant's negligence or willful misconduct, and will further defend, indemnify and save the Tenant harmless against and from any and all claims arising from any breach or default on Landlord's part in the performance of any covenant or agreement on Landlord's part to be performed, pursuant to the terms of this Lease, or arising from any act or negligence of Landlord, and from and against all costs, counsel fees, experts fees, expenses and liabilities incurred in or about any such claim or action or proceeding brought thereon; and in case any action or proceeding to be brought against Tenant by reason of any such claim, Landlord upon notice from the Tenant covenants to resist or defend at Landlord's expense such action or proceeding by counsel reasonably satisfactory to Tenant.

12. CONSTRUCTION LIENS. Except with respect to activities for which Landlord is responsible, Tenant shall pay as due all claims for work done on and for services rendered or material furnished to the Premises and shall keep the Premises free from any liens. If Tenant fails to pay any such claims or to discharge any lien, Landlord may do so and collect the cost as additional rent. Any amount so added shall bear interest at the rate of nine percent per annum from the date expended by Landlord and shall be payable on demand. Such action by Landlord shall not constitute a waiver of any right or remedy which Landlord may have on account of Tenant's default.

13. DAMAGE AND DESTRUCTION.

13.1. Partial Damage. If the Premises are partly damaged and paragraph 13.2 below does not apply, the property shall be repaired by Landlord at Landlord's expense. Repairs shall be accomplished with all reasonable dispatch subject to interruptions and delays from labor disputes and matters beyond the control of Landlord and shall be performed in accordance with the provisions of paragraph 4.3 above.

E

13.2. Destruction. If the leased Premises are destroyed or damaged such that the cost of repair exceeds 40 percent of the value of the structure before the damage, either party may elect to terminate the lease as of the date of the damage or destruction by notice given to the other in writing not more than 45 days following the date of damage. In such event, all rights and obligations of the parties shall cease as of the date of termination, and Tenant shall be entitled to the reimbursement of any prepaid amounts paid by Tenant and attributable to the anticipated term. If neither party elects to terminate, Landlord shall proceed to restore the leased Premises to substantially the same form as prior to the damage or destruction. Work shall be commenced as soon as reasonably possible and thereafter shall proceed without interruption except for work stoppages on account of labor disputes and matters not under control of Landlord.

13.3. Rent Abatement. Rent shall be abated during the repair of any damage to the extent the Premises are untenantable, except that there shall be no rent abatement where the damage occurred as the result of the fault of Tenant.

14. EMINENT DOMAIN.

14.1. Partial Taking. If a portion of the Premises is condemned and paragraph 9.2 does not apply, the lease shall continue on the following terms:

(a) Landlord shall be entitled to all of the proceeds of condemnation, and Tenant shall have no claim against Landlord as a result of the condemnation.

(b) Landlord shall proceed as soon as reasonably possible to make such repairs and alterations to the Premises as are necessary to restore the remaining Premises to a condition as comparable as reasonably practicable to that existing at the time of the condemnation.

(c) After the date on which title vests in the condemning authority or an earlier date on which alterations or repairs are commenced by Landlord to restore the balance of the property in anticipation of taking, the rent shall be reduced in proportion to the reduction in value of the leased Premises as an economic unit on account of the partial taking. If the parties are unable to agree upon the amount of the reduction of rent, the amount shall be determined by arbitration in the manner as is provided in Section 17.

(d) If a portion of Landlord's property not included in the leased Premises is taken and severance damages are awarded on account of the leased Premises, or an award is made for detriment to the leased Premises as a result of activity by a public body not involving a physical taking of any portion of the leased Premises, this shall be regarded as a partial condemnation to which subparagraphs 9.1(a) and (c) apply, and the rent shall be reduced to the extent of reduction in rental value of the Premises as though a portion had been physically taken.

14.2. Total Taking. If a condemning authority takes all of the leased Premises or a portion sufficient to render the remaining Premises reasonably unsuitable for the use which Tenant was then making of the Premises, the lease shall terminate as of the date the title vests in the condemning authorities. Such termination shall have the same effect as a termination under paragraph 9.1(a) above. Landlord shall be entitled to all of the proceeds of condemnation, and Tenant shall have no claim against Landlord as a result of the condemnation.

14.3. Sale in Lieu of Condemnation. Sale of all or part of the leased Premises to a purchaser with the power of eminent domain in the face of a threat or probability of the exercise of the power shall be treated for the purposes of this Section 9 as a taking by condemnation.

15. ASSIGNMENT; SUBLETTING. Tenant shall not in any manner make or allow any assignment, subletting, or occupancy arrangement or any encumbrance of the Premises or this Lease. Any attempt to do any of the foregoing without Landlord's prior written consent shall be void. A change in ownership of Tenant shall be deemed an assignment.

16. DEFAULT; REMEDIES.

16.1. An Event of Default shall occur if any payment to be made under this Lease is not made when due; if any obligation of Tenant is not timely performed or Tenant shall otherwise be in default of a provision of this Lease; or if Tenant shall be brought within the purview of a Bankruptcy Court, whether adjudicated a bankrupt or not.

16.2. If there is an Event of Default by Tenant, Landlord, at Landlord's option, may elect to do one or more of the following: (a) accelerate all of the remaining Rent for the Term, in which event all Rent shall become immediately due and payable; (b) terminate this Lease and re-enter the Premises and remove all persons and property from the Premises, by summary proceedings or by any other suitable action or proceeding at law, or otherwise; or, (c) without terminating this Lease, re-enter the Premises and remove all persons and property from the Premises, by summary proceedings or otherwise, and relet the Premises. If Landlord elects to terminate this Lease, Tenant shall quit and peacefully surrender the Premises to Landlord, without any payment by Landlord for doing so, on or before the effective date of termination, and all Rent shall be paid up to the effective date of termination, together with such expenses, including attorneys' fees, as Landlord shall incur in connection with such termination. No receipt of money by Landlord from Tenant after termination of this Lease shall reinstate, or extend the Term, effect any notice previously given by Landlord to Tenant, or operate as a waiver of the right of Landlord to enforce the payment of Rent. If Landlord shall terminate this Lease, Landlord shall be entitled to retain, free of trust, all sums then held by Landlord pursuant to any of the provisions of this Lease. In the event of any re-entry and/or dispossession by summary proceedings or otherwise without termination of this Lease, all Rent shall become due and shall be paid up to the time of such re-entry and/or dispossession, together with such expenses, including attorneys' fees, as Landlord shall incur in connection with such re-entry and/or dispossession by summary proceedings or otherwise; all Rent for the remainder of the Term may be accelerated and due in full; and Landlord may relet all or any part of the Premises, either in the name of Landlord or otherwise, for a term which may, at Landlord's option, be equal to, less than, or greater than the period which would otherwise have constituted the balance of the Term. Tenant shall pay, as additional Rent, to Landlord, as they are incurred by Landlord, such reasonable expenses as Landlord may incur in connection with reletting, including, without limitation, attorneys' fees, brokerage commissions, and expenses incurred in advertising, repairing, and putting the Premises in good order and condition and in preparing the Premises for reletting. If Tenant shall not have paid accelerated Rent, Tenant shall pay in monthly installments on the due dates for Rent payments for each month of the balance of the Term, the amount by which any Rent payment exceeds the net amount, if any, of the rents for such period collected on account of the reletting of the Premises; any suit brought to collect such amount for any months shall not prejudice in any way the rights of Landlord to collect the deficiency for any subsequent months by a similar action or proceeding. Landlord shall have as Landlord's absolute property, any sums collected by Landlord upon reletting the Premises other than Rent. Landlord shall resume possession of the Premises including, without limitation, any amounts by which the sums so collected shall exceed the continuing liability of Tenant under this Lease. If Landlord shall have accelerated and collected Rent payments and subsequently shall have relet the Premises, then Landlord, after deducting all costs related to reletting shall pay to Tenant the amount remaining which is collected as Rent for each month, to the extent Landlord shall have previously received the Rent for such month from Tenant.

17. RELOCATION. Landlord may relocate Tenant to another location in the Building, without releasing Tenant of any obligation under this Lease for the full Term. If Landlord relocates a substantial portion of the Building and deems the Premises to be needed for other purposes than this Lease, Landlord may relocate Tenant to the Building or terminate this Lease.

18. MISCELLANEOUS.

18.1. Neither Landlord nor any disclosed or undisclosed participant of Landlord (or officers, director, stockholder, partner or agent of Landlord or of any such principal, nor any successor of any of them, shall have any personal liability for any such failure under this Lease or otherwise. The provisions of this Section shall apply only to Landlord and the parties above described. They shall not be for the benefit of any insurance company or other third party. Except as specifically set forth in this Lease, Tenant hereby expressly waives its rights under any and all laws, to terminate this Lease (whether prior to or after the commencement of the Term) or to withhold any payment owed by Tenant under this Lease, on account of any damage, condemnation, destruction, or state of disrepair of the Premises, or any part thereof, it being the parties' intent that the provisions of this Lease shall govern the parties' rights and obligations with respect to such matters. Any holder(s) of any fee mortgage shall have no obligations whatsoever under this Lease. This Lease shall at all times be subordinate to any fee mortgage encumbering the Property. If the holder of any fee mortgage shall succeed to Landlord's interest in this Lease, Tenant shall, upon request, return to such holder in writing, in the event of any transfer of Landlord's interests, Landlord shall be released and relieved from all liability and responsibility thereafter accruing to Tenant and Landlord's successor shall be liable and responsible to Tenant with respect to all obligations of Landlord under this Lease accruing from and after the date of such transfer.

18.2. Tenant shall, on the last day of the Term or upon any termination of this Lease, surrender and deliver up the Premises to Landlord "broom clean" and in good condition and repair, subject to ordinary wear and tear, with all equipment and tenant improvements removed if Landlord so requests. All personal property and other belongings that are left upon the Premises at the time of such surrender shall be deemed to have been abandoned. The cost to Landlord of removal, sale and/or storage of such property shall be paid to Landlord by Tenant.

If Tenant does not immediately surrender the Premises to Landlord at the end of the Term, then Tenant shall pay to Landlord double the amount of the Rent payable by Tenant for the last month of the Term for each month or portion thereof that Tenant holds over, plus all damages that Landlord may suffer on account of Tenant's failure to surrender possession to Landlord, and shall indemnify and save Landlord harmless from and against all claims made by any succeeding tenant of the Premises or broker procuring such tenant, related to delay in delivering possession to such succeeding tenant, so far as such delay is occasioned by failure of Tenant to surrender the Premises. No receipt of money by Landlord from Tenant after termination of this Lease or the service of notice of suit or judgment for possession shall reinstate or extend the Term or affect any such notice, demand, suit or judgment. No act or thing done by Landlord or its agents, including acceptance of keys to the Premises, during the Term shall be deemed an acceptance of a surrender of the Premises, and no agreement to accept a surrender of the Premises shall be valid unless it be made in writing and subscribed by a duly authorized officer or agent of Landlord.

18.3. At any time and from time to time during the Term, within ten (10) days after request by Landlord, Tenant will execute, acknowledge, and deliver to Landlord and its designees, a certificate which states (a) that this Lease is unmodified and in full force and effect, or if there have been modifications, that this Lease is in full force and effect as modified, and identifying the modification agreements; (b) the date to which the Rent has been paid; (c) the nature and extent of any existing default by either party as to which a notice has been given to the other party; (d) whether or not there are any setoffs, defenses, or counterclaims against enforcement of the obligations to be performed under this Lease existing in favor of Tenant; and (e) other matters which Landlord may reasonably request.

18.4. If a claim for brokerage or similar fees in connection with this transaction is made by any other broker, agent, salesman, or finder other than Brokers claiming to have dealt through or on behalf of one of the parties to this Lease, then such party shall indemnify, defend, and hold harmless the other party from all liabilities, damages, claims, costs, fees, and expenses (including reasonable attorneys' fees) with respect to such claim for brokerage. The provisions of this Section shall survive the expiration or termination of this Lease.

18.5. Each Notice shall be deemed to have been given (a) when in writing; (b) when sent by personal delivery, facsimile, Federal Express or other widely recognized overnight delivery service, or registered or certified mail; (c) upon receipt or refusal of receipt by the person to whom it is addressed; and (d) when addressed to each applicable person at the applicable addresses set forth on the first page of this Lease, or to such other person or address as a party shall in the future designate by giving notice to the other.

18.6. Each party represents to the other that it has full legal right, power, and authority to enter into, execute, and perform this Lease. All the rights and remedies of Landlord under this Lease or pursuant to present or future law shall be deemed to be separate, distinct, and cumulative. No one or more of them, whether exercised or not, nor any mention of or reference to any one or more of them in this Lease, shall be deemed to be in exclusion of, or a waiver of, any of the others, or of any of the rights or remedies which Landlord may have under this Lease, at law, and/or in equity. Landlord shall have, to the fullest extent permitted by law, the right to enforce any rights or remedies separately and to pursue any lawful action or proceedings to exercise or enforce any right or remedy without thereby waiving or being barred or estopped from exercising and enforcing any other rights and remedies by appropriate action or proceedings. No waiver by Landlord of any breach by Tenant of any term or condition of this Lease, and no failure by Landlord to exercise any right or remedy in respect of any such breach, shall constitute a waiver or relinquishment for the future, or bar any right or remedy of Landlord in respect of, any other breach of such term or condition or any breach of any other term or condition of this Lease. No payment by Tenant or receipt of payment by Landlord of an amount less than the full amount then due Landlord under this Lease shall be construed as anything other than a partial payment of such sum then due and owing. No endorsement or statement on any check or letter or any form of payment or accompanying document shall be deemed to be an accord and satisfaction or other form of settlement; Landlord may accept any such payment without prejudice to its rights to recover the balance of sums due and owing under this Lease or to pursue any other remedy permitted under this Lease.

18.7. Whenever under this Lease Landlord's consent or approval is expressly or impliedly required, it may be arbitrarily withheld, if Tenant requests Landlord's consent or approval, and if in connection with such request Landlord seeks the advice of its attorneys, architect and/or other adviser or expert, then Tenant shall pay such persons' costs and fees related to such request and the preparation of related documents, which costs and fees shall be limited to $750 per request for matters in the normal course of Tenant's business. Such limitation shall not apply for extraordinary matters such as improvements or remodeling, or any work of any nature that might affect the Building's structural integrity or building systems.

18.8. All obligations of Tenant that are or may be intended by their nature to be performed and/or complied with after the expiration or earlier termination of this Lease shall survive such expiration or termination. Express provisions in this Lease that require or permit survival in specific instances, or as to specific obligations, shall not be deemed a limitation upon the generality of this survival clause. Every provision of this Lease shall be valid and be enforced to the fullest extent permitted by law, if any provision of this Lease, or the application of such provision to any person or circumstance, shall be determined by appropriate judicial authority to be illegal, invalid, or unenforceable to any extent, such provision shall, only to such extent, be deemed stricken from this Lease as if never included. The remainder of this Lease, and the application of such provision to persons or circumstances other than those as to which such provision is held illegal, invalid, or unenforceable, shall not be affected. In this Lease, 'attorneys' fees means without limitation, accountants' and attorneys' fees, including fees for the services of paralegals and similar persons, consultant fees, investigation and laboratory fees, court costs, and litigation expenses at the trial and all appellate levels, and through collection.

18.9. The captions and headings contained in this Lease are for convenience and reference only, shall not be deemed to be a part of this Lease or construed as limiting, amplifying, or modifying in any manner the provisions of this Lease, and shall not otherwise affect the interpretation of this Lease. All references to Exhibits or Sections are to Exhibits or Sections of this Lease. Whenever the context of any provision of this Lease so requires, pronouns of any gender shall include the other genders, words in the singular shall include the plural, and words in the plural shall include the singular. This Lease may be executed and delivered in two or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed to be an original and all of which, taken together, shall be deemed to be one instrument. The parties shall take all such actions and execute all such documents as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of this Lease, whether or not specifically provided for in this Lease. Time is of the essence as to all material terms of this Lease. This Lease shall be construed and governed in accordance with the laws of the State of California without application of conflict of law principles. All of the parties to this Lease have participated fully in its negotiation and preparation. Accordingly, this Lease shall not be more strictly construed against any one of the parties. Landlord shall not be deemed, in any way or for any purpose, to have become, by the execution of this Lease or any of the provisions of this Lease, or any action taken under this Lease, a partner of Tenant, in Tenant's business or otherwise, or a member of any joint enterprise or venture with Tenant.

18.10. This Lease contains the sole and entire agreement, and supersedes all other prior written or oral agreements, between the parties with respect to the subject matter of this Lease. This Lease may be changed, amended, or modified only by an agreement in writing signed by the party against whom such change, amendment, or modification is sought to be enforced. The terms and conditions of this Lease shall bind the parties and their respective successors and assigns, and shall inure to the benefit of the parties and their respective permitted successors and assigns. Any waiver of rights by either party shall be deemed not only to be a waiver of such rights by such party but also a waiver of such rights for and on behalf of such party's successors and assigns.

18.11. Claims, disputes, or other matters in controversy arising out of or related to the lease shall be subject to mediation as a condition precedent to binding dispute resolution.

18.12. The parties shall endeavor to resolve their disputes and claims ("Claims") by mediation, which, unless the parties mutually agree otherwise, shall be administered by the American Arbitration Association in accordance with its applicable procedures in effect on the date of the Agreement. A request for mediation shall be made in writing, delivered to the other party to the Lease, and filed with the person or entity administering the mediation. The request may be made concurrently with the filing of binding dispute resolution proceedings but, in such event, mediation shall proceed in advance of binding dispute resolution proceedings, which shall be stayed pending mediation for a period of 60 days from the date of filing, unless stayed for a longer period by agreement of the parties or court order. If arbitration is stayed pursuant to this Section 18.13, the parties may nonetheless proceed to the selection of the arbitrator(s) and agree upon a schedule for later proceedings.

18.13. The parties shall share the mediator's fee and any filing fees equally. Agreements reached in mediation shall be enforceable as settlement agreements in any court having jurisdiction thereof.

18.14. Any Claim subject to, but not resolved by, mediation shall be subject to arbitration which, unless the parties mutually agree otherwise, shall be administered by the American Arbitration Association in accordance with its applicable rules in effect on the date of the Agreement. A demand for arbitration shall be made in writing, delivered to the other party to the Lease, and filed with the person or entity administering the arbitration. The party filing a notice of demand for arbitration must assert in the demand all Claims then known to that party on which arbitration is permitted to be demanded.

18.15. A demand for arbitration shall be made no earlier than concurrently with the filing of a request for mediation, but in no event shall it be made after the date when the institution of legal or equitable proceedings based on the Claim would be barred by the applicable statute of limitations. For statute of limitations purposes, receipt of a written demand for arbitration by the person or entity administering the arbitration shall constitute the institution of legal or equitable proceedings based on the Claim.

18.16. The award rendered by the arbitrator or arbitrators shall be final, and judgment may be entered upon it in accordance with applicable law in any court having jurisdiction thereof. The party determined to be the prevailing party in the arbitration shall be entitled to an award of its reasonable costs and fees, including attorneys' fees and expert's fees, incurred therein.

18.17. The foregoing agreement to arbitrate shall be specifically enforceable under applicable law in any court having jurisdiction thereof.

18.18. In case suit shall be rightfully brought for possession of the Premises, the prevailing party shall recover reasonable attorney's fees from the other in each such suit. It is further mutually agreed by and between Landlord and Tenant, that the respective parties hereto shall and they hereby do waive trial by jury in any action, proceeding or counterclaim brought by either of the parties hereto against the other on any matters whatsoever arising out of or in any way connected with this Lease, the relationship of Landlord and Tenant, Tenant's use or occupancy of the Leased Premises, and/or any claim of injury or damage, and any emergency statutory or any other statutory remedy. Should Landlord seek recourse to enforce any of its rights under this Lease, Tenant agrees to waive any defense which it might otherwise have that Landlord has any adequate remedy at law. Tenant further agrees that it shall not interpose any counterclaim or set off in a summary proceeding or in any action based in whole or in part on nonpayment of rent.

18.19. IT IS MUTUALLY AGREED BY AND BETWEEN LANDLORD AND TENANT THAT THEY SHALL AND THEY HEREBY DO WAIVE TRIAL BY JURY IN ANY ACTION, PROCEEDING, OR COUNTERCLAIM BROUGHT BY EITHER LANDLORD OR TENANT AGAINST THE OTHER ON ANY MATTERS ARISING OUT OF OR BY ANY WAY CONNECTED WITH THIS LEASE, THE RELATIONSHIP OF LANDLORD AND TENANT, AND/OR TENANT'S USE OF OR OCCUPANCY OF THE PREMISES. TENANT FURTHER AGREES THAT IT SHALL NOT INTERPOSE ANY COUNTERCLAIM OR COUNTERCLAIMS (EXCEPT COMPULSORY COUNTERCLAIMS) IN ANY SUMMARY PROCEEDING OR IN ANY ACTION BASED UPON NONPAYMENT OF RENT OR ANY OTHER PAYMENT REQUIRED BY TENANT UNDER THIS LEASE.

18.20. The parties have executed this Lease on the date set forth in the first paragraph.

18.21. Tenant agrees to train all school staff in Landlord's Protecting The Mission policies and procedures.

18.22. Shared Rooms. Tenant agrees that all teachers and school staff must vacate all shared rooms by 9:20 p.m. In addition, Tenant may only use walls in shared rooms which are specifically assigned to them by Landlord.

18.23. Windows and doors must not be covered or blocked, except in cases of emergency.

18.24. Landlord's furniture and equipment must not be moved from their assigned rooms without prior written permission of Landlord.

Good Morning,

We received an email from our present auditor for an increase in cost that is what I consider way out of line considering the fact that there are several reputable companies who audit charter schools and school districts for much less than the $15,000.00 asking price by our auditor.

Please see the attachments above to view a proposal from a firm that is highly recommended by many in the charter school arena. Our savings of nearly $6,000.00 will help go toward needed computers to meet the mandate of the new law AB484.

Because of the urgency of making a change right away to meet the deadline of audit submissions in December, we can add this item to the agenda at the beginning of the board meeting. Yes, the new audit company said that they would be able to take over and make the deadline if there is no delay on our part, and if there is a delay, they would ask for an extension. We have had to do this before.

Thanks for your kind consideration and cooperation concerning this very important request.

Blessings,
Ed Cabil

All personnel are appropriately credentialed for the assignments for which they are being hired. All employment agreements will terminate effective June 30, 2014.

In conservative spending efforts, salary increases for nine employees were not considered in the operating budget, which received Board approval on July 26, 2013. Salary increases for all 9 employees are included in the recommendation for Salary Increases document attached.

Significant increases in the salary amounts account for the increased need for staffing, supervision, security, and operational procedures.

Implication:

In efforts to remain transparent in the practices of WAYS and compliant with all California laws and regulations regarding employment applicable to Charter Schools, WAYS Board shall consider all employment contracts at a public meeting.

Subject: RE: WAYS Charter Petition

Thanks Courtney,

We should wrap this up by tomorrow if possible. I provided everything you asked for on the last status call with Mr. Mainland more than two weeks ago, and this is the first substantive communication from you about the matter at all since then.

Element 10 is beyond the scope of this dispute, which you and I previously discussed. It was never part of the precursor issue conference, and it's not mentioned anywhere in the MOU attachments F and G. Again, WAYS is happy to revise it in a sensible manner, but that's a side issue. Keep in mind that no one has ever been expelled from this school.

I need more explanation about your first two bullets below. The LACOE controller recommended adoption of fiscal policies. Those are material and supersede any non-material provisions in a charter. Remember that job descriptions per se are not required in a charter petition in the first place, so they cannot be material. The MOU attachment F is about and explicitly refers to "current" job descriptions. Charter school organizations can (and typically do) change those descriptions all the time as the organizations grow. That is true for many charters authorized by LACOE. Why don't we just include a statement in Element 5 that states to the extent anything in a job description is inconsistent with board-adopted fiscal policies, the latter controls? That should solve that quickly and easily for purposes of the charter document. That said, the school should revise job descriptions to be consistent with board-adopted fiscal policy, and I will advise them to do so if they are not. If there are specifics about job descriptions you want covered in the charter document, just tell me what they are and we'll put that in. You'll need to point to those specifics anyway in an arbitration.

Please confirm whether you agree with my suggestion, or provide specifics and identify which job descriptions you're concerned about.

Thanks.
John

Subject: WAYS Charter Petition

Good Afternoon John,

There are a few outstanding concerns with the petition as follows:

- The job descriptions in Element 5 contradict the recently adopted fiscal policies.
- The job description for Director of Operations does not appear to provide for proper checks and balances. For example, the Director negotiates contracts with outside agencies and also approves the requisitions and invoices.
- Element 10 has not been revised.

Please let me know if these issues can be resolved quickly. If not, we are prepared to proceed to arbitration.

Thanks,

Courtney M. Brady

WISDOM ACADEMY FOR YOUNG SCIENTISTS

July 19, 2011

Hello all board members,

The most important element of a board retreat is the planning process. Because the "Board" is ultimately responsible for the ensuing that the school meets the terms of the "charter" and relevant "laws", it is crucial this board understand their responsibilities. The successful board retreats usually have these elements says researcher (Sandra R. Hughes, To Go Forward"-the Board Retreat Handbook, 2009 R)

- Realistic objectives with time allocated for discussion of meaningful topics instead of long list o topics to rush through
- Achievable goals
- Activities geared toward board culture and structure (might need defining)
- Flexibility in schedule/agenda to allow for new ideals/ideas to be explored
- Opportunities to strengthen relationship and socialize (for the benefit of)

As stated before, a well functioning governing board is a necessary condition for the success of a charter school. The failure of charter school governing boards to understand and perform their duties represents one of the most common reasons for charter school failure. The timely education, training and strategic planning of WAYS board members is expected to be successful and you play a vital role in this endeavor.

Please plan to actively participate, get to know one another, voice your opinion and share positives that will enable us to ensure the charter of WAYS remains successful. Dress for the meetings is casual, comfortable (no ties for men, no suits for ladies).

We are looking forward to seeing you in Orange, CA, at the Ayers Inn.

Sincerely,

The Retreat Committee

UNDERSTANDING CONFLICT OF INTEREST LAWS

13

What is a Conflict?

Broad Definition:
A conflict of interest arises when an individual who has a private interest in the outcome of a contract or a public decision, participates in the decision-making process or influences or attempts to influence others making the contract or decision.

14

California Conflicts of Interest
Statutes and Laws Impacting Charter Schools

- Political Reform Act (PRA) (Government Code Section 87100 et seq.)
- Government Code Section 1090
Debatable whether applicable to charter schools*
- Corporations Code 5233 (self-dealing transactions)
- Common Law Prohibitions

15

Political Reform Act

Political Reform Act (Gov. Code §87100, et seq.) established in 1974.
"Public officials should perform their duties in an impartial manner, free from bias caused by their own financial interests..."

The Fair Political Practices Commission (FPPC) enforces compliance with the Political Reform Act

1) Conflicts of Interest Code
2) Form 700 by April 1, 2011
- Entering office
- Leaving office
- Annually

General Compliance Under the PRA

- Identify and avoid participating in/making decisions where there is a conflict of interest
- Adopt and have approved a PRA compliant Conflict of Interest Code
- Public officials file Statements of Economic Interests (Form 700)

17

Identifying and Avoiding Conflicts of Interest

Does the decision involve:

1. A public official (board members, officers and key employees)?
2. Making or participating in making a governmental decision?
3. Does the public official have a qualifying financial interest?
4. Is the financial interest directly/indirectly involved in governmental decision?

If a director can answer "yes" to all questions, under the PRA he/she must:

- (1) Disclose the conflict on the record
- (2) Leave room during discussion and vote and comply with anti-self dealing provisions in bylaws
- (3) Abstain from voting*

A Note Regarding Avoiding Conflicts:

Every local government official and employee must refrain from making or participating in making a government decision that has a reasonably foreseeable material effect on his/her personal financial interests, regardless of whether the individual is required to file a Form 700.

Conflict of Interest Code

The Political Reform Act requires all local government agencies to adopt a conflict of interest code.

The FPCC has determined that charter schools are local government agencies.

Most Counties...

- Typically, a charter school adopts its own conflict of interest code
- Code is approved by the appropriate "code-reviewing body" (County Board of Supervisors or FPPC)
- Form 700s are filed either with the code-reviewing body or at the charter school site

Conflict of Interest Code

3 Required Components of a Code:

- Body of the Code (FPPC suggests incorporating the language of 2 CCR §18730 as the text of your code)
- Exhibit A: Include a list of positions (by title) that must file a Form 700
- Exhibit B: The financial disclosures required of each position listed

Exceptions (cont.)

- The LA County Board of Supervisors currently will not approve individual charter school's conflict of interest codes, stating that they are covered under their charter authorizer's codes
- Consistent with FPPC advice letters issued (see FPPC opinion, Port of Los Angeles High School, May 6, 2010)

FPPC Opinion

The FPPC relies on Government Code Section 87301:

"It is the policy of the Act that Conflict of Interest Codes shall be formulated at the most decentralized level possible... Any question of the level of a department which should be deemed an 'agency' for purposes of Section 87300 shall be resolved by the code reviewing body."

Form 700 – The Law

All officers, board members, and employees who are in a position which entails the making or participation in the making of decisions which may foreseeably have a material effect on any financial interest must file a Statement of Economic Interests (Gov. Code § 87302)

26

Form 700: Common Non-Reportable Interests

You do not have to report:

- Diversified mutual funds registered with the SEC and certain retirement accounts invested in insurance policies or governmental bonds (ex: most 401K, 403b accounts)
- Savings and checking accounts
- A residence used exclusively as a personal residence (such as a home or vacation house)
- Government salary (including from a charter school)
- Gifts from family members
- Travel paid by your local government agency (charter school)

27

Form 700: What Information Must Be Disclosed?

Reportable Interests for Most Charter Schools:

- Category 1: Real property within LAUSD's jurisdiction, or not more than 2 miles outside of the District boundaries.
- Category 2: All investments and business positions (ex: stocks, bonds, business interests)
- Category 3: All income and business positions (ex: Non-government salaries of reporter and spouse/registered domestic partner)

 28

Form 700: LAUSD Disclosure Categories by Charter School Title

Position	Disclosure Categories
Board members	1,2,3
Exec. Director/Principal	1,2,3
Vice Principal/Curriculum	1,2,3
Human Resources Director	2,3
Chief Business Officer	1,2,3

 29

Statement of Economic Interest (Form 700)

- Form 700s must be submitted with original signatures – faxes/emails not acceptable
- Document signed under penalty of perjury
- Becomes a public document once filed, and must be made available to the public upon request

 30

When are Form 700 statements filed?

- Filed upon assuming office or position (within 30 days)
- Once annually (by April 1st)
- Upon leaving the office or position (within 30 days)

MYM

31

Form 700 Disclosure Period

Annual Statement:
Your annual statement is used for reporting the previous calendar year's economic interests.
Example: Statement filed April 1, 2011 will include information for 2010 (January 1st - December 31st)

MYM

32

Penalties for Failing to File Form 700

- 1) Criminal charges by the Attorney General or District Attorney for deliberate failure to file.
- 2) Civil action by FPPC or a private citizen.

If you receive an enforcement letter from the FPPC contact legal counsel immediately!

MYM

Elements of Government Code Section 1090
Debatable whether applicable to charter schools

- Public Official
- Public Contract, Sale or Purchase
- Financial Interest - remote interest exception
- Absolute prohibition

MYM 34

Difference Between the Political Reform Act and Government Code Section 1090

- Political Reform Act: Disclosure and recusal avoids a violation. (Assuming the Board of Directors still consists of a quorum, it may then proceed to take action).
- Government Code Section 1090: Disclosure and recusal does NOT avoid a violation; would effectively prohibit paid employees from serving on board.

MYM 35

Corp. Provision on Self-Dealing

- For Directors only (all others comply with Conflict of Interest policy).
- Higher standard for approval - will satisfy PRA.
- CS Director shall not have material financial interest in any contract or transaction, unless:
 - Fully disclosed/noted in minutes;
 - Transaction approved by directors without interested directors involvement (should leave room);
 - CS could not obtain a better agreement with reasonable effort;
 - The transaction is for the CS and is fair and reasonable at the time (all findings should be in resolution).

MYM 36

2 Types of Common Law Prohibitions

1. Common Law Doctrine of Incompatible Offices

- Public official – not employee
- Holding two public offices simultaneously
- That are incompatible with each other (creating divided loyalties); overlapping jurisdictions

2. Common Law Doctrine – Appearance of Impropriety

- Public Official
- Engaging in Transaction
- Creating an Appearance of Impropriety

For example, Board member voting on expulsion of child.

MYM 38

in the case of expelling your own child

What are the Penalties & Remedies for Violating the California Conflicts of Interest Statutes?

- Political Reform Act (Government Code Section 87100 et seq.):
 - 1) Administrative Sanctions (e.g., fines per violation, cease and desist orders, orders to file reports);
 - 2) Civil Penalties (e.g., injunctions, damages and attorney's fees).
 - 3) Criminal charges
- District could use alleged violations to attempt to revoke the School.

What are the Penalties & Remedies for Violating the California Conflicts of Interest Statutes? (cont.)

- Government Code Section 1090:
 - 1) Criminal penalties (e.g., fine of up to $1,000 or imprisonment in state prison);
 - 2) Permanent disqualification from holding any office in California; and
 - 3) Additionally, any contract made in violation of Government Code Section 1090 is void.

MYM 41

BOARD GOVERNANCE AND FIDUCIARY DUTIES

MYM 42

Corporate Fiduciary Duties

- Directors may be personally liable for violating fiduciary duties.
- Duty of Care:
 - To act with such care, including reasonable inquiry, as an ordinarily prudent person in a like position would use under similar circumstances.
 - Put another way: Board should make decisions only after it has expended sufficient skill, time, and effort to effectively assess any risk to make a prudent decision.

Duty of Care (cont.)

- Directors not expected to be experts
 - Director entitled to rely on information prepared by reliable experts, officers, directors and employees
- A director should:
 - Attend meetings regularly
 - Carefully review board materials and minutes
 - Keep informed about issues that impact school
 - Request expert opinions
 - Request additional information

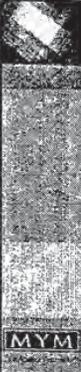

MYM 44

Duty of Loyalty

- Director acts with undivided loyalty to the corporation (school).
- Must avoid activities that are in competition with the corporation (school).
- May not usurp any business opportunity.
- Must avoid self-dealing transactions – the director's loyalty must lie with the corporation first.

THE FIVE DYSFUNCTIONS OF CHARTER SCHOOL BOARDS

by

Brian L. Carpenter
Executive Director

National Charter Schools Institute

Overview

Bestselling author and executive business consultant Patrick Lencioni is on to something. In his book, The Five Dysfunctions of a Team, he explains why business teams of all kinds fail. More importantly, he explains what they need to do to succeed. Though I haven't yet met Lencioni, I credit him with the idea for the title of this essay.

The idea of writing something about school board dysfunctions has been percolating in my mind for some time. As a superintendent of schools in the private sector for twelve years and as a charter school board member the past several years, I have often had a front row seat to the dysfunctional things school boards do. Not that board dysfunction is limited to schools: I have also witnessed dysfunctional behavior as a member of other governing boards. All told, my hands-on experience—or should I say, my seats-on experience—with boards presently totals something in excess of twenty years.

During these years, I've sat through lengthy board discussions about such important things as the color of trim for new offices, how teachers should approach the controversial issue of Santa Claus, and whether a particular student deserved a detention. I've seen shouting matches and power plays that would make Machiavelli blush (and here I should note that names in this paper have been changed to protect the guilty). One board on which I served as superintendent was so divided that one-half of it threatened to sue the other half. And if such provincial behavior weren't depressing enough, I've also seen boards that were flat-out incompetent. In another organization, failure by the board to provide proper financial oversight resulted in an embezzlement case involving the executive director and the FBI. Extreme, yes, but it illustrates how serious problems can arise when boards don't function properly.

Years of such observations have led me to conclude that boards have common dysfunctions. The purpose of this paper is to improve the performance of charter schools by helping board members understand what some of those common dysfunctions are and how to avoid or remedy them.

I'd love to claim originality of thought here, but much of what I will say has been written or said by others—often better than I could write or say it. My desire is that this brief piece will ignite passion in charter school board members to commit themselves to making their boards into models worthy of imitation. For further study, I strongly recommend reading the works of Patrick Lencioni and John Carver, both of whom are listed in the references section of this paper.

Finally, I'd like to dedicate this paper to my friend and mentor, Dr. Bruce Lockerbie. Bruce is chairman and founder of Paideia, an agency that works with schools, churches and non-profit organizations that want to improve their leadership. Thank you, Bruce, for your years of wise counsel and for being the first to provoke serious thought in me on the subject of effective school board leadership.

Dysfunction #1 Managing vs. Governing

The difference between managing and governing a school is like the difference between coaching an NFL football team and owning one.

Although it's not a perfect analogy, in football, a coach is hired by the owners to run the team—and he's held accountable on the basis of the team's performance. There is no such thing as a successful coach without a winning team.

With perhaps a notable exception or two, the owners of the team do not tell the coach which plays to call or otherwise how to do his job.

In charter schools, the board governs for an owner. But who is the owner? Obviously, the board doesn't own the school as with a football team owner. And it isn't the management company, even if it owns the building. It is the public who ultimately owns charter schools.

Thus, charter school boards govern schools in the sense of a trust. This is why board members are sometimes referred to as trustees—people who control something on behalf of the owner. Charter school trustees have the authority to govern the school on behalf of the public.

The management of a school functions similar to a football coaching team. Management in a school has direct supervision of the teachers, staff and students. Management should possess the expertise necessary to run the school on a day-to-day basis. The head administrator should be evaluated by the board as to how well he or she is achieving the objectives of the board, just as a football coach is evaluated according to the objectives of the owner. In essence, the board says what it wants; the management determines how to achieve it (within board-defined limits).

Whenever a board performs the roles, tasks or responsibilities of management, it becomes dysfunctional.

Consider the following example from a conference I attended a few years ago. A board member in the audience boasted to the rest of the group (mostly other board members) that individual board members in his school conducted teacher evaluations. That's as dysfunctional as it is misguided. School board members aren't usually qualified to evaluate teachers anymore than Wendy's board members are qualified to evaluate restaurant employees.

Even if occasional charter school board members are qualified to do so, performing the role of management puts the board at risk of alienating the school faculty and staff, as well as potentially inviting the entrance of a union (see Carpenter, 2006)—an occurrence the board will likely regret.

Instead of evaluating, hiring and firing personnel, choosing curriculum, selecting test instruments and reviewing routine student discipline matters—all of which are management functions—the board should prescribe the outcomes it wishes to achieve, establish (through policies) the boundaries in which the outcomes are to occur and then hold the management accountable by evaluating those outcomes.

For boards that need further help defining governance responsibilities, I recommend the book, Boards That Make a Difference (Carver, 1997). It unpacks the mystery of how to cease managing and start governing.

“charter school boards govern schools in the sense of a trust. This is why board members are sometimes referred to as trustees—people who control something on behalf of the owner. Charter school trustees have the authority to govern the school on behalf of the public.”

“Devising proper lines of authority and requiring that individual board members adhere to them by casting them as board policy can go a long way toward eliminating “loose cannon” problems.”

Dysfunction #2 Using Individual vs. Group Authority

Too often, charter school board members mistakenly believe that the authority which the board possesses to govern the school is possessed by each board member individually. It is not. Some board members go so far as to behave as if what they want accomplished individually is the same as what the board wants accomplished. A friend who is an authorizer told me of a comical example of this: A board member ordered the school leader to install a bicycle rack because she wanted her child to ride a bike to school.

In schools in which I’ve served, individual board members have:

- Telephoned me at home (sometimes on weekends) to dispute student discipline matters involving children of their friends
- Spent or encumbered school funds on pet projects without board authorization
- Directed traffic and staff at school drop-off/pick-up time without being asked to do so
- Authorized fundraising
- Polled teachers for opinions about the strategic direction of the school

Quite thankfully, renegades such as these are usually just one person on a board. Even so, one board member who thinks he or she possess the authority of the board—especially if he or she happens to be the chair—can interfere with the effective governing of the entire board.

Such individuals often give directives to school leaders, form cliques, interfere with management, raise issues at the board level that arise from personal agendas, and/or pose as the spokesperson for the staff or parents or some segment thereof.

In reality, the only time a board member possesses authority is when he or she is sitting in a board meeting, as part of the whole board, or when he or she has been duly appointed to act on behalf of the board (such as, being part of a committee—something that should be used sparingly, if at all, since board committees diminish the board’s ability to hold the CEO accountable) (Carver, 1997).

In contrast to individuals running around the school imposing their own agendas, a functional board speaks with one voice. It does this only when it passes a resolution (regardless of the actual vote count).

Individual board member opinions which may be stated in board meetings are not binding on the school’s administration. How could they be? No matter how talented, there is no superintendent that can simultaneously satisfy multiple individuals with conflicting opinions.

Devising proper lines of authority and requiring that individual board members adhere to them by casting them as board policy can go a long way toward eliminating “loose cannon” problems. Also, new board members should receive an orientation which explains the governing philosophy of the board.

Lastly, waste no time as a board in removing an individual board member who consistently refuses to abide by the policies of the board to act and speak as one. Schools run better without such members.

Dysfunction #3 Creating “Revolving Door Accountability”

Prior to selecting a CEO, the board should decide what is to be accomplished by the school. Board expert John Carver refers to these accomplishments as “Ends,” defined as those things that are to be accomplished, for whom and at what cost. (Carver, 1997).

Only once the board knows what it wants, is it in a position to search for someone whom it may hold accountable to achieve it.

A good starting point for determining ends is for every board member to read the contract that exists between the board and the organization that approves it to operate and receive state funds (i.e., its authorizer or sponsor). These contractually agreed-upon outcomes should be the minimal basis of CEO accountability.

What is more often the practice, however, is that a board hires a CEO without any forethought as to how he or she is to be held accountable. As my friend Bruce Lockerbie says, oftentimes the first job evaluation the CEO gets in such cases is written on a pink-slip. The board then repeats the process with its next CEO, thereby creating a “revolving door” to the school leader’s office. This is board caprice, not accountability, and it is highly detrimental to building a good school.

Beyond those outcomes which the board is contractually obligated for the school to achieve (the very essence of the charter school idea), the board should develop additional policy objectives that are consistent with the mission and vision of the school. The CEO should then be delegated with the necessary authority to achieve them. True accountability comes from assessing the school’s performance against the pre-defined outcomes.

Besides student achievement, which is clearly the primary deliverable for any charter school leader, the board should also ensure that school finances are being appropriately handled. Every board should receive regular financial statements including balance sheet, statements of cash flow, and income and expense.

It is also advisable for the board to hire its own auditor to periodically review these statements and to conduct an annual audit.

If you think this is too expensive, I can assure you it is a bargain compared to dealing with the occasional crooked CEO who steals money, as happened in an organization on whose board I once served. Few of us on the board expressed concern about not receiving good financial reporting until it was too late.

And it’s not just embezzlement against which the board should guard. The board also needs to protect the school from incompetent management which can cause a school to close due to insolvency. For a sobering example of this, read the California Charter Academy story in chapter four of Hopes, Fears, & Reality (Lake, Hill, 2005).

Finally, if you have a talented CEO who is accomplishing what the board has defined, show your appreciation to him or her. You’ll be doing your school a favor since it is well known that talented school leaders are in short supply. Keep the door to the CEO’s office voluntarily locked—from the inside.

“A good starting point for determining ends is for every board member to read the contract that exists between the board and the organization that approves it to operate and receive state funds (i.e., its authorizer or sponsor). These contractually agreed-upon outcomes should be the minimal basis of CEO accountability.”

“kids in your school will live with the education they’re getting from you for the rest of their lives. Isn’t it worth at least half of the board’s regular meeting time to discuss how well the school is providing that education?”

Dysfunction #4 Spending Time on Administrivia

I don’t recall where I first heard the word “administrivia.” Someone coined it to refer to the thousand-and-one details involved in running a school. I like the word because it captures so well, the tendency of school boards to spend unbelievable amounts of time on insignificant things, or at least things that are far less significant than student achievement.

A former superintendent friend once told me that in his observation, school boards spend 75 percent of their time talking about things that really don’t matter. By the time they’re two hours into this bog, board members are too tired to devote even 15 minutes to talk about improving student performance. This same friend says that if charter schools invert this model and spend 75 percent of every meeting wrestling with the difficult issues of student performance, charter schools would become the most successful schools in the country.

What issues do boards waste their time on, if not discussing student performance? Well, the sky really is the limit. Here’s a sample of discussions I’ve endured:

- Paint colors on exterior classroom doors
- Filling secretarial positions
- Content on classroom bulletin boards
- Cheerleader skirt length
- Selecting a contractor to repaint an exterior sign
- Extra-curricular activities
- Recess protocol
- Tennis court resurfacing

- Restroom usage schedules
- Field trip details

For boards seeking not to waste time on administrivia, I recommend three things.

First, establish a baseline for your board by having someone keep a minute-by-minute running summary of how the board spends its time during two or three regular meetings. Put the findings into one of two columns. One column is for minutes spent on student achievement. The other column is for everything else. Compare the two columns. If your board is spending less than half its time on student achievement, the board is wasting time on administrivia. (Obviously, there are other important topics that boards need to discuss, but they shouldn’t consume half of a typical meeting.)

Second, read Patrick Lencioni’s book, Death by Meeting. It contains some excellent lessons about the structure of meetings. Although the book is geared toward management meetings (not to be confused with board governance meetings), some of Lencioni’s ideas and insights are applicable to charter school boards.

Finally, exercise the discipline of taking the long view of things. Ask yourselves as a board if “xyz” issue is going to be of any importance in five years. If it isn’t, delegate it to the CEO and move on.

Student achievement will always pass this litmus test because kids in your school will live with the education they’re getting from you for the rest of their lives. Isn’t it worth at least half of the board’s regular meeting time to discuss how well the school is providing that education?

Dysfunction #5 Not Developing Itself

There was a time when a school board could do its job with little or no expertise required. A hundred years ago, if you could read and cipher, you probably would have been considered well-qualified to help govern a school.

Not anymore.

These days, schools are complex organizations. The list of things about which charter school board members should have a working knowledge include, but are not limited to, the following:

- No Child Left Behind Act (NCLB)
- Individual with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA)
- Sizeable amounts of state-level public school code including your state's charter school requirements
- Financial reporting
- Contractual agreements
- Funding, building, and maintenance of school buildings
- Employment law
- Management companies
- Student achievement and performance measures
- The governance process
- Policy development
- Fund development
- Negotiating skills
- Union tactics
- The politics of school choice
- Marketing
- Media relations

The above sample of items illustrates just how complex the charter school sector is. Regardless, board members have the responsibility to know this stuff. What to do?

The functional board recognizes that it needs to develop itself. To do so, it devotes time in its board meetings and resources for that purpose. It may watch an informative program, discuss a book or invite an outside expert to present information. Board members should also seek to educate themselves outside board meetings by attending an occasional seminar and by staying informed of broader charter school trends.

This doesn't mean that every charter school board member should possess the same depth of knowledge as the school leader. That would be absurd.

It does mean, however, that board members should recognize that they cannot govern properly without a certain level of understanding. It is completely legitimate for boards to invest time and reasonable amounts of school funds necessary to acquire it.

On the charter school board on which I currently serve, the board devoted time for several months to discuss a book on governance which everyone agreed to read. We also regularly invite our school leader to educate us on various issues involving student achievement.

If you're reading this as a charter school board member, that's a good indicator you take your role seriously. But if others on your board aren't developing their knowledge through further training, discussions and reading, their negligence will impede effective governance.

The references at the end of this paper are a good place to start. Pick a resource and resolve as a board to begin spending a few minutes each meeting discussing it. This action alone would improve most boards.

"A hundred years ago, if you could read and cipher, you probably would have been considered well-qualified to help govern a school. Not anymore."

In Conclusion

The charter school movement is one of the most significant reforms in public education since the origin of American public schools in the 1830s. This reform mechanism was launched when the first charter school opened its doors in 1992. At present, charter school laws have been passed in 40 states plus the District of Columbia. It is estimated that there are close to one million students being served in charters across the country (Hoxby & Rockoff, 2005). Many of those students are low-income minority students for whom the charter school is their best hope for a bright future.

The charter idea is built on the premise that market-like competition for students will improve public education, bring costs down and close the student achievement gap. Many schools are succeeding at all three. More schools need to follow.

The movement is now mature enough that we know what it takes to create a successful charter school. There are many examples across the country including High Tech High, KIPP Academies, North Star Academy, Plymouth Academy, Amistad Academy, and others that have developed the right combination of talented teachers, scientifically validated curricula and teaching methods, data-driven decision-making, visionary school leaders and highly functional boards. Of those aspects that successful schools share, the board is a critical component because the other things are difficult to maintain in the absence of good governance.

Learning to govern well requires effort and dedication on the part of board members. Like anything else, it is a matter of discipline and consistency. By regularly devoting time in the agenda to discuss books, articles or other presentations, board members can deepen their knowledge and thereby increase the board's overall effectiveness. They can avoid the five dysfunctions described in this paper by defining and upholding sound policies.

The resources listed in the section below provide an excellent starting point for any board wishing to improve its effectiveness. In the case of articles cited from School Reform News and Education Next, the journals themselves are worth subscribing to.

Additionally, many states have fine charter school associations. The cost of membership is a small price to pay for the benefits such organizations provide. Besides serving as clearinghouses for important charter school information, state associations create an invaluable opportunity for schools to link together to have their voices heard. I urge every charter school board to join its state association.

Now that you've read this paper, you can begin leading the improvement of your board. What will your next step be?

UNDERSTANDING THE BROWN ACT

I. PURPOSE AND SCOPE OF THE ACT

A. Open Access

The Ralph M. Brown Act (“Act”) also known as California’s “Open Meeting Law,” represents the Legislature’s determination of the balance between public access to meetings of multi-member legislative bodies on the one hand, and the need for confidential candor, debate and information gathering on the other. Where matters are not subject to the closed session exceptions, the Act requires all deliberative processes by legislative bodies, including discussion and the acquisition of information, to be open and available for public scrutiny.

B. Confidentiality on a Limited Basis

The Legislature has established a presumption in favor of public access. However, the Act also contains specific exceptions from the open meeting requirements where a public entity has demonstrated the need for confidentiality.

II. MEETING DEFINED UNDER THE ACT

A. Broadly Defined

A meeting is any congregation of a majority of the members of the board at the same time and location to hear, discuss, deliberate or take action on any item within the subject matter jurisdiction of the board. The board need not take any action in order for the gathering to be defined as a meeting. (§ 54952.2.)

The following are exceptions to the definition of a meeting:

1. Individual Contacts: Individual contacts between board members and others which do not constitute serial meetings. (§ 54952.2(c)(1).)
2. Conferences and Retreats: Such gatherings which are open to the public that involve issues of interest to the charter school so long as the majority of the board members present do not discuss amongst themselves business of a specific nature under the board’s jurisdiction. (§ 54952.2(c)(2)(3)(4).)
3. Social or Ceremonial Occasions: Board members may attend such events where no business of the board is discussed. (§ 54952.2(c)(5).)

B. Serial Meetings

The Act prohibits a majority of board members from engaging in a series of communications which are conducted outside of board meetings through direct communications, intermediaries or technological devices for the purpose of discussing, deliberating or taking action on matters within the jurisdiction of the board. (§ 54952.2.) However, board members can answer questions or provide information regarding an issue (outside a board meeting) so long as the board member does not communicate to other board members the comments or position of any other members of the board.

The following instances are exempt from the definition of a serial meeting:

- a. Individual contacts between board members and persons who are not board members of the charter school. (§ 54952.2.)
- b. Teleconferencing which is conducted in accordance with the procedures set forth in Section 54953(b).
- c. Writings or other communications made outside of a Board meeting, between individual board members and staff for informational purposes, so long as the Board member or employee does not communicate to members of the Board the comments or positions of any other Board members.

C. Teleconference Meetings

Teleconference meetings may be held under carefully defined parameters. For example, the meeting agenda must specifically identify all teleconference locations and each such location must be fully accessible to members of the public.

D. Writings as Meetings

Especially, in light of today's prevalent use of e-mail, a meeting may inadvertently occur in writing when such writings are exchanged between a majority of the Board. These meetings, although in writing, are still subject to the Act's agenda posting requirements. This is to be distinguished from one-way communication to Board members, not amongst them.

III. NOTICE AND AGENDA REQUIREMENTS

A. Regular Meetings

An agenda containing a brief description (e.g., approximately 20 words) of each matter to be considered or discussed must be posted at least seventy-two (72) hours prior to the meeting. (§ 54954.2) Meetings of advisory or standing committees are deemed to be "regular meetings" for purposes of the Act. (§ 54954(a).)

1. Exceptions to Agenda Requirements: Special procedures permit an entity to proceed on an item not on the agenda in case of emergency circumstances, where the need for the action came to the attention of the board after posting of the agenda, or when the matter was continued to a subsequent meeting within five days. (§ 54954.2.)

2. Public Testimony: Every agenda shall provide an opportunity for members of the public to address the board on any item under the subject matter jurisdiction of the body, before or during consideration. (§§ 54954.2(b), 54954.3(a).)

B. Special Meetings

Twenty-four hour notice must be provided to members of the public and media outlets including a brief general description of matters to be considered or discussed. Only the items listed on the special meeting agenda may be considered by the board, or commented upon by the public. (§ 54956.)

C. Emergency Meetings

One hour notice in case of work stoppage that seriously impairs public health, safety or both or in the case of crippling disaster.

D. Closed Sessions

1. Agenda Requirement:

- a. All items to be considered in closed session must be identified in the notice or agenda for the meeting. (§ 54954.2.)
- b. A model (“safe harbor”) description for closed session items is recommended by statute in Section 54954.5.
- c. Closed session agenda for personnel matters must specify the title of the position in all instances except discipline, dismissal or release. (§ 54954.5(e).)
- d. Closed session agenda for conferences with real property or labor negotiators must specify the names of designated representatives. (§§ 54954.5(b)(f), 54956.8, and 54957.6.)

2. Oral Announcement: Prior to each closed session, the board must orally announce the subject matter(s) of the closed session. (§ 54957.1.)

3. Reporting Out: If final action is taken in closed session, the board generally must report the action at the conclusion of the closed session. (§ 54957.7.)

E. Adjournments and Continuances

Regular and special meetings may be adjourned to a future date. (§ 54955.) If the meeting is reconvened within five (5) days of the original meeting, matters properly placed on the agenda for the original meeting may be considered at the subsequent meeting. When adjournment occurs, notice of the adjournment must be conspicuously posted within twenty-four (24) hours of the adjournment.

F. Location of Meetings

As a general rule, regular and special meetings must be held within the boundaries of the territory over which the Board has jurisdiction. (§ 54954(b).) For charter schools, this likely means meetings must be held within the boundaries of the charter school's granting agency.

IV. RIGHTS OF THE PUBLIC

A. Public Testimony

The public may comment on agenda items before or during consideration by the board. Time must be set aside for public comment on any other matters under the body's jurisdiction not on the agenda. The body may adopt reasonable rules regulating the amount of time for public testimony. (§ 54954.3.)

B. Taping Or Broadcasting

Meetings may be broadcast, audio-recorded or video-recorded so long as the activity does not constitute a disruption of the meeting. (§§ 54953.5, 54953.6.)

C. Conditions To Attendance

The public may not be asked to register or identify themselves or to pay fees in order to attend public meetings. (§§ 54953.3, 54961.)

D. Public Records

Materials provided to a majority of a board which are not exempt from disclosure under the Public Records Act must be provided, upon request, to members of the public without delay. (§ 54957.5.)

E. Non-Discriminatory Facilities

Under the Act, meetings may not be conducted in a facility that excludes persons on the basis of their race, religion, color, national origin, ancestry, or sex, or that is inaccessible to disabled persons or where members of the public may not be present without making a payment or purchase.

V. PERMISSIBLE CLOSED SESSIONS

A. Introduction

1. Narrow Construction: The statutory exceptions to the public meeting requirement of the Act are strictly construed in favor of public access.

2. Semi-Closed Meetings: In specific circumstances, certain interested members of the public may be admitted to a closed session while the remainder of the public is excluded.
 - a. Generally, closed sessions may only involve the membership of the Board plus any additional support personnel who may be required (e.g., attorney in connection with legal advice; supervisor in connection with disciplinary proceeding; labor negotiator in connection with collective bargaining).
 - b. If a board admits any other person into a closed session to deliberate on a recommendation to suspend, expel, or otherwise discipline a pupil, the parent or guardian of the pupil, the pupil, and counsel for the pupil shall be allowed to attend. (Education Code § 48918(e).)
3. Secret Ballots: Secret ballots are expressly prohibited under the Act. (§ 54953(c).) The vote or abstention of each individual member must be reported. (§ 54957.1(a).)
4. Confidentiality of Closed Sessions: The Act specifically provides that a person may not disclose confidential information that has been acquired by attending a proper closed session to a person not entitled to receive it, unless the Board authorizes the disclosure. The Act provides remedies for wrongful disclosure including injunctive relief, disciplinary action, referral to grand jury and other available legal remedies.

B. Authorized Closed Sessions

1. Personnel: To consider appointment, employment, evaluation of performance, discipline or dismissal of an employee. An employee must be given at least twenty-four (24) hours prior to written notice of his or her right to have any specific complaint or charge against the employee heard in public. (§ 54957.)
2. Pending Litigation: A board may meet in closed session to receive advice from its legal counsel concerning existing litigation, initiating litigation, or situations involving a significant exposure to litigation as defined by statute. (§ 54956.9.)
3. Real Estate Negotiations: A board may meet in closed session to consider price and terms of payment in connection with the purchase, sale, exchange or lease of real property. (§ 54956.8.)
4. Labor Negotiations: A board may meet in closed session with its negotiator to consider labor negotiations with represented and unrepresented employees. Issues related to budgets and available funds may be considered, although final decisions regarding salaries of unrepresented employees must be made in public. (§ 54957.6.)

5. Public Security Exception: A board may meet in closed session with the Attorney General, District Attorney, Sheriff, or Chief of Police on matters posing a threat to the security of public buildings and public services or facilities.
6. Pupil Discipline: A public school governing board may meet in closed session to consider the suspension, expulsion, or other disciplinary action of any pupil, unless the pupil requests the hearing be in public. (Education Code §§ 35146, 48918(c).) Hence, final action to expel a pupil may only be taken in public session. (Education Code § 48918(j).)
7. Early Withdrawal From Deferred Compensation Account: The Board may meet in closed session to discuss an employee's application for early withdrawal of funds from a deferred compensation account.

C. Minute Book

The Board may, but is not required to, keep a confidential minute book with respect to matters discussed in closed session. (§ 54957.2.)

VI. PENALTIES AND REMEDIES FOR VIOLATION OF THE ACT

A. Criminal Penalties

The District Attorney may seek misdemeanor penalties against a member of a board who attends a meeting where action is taken in violation of the Act, and where the member intended to deprive the public of information which the member knows or has reason to know the public was entitled to receive. (§ 54959.)

B. Civil Remedies

Any person or the District Attorney may file a civil lawsuit for injunctive, mandatory or declaratory relief, or to void an action taken in violation of the Act. (§§ 54960, 54960.1.) Attorneys' fees are available to prevailing plaintiffs.

Before a civil lawsuit may be commenced, the plaintiff must demand the entity "cure and correct" the violation. (§ 54960.1.)

1. Demand for cure must be made within thirty (30) days of the violation for action taken in open session in violation of the agenda requirement;
2. For all other alleged violations, demand for cure must be made within ninety (90) days of the alleged violation.

If the agency cures the violation within thirty (30) days, civil suit on the violation is barred.

UNDERSTANDING NONPROFIT CORPORATION DIRECTOR DUTIES & CONFLICTS OF INTEREST

I. CORPORATIONS CODE DUTY OF CARE

The Corporations Code sets forth the duties a director of a nonprofit corporation owes the corporation. Generally, a director owes his or her corporation a duty of care, a duty of loyalty, and a duty not to compete with the corporation's business.

A. The Duty of Care

The duty of care requires a director to act in a reasonable and informed manner when participating in the board's decision and its oversight of the corporation's management. A director generally satisfies these duties by discharging his or her duties in good faith in the manner of an ordinary prudent person who is pursuing the best interests of the corporation. The duty of care consists of three elements:

1. Good Faith

Good faith generally requires that a director possess an honest belief that his or her actions are intended to be faithful to his or her duties or obligations to the corporation.

2. Ordinary Prudent Person

The director must exercise the diligence of an ordinary prudent person. It is the degree of care, which persons of common prudence generally exercise in their own affairs.

3. Best Interests of Corporation

The director must reasonably believe that the decisions he or she makes are made for the purpose of advancing the corporation's goals or for protecting the corporation.

B. Duty of Inquiry

The duty of care requires that a director be informed and exercise independent judgment. Part of exercising independent judgment is satisfying the duty of inquiry. Generally, the duty of inquiry arises when circumstances indicate that further inquiry is needed. The satisfaction of the duty of care may be accomplished in part with the following activities:

1. Regular Attendance of Meetings

To function effectively, a director needs to be adequately informed. Sporadic attendance of board meetings may not allow directors to obtain all information to be fully informed. A director who attends meetings sporadically should reasonably expect that he or she may need to make inquiry and investigation regarding certain matters before the board.

2. Attendance at Committee Meetings

A board of directors typically delegates many important functions to committees. A director appointed to serve on a committee should be active in all the committee's deliberations and other activities.

3. Assuring the Adequacy of Information

To satisfy the duty of inquiry, a director needs to have an adequate source of information flow. This information is generally supplied by the corporation's management and staff. When a director suspects that he or she may not have all pertinent information, the director is under a duty to determine what, if any, additional information is needed.

4. Reliance on Experts, Management, and Staff

In the ordinary course of business, a director may act in reliance on information and reports received from regular sources the director reasonably regards as trustworthy. It is not a breach of the duty to inquire if a director relies upon information or opinions of staff members, officers, employees, agents, experts, etc., if the director reasonably believes the sources to be reliable and competent.

5. Experts Retained by the Corporation

A director may rely on legal counsel, public accountants, or other persons retained by the corporation, as to matters the director reasonably believes are within the professional's competence or expertise.

C. The Duty of Loyalty

A director shall not use a corporate position for individual personal advantage. A director must act in a manner that the director reasonably believes to be in the best interests of the corporation and all of its members, including the members of minority factions, and to administer their corporate powers for the common benefit. The duty of loyalty requires directors to exercise their powers in good faith and in the best interests of the corporation, rather than in their own interests or the interests of another entity or third party.

By assuming office, a director acknowledges that with regard to any corporate activity, the best interests of the corporation must prevail over the director's individual interests.

The duty of loyalty also requires a director to avoid conflicts of interest and to avoid disclosing the corporation's confidential matters.

1. Conflicts of Interest

The duty of loyalty requires that directors be conscious of the potential for clashes between the director's private interests and the corporation's interests.

A conflict of interest arises whenever a director has a material personal interest in a proposed contract or transaction to which the corporation may be a party. This interest can occur either directly or indirectly. The director may be personally involved in a transaction, as for example voting to contract with a company owned by the director. Some conflicts may be so subtle as to miss detection. For example, the director of an art museum who also collects art is faced with a decision to acquire a particular piece, and that acquisition might then increase the recognition or value of the director's collection. In this example, the director's interest will require disclosure so that the board may determine whether the director's vote is motivated by the best interests of the museum or the personal interests of the director.

2. Confidentiality

A director should not in the regular course of business disclose information about the corporation's legitimate activities unless they are already known by the public or are of public record. The individual director should always bear in mind that he or she is not a spokesperson for the corporation. This presumption of confidential treatment should apply to all current information about legitimate board or corporate activities.

D. Corporate Opportunity Doctrine

If a director becomes aware of an opportunity or a transaction that would be of interest or benefit to the corporation, the director must disclose the opportunity to the corporation and permit the corporation to take full advantage of the opportunity.

II. CONFLICT OF INTEREST STATUTES AND DOCTRINES

A conflict of interest arises when a director who has a private interest in the outcome of a corporate contract or a public decision participates in the decision-making process or influences or attempts to influence others making the contract or decision. In short, a conflict of interest is a clash between a director's duty to his or her office and his or her personal interests.

A. California Government Code Section 1090

California Government Code Section 1090 prohibits a public official from participating in any decision concerning a public contract in which he or she has a private financial interest.

Section 1090 is a flat prohibition which reflects the general policy of this state that public officers shall not have a personal interest in any contract made in their official capacity. Generally, California courts are very rigid in their application of section 1090 and have consistently stated that assuring loyalty on the part of government officials to their offices outweighs other considerations including the hardship of financial loss under a voided contract.

B. Government Code Section 87100 Et Seq.: The Political Reform Act

The Political Reform Act ("PRA") prohibits any public official from making, participating in making, or otherwise using his or her official position to influence a governmental decision in which he or she has a financial interest. Public officials and designated employees of public agencies must disclose any economic interest that may be foreseeably and materially benefited by the public official's decisions.

1. Public Official

The term public official applies to elected and appointed officials and to any member, officer, employee, or consultant of a state or local government agency. Generally, the term includes all natural persons who are members, officers, employees, or consultants of a state or local government agency.

2. Government Decision

The PRA applies to any public official who makes, participates in making, or influences the making of a government decision. A public official has decision making authority if he or she may (1) vote on a matter; (2) appoint a person to a position; (3) obligate his or her agency to a course of action; or (4) enter into a contract for the agency. In addition, electing not to act is considered a government decision.

3. Economic Interest

The PRA addresses five categories of interests: (1) business investments; (2) real property interests; (3) sources of income over $250 annually; (4) business positions; and (5) gifts.

C. Penal Code Section 70

Penal Code Section 70 is one of California's oldest prohibitions on official misconduct. Enacted in 1870, Penal Code Section 70 prohibits public officials from knowingly requesting or receiving gratuities or rewards in exchange for performing an official act. In brief, Penal Code Section prohibits public officials from requesting or receiving bribes. A violation of Penal Code Section 70 is punishable in a criminal action as a misdemeanor and can result in imprisonment for up to one year.

D. Common Law Prohibitions

California's common law doctrines derive from a body of law developed through judicial decisions. The common law doctrines require public officials to avoid placing themselves in a position in which personal interests may clash with their duties to their offices.

1. Common Law Doctrine of Incompatible Offices

The doctrine of incompatible offices applies in instances in which a public official holds two public offices simultaneously and these two offices clash thereby forcing the public official to divide his or her loyalties.

In some cases, the California legislature has superseded the common law doctrine by statute. For example, Government Code Section 6508 bars the application of the common law doctrine of incompatibility of offices to joint powers agencies.

Finally, the doctrine of incompatible offices does not prohibit a public official from securing employment as employment is not an "office."

2. Common Law Doctrine of Appearance of Impropriety

The common law doctrines prohibit not only actual conflicts of interest, but also the mere appearance of possible improprieties. The doctrine of Appearance of Impropriety is designed to eliminate temptation, avoid the appearance of impropriety, and to remove the possibility of personal influence.

E. The California Corporations Code Prohibitions on Conflicts of Interest

The Corporations Code imposes several additional restrictions upon charter schools operating as public benefit nonprofit corporations.

1. Interested Directors

Corporations Code Section 5227 (a) provides that a nonprofit corporation may not have more than 49% of its board of directors composed of interested directors. An interested director is one who (1) receives compensation from the corporation for services rendered to the corporation within 1 year of becoming a board member; and/or (2) is related to someone who receives compensation from the corporation for services rendered within 1 year of becoming a board member. Stated differently, at least 51% of the board of directors must be uninterested.

2. Limitations On Self-Dealing Transactions Between Directors and Corporation

Generally, self-dealing transactions are transactions between a director and the corporation, as for example when a corporation leases facilities from a director. The Corporations Code does not prohibit self-dealing transactions per se as often such transactions can benefit the corporation. Indeed, the board of directors may adopt a self-dealing transaction if it believes the transaction is in the corporation's best interests.

Directors entering into self-dealing transactions, however, should be on guard. Corporations Code section 5231 (c) provides that directors, even unpaid volunteer directors, can become personally liable for a self-dealing transaction.

In addition, a self-dealing transaction can be a breach of a director's statutorily imposed duty of care. Corporations Code Section 5231 (a) charges a director with the duty to engage in corporate business in the good faith belief that he or she is pursuing the best interests of the corporation. A self-dealing transaction gives rise to the charge that the director pursues his own personal interests above the corporation's. Thus, a director presumably breaches his duty by entering into such a transaction.

THE ROLES OF THE BOARD AND ADMINISTRATION

INTRODUCTION

4. Maintaining accountability for student learning by adopting the School's curriculum and monitoring student progress.
5. Hiring and supporting the Administration so that the vision, goals and policies of the School can be effectively implemented.
6. Conducting regular and timely evaluations of the Administration based on the vision, goals and performance of the School, and ensuring that the Administration holds School personnel accountable.
7. Adopting a fiscally responsible budget based on the School's vision and goals, and regularly monitoring the fiscal health of the School.

2. Valuing, advocating and supporting the School and all stakeholders.
3. Recognizing and respecting the differences of perspective and style on the Board and among staff, students, parents and the community and ensuring that the diverse range of views inform Board decisions.
4. Acting with dignity, treating everyone with civility and respect, and understanding the implications of demeanor and behavior.
5. Working with the Board as a "governance team" and assuring collective responsibility for building a unity of purpose, communicating a common vision and creating a positive organizational cultural.
6. Understanding the distinction between Board and staff roles, and respecting the role of the Board as the representative of the community.

8. Communicating openly with trust and integrity including providing all members of the Board with equal access to information, and recognizing the importance of both responsive and anticipatory communications.
9. Accepting leadership responsibility and accountability for implementing the vision, goals and policies of the School.

Each individual Board member shall:

1. Keep learning and achievement for all students as the primary focus.

2. Recognize and respect differences of perspective and style on the Board and among staff, students, parents and the community.

7. Comply with legal responsibilities related to conflicts of interest
8. Understand that authority rests with the Board as a whole and not with individuals.

EVALUATING YOUR MEETINGS

After a meeting, evaluate what happened so that you can plan better meetings in the future. The following checklist helps you identify mistakes and avoid future ones:

- Was a detailed meeting agenda provided so that everyone knew what was supposed to happen?
- Did everyone receive sufficient notice of the meeting so they could plan to attend?
- Did the President follow the agenda?
- Did the President keep the discussion on track? Or, did members raise and discuss unrelated issues?
- Was there adequate time to conduct the business on the agenda?
- Did members listen to the discussion and wait their turn to speak? Or, was cross-talk allowed to disrupt and distract the business at hand?
- Did the members and the President follow the rules of parliamentary procedure when considering recommendations to the Board? Or did they make up the rules as they went along?
- Did the President allow speakers to make their statements? (The President should interrupt only to call the meeting to order, to call time, or to redirect the discussion to the business at hand.)
- Were any decisions made in haste and without sufficient consideration?
- Were any hidden agendas at work in the discussion?
- Was there discord in the meeting? Was it resolved? If so, how was it resolved?
- Did the members see alternative courses of action? Were any presented?
- Did all members participate in the discussion? If some didn't, did the President try to bring them into the discussion? If they still didn't participate, did anyone try to find out?
- Did the secretary have enough information to develop minutes?
- Was the room comfortable for the meeting? Or was it too hot, too cold, too large, too small, too noisy, too bereft of chairs or tables, or deficient in any other way?
- Was the seating arrangement appropriate for the meeting?
- How much time was spent on student achievement versus other matters?
- Were there any other problems that could be identified and corrected in future meetings?

Typical Charter School Board Responsibilities

Board approves:

- Major educational and operational policies
- Major contracts
- Annual budget
- Evaluates CEO and maybe CBO
- Ensures long-term viability

CEO or Executive Director:

- In charge of day-to-day operations
- Selection of all other staff

What does Board Responsibility look like?

Level of Board oversight or decision-making

Responsibility of Decision or Oversight

Hiring Executive Director Hiring CBO Operations policies Hiring middle managers Hiring teachers and staff Day-to-day office matters Hire and fire HR Admins

Budget approval

Holding meetings

Boards take action at "meetings"

Do we have to comply with Brown Act (opening meeting law)?

- Most charters and/or bylaws require compliance (if not in charter, arguably not required)
- For WAYS: Yes, you comply with Brown Act. Your charter requires it. Required for all LACOE-authorized charters
- Sometimes charter bylaws are not consistent with the Brown Act (when inconsistent, Brown Act controls)

Holding meetings

What is a meeting?

"Any congregation of a majority of the members of a legislative body ... to hear, discuss, or deliberate, or take action on any item."

You may not, "outside a meeting ... use a series of communications ... directly or through intermediaries, to discuss, deliberate, or take action ..."

Gov. Code sec. 54952.2

Holding Meetings in Law

- Brown Act applies to committees created by board even if just advisory
 - "Ad hoc" committees are exempt, but must be board members less than quorum, limited existence (until purpose fulfilled)
 - Applies to "standing" board committees (e.g. finance committee, executive committee, facilities committee)
 - Board can delegate some authority to standing or ad hoc committees, but committee authority strictly limited to the four corners of that delegation
 - "Executive" committees can sometimes be helpful but are unnecessary for most schools
- Consider this: Brown Act is inapplicable to school working groups set up by Executive Director
 - Much more flexible mechanism

Holding Meetings

- Brown Act "types" of meetings
 - "Regular" meetings require 72 hour posting of notice
 - "Special" meetings require 24 hours notice
 - "Emergency" meetings (unlikely for charter schools)
 - Teleconferencing
 - Posting agenda
 - Notice in agenda

Holding Meetings

- Brown Act much more restrictive than Nonprofit Corporations Law
- Under Corporations Code, bylaws can allow:
 - Action by unanimous written consent (but appointment of Board members this way violates Brown Act)
 - Brown Act allows a majority to call a meeting, but is otherwise silent on quorum

Holding Meetings

- Brown Act limits meeting to posted agenda:
 - Brief general description of business to be transacted (20 words or less)
 - Posted in publicly accessible place
 - New for 2012: post on website if you've got one
 - Suggest consent agenda for routine items
 - Don't create "information only" vs "action" items if you want flexibility
 - Adding items to regular agenda

Holding Meetings

- Brown Act limits closed sessions:
 - Statutory basis must be identified, such as:
 - Litigation (identify matter)
 - Personnel evaluation, termination (identify position)
 - Collective bargaining strategy (identify negotiators)
 - Real estate negotiations (identify property)
 - Not for budget discussions, general planning

Holding nonpublic

- Rights of public
 - Speak before action taken on any item (including closed session)
 - Attend meeting without having to "sign in"
 - publicly accessible location (with disabled access)
 - May criticize the school, employees and board
 - Can be time limited and required to identify themselves
 - At regular meeting to address board on something not on agenda
 - Non-agenda public comment is not required at special meetings

Public Records Act - 1976

- Public Records Act uses Brown Act definition of who is covered
 - All records subject to inspection and copying unless exempt
 - Burden on school to justify withholding records
- Obligation under Charter Schools Act to "promptly respond" to "reasonable inquiries"

What are exempt records?

- Lots of exempt records for schools:
 - Student records (FERPA)
 - Personnel and medical records
 - Pending litigation
 - Preliminary drafts
- But emails, and material kept in ordinary course of business may be public

Fiduciary duties to corporation

Directors owe fiduciary duties to the "corporation"—

- duty of care
- duty to provide financial oversight
- duty of loyalty

Duty of Care

- Act with care, skill, prudence and diligence
- Under the circumstances
- Of a prudent person acting in a like capacity
- With familiarity with those matters, and
- Considering the background and experience of the director

Board Misconduct

- Acting outside course and scope of duties (such as involvement in management, rather than policy-making)
- Breaching fiduciary duties
- Conflicts of interest creating personal benefit
- Intentional or willful misconduct

Potential liabilities of D&O insurance

- Broad nonprofit law immunity for volunteer board members
- Check for D&O insurance

What is a board liable for?

Duty of Care

20

Business Judgment Rule

Courts will refuse to review the actions of Board in managing the corporation unless there is some allegation of conduct that (1) violates (a) the directors' duty of care, (b) duty of loyalty, or (c) duty of good faith; or (2) that the decisions of the directors' lacks a rational basis.

What is Board role and responsibility?

- The Board makes policy, and is protected from liability when doing that.
- The CEO/Executive Director is accountable for implementing all Board policies.
- The Charter and/or policies further delineate roles and responsibilities, including delegated authority.

You must be thoughtful and deliberate in your role

- Ask questions to seek clarity before voting.
- Listen to all perspectives and test your understanding of information and implications.
- "Own your decision"

23

What is Board Member Accountability?

Duty of Care

24

Charter School Finance
Way is this managed?

- Charter schools face unique challenges requiring them to have one foot in larger business world and the other foot in public school finance world.
- Unique business model because strictly service-oriented, with limited financing sources
- Annual budget is blueprint for school year, setting spending priorities and goals

26

Charter School Finance - Audit

- Required annually by Charter Law.
- It validates the schools reported finances.
- Audits are also used to validate the charter schools internal controls.
- Depending on the charter – the school can choose its own auditor or must use one assigned by authorizer.
- Board must approve Audit Agreement in Spring of the each year.
- Board must approve the audit prior to submittal to oversight agencies.

26

Charter School Finance - Budget

Way is this managed?

27

Duty of Impartiality

Individuals in a position of public trust must avoid conflicts of interest which prevent them from fulfilling their duties in an impartial manner.

28

Duty of Loyalty

Corporate assets subject to "charitable trust"

- Disposition of assets should be described in Articles of Incorporation, and can also be defined by historic practices
- enforceable by Attorney General
- consider when transferring assets, merging or winding up corporation

29

Duty of Loyalty

- Directors' duty of loyalty
 - Conflicts of interest must avoided
 - disclosure of personal financial interests
 - disclosure of duties to other corporations
 - "interested" directors can't be majority
 - Corporate opportunities must be kept for corporate benefit

30

Nonprofit directors' self-dealing provisions

- Majority of Board must affirm "fairness" of transaction
- Is it "material" to business of corporation?
- Must disclose and disqualify

... but wait, there's more!

31

Charter Schools and the Fair Political Practices Act

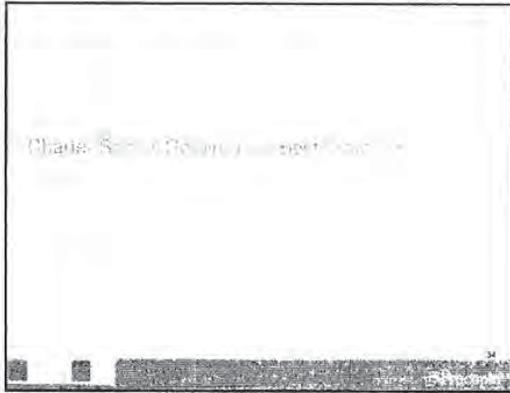

- Fair Political Practices Commission says charters subject to Political Reform Act
- Requires school to adopt conflict code
- Requires annual financial disclosures by designated officials (the "Form 700")
- Requires disclosure, disqualification from any decision that may affect material financial interests
- Code reviewed by either County Board of Supervisors or FPPC
- LA County says LAUSD-chartered schools must report under LAUSD's conflict code but the FPPC has approved a simple "model code" for charter schools

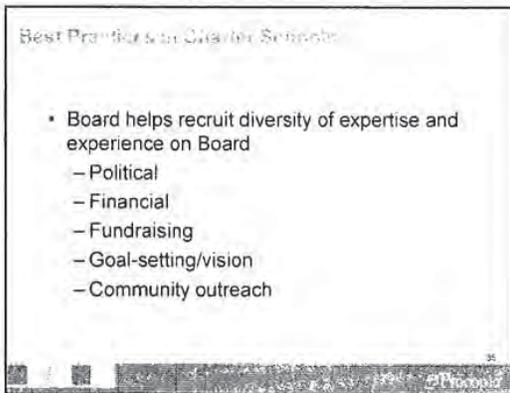

32

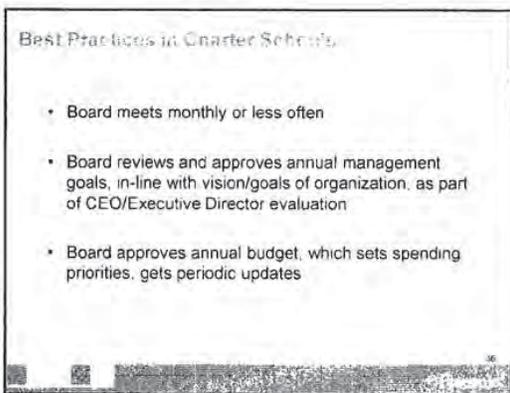

Charter Schools and the Fair Political Practices Act

- Financial effect can be as little as $250
- Interests of spouse and dependents count
- Civil and criminal penalties for violation
- No defense or indemnity by school or insurers

Best Practices in Charter Schools

- Board approves only major policies, and those legally-mandated, such as:
 - Harassment Policy
 - Admissions/Discipline policy
 - Conflict of Interest Code

Best Practices in Charter Schools

- Management provides complete and timely communication on key issues
 - Agenda materials conform to mutual expectations
 - Periodic updates via "Friday Letter" or other vehicles
 - All Board members get the same info at same time

 - Otherwise, any action taken is void

Good evening Nancy,

I contacted the Ms. Lavar, State Controller Office Division of Audits - Single Audits Unit on November 30 and informed them that will need some additional time to complete the audit engagement. On December 17, I emailed and contacted State Controller's Office...they granted us seven to ten business days to complete the audit. We are waiting for the legal confirmation from the attorney and payroll analysis from the business management firm and the Internal Revenue Services. The information should come to us any day from now.

We anticipate on completing and submitting the final report to you on or before January 4. If you have any questions, please call Clem Payne or myself. Thank you for your patience and understanding.

Technology Responsibility Code

The Purpose of Technology at Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists

Computers are used to support learning and enhance instruction. One of the most powerful tools of technology is the Internet, which is a network of networks that allows millions of people, organizations, and businesses to interact. We must all understand that access to the Internet is an educational benefit to the students, but that the school, staff members, and students do not have control over the content of the information found on the Internet. In order to provide the optimum learning experience and still safeguard all students from inappropriate content, we have established the following policy.

School's Responsibility

The school uses safeguarded passwords to insure the smooth and functional access to technology. If these passwords fall into the wrong hands and are used inappropriately, damage may be incurred.

The school is utilizing an Internet filter (iPrism) which eliminates most of the problems relating to inappropriate websites. This must not lead to a false sense of security because there is no such thing as a perfect filter.

Staff Responsibility

Staff members have the responsibility to uphold the school's technology policies. Policies, consequences, and remedies are in place to insure that all staff members participate in both enriching the students' education through technology and protecting students from improper activities and material.

Parent Responsibility

Parents are encouraged to monitor computer use at home and support the school's technology policies. If at any time there is a situation that seems questionable, we request that parents communicate with the school as soon as possible in order to eliminate any escalating problems. By working as a team, we can promote the computer's maximum benefit in the classroom.

Student Responsibility

If a student discovers a secure password, it is his/her responsibility to inform a staff member. If the password is used or shared, disciplinary action will be taken.

If repeated attempts to access inappropriate websites are discovered, then disciplinary action will be taken.

Teachers will instruct students as to their personal responsibility to avoid questionable websites. Specific instructions will be given about what to do if they accidentally find themselves at an inappropriate website.

Students should not give out any personal information over the Internet. Students should not use the computer to perform any inappropriate action.

Failure to follow this policy may result in the following disciplinary action:

Parental notification

Student's computer privileges revoked

Suspension

Removal of the computer from the student's workstation

School privileges/activities revoked

Expulsion

3. There will be a charge for any lost books. Report any loss immediately to your teacher. Se cobrará el costo de cualquier libro perdido. Reporta cualquier pérdida inmediatamente al maestro/a.

Parent Volunteer/Participation Contract

One of the most important factors in running a successful, vibrant school is parental involvement. Parents are asked to commit to thirty (30) volunteer hours per school year. Parent volunteering is defined as providing a positive support to all stakeholders of the WAYS community. Volunteers are essential to the support of the school and to moderate operating costs. Fundraising and community involvement are important and integral aspects of the Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists school community. The parent volunteer/participation contract is an agreement that you are making with us that you will take the opportunity to invest in your child's school and the lives of the children your child comes in contact with on a day-to-day basis.

Parents as Leaders

Parents will be given the opportunity to join the Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists Parent Advisory Council. The council works in conjunction with the School Site Council to plan and execute the major activities of the school. Positions on the council include, President, Vice-President, Secretary, Treasurer, Sergeant at Arms, Classroom Representative, and Fundraising Chair.

Monthly Family Nights

All WAYS families are required to attend a minimum of 7 out of the 9 monthly Family Night meetings held every third Wednesday of each school month, September – May. Occasionally Family Night meetings are combined with other school activities/events which must allow for flexibility in the date of the event. Parents receive volunteer credit for participating in Family Night meetings.

Suggestions for Successful Volunteering

- Read your weekly newsletters and bulletins
- Attend monthly Parent Information & Grade Level Meetings
- Take a TB test and submit the results to the school.
- Join the WAYS Parent Advisory Council or a leadership activities such as serving as a parent representative on the school board of directors, or participating in other school committees
- Get to know other parents
- Keep a personal log of your volunteer hours
- Be sure to sign in and out at the main office and in your child's classroom when volunteering or attending school events
- Communicate regularly with your child's teacher to inquire about volunteer opportunities
- Office support
- Fundraising activities
- Breakfast and lunch distribution
- Field trip and special events supervision and assistance
- Arrival and dismissal supervision
- Yard supervision

Confidentiality

Confidentiality is of the utmost importance in your association with teachers and students. What you see and hear at the school is private. You are in a unique position when you volunteer in the classroom to have information that is not to be shared. Students you observe in the classroom or the school cannot be discussed with other parents, faculty or staff. You may not discuss a child even with that child's parents. You must always refer any questions regarding students at WAYS to the child's teacher or the principal.

Language/Behavior

Remember we are all - teachers, staff and volunteers - role models for the children around us. "Little eyes" are watching, listening and learning appropriate behavior from our actions. Cussing, inappropriate language or discussions are not allowed on campus or on fieldtrips. Conduct or speech, which violates commonly accepted standards of the school district and which, under the circumstances, has no redeeming social value.

Classroom Disruptions and Cell Phones

Please conduct all private conversations outside of the classroom. Teachers need the attention of the students to direct the instruction. Extraneous conversations distract from the task at hand. Remember that conversations in the hallways are distracting as well.

No Smoking

Schools are tobacco free zones. This means you may not even bring tobacco products on campus in your purse or pockets. You may not smoke on fieldtrips or at off-campus school sponsored events. Smoking and possession of tobacco products are prohibited in all school buildings and property, including school parking lots, playgrounds, school buses and vehicles. "Tobacco products" include cigarettes, cigarette papers, cigars, smoking tobacco, and non-smoking tobacco.

Discipline

Volunteers are not to discipline students. Discipline is solely the responsibility of WAYS Staff. The volunteer always works under the direction of the teacher to help, and not replace WAYS Staff.

On fieldtrips when you are the adult supervising a group of children and the teacher is unavailable, volunteers may appropriately address safety or behavior issues. It is the responsibility of the volunteer to inform the teacher as soon as possible about these issues. However, any consequences for behavior are the responsibility of the teacher, not the volunteer.

Students treat volunteers with respect

Adults are respectful to children and children are always expected to be respectful in return. If on any occasion you are treated disrespectfully, tell the teacher or the principal as soon as possible. Elementary age children are still learning appropriate behavior and this is an opportunity to re-teach respect.

A written request for early dismissal must be submitted to the ASES Program staff upon releasing any student(s).

Late Pick-Up

We understand that problems occasionally arise that could prevent you from picking up your child on time. In that event, please call the school or ASES Program Coordinator as soon as you know you will be late and let us know who will be picking up your child or when you will arrive.

If the program staff has not heard from you by 6:15pm, the persons on your authorized pick-up lists will be contacted to come and pick up your child immediately. In the event that we are unable to contact you or any of the authorized persons list by 6:30pm, the local police may be contacted.

First occurrence: Written warning.

Second occurrence: Suspension from program.

Third occurrence: Loss of afterschool program privileges.

Parents or authorized persons are required by state law to sign children out of the after-school program. Picking up your child without signing them out of the program can result in loss of the program privileges.

Child Custody/Communication

Safety and well-being of each child is the primary goal of the school. During the school year, a family situation can arise changing who the child lives with and who is authorized to take the child from school. If one guardian request that the other guardian be removed from the emergency card and authorized persons list, a legal document may be required explaining why this is to occur and a emergency card and pick up list must be updated. If this does not happen, the child will be released to whoever is authorized to take the child.

Health and Safety

Every time there is an accident in which a child is injured at in the ASES Program, a written Accident/Incident Report must be completed and given to the families on the day of the incident.

For serious wounds, such as a cut, possible sprain or fracture, a bump on the head, or loosening of teeth, the family will be notified immediately and an incident report will be completed. No child should ever go home with an injury without the families being informed.

In the event of a very serious injury, such as a potential broken bone, Emergency Services (911) will be immediately contacted, and then the family will be notified. If a child needs to go to the hospital, the ASES Program Coordinator and or School Principal should accompany the family and child with the child's most recent medical record. If neither representative are able to accompany the child, a call to the family to follow up on the well being of the family and child will be placed.

Snacks

All enrolled children will be provided a healthy snack, milk and/or juice each day. Children are permitted to bring their own snack and drink, only if the snack is nutritious. Junk food including candy, chips, soda, gum etc. will be confiscated. The ASES Program staff must be advised of all children's' allergies immediately.

Students Responsibilities

We require all students to be responsible and follow school policies and rules as defined in the Parent/Student Handbook. If there is a behavior situation, it will be handled in the following manner:

- A warning will be issued to the student.

- The child may be asked to do a "time out" from activities.
- The child may be suspended or expelled from the program.

The child's parent/guardian will be notified in the event of any of the three listed above.

Homework: The After School Program will have a designated homework time for those students with homework. A staff member will be assigned to the homework group for supervision and questions.

Participation: Children are required to participate in all other activities, unless there is a medical or parental request that the student should not participate in particular activities.

Personal Property

Children's personal property including, coats, clothing, school bags, etc. are the child's responsibility. Although the program attempts to help children stay organized, we cannot be responsible for lost personal property. Lost & found items will be placed in a designated area.

Children should not bring toys, jewelry, electronics, and more than $5 to the program without checking with the staff. Toy guns or other weapons are strictly prohibited and can result in expulsion from the program.

Behavior Management

Children are entitled to a pleasant and safe environment at the program. The After School Program cannot serve children who display continual disruptive behavior. Disruptive behavior is defined as verbal or physical activity that may include, but not limited to, behavior that:

- Inflicts physical or emotional harm on self, other children, or staff.
- Threatens the safety of other through actions or words.
- Damages others or school property.
- Ignores or repeatedly disobeys the rules which guide behavior during the program, thereby endangering self and others
- Disobeys the regular school rules.

If a child cannot adjust to the program setting and behave appropriately, the privilege of After School Program may be revoked.

Suspension/Termination Procedure

Failure to adhere to the policies and rules defined in the Parent/Student Handbook will be grounds for termination and will be determined by the After School Program Coordinator and/or the School Principal.

PROGRAM HANDBOOK

2013 - 2014

2013 – 2014 School Year ASES Program Handbook v. 1.0

WISDOM ACADEMY FOR YOUNG SCIENTISTS AFTER SCHOOL PROGRAM HANDBOOK

Program Introduction

The After School Education and Safety Program (ASES) program provides an opportunity to merge school reform strategies with community resources in efforts to improve assistance to students and broaden the base of support for education in the critical hours after school that parents can rely upon throughout the school year.

The ASES Program is created through partnerships between schools and local community resources to provide literacy, academic enrichment, and safe, constructive alternatives for students in kindergarten through grade five.

Program Elements

The goals, objectives, and outcomes of ASES are clearly defined and measurable. The program will successfully address the needs and risk factors of the targeted population. The program is an integration of four components: Academics, Self-Esteem & Leadership Building, Enrichment and Physical & Health Education to achieve its mission. ASES will unite each of the four components to improve the lives of high-risk families and traditionally labeled low-performing students. Our project will address the needs of 240 at-risk youth predominantly African-American and Latino, in grades 2nd - 5th. Our hours of operation will be five days a week, Monday - Friday and from 2:45 p.m. - 6:00 p.m.

Table of Measurable Objectives

WISDOM ACADEMY FOR YOUNG SCIENTISTS AFTER SCHOOL PROGRAM HANDBOOK

Objective	Number
Provide a safe, drug-free, supervised after school program	All
Deliver services and significant, expanded learning opportunities	All
Assist students in meeting state standards in academic subjects through rigorous tutoring	1
Increase parental involvement in students' education	6
Reduce conflict and violence	All
Engage students in vigorous physical activity	5

1. Component 1 - Academics:

Collaboration between our staff and the school's is key to the success of the Academic Component of the ASES. Homework Help will be aligned with teachers to ensure that the Academic component of ASES is effective. Students will be engaged in learning activities that are consistent with what they are learning in the classroom. The goal is to assist students in meeting state standards in academic subjects through rigorous tutoring.

The Academic component of ASES consists of Homework and Tutoring Sessions from 60 – 80 minutes every day. Homework and Tutoring Sessions' structure is as follows:

WISDOM ACADEMY FOR YOUNG SCIENTISTS AFTER SCHOOL PROGRAM HANDBOOK

Every session will begin with an Introduction to engage students in the learning goal. The Introduction will serve as an Icebreaker or Attention Getter which includes sing-alongs and educational raps, mock trials and debates, video clips, and recitation of poems. At the start of the session students will write and state their learning objective. Following the introduction, students will complete their homework while staff works with small groups on learning objective. 2 small groups will be worked with intensively per session; thus groups will rotate every other day. For example, a class of 20 will have 4 small groups with 5 students/group. Groups 1 and 2 will be pulled out to work with on Monday and Wednesday and Groups 3 and 4 will work in small groups on Tuesday and Thursday. Fridays will be used as assessment days. To conclude the Academic Session, students will write a reflection of what they learned; furthermore, they will have the opportunity to share their written reflection with peers to build oral and communication skills.

Introduction: 5 – 10 min

Interdependent HW/Study Time: 30 – 45 min

Closure: 10 – 15 min

2. Component 2: Self Esteem

ASES will work to build the self-esteem of the participants through facilitating student-led clubs and organizations. Student clubs will include STEM Club, Creative Writers, Theatre, Choir, Student Government, and Music. Students will be encouraged to design and run the clubs in an effort to build their leadership skills. The Self Esteem and Leadership Workshops will occur twice a week on Mondays and Wednesdays from 30 – 45 minutes.

3. Component 3: Enrichment

WISDOM ACADEMY FOR YOUNG SCIENTISTS AFTER SCHOOL PROGRAM HANDBOOK

The Enrichment component will promote global awareness by offering foreign language classes for students. The classes may be offered twice a week for 30 – 45 minutes. Foreign language classes will include Spanish (Mexico), Mandarin (China), Igbo (Nigeria) and French (Europe).

4. Component 4: Physical Education

Before young people can learn, they must be healthy. Educational Research Service (1999) reported that scientific studies suggest moderate, vigorous physical activity, such as quality physical education programs, contributes to a student's ability to learn by enhancing the development of brain synapses and the motor-related functioning of the cerebellum (Black, 1994). The report further documents that physical exercise can reduce many problems adolescents face such as stress, depression, disease, and excess weight. Structured physical education can teach values, conflict resolution, and teamwork while improving physical conditioning (Steinberg, 1993). It can contribute to feelings of self worth and positive goal setting.

Students will partake in organized recreational activities to promote healthy lifestyles and physical fitness. Students will join a dance and sport and participate in that activity for the semester and will have the opportunity to try a different physical exercise activity during the following term. Exercise activities will include track (via WAYS Literacy & Fitness Park), dance, basketball, aerobics, and flag football. P.E. activities will occur daily for one (1) hour.

The following table identifies the location for each P.E. activity:

P.E. Activity	Location
Dance	Dance Studio

Basketball	Black Top
Track	WAYS Literacy & Fitness Park
Aerobics	Gymnasium Play Area
Flag Football	WAYS Literacy & Fitness Park

5. Health Education:

Our curriculum will incorporate instruction on the food pyramid components and benefits of eating nutritious foods. Students will be taught about daily vitamin requirements and nutritional data on product packaging. The program will also incorporate creative learning activities about nutrition. Students will plan snacks with the nutrition requirements. In addition, teachers, students, parents, and businesses will be encouraged to advocate good nutrition practices. Program activities will include sponsoring Food and Fun festivals, teaching the effects of junk food, involving students in meal planning (e.g., students will develop healthy menus using culturally diverse foods and cook and serve the meals), and incorporating nutrition into activities (e.g., sending students to the grocery store to purchase healthy foods for senior citizens).

6. Family Involvement

Parental involvement is critical to a child's academic, physical, and emotional success, so both high-risk students and their families will be targeted. Parents will be involved as partners in every aspect of the planning and implementation of ASES including serving on committees; attending orientation sessions; chaperoning educational field trips; attending monthly parent nights; and volunteering as teacher helpers, tutors, readers, and mentors.

This is a significant challenge, but parental participation is crucial.

The ASES Program collaborates and integrates with the regular school day and other extended learning opportunities while providing a safe physical and emotional environment, opportunities for relationship building, and promotes active student engagement by providing the following elements:

- An educational and literacy element, which includes tutoring and homework assistance in the core academic subjects: language arts, mathematics, history and social science, science, and computer training.
- An educational enrichment element, which includes an array of programs and activities to support positive youth development such as supervised and instructed recreational activities to advance fitness, including an assortment of performing arts.

All participating children can expect:

- Safety – basic health and safety is a top priority. Parents/guardians must sign their children out daily, upon picking up any child(ren).
- Eyes-on supervision at all times.
- Kind and respectful communication throughout the program.
- Staff interacting with children at all times.
- Staff on time and prepared with daily program schedules, lesson plans, adequate materials and supplies.

It is the intent of the California Legislature that elementary school students participate in the full program everyday the program is in operation.

For the safety and security of all children, enrollment information is to be kept current. The parent/guardian is asked to notify the school main office immediately regarding any change of information on forms, such as emergency persons, names, employers, and phone numbers.

Program Days & Hours of Operation

The ASES Program operates every day school is in session, and on minimum schedule days.

WISDOM ACADEMY FOR YOUNG SCIENTISTS AFTER SCHOOL PROGRAM HANDBOOK

The ASES Program begins immediately upon the conclusion of the regular school day and operates until 6:00pm prompt.

Children may not be picked up at any time during the program unless in the case of a family or medical emergency, appointment, or Early Dark Policy, with adequate written notice or contract.

Normal dismissal and pick-up time is 6:00pm. Please advise us when you or the person that will be picking the child up will be running late.

Release of Children

Student Release Policy

All children must be signed out of the program daily by their parent/guardian or an authorized person. Persons picking up children may be required to present acceptable photo identification for photocopying before being allowed to leave with the child. Persons picking up children must sign the Sign-out Sheet. The Sign-out Sheet form must indicate the time in which the child was released from the ASES Program. Children who walk from school will be signed out at the time they leave campus by an ASES Program staff member.

The ASES Programs supervisor must ensure that the sign-out sheets are completed entirely, including the time in which each child was released from the ASES program.

Children who walk from school must meet the following conditions to be considered for “Walker Status”:

- Any child walking home alone from the program must be at least eight (8) years of age.
- A child under eight (8) years of age cannot be dismissed from the program to walk alone.

Early Release Policy

All students enrolled in the ASES Program are expected to participate in the full program everyday that the program is in session.

Unauthorized instances or an unacceptable pattern of unauthorized early program departures violates the statutes of the ASES program risks the student(s) eligibility to participate and may result in expulsion from the ASES Program.

Excusable early releases include: family/medical emergencies, doctor appointments, and early dark days. Early dark early release remains exclusive to those families that walk from school on the days that dusk sets early. A written request for early dismissal must be submitted to the ASES Program staff upon releasing any student(s).

Late Pick-Up

We understand that problems occasionally arise that could prevent you from picking up your child on time. In that event, please call the school or ASES Program Coordinator as soon as you know you will be late and let us know who will be picking up your child or when you will arrive.

If the program staff has not heard from you by 6:00pm, the persons on your authorized pick-up lists will be contacted to come and pick up your child immediately. In the event that we are unable to contact you or any of the authorized persons list by 6:30pm, the local police may be contacted.

WISDOM ACADEMY FOR YOUNG SCIENTISTS AFTER SCHOOL PROGRAM HANDBOOK

First occurrence: Written warning.

Second occurrence: $1 Per Minute

Third occurrence: Suspension from program.

Program Position Statement

The purposes of the Program are to develop fluency in speaking, reading, and writing in English in each student whose primary language is not English (identified as English learners or ELs) and to provide equal opportunity for academic achievement. The role of District administration, general education teachers, and support staff are written into the EL Master Plan to ensure the commitment of all personnel to provide the best possible educational services for ELs.

Program Goal

The fundamental goal of the Program is for English learners to develop proficiency in English and in the grade level California Content Standards as rapidly and as effectively as possible. As a result, ELs will make appropriate progress through the curriculum as they acquire competence in English. ELs are reclassified as fluent English proficient (RFEP) after meeting established state and school criteria to ensure that these students have overcome language barriers, have recouped any academic deficits incurred in other areas of the curriculum, and have demonstrated English-language proficiency and academic achievement comparable to their native English speaking peers.

Initial Identification, Parental Notification of Instructional Program Options, Assessment and Program Placement and Reclassification

Initial Assessment

When new students register at Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists, their parents or guardians complete the state-mandated Home Language Survey (see questions below).

1. Which language did your child learn when he or she first began to talk?
2. What language does your child most frequently use at home?
3. What language do you use most frequently to speak to your child?
4. Name the language most often spoken by the adults at home.

These questions are used to determine a student's home language status as follows:

- English Only (EO)
 - If the answers to the four questions on the HLS are "English", the child is classified as English Only.
- Possible English Learner (EL)
 - If the answers to any of the first three questions on the HLS indicate a language other than English, or a combination of English and another language, the child is assessed to measure his or her level of English proficiency.

However, if the parent's response to the first three questions on the HLS is English, and the response to the fourth question is other than English, then reasonable doubt may exist as to the student's home language. The school's administrator/designee must research the student's home language background using the following indicators, as well as consultation with the student's parent:

- Parent/guardian requires an interpreter to communicate in English
- Parent/guardian speaks to their child in a language other than English
- The HLS is completed in a language other than English (including spelling the word "English" in another language; e.g. inglés)
- Student initiates interaction with their parents/guardians in a language other than English
- It is revealed that the child, while their parent/guardian is at work, is under the care of a person(s) who speaks a language other than English
- Student, after having been enrolled in the Mainstream English Program designed for students with fluent-English proficiency for a reasonable length of time, demonstrates a lack of comprehension regarding instruction and classroom/school routines conducted in English

If an initially enrolling student is identified as a possible English learner, the student is referred to the Coordinator of English Learner Programs for mandated English proficiency testing using the California English Language Development Test (CELDT). This will take place within 30 calendar days of initial enrollment.

The results will indicate if the student qualifies as an English learner (EL). Students with overall scores of Beginning (1), Early Intermediate (2), or Intermediate (3) or with an overall score of Early Advanced (4) or Advanced (5) with any subtest lower than Intermediate (3) will be identified as English Learners. Students who score Early Advanced (4) or Advanced (5) overall and Intermediate (3) or higher on all sub-tests will be identified as Initial Fluent English (IFEP-Not an English Learner, but another language exists in the home).

English learners have information regarding language placed in the student's cumulative folder at the school site. The purpose of the EL folder is to assist teachers, parents, and administrators with program placement and development, student monitoring, and reclassification. The following items are placed in the EL folder:

- Home Language Survey
- Official CELDT Scores
- Copies of parent notification letters
- Placement program information
- English Language Development (ELD) progress reports
- Reclassification checklist and form, upon reclassification
 - Parent Exemption Waiver, if applicable

Language Proficiency Assessments

1. WAYS will use the California English Language Development Test (CELDT) when appropriate* for three purposes (instituted by Education Code sections 313 and 60810[d]):
 - a. To identify students who are English learners.
 - b. To determine the level of English proficiency in listening, speaking, reading, and writing of students who are limited English proficient.
 - c. To assess the progress of limited English proficient students in acquiring the skills of listening, speaking, reading, and writing in English.

* Sometimes students with significant disabilities are unable to take the CELDT because of the severity of the disability. Using the Participation Criteria for the Alternate Assessments, the IEP team determines if a student can participate in the CELDT or requires an alternate assessment--the results and designation will be posted on the Performance Profile and the student's IEP.

2. CELDT testing for new students who are potentially EL will occur within 30 days of initial enrollment, or prior to class placement whenever possible. The EL administrative designee shall score tests for initial identification of ELs (for immediate program placement) prior to sending the completed booklets to the contractor for official scoring. The scores will be used for unofficial purposes only. For continuing ELs, WAYS shall submit the annual assessment booklets to the contractor for scoring during the annual assessment window, July 1–October 31. Results of the annual assessments typically arrive in January of each year.
3. CELDT results for identified ELs indicate proficiency levels aligned with English Language Development (ELD) Standards in strands of listening, speaking, reading, and writing. The Overall CELDT is used to make a placement recommendation to an appropriate instructional program. Parent notification of initial CELDT results and consultation on program options precedes formal placement. Students continuing in the EL Program will take the CELDT, as appropriate, each year during the annual administration window until they qualify for reclassification.

Parent Notification

1. A notification of assessment results, program placement, and an explanation of the program options for ELs (i.e., Structured English Immersion and English Language Mainstream) is provided to parents or guardians at the time of initial identification within 30 calendar days. Parents are invited to a school meeting where school personnel will guide parents through interpreting CELDT results, program options, and the various educational strategies and educational materials to be used in each program. In addition, parents will learn about reclassification guidelines.

2. Parents of all identified students will be given written notification annually of the results of their student's CELDT and State academic assessments. Such information will be provided in the language best understood by the parents per California Education Code 48985. Parents will be invited to a school meeting where parents will learn about program options, program options, and the various educational strategies and educational materials to be used in each program. In addition, parents will learn about reclassification guidelines.

3. When a student is a candidate for reclassification as Fluent English Proficient, parents will be invited to a school meeting where they will have the opportunity to provide input about their child's readiness for reclassification. Parents will be informed of how their child will be monitored academically for the two years following reclassification.

Parent Notification Letters

See Addendum A for Parent Notification Letters

See Addendum F for Parent Notification of English Proficiency and Program Options

Reclassification

Reclassification procedures utilize multiple criteria in determining whether to classify a pupil as proficient in English including, but not limited to, all of the following:

- Assessment of language proficiency using an objective assessment instrument including, but not limited to, the California English Language Development Test or CELDT. Students need an overall score of Early Advanced (4) or Advanced (5) in all domains (listening, speaking, reading, and writing). Students may take an alternative test as specified by the IEP if the board approves an alternative test.
- Comparison of the pupil's performance in basic skills against an empirically established range of performance and basic skills based upon the performance of English proficient pupils of the same age that demonstrate to others that the pupil is sufficiently proficient in English to participate effectively in a curriculum designed for pupils of the same age whose native language is English. Students need to achieve a minimum score of 325 on the latest CST or CMA in English language arts and math.
- Participation of the pupil's classroom teachers and any other certificated staff with direct responsibility for teaching or placement decisions of the pupil to evaluate the pupil's curriculum mastery.
- Parental opinion and consultation, achieved through notice to parents or guardians of the language reclassification and placement including a description of the reclassification process and the parents opportunity to participate, and encouragement of the participation of parents or guardians in the reclassification procedure including seeking their opinion and consultation during the reclassification process.

See Addendum K for Reclassification Worksheet

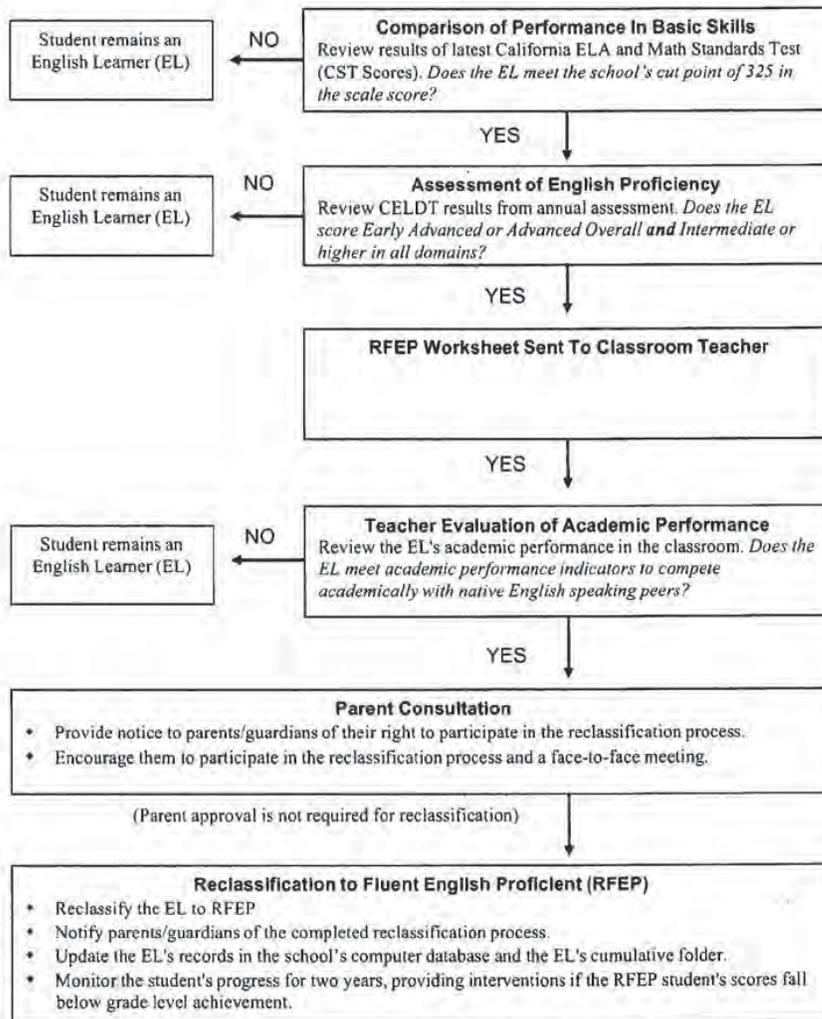

Addendum L for English Learner with Special Needs Reclassification Worksheet

Reclassification forms will be maintained in the student's cumulative file. Reclassified students are monitored for two years to ensure they are making adequate academic progress in all core curricular areas. A Reclassification 2-Year Monitoring Plan will be completed and communicated to parents annually for two years.

Instructional Program Options:

WAYS offers two program options to English Learners: Structured English Immersion and English Language Mainstream. Each of these options is designed to ensure that students acquire English-language proficiency and academic achievement.

Special Education Services for English Learners—The IEP team will determine an appropriate educational program to insure that the student receives English language development, access to the core curriculum, and any other services and supports determined by the IEP team to be necessary. The IEP will also include linguistic goals to address the student's area of need.

Structured English Immersion (SEI)

Students with less than reasonable fluency, scoring at the Beginning (1), Early Intermediate (2), or Intermediate (3) levels on the CELDT are placed in a Structured English Immersion (SEI) Program unless a waiver has been granted for an Alternative Program or the parent has requested another program (EC 306). This program requires a properly credentialed teacher with an EL authorization and includes ELD. Instruction in the core curriculum is designed for each level of English proficiency and may include Specially Designed Academic Instruction in English (SDAIE) and/or primary language support. Parents may request that their children be exempted from a specific instructional setting (SEI or ELM) (CCR, Title 5, section 11301 (b)).

See Addendum G: Request to Change English Learner Placement

However, districts still have an obligation to ensure that students receive ELD and access to other core content areas from teachers who are qualified to provide such instruction (Castañeda v. Pickard, 1981).

English Language Mainstream (ELM)

An EL shall be transferred from an SEI program to an English Language Mainstream program when the pupil has acquired a reasonable level of English proficiency (EC 305). ELs with a CELDT level of Early Advanced (4) and Advanced (5) are placed in English Language Mainstream unless a waiver has been granted for an Alternative Program. This program requires a properly credentialed teacher authorized to work with English Learner students. ELD continues to be part of the program until the student is reclassified.

Alternative Programs

Parents are informed of their right to submit a waiver for placement in an alternative program other than Structured English Immersion or English Language Mainstream. Alternative programs include Basic Bilingual or Dual Immersion.

Basic Bilingual Program

This program is designed to provide grade-level instruction in the primary language while students acquire English. Language arts, mathematics, social studies, and science are first taught in the primary language. As students increase their English proficiency, teachers decrease the amount of instruction provided in the primary language. In addition to primary language instruction, ELD instruction is provided on a daily basis. Currently, Wisdom does not offer this program. This program does require a parental exception waiver.

Dual Language Program

This program is designed to provide grade-level content instruction in English and in a target language. Instruction is provided in two languages beginning in kindergarten and continuing for a minimum of six years. Both English learners and English proficient students receive access to the core curriculum as well as instruction for language development in the two languages. English learners are also provided with daily ELD instruction. The goal is the development of bilingualism and biliteracy. Currently Wisdom does not offer this program. This program does require a parental exception waiver.

Waiver for Alternative Program

When waivers are granted, English learners ten years or older can be placed directly in an Alternative Program. When waivers are granted for English learners less than ten years of age, students are required to participate in a Structured English Immersion/English language classroom for a thirty calendar day period.

Schools must grant parental exception waivers unless the school principal and educational staff have substantial evidence, such as formal assessments, that the alternative program requested by the parent/guardian would not be better suited to the student. When 20 waivers have been granted at a given grade level, a basic bilingual class must be offered. When 20 or more waivers have been granted at two consecutive grade levels, the school may offer a basic bilingual class. The waiver must be requested annually and in person. It expires at the end of each school year. In cases where the waiver is denied, the parent must be informed in writing and advised of his/her right to appeal the denial.

The school principal will inform parents about the availability of alternate programs at neighboring schools. Availability depends upon the number of parents/guardians requesting the waivers. If less than 20 parents/guardians request and are granted a waiver, then your child's name will be placed on a waiting list until there are enough students to form a class. Students may transfer to a neighboring school that offers these instructional programs, provided that space is available. No transportation will be provided by the District.

III. Three Types of Waivers

311[a] Children Who Already Know English

This waiver is for English learners who already possess reasonable fluency in English language skills whose parents/guardians want to enroll them in the Dual Language Program because it would be in the best interest of the overall educational development of the student.

311[b] English Learners Age Ten (10) or Older

This waiver is for English learners age ten and older whose parents/guardians want to enroll them in the Basic Bilingual Program or Dual Language Program because it better meets their child's academic needs.

311[c] English Learners with Special Needs

This waiver is for English learners whose parents/guardians want to enroll them in a Basic Bilingual Program or Dual Language Program because of educational, psychological, or physical reasons.

IV. Steps to Request a Waiver

Step 1

Parents request a waiver at their child's school.

Step 2

Parents submit the completed parental exception waiver request in person to the principal and ask for a copy.

Step 3

Parents may submit a parental exception waiver in person during the first 30 calendar days in which their child is enrolled in a SEI Program. At the end of the mandatory 30-day placement period, the school must provide a written response to this request within 10 days.

Parents may submit a parental exception waiver after the initial 30-day mandatory SEI placement period at any time during the school year. The school must provide a written response to the request within 20 days.

V. Steps to Appeal a Denial of a Waiver Request

If the school principal denies a waiver request, parents may appeal the decision in the following manner:

Step 1

Parents conference with the principal.

Parents receive a copy of the completed Parental Exception Waiver Denial form.

Parents have the right to see the test results and other information that the school used to make the decision to deny the waiver request.

Parents not satisfied with the result of the conference with the principal, may continue the appeal process by moving to Step 2.

Step 2

Parents conference with the Executive Director to discuss concerns and ask for solutions.

The Executive Director may be able to facilitate a transfer for the child to attend a school that offers the program requested.

Parents who are not satisfied with the results of the conference and wish to appeal the Executive Director's decision, may continue the appeal process through the Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists Board of Directors and/or the court system.

Instructional Services for English Learners

English Language Development

ELD is a component of all program options for English Learners through all CELDT levels at a minimum of 30 minutes per day by a credentialed teacher. During ELD instruction, Our English learner students receive instruction according to the California English Language Development Standards. In addition, Wisdom utilizes the ELD curriculum provided with our English language arts curriculum, Wonders. Wisdom utilizes the supplemental materials combined with a variety of instructional strategies to ensure the success of our EL students. These strategies include:

- Collaboration with parent and in grade level teams using RTI Success
- Modified Lessons for all five proficiency levels.
- Differentiated Instruction specific to English Learners in the general education setting
- SDAIE Strategies
- Thinking maps
- Culturally relevant lessons
- SMART Boards and Document Cameras that allow for visual support

The ELD curriculum caters to the four domains of English Language Development, listening, speaking, reading and writing through rich hands-on experiences to develop complete English fluency.

Ensuring Access to Core Academic Content

State and Federal regulations require that an intervention plan must be implemented to assist ELs while they are acquiring English if they are not making benchmarks in the core subjects. The site-developed intervention plan is available to assist ELs as necessary in recouping academic deficits incurred while learning English. Schools utilize a variety of learning opportunities to provide additional support. These opportunities may include Universal Access and/or Differentiated Instruction during school, before-and-after school programs, intensified strategies such as SDAIE; and intervention programs that facilitate student mastery of the grade-level Essential Standards.

To facilitate WAYS' process to identify ELs in need of an Intervention Plan, a Catch-Up Plan is developed in the fall for each student in Structured English Immersion and English Language Mainstream programs to determine which core areas show a deficit. The Catch-Up Plan pinpoints missed benchmarks in the core curriculum, including ELD. The Intervention Plan identifies the current support services and the intervention opportunities available for students. The Catch-Up Plan and Intervention Plan are reviewed with the parent and modified if necessary to include parental input. The student is then provided with the intervention programs/services as specified in the Intervention Plan. The student's progress is carefully monitored throughout the school year. Adjustments and modifications to the plan are made when necessary.

English Learners have access to Special Education services just as all other students at WAYS. Careful review by the SST takes place to identify potential interference between the primary language and English to determine if lack of academic proficiency is due to language difference or a disability. Specific criteria such as time in U.S., preliminary primary language proficiency, and attendance are used to prevent under or over identification of ELs in Special Education. If it is determined through an evaluation, that a student requires special education services, an Individualized Education Program (IEP) is developed. Instructional decisions related to student's language acquisition status must be described in the IEP. When students qualify for Special Education services, culturally and developmentally appropriate goals and objectives are written based on the student's needs.

Family and Community Involvement

WAYS strongly supports the involvement of all parents, including parents of ELs, in the educational process of their children. Research shows that parental involvement benefits the child as evidenced by higher academic achievement.

ELAC and DELAC

Per state requirements, Wisdom will also maintain a District-Level English Learner Advisory Committee (DELAC) when 51 or more English Learners are enrolled. Due to the structure of the school, the DELAC will serve the same purpose as an English Learner Advisory Committee (ELAC). Parents or guardians of English Learners not employed by Wisdom will make up a majority (51 percent) of the committee. Parents and guardians will be trained on the various responsibilities of the DELAC. Composition requirements, elections, major tasks, and training must meet state requirements described in the Categorical Program Monitoring (CPM) guide. Minutes of meetings where these items are on the agenda need to reflect discussions held.

The DELAC will advise Wisdom on programs and services for English learners, including revising the master plan for English learners, conducting district-wide needs assessment, establishing goals for programs and services of English learners, reviewing Wisdom's reclassification procedures and reviewing the written notifications required to be sent to parents and guardians.

School Site Council

Each school has a site council comprised of educators and parents. Their role is to develop and approve their Single Plan for Student Achievement (SPSA), recommend it to the local governing board for approval, monitor implementation of the plan, and evaluate the results.

Communication with Parents

Ongoing clear and timely communication is provided as follows:

1. School/Parent/Student Information

Information related to school and parent programs, meetings, and other activities will be distributed to parents in a format and, to the extent practicable, in a language the parents understand. Information may also include an explanation of the curriculum, academic assessment, and proficiency levels students are expected to meet and how parents can support their child academically. At a minimum, annual conferences, reports on student progress, access to staff, and opportunities to volunteer and observe the educational program will be provided. WAYS also does voice call outs in both languages.

2. Translation

Wisdom maintains constant communication with parents and guardians and, in order to include all families, Wisdom makes every effort to provide translated documents. Wisdom provides parents with information on school and parent activities in a format and, to the extent practicable, in a language the parents can understand. When 15 percent or more of students enrolled at Wisdom speak a single primary language other than English, as determined by the Home Language Survey from the preceding year, all notices, reports, statements and records sent to parents of such students are written in English and the primary language.

Program Monitoring, Evaluation and Accountability

Program Monitoring Methods

Evaluation of the School’s English Learner Program is measured in a variety of ways.

Annual Measurable Achievement Objectives (AMAOs)	Assessments
English Language Proficiency AMAO 1: Percent of ELs Making Annual Progress in Learning English	CELDT
English Language Proficiency AMAO 2: Percent of ELs Attaining the English Proficient Level	CELDT
Academic Achievement AMAO 3: Meeting AYP Requirements for the EL Subgroup at the District Level	CST, CMA

English Language Proficient on CELDT

A student is defined as meeting the English proficient level on the CELDT if both of the following criteria are met:

- Overall performance level of Early Advanced or Advanced and
- Domain performance level scores at the Intermediate level or above
 - For K-1, the listening and speaking domains need to be at the Intermediate level or above.
 - For grades two through five, all four domains need to be at the Intermediate level or above.

1: Percent of ELs Making Annual Progress in Learning English

Reflects the percentage of ELs making annual progress on the CELDT. There are three ways for ELs to meet the annual growth target on the CELDT depending upon what level they were at on the previous year CELDT. ELs at the Beginning, Early Intermediate, and Intermediate levels are expected to gain one performance level per year. ELs at the Early Advanced or Advanced level, who are not yet English proficient, are expected to achieve the English proficient level on the CELDT. ELs at the English proficient level are expected to maintain that level.

Previous Year CELDT Overall Performance Level	Annual Growth Target
Beginning	Early Intermediate Overall
Early Intermediate	Intermediate Overall
Intermediate	Early Advanced Overall
Early Advanced or Advanced, but not at the English proficient level on the CELDT. One or more domains is below Intermediate (listening and speaking domains for K-1) (listening, speaking, reading, and writing for grades 2-5).	Achieve the English proficient level. (Overall proficiency level needs to remain at Early Advanced or Advanced level and all domains need to be at the intermediate level or above. In K-1, just the listening and speaking domains need to be at the Intermediate level.)
Early Advanced or Advanced and at the English proficient level on the CELDT	Maintain English proficient level on the CELDT

2 – Percent of ELs Attaining the English Proficient Level on the CELDT

The AMAO 2 measures the extent to which ELs are attaining the English proficient level on the CELDT at a given point in time. In California, two cohorts have been established for the AMAO 2: (1) ELs who have been in language instruction educational programs for less than 5 years and (2) ELs who have been in language instruction educational programs for five years or more.

English Learner Progress Report

Wisdom principals and teachers also evaluate student performance through an addendum to the report card called English Language Learner Progress Report. Students who are recommended for the SEI program, will receive the regular report card and in addition, the English Language Learner Progress Report for language arts. The English Language Learner Progress Report identifies English Language Development Standards that students at the less than reasonable fluency stages are working towards.

English Learner students who are recommended for the ELM program will receive the regular report card because they have reasonable fluency and are working towards mastering the English Language Arts standards. Students who receive the English Language Learner Progress Report are graded on their developmental areas in the four domains: listening, speaking, reading, and writing.

See Addendum C: English Language Learner Progress Reports

ELD Monitoring System—An ELD monitoring system has been established:

- EL Placement—English Learners will be placed according to language proficiency levels for ELD instruction. Site staff will evaluate class lists to certify that all EL students are correctly placed in classes of similar CELDT levels and grade level.
- ELD Instruction—Class schedules will be evaluated to ensure uninterrupted blocks of time for ELs to receive explicit ELD instruction daily. Assistant Superintendent of Learning Support and Principals will monitor through walkthroughs and lesson plans that ELD instruction is provided through all CELDT levels at a minimum of 30 minutes per day by a credentialed teacher. District and site administrators and teachers will use ELD observation forms to evaluate the effectiveness of lesson delivery in ELD and to assist with planning.
- Parent Survey—Results from the annual parent survey, conducted through DELAC, will be used to amend policies and practices to improve parent involvement and student achievement.

Meeting State and Federal Compliance Requirements

Authorization to Teach English Learners

State and Federal laws require all teaching personnel assigned to instruct ELs be qualified to apply the appropriate instructional strategies including English Language Development (ELD), and Specially Designed Academic Instruction in English (SDAIE). The school provides ongoing training opportunities for teachers to become qualified in these appropriate instructional strategies for EL students.

STAFFING

English Learners are taught by highly qualified teachers with State and Federal approved authorizations. Most commonly, teachers possess a Bilingual or Cross-Cultural, Language, and Academic Development (BCLAD, CLAD) credential. However, the following authorizations have been approved by the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing:

- Multiple Subject Teaching Credential with English Learner Authorization or CLAD Emphasis
 - Multiple Subject Teaching Credential with a BCLAD Emphasis
 - Bilingual Crosscultural Specialist Credential
 - CLAD Certificate
 - BCLAD Certificate
 - Language Development Specialist (LDS) Certificate
 - Bilingual Certificate of Competence (BCC)
 - Supplementary Authorization in English as a Second Language (ESL)
 - University or District Internship Credential with English Learner Authorization
- Site administrators monitor the placement of ELs in classrooms with properly credentialed teachers.

TRAINING

1. WAYS teachers and administrators are provided training opportunities to support English Learners including the following:

1. Guided Language Acquisition Design (Project GLAD) training
2. ELD Curriculum Training
3. Intervention programs in ELA/math (Common Core)
4. Assistance and support to Special Educators serving English
5. Learners in ELD and ELA instruction
6. Professional Learning Communities focused conversations on ELs

Curriculum coaches will provide support (e.g., lesson planning for ELs, modeling, feedback from observations) Other personnel (paraprofessionals, counselors, and administrators) are provided with ongoing training opportunities in SDAIE strategies, preview/review strategy, frontloading strategy, providing academic support, EL Program Placement, Universal Access, Differentiated Instruction.

The school also provides ongoing training for administrators and staff on procedures relating to initial identification, assessment, placement, parental rights and informed consent, including the waiver process. The training will also include sensitivity to parents, including how to make parents feel welcome, and how to ensure that they are truly informed and enabled to take an active role in the process of deciding on an appropriate program for their child. The persons to be trained include principals and school office managers, EL resource teachers, teachers, paraprofessionals, and other staff as necessary.

English learners Who Have Not Yet Reached Proficiency in English

NOTE:

Before this letter is distributed, be sure to insert the information required in the brackets and in bold.

Dear Parents or Guardians:

State and federal laws require all school districts in California to give a state test of English proficiency each year to every student who has previously been identified as an English learner. In California, the name of this test is the California English Language Development Test (CELDT). The results of the CELDT help to measure how each student is progressing toward proficiency in English in the areas of listening, speaking, reading, and writing.

Your child has been given the CELDT for the current school year, and the results are attached. Based on your child's performance on this test, [he or she] will continue to receive English language instructional support to become more proficient in English for continued success in the school's academic program. Your child will be placed in classroom where English is the principal language of instruction with strategies designed to support understanding of English, also known as Structured English Immersion. In addition, your child will receive daily instruction in English during English Language Development (ELD time). Students continue in this program until they demonstrate proficiency on the CELDT and adequate progress on the California Standards Test for English-language arts (given as part of the Standardized Testing and Reporting [STAR] Program), with input from the child's teacher and parents.

As you look at your child's CELDT results for this year, it is important to remember that these results are only one measure of your child's progress toward English language fluency. Students also show progress through trimester Benchmarks and periodic assessments.

You are invited to request a meeting at school where your child's CELDT results and instructional program will be explained. The meeting will be held on [date and time here]. For more information, please call [put contact information here].

You are encouraged to be involved in your child's education. You are welcome to volunteer at the school and to participate on the school's District English Learner Advisory Committee (DELAC). If you have any questions regarding the CELDT or your child's instructional placement, or if you wish to observe the classroom, please contact the school office at [put school office number here] during school hours.

Sincerely,

Estimados padres de familia o tutores:

Las leyes estatales y federales requieren que todos los distritos escolares de California apliquen cada año una prueba estatal de dominio del inglés a los estudiantes previamente identificados como estudiantes de inglés como segunda lengua (conocidos en inglés como English learners). En California esta prueba se llama la Prueba para Medir el Desarrollo del Inglés en California (conocida, por sus siglas en inglés, como la prueba CELDT). Los resultados de la prueba CELDT ayudan a medir el progreso de cada estudiante hacia el dominio del inglés en las áreas de comprensión auditiva, expresión oral, lectura y expresión escrita.

Su hijo/a ha participado en la prueba CELDT correspondiente al presente año escolar, y los resultados están adjuntos. De acuerdo con el rendimiento que demostró en esta prueba, continuará recibiendo apoyo instructivo en el idioma inglés para continuar con éxito en el programa académico de la escuela. Su hijo/a recibirá instrucción en inglés con estrategias diseñadas para apoyar la comprensión de inglés, también conocido como inmersión de inglés estructurado (conocido en inglés como Structured English Immersion). Adicionalmente, su hijo/a recibirá instrucción de inglés diariamente durante la hora del desarrollo de inglés (English Language Development o ELD). Los estudiantes continuarán en este programa hasta que demuestren dominio de inglés en CELDT y progreso adecuado en el examen estatal, con el consejo del maestro y los padres.

Al revisar los resultados de la prueba CELDT de su hijo/a correspondientes a este año, es importante recordar que estos resultados son sólo una medida del progreso de su hijo/a hacia el dominio del idioma inglés. Los estudiantes también demuestran progreso durante las evaluaciones al final del trimestre.

Le invitamos a asistir a una junta especial en la escuela para discutir el proceso de reclasificación y el programa recomendado para su hijo/a el [put date in Spanish here] a las [put time in Spanish here] en [put location in Spanish here]. Llame a la oficina de la escuela al [put phone number here] para indicar si podrá asistir. Si tiene alguna pregunta sobre la prueba CELDT o los resultados de su hijo/a, llame al mismo número.

Sample Parent/Guardian Notification Letter for Initial Identification of English Learners
Students Initially Identified as Fluent English Proficient (IFEP)

Dear Parents or Guardians:

State and federal laws require all school districts in California to give a state test of English proficiency to students whose primary language is not English. A student's primary language is identified on a home language survey, which is completed by parents or guardians upon registering their child in a California public school for the first time. In California, the name of the state test is the California English Language Development Test (CELDT). The results of the CELDT help to measure how each student is progressing toward proficiency in English in the areas of listening, speaking, reading, and writing.

When your child enrolled in our school, [he or she] was given the CELDT, and the results are attached. These test results have identified [him or her] as initially fluent English proficient (IFEP). This means that your child will be assigned to a regular academic program and will not need to participate in an English language instructional support program. The school will continue to monitor the student's CST scores and in-class performance for two years to ensure the success of the child.

You are encouraged to be involved in your child's education. If you have any questions regarding your child's instructional placement or CELDT results, please contact the school office at [school phone number] during school hours.

Sincerely,

Superintendent/Principal

Estimados padres de familia o tutores:

Las leyes estatales y federales requieren que todos los distritos escolares de California apliquen una prueba estatal de dominio del inglés a los estudiantes cuya lengua materna no es el inglés. El idioma principal del estudiante se identifica en una encuesta de lengua materna contestada por los padres de familia o tutores al matricular a su hijo/a por primera vez en una escuela pública de California. En California esta prueba se llama la Prueba para Medir el Desarrollo del Inglés en California (conocida, por sus siglas en inglés, como la prueba CELDT). Los resultados de la prueba CELDT ayudan a medir el progreso de cada estudiante hacia el dominio del inglés en las áreas de comprensión auditiva, expresión oral, lectura y expresión escrita.

Cuando su hijo/a se matriculó en nuestra escuela se le aplicó la prueba CELDT, y los resultados están adjuntos. Estos resultados lo han identificado como estudiante que inicialmente domina el inglés competentemente (conocido en inglés como fluent English proficient o, por sus siglas en inglés, como IFEP). Esto significa que su hijo/a será asignado a un programa académico normal y que no tendrá que participar en un programa instructivo de apoyo en lengua inglesa. La escuela seguirá de monitorear los resultados de los exámenes estatales y desempeño en el salón del estudiante por dos años para asegurar el éxito del niño.

Le alentamos a que tome parte en la educación de su hijo/a. Si tiene alguna pregunta acerca de la colocación educacional de su hijo/a o de los resultados de la prueba CELDT, llame a la oficina de la escuela al [put school phone number here] durante el horario escolar.

Sample Parent/Guardian Notification Letter for Annual Assessment Results English Learners Who Took an Alternate Assessment

NOTE:

Before this letter is distributed, be sure to insert the information required in the brackets and in bold.

Dear Parents or Guardians:

State and federal laws require all school districts in California to give a state test of English proficiency each year to every student who is identified as an English learner, including students with disabilities. In California, the name of the required state test is the California English Language Development Test (CELDT). The results of the CELDT help to measure how each student is progressing toward proficiency in English in the areas of listening, speaking, reading, and writing.

Your child's individualized education program (IEP) team determined that [he or she] was unable to take one or more parts of the test due to identified disabilities. To ensure full participation in the CELDT, however, the IEP has identified an alternate assessment to help your child complete the test. Your child was given the CELDT and/or the alternate assessment for the current school year, and the IEP team has compiled the results for your review.

As you look at your child's CELDT results for this year, it is important to remember that these results only are one measure of your child's progress toward English language fluency. Students also show progress through trimester Benchmarks and periodic assessments.

You are invited to request an IEP meeting at [insert place, date, and time] where the results of the CELDT and/or the alternate assessment and your child's English language instructional support program will be explained. To confirm your attendance at the meeting, please call [put contact information here].

You are encouraged to be involved in your child's education. You are welcome to volunteer at the school and to participate on the school's District English Learner Advisory Committee (DELAC). If you have any further questions about the CELDT or your child's instructional program at any time during the school year, feel free to contact your child's teacher or bring them up for discussion at an IEP meeting.

Sincerely,

Superintendent/Principal

NOTE: Before this letter is distributed, be sure to insert the information required in the brackets and in bold.

Estimados padres de familia o tutores:

Las leyes estatales y federales requieren que todos los distritos escolares de California apliquen cada año una prueba estatal de dominio del inglés a todos los estudiantes identificados como estudiantes de inglés como segunda lengua (conocidos en inglés como English learners), incluidos los estudiantes con discapacidades. En California esta prueba se llama la Prueba para Medir el Desarrollo del Inglés en California (conocida, por sus siglas en inglés, como la prueba CELDT). Los resultados de la prueba CELDT ayudan a medir el progreso de cada estudiante hacia el dominio del inglés en las áreas de comprensión auditiva, expresión oral, lectura y expresión escrita.

El equipo del programa de educación individualizado (IEP) de su hijo/a determinó que éste/a no pudo tomar una o más partes de la prueba debido a discapacidades identificadas. Sin embargo, para garantizar la participación plena en la prueba CELDT, el IEP ha identificado una evaluación alternativa para ayudar a su hijo/a a completar la prueba. Su hijo realizó la prueba CELDT y/o evaluación alternativa correspondiente al presente año escolar y el equipo del IEP ha recopilado los resultados para que usted los examine.

Al revisar los resultados de su hijo/a en la prueba CELDT de este año es importante acordarse de que estos resultados son sólo una medida del progreso de su hijo/a hacia el dominio del idioma inglés. Los estudiantes también demuestran progreso durante las evaluaciones al final del trimestre.

Le invitamos a que solicite una reunión con el IEP en [put place, date, and time in Spanish here], donde se le explicarán los resultados de la prueba CELDT y/o evaluación alternativa, así como el programa instructivo de apoyo en lengua inglesa de su hijo/a. Para confirmar su asistencia a la reunión, llame al [put contact information in Spanish here].

Le alentamos a que tome parte en la educación de su hijo/a. Le invitamos a que se ofrezca como voluntario en la escuela y a participar en el Comité Asesor para los Estudiantes de Inglés como Segunda Lengua (conocido, por sus siglas en inglés, como ELAC). Si tiene alguna pregunta más acerca de la prueba CELDT o del programa de instrucción de su hijo/a durante el transcurso del año escolar, no dude en comunicarse con el maestro de su hijo/a, o de mencionar la pregunta en una reunión con el IEP para su discusión.

Addendum B: English Learner Waiver Program

Parental Exception Waivers Information Letter

Dear Parent/Guardian,

Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists (Wisdom), in compliance with Title 5, California Education Code 300-340, instructs English learners in a Structured English Immersion Program. However, if you would like your child to be placed in an alternative program, the California Education Code (310 and 311) gives parents/guardians of English learners the right to request an Alternative Program of instruction for their child using a parental exception waiver. When waivers are granted, English learners ten years or older can be placed directly in an Alternative Program. When waivers are granted for English learners less than ten years of age, students are required to participate in a Structured English Immersion/English language classroom for a thirty calendar day period.

The Wisdom Master Plan currently offers parents/guardians of K-12 students the following two instructional programs:

1. Structured English Immersion (SEI) Program
2. Mainstream English

Parents are notified of their right to request a Basic Bilingual or Dual Immersion Alternative Program.

Below are descriptions of the SEI, Basic Bilingual, and Dual Language program options.

I. Program Descriptions

Structured English Immersion Program (SEI)

This program is designed to provide instruction in English for English learners (ELs). Students receive instruction overwhelmingly in English with primary language support in order to acquire the academic English they need to meet grade level content standards. In addition, English Language Development (ELD) instruction is provided on a daily basis. The Alternative program requires initial enrollees under the age of 10 to be placed in an SEI classroom for the first 30 days of instruction. This program does not require a parental exception waiver.

Basic Bilingual Program

This program is designed to provide grade-level instruction in the primary language while students acquire English. Language arts, mathematics, social studies, and science are first taught in the primary language. As students increase their English proficiency, teachers decrease the amount of instruction provided in the primary language. In addition to primary language instruction, ELD instruction is provided on a daily basis. Currently, Wisdom does not offer this program. This program does require a parental exception waiver.

Dual Language Program

This program is designed to provide grade-level content instruction in English and in a target language. Instruction is provided in two languages beginning in kindergarten and continuing for a minimum of six years. Both English learners and English proficient students receive access to the core curriculum as well as instruction for language development in the two languages. English learners are also provided with daily ELD instruction. The goal is the development of bilingualism and biliteracy. Currently Wisdom does not offer this program. This program does require a parental exception waiver.

II. Program Availability

Schools must grant parental exception waivers unless the school principal and educational staff have substantial evidence, such as formal assessments, that the alternative program requested by the parent/guardian would not be better suited to the student. When 20 waivers have been granted at a given grade level, a basic bilingual class must be offered. When 20 or more waivers have been granted at two consecutive grade levels, the school may offer a basic bilingual class. The waiver must be requested annually and in person. It expires at the end of each school year. In cases where the waiver is denied, the parent must be informed in writing and advised of his/her right to appeal the denial.

The school principal will inform you about the availability of alternate programs at your local school or at neighboring schools. Availability depends upon the number of parents/guardians requesting the waivers. If less than 20 parents/guardians request and are granted a waiver, then your child's name will be placed on a waiting list until there are enough students to form a class. Students may transfer to a neighboring school that offers these instructional programs, provided that space is available. No transportation will be provided by the District.

III. Three Types of Waivers

311[a] Children Who Already Know English

This waiver is for English learners who already possess reasonable fluency in English language skills whose parents/guardians want to enroll them in the Dual Language Program because it would be in the best interest of the overall educational development of the student.

311[b] English Learners Age Ten (10) or Older

This waiver is for English learners age ten and older whose parents/guardians want to enroll them in the Basic Bilingual Program or Dual Language Program because it better meets their child's academic needs.

311[c] English Learners with Special Needs

This waiver is for English learners whose parents/guardians want to enroll them in a Basic Bilingual Program or Dual Language Program because of educational, psychological, or physical reasons.

IV. Steps to Request a Waiver

Step 1

Request a waiver at your child's school.

Step 2

Submit the completed parental exception waiver request in person to the principal and ask for a copy.

Step 3

You may submit a parental exception waiver in person during the first 30 calendar days in which your child is enrolled in a SEI Program. At the end of the mandatory 30-day placement period, the school must provide a written response to this request within 10 days.

You may submit a parental exception waiver after the initial 30-day mandatory SEI placement period at any time during the school year. The school must provide a written response to the request within 20 days.

If you do not receive a response to your parental exception waiver request, schedule a meeting with the principal.

V. Steps to Appeal a Denial of a Waiver Request

If the school principal denies your waiver request, you may appeal the decision in the following manner:

Step 1

Ask for a conference with the principal to discuss why your waiver request was denied.

Ask for a copy of the completed Parental Exception Waiver Denial form.

Ask to see the test results and other information that the school used to make the decision to deny your waiver request.

If you are not satisfied with the result of your conference with the principal, then you may continue the appeal process by moving to Step 2.

Step 2

Ask for a conference with the Executive Director.

Give the Local District Superintendent a copy of the completed Parental Exception Waiver Denial form and any other information you received about your child. Explain your concerns and ask for solutions. The Executive Director may be able to facilitate a transfer for your child to attend a school that offers the program you requested. If you are not satisfied with the results of the conference and wish to appeal the Executive Director's decision, you may continue the appeal process through the Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists Board of Directors and/or the court system.

English Learner means a student who does not speak English or whose native language is not English and who is not currently able to perform ordinary classroom work in English, also known as a limited English proficient or LEP child. (Education Code 306)

English language classroom means a classroom in which the language of instruction used by the teaching personnel is overwhelmingly the English language, and in which such teaching personnel possess a good knowledge of the English language. (Education Code 306)

English language mainstream classroom means a classroom in which the students either are native English language speakers or already have acquired reasonable fluency in English. (Education Code 306)

Sheltered English immersion or structured English immersion means an English language acquisition process in which nearly all classroom instruction is in English but with the curriculum and presentation designed for students who are learning the language. (Education Code 306)

Bilingual education/native language instruction means a language acquisition process for students in which much or all instruction, textbooks, and teaching materials are in the student's native language. (Education Code 306)

Identification and Assessment

Upon enrollment, each student's primary language shall be determined through use of a home language survey. (5 CCR 11307)

Within 30 calendar days of their initial enrollment, students who are identified as having a primary language other than English, as determined by the home language survey, and for whom there is no record of results from an English language development test shall be assessed using the California English Language Development Test (CELDT). (5 CCR 11511)

All students shall have sufficient time to complete the CELDT as provided in the directions for test administration. (5 CCR 11516)

Any student with a disability shall take the CELDT with those accommodations for testing that the student has regularly used during instruction and classroom assessment as delineated in the student's individualized education program (IEP) or Section 504 plan that are appropriate and necessary to address the student's individual needs. (5 CCR 11516.5)

(cf. 6159 - Individualized Education Program)
(cf. 6164.6 - Identification and Education under Section 504)

The district shall notify parents/guardians of their child's results on the CELDT within 30 calendar days. (5 CCR 11511.5)

(cf. 5145.6 - Parental Notifications)

Within 90 days of initial enrollment, students identified as having limited English proficiency shall be further assessed for primary language proficiency in comprehension, speaking, reading and writing. The Superintendent or designee shall develop criteria for determining student needs on the basis of these assessments. (former Education Code 52164.1, 62002)

Before students are enrolled in a program for English language learners, parents/guardians shall receive information about the program and their opportunities for parental involvement. This information shall include the fact that an individual student's participation in the program is voluntary on the part of the parent/guardian. (Education Code 52173)

Not later than 30 calendar days after the beginning of the school year, each parent/guardian of a student participating in, or identified for participation in, a language instruction program supported by federal Title III funds shall receive notification of the assessment of his/her child's English proficiency. The notice shall include all of the following: (Education Code 440; 20 USC 6312)

1. The reason for the student's classification as English language learner
 2. The level of English proficiency
 3. A description of the program for English language development instruction, including a description of all of the following:
 - a. The manner in which the program will meet the educational strengths and needs of the student
 - b. The manner in which the program will help the student develop his/her English proficiency and meet age-appropriate academic standards
 - c. The specific exit requirements for the program, the expected rate of transition from the program into classrooms not tailored for English language learner students, and the expected rate of graduation from secondary school if Title I funds are used for students in secondary schools
 - d. Where the student has been identified for special education, the manner in which the program meets the requirements of the student's IEP
 - 4.

Information regarding a parent/guardian's option to decline to allow the student to become enrolled in the program or to choose to allow the student to become enrolled in an alternative program

Information designed to assist a parent/guardian in selecting among available programs, if more than one program is offered

Parent/guardians also shall be notified of the results of any reassessments. (Education Code 52164.3)

Parental Exception Waivers

At the beginning of each school year, parents/guardians shall be informed of the placement of their children in a structured English immersion program and shall be notified of an opportunity to apply for a parental exception waiver. (Education Code 310; 5 CCR 11309)

A parent/guardian may request that the district waive the requirements of Education Code 305, pertaining to the placement of a student in a structured English immersion program if the one of the following circumstances exists:

1. Students who already know English: The student already possesses good English language skills, as measured by standardized tests of English vocabulary comprehension, reading and writing, in which the student scores at or above the state average for his/her grade level or at or above the fifth-grade average, whichever is lower. (Education Code 311(a))
2. Older students: The student is age 10 years or older, and it is the informed belief of the school principal and educational staff that an alternate course of study would be better suited to the student's rapid acquisition of basic English skills. (Education Code 311(b))
3. Students with special needs: The student already has been placed, for a period of not less than 30 calendar days during that school year, in an English language classroom and it is subsequently the informed belief of the school principal and educational staff that the student has special physical, emotional, psychological or educational needs and that an alternate course of educational study would be better suited to the student's overall educational development. (Education Code 311(c))

The parent/guardian shall personally visit the school to apply for the waiver. (Education Code 310)

Upon request for a waiver, the Superintendent or designee shall provide to the parents/guardians: (Education Code 310, 311; 5 CCR 11309)

1. A full written description, and a spoken description upon request, of the intent and content of the structured English immersion program, any alternative courses of study and all educational opportunities offered by the district and available to the student, and the educational materials to be used in the different educational program choices
 2. For a request for waiver pursuant to Education Code 311(c) for students with special needs, notification that the student must be placed for a period of not less than 30 calendar days in an English language classroom and that the Superintendent must approve the waiver pursuant to Governing Board guidelines

Pursuant to Education Code 311(b) and 311(c), the principal and educational staff may recommend a waiver to a parent/guardian for a student 10 years or older and a student with special needs. Parents/guardians shall be informed in writing of any recommendation for an alternative program made by the principal and staff and shall be given notice of their right to refuse to accept the recommendation. The notice shall include a full description of the recommended alternative program and the educational materials to be used for the alternative program as well as a description of all other programs available to the student. If the parent/guardian elects to request the alternative program recommended by the principal and educational staff, the parent/guardian shall comply with district procedures and requirements otherwise applicable to a parental exception waiver, including Education Code 310. (5 CCR 11309)

When evaluating waiver requests pursuant to Education Code 311(a) for students who already know English and other waiver requests for those students for whom standardized assessment data are not available, other equivalent assessment measures may be used. These equivalent measures may include local assessments, local standards and teacher evaluations.

Parental exception waivers pursuant to Education Code 311(b) for students 10 years or older shall be granted if it is the informed belief of the principal and educational staff that an alternate course of educational study would be better suited to the student's rapid acquisition of basic English language skills. (Education Code 311)

Parental exception waivers pursuant to Education Code 311(c) for students with special needs shall be granted if it is the informed belief of the principal and educational staff that, due to the student's special physical, emotional, psychological or educational needs, an alternate course of educational study would be better suited to the student's overall educational development. (Education Code 311)

The principal shall consider all waiver requests made pursuant to Education Code 311(c) for students with special needs and shall submit a rationale of the decision regarding the waiver to the Superintendent or designee. When determining whether or not to recommend the approval of the waiver request, the principal shall assume that the facts justifying the request attested by the parent/guardian are a true representation of the child's condition.

Each waiver shall be considered on its individual merits with great deference given to parental preference for student placement.

The principal or designee shall act upon all parental exception waivers within 20 instructional days of submission to the principal. However, parental waiver requests pursuant to Education

Code 311(c) for students with special needs shall not be acted upon during the 30-day placement in an English language classroom. These waivers shall be acted upon no later than 10 calendar days after the expiration of that 30-day English language classroom placement or within 20 instructional days of submission of the waiver to the principal, whichever is later.

(5 CCR 11309)

All parental exception waivers shall be granted unless the principal and educational staff have determined that an alternative program offered at the school would not be better suited for the overall educational development of the student. (5 CCR 11309)

Individual schools in which 20 students or more of a given grade level receive a waiver shall be required to offer such a class; otherwise they must allow the students to transfer to a public school in which such a class is offered. (Education Code 310)

Students wishing to transfer shall be subject to the district's intradistrict and interdistrict attendance policies and administrative regulations. Students wishing to transfer to another district shall also be subject to the receiving district's interdistrict attendance policies and administrative regulations.

In cases where a parental exception waiver pursuant to Education Code 311(b) or (c) is denied, the parent/guardian shall be informed in writing of the reason(s) for the denial and advised that he/she may appeal the decision to the Board if the Board authorizes such an appeal, or to the court. (5 CCR 11309)

Waiver requests shall be renewed annually by the parent/guardian. (Education Code 310)

Reclassification/Redesignation

The district shall continue to provide additional and appropriate educational services to English language learners for the purposes of overcoming language barriers until the English language learners have: (5 CCR 11302)

1. Demonstrated English language proficiency comparable to that of the district's average native English language speakers
2. Recouped any academic deficits which may have been incurred in other areas of the core curriculum as a result of language barriers

English language learners shall be redesignated as fluent English proficient when they are able to comprehend, speak, read and write English well enough to receive instruction in the regular program and make academic progress at a level substantially equivalent to that of students of the same age or grade whose primary language is English and who are in the regular course of study. (Education Code 52164.6)

The following measures shall be used to determine whether an English language learner shall be reclassified as fluent English proficient: (5 CCR 11303)

1. Assessment of English language proficiency utilizing the CELDT as the primary criterion, and objective assessment of the student's English reading and writing skills

2. Participation of the student's classroom teacher and any other certificated staff with direct responsibility for teaching or placement decisions
3. Parent/guardian opinion and consultation during a redesignation interview

Parents/guardians shall receive notice and a description of the redesignation process, including notice of their right to participate in the process. Parent/guardian participation in the process shall be encouraged.

4. Comparison of performance in basic skills, including performance on the English- Language Arts section of the California Standards Test
5. Objective data on the student's academic performance in English

In considering whether there is a need for WAYS to provide a special language service outside of the regular program and whether the alternative program is likely to be effective, OCR examines some important issues listed below.

- Whether a district has identified all LEP students who need special language assistance.

A school district must be able to account for all of its LEP students. A small district may be able to do this informally. A large district, or one with a great number of students whose first language or home language is not English, must have a formal system for objectively identifying students whose limited proficiency in speaking, reading, writing, or understanding English denies them the opportunity to meaningfully participate in the regular education environment and achieve high academic standards.

- Whether a district can ensure the placement of LEP students in appropriate programs.

Once a school district has identified students who need assistance, it must determine what types of assistance are warranted.

- Whether all LEP students who need a special language assistance program are being provided such a program.

A school district must ensure that all LEP students receive English-language development services.

- Whether a district has taken steps to modify a program for LEP students when that program is not working.

If the district's alternative language services program is not successful after a reasonable time period, the district must take steps to determine the cause of the program's failure and modify it accordingly.

- Whether a district ensures that LEP students are not misidentified as students with disabilities because of their inability to speak and understand English.

If national-origin minority students are not proficient in speaking, reading, writing, or understanding English, testing them in English may not demonstrate their ability or achievement skills. Steps must be taken so that LEP students are not assigned to special education classes because of their lack of English language proficiency, rather than because they have a disability. Such steps may include assessing the student in his or her own language, making sure that accurate information regarding the student's language skills is taken into account in evaluating assessment results, and comparing results obtained when a part of the assessment is repeated in the student's first language.

- Whether a school district ensures that parents who are not proficient in English are provided with appropriate and sufficient information about all school activities.

School districts have a responsibility to notify effectively national-origin minority parents of school activities that are called to the attention of other parents. Notices, to be effective, may have to be provided in a language other than English.

If student took alternate assessment(s), answer the following questions:

Does the reclassification team feel the student's disability impacts the ability to manifest English proficiency? Yes No

If so, in what areas: Listening Speaking Reading Writing

Note: Possible indicators: Student has similar academic deficits and error patterns in English as well as primary language, or error patterns in speaking, reading, and writing are typical of students with that disability versus students with language differences, etc.

Student met the Performance on CST criteria? Yes No

If student took CMA, did he/she perform at the beginning basic level to the midpoint of basic in ELA? Yes No

If performance in basic skills criteria based on CST or CMA was not met, answer the following questions to help determine if "factors other than English language proficiency are responsible for limited achievement in ELA"

Student's Basic Skills assessment scores appear to be commensurate with his/her intellectual ability due to a disability such as an intellectual disability, language and speech impairment, etc., versus a language difference, and primary language assessments indicate similar levels of academic performance (if available and applicable) or,

Error patterns noted mirror the patterns of errors made by students with a particular disability versus a peer with language differences, and student manifests language proficiency in all other areas

Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists Employee Handbook

Welcome to Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists

Handbook Use and Purpose

This Handbook is designed to help employees get acquainted with Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists (“WAYS”). It explains some of our philosophies and beliefs, and describes, in general terms, our employment guidelines. We hope that this Handbook will serve as a useful reference document for employees throughout their employment at WAYS. Employees should understand, however, that this Handbook is not intended to be a contract (express or implied), nor is it intended to otherwise create any legally enforceable obligations on the part of WAYS or its employees. In no way does the Handbook replace the official plan documents (i.e., health insurance, retirement plan, etc.) or insurance contracts, which will govern in all cases.

Because WAYS is a growing and changing organization, it reserves full discretion to add to, modify, or delete provisions of this Handbook, or the policies and procedures on which they may be based, at any time without advance notice. WAYS also reserves the right to interpret any of the provisions set forth in this Handbook in any manner it deems appropriate.

No individual other than the School Director, with the ratification of WAYS’ Board of Directors, has the authority to enter into any employment or other agreement that modifies WAYS’ policies. Any such modification must be in writing.

Employees must sign the acknowledgment form at the back of this Handbook, tear it out, and return it to the School Director.

Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists Employee Handbook

At-Will Status Employment

It is the policy of WAYS that all employees are employed at will for an indefinite period. Accordingly, either WAYS or the employee can terminate this relationship at any time, for any reason, with or without cause, and with or without notice.

Nothing contained in this Handbook, employment applications, WAYS memoranda or other materials provided to employees in connection with their employment shall require WAYS to have "cause" to terminate an employee or otherwise restrict WAYS' right to terminate an employee at any time for any reason. Statements of specific grounds for termination set forth in this Handbook or elsewhere are not all-inclusive and are not intended to restrict WAYS' right to terminate at will. No WAYS representative is authorized to modify this policy for any employee or to make any representations to employees or applicants concerning the terms or conditions of employment with WAYS that are not consistent with WAYS' policy on "at will" employment except the School Direct with the ratification of WAYS' Board of Directors.

This policy shall not be modified by any statements contained in this Handbook or employee applications, WAYS memoranda, WAYS agreements, or other materials provided to employees in connection with their employment. Further, none of those documents, either singly or combined, nor any employment practices shall create an express or implied contract of employment for a definite period, nor an express or implied contract concerning any terms or conditions of employment.

Equal Opportunity Employer

WAYS is an equal opportunity employer. It is the policy of WAYS to afford equal employment and advancement opportunity to all qualified individuals without regard to race, creed, color, religion, national origin, ancestry, sex, sexual orientation, age, physical or mental disability, marital status, citizenship status, medical condition, or any other legally protected status. This policy extends to all employees and to all aspects of the employment relationship, including the hiring of new employees and the training, transfer, promotion, compensation and benefits of existing employees

Any employee who is disabled as defined by applicable law and needs an accommodation in order to perform the essential functions of his or her position must advise WAYS. Upon verification of the disability and of the need for an accommodation, WAYS will explore what accommodations may be effective and their reasonableness.

Policy Against Sexual Harassment

All employees should be able to work in an atmosphere free of sexual harassment. WAYS will not condone or tolerate sexual harassment of any type by any employee. This policy applies to all employee actions and relationships, regardless of position or gender. WAYS will promptly and thoroughly investigate any complaint of sexual harassment and take appropriate corrective action, if warranted.

Sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexually suggestive nature constitute sexual harassment when:

1. Submission to such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of employment.

Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists Employee Handbook

2. Submission to or rejection of such conduct is used as the basis for personnel decisions, including but not limited to appraisals, promotion, salary increases, and termination.
3. Such behavior has the purpose or effect of interfering with an individual's performance on the job or creating an intimidating, hostile or offensive working environment.

Each supervisor has the responsibility to maintain a work place free from any form of sexual harassment. Consequently, should supervisors become aware of any conduct that may constitute sexual harassment or other prohibited behavior, immediate action should be taken to address such conduct.

Employees are expected to behave in a positive and professional manner and to contribute to a productive work environment that is free from harassing or disruptive activity.

Prohibited conduct by anyone includes but is not limited to:

- Sexual flirtations, touching, advances or propositions;
- Verbal abuse of a sexual nature;
- Graphic or suggestive comments about dress or body;
- Sexually degrading words;
- The display in the workplace of sexually suggestive or offensive objects or pictures.

Any employee who has experienced or is aware of a situation, which is believed to be sexually harassing, has a responsibility to report the situation immediately to the individual's supervisor and/or to the appropriate human resource representative. A Sexual Harassment Complaint Form may be obtained from your manager or the human resources representative. The School Director and the individual's supervisor will conduct an immediate investigation into the allegation(s) and determine whether the allegations have merit. A written report, including findings related to the allegations, will be completed. In all cases, when the allegation(s) is determined to be valid, appropriate remedial action will be taken immediately and may include disciplinary action up to and including termination.

If the alleged sexual harassment involves the employee's supervisor or School Director, or if the employee is not satisfied with the outcome of the investigation, the employee should bring the matter to the attention of the President of Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists Board of School Directors.

All complaints of sexual harassment will be investigated promptly, objectively and as confidentially as possible. Employees are required to cooperate in any investigation. Retaliation against any employee for filing a complaint or participating in an investigation is strictly prohibited and shall be cause for termination.

Personnel Files

At the time of your employment, a personnel file is established for you. Please keep your supervisor advised of changes that should be reflected in your personnel file. Such changes include: change in address, telephone number, marital status, number of dependents and person(s) to notify in case of emergency. Prompt notification of these changes is essential and will enable WAYS to contact you should the change affect your other records.

You have the right to inspect certain documents in your personnel file, as provided by law, in the presence of a WAYS representative, at a mutually convenient time. No copies of documents in your file may be made with the exception of documents you have previously signed. You may add your comments to any disputed item in the file. WAYS will restrict disclosure of your personnel file to authorized individuals within WAYS. A request for information contained in the personnel file must be directed to your supervisor. Only the School Director is authorized to release information about current or former employees. Disclosure of information to outside sources will be limited. However, WAYS will cooperate with requests from authorized law enforcement or local, state or federal agencies conducting official investigations or as otherwise legally required.

THE PROFESSIONAL ENVIRONMENT OF WISDOM ACADEMY FOR YOUNG SCIENTISTS

General Professional Expectations

At WAYS, we regard the work we do as being of the utmost importance. Therefore, we have very high expectations for professionalism and performance of each one of our employees. All employees should treat all individuals, students, teachers, School Directors, volunteers, and family members, with respect and approach all situations as opportunities to learn.

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT AT WISDOM ACADEMY FOR YOUNG SCIENTISTS

In pursuit of our mission to serve and prepare our students for college or a career of their choice, all teachers are expected to keep their professional training and knowledge current through ongoing courses and workshops in education. The School Director will work with teachers to develop Professional Development Plans (PDP). This may be accomplished at local colleges and universities, professional workshops, and conferences.

Each year all teachers shall complete up to five (5) days of coursework, seminars, or workshops related to their PDP. WAYS will reimburse the teacher up to a pre-determined maximum of funding. Your supervisor must approve reimbursed professional development in advance. In order to fulfill this requirement, teachers are required to include documentation of completed coursework in their Professional Development Plan.

All new teachers are required to complete one approved three-hour course in cardiopulmonary Resuscitation (CPR) and one approved three-hour course in first aid before the first official day of school. All continuing teachers are required to take a refresher course in both CPR and first aid. Teachers will make their own arrangements for such training and will provide documentation of completion and cost to the school. As allowed by the school's budget, the school will reimburse the teacher for the cost of the course (s) up to a maximum of $75.00 for a 6-hour CPR/First Aid course, and up to $40.00 for a CPR refresher course.

Professional Development Plans

All instructional and professional staff will create and maintain a Professional Development Plan containing the professional goals for continuous improvement of each employee and all relevant documents delineating past and current development. After an initial meeting between the employee and her/his supervisor – at which time mutual goals are reviewed and a professional growth program is developed – the employee will maintain the PDP, and include samples of their work. Teachers will include samples of classroom or schoolwork, observation records, personal reflections, and any other material deemed appropriate as evidence of continuous improvement.

Professional Development Institute (PDI)

In the creation and development of a highly professional environment, faculty and appropriate staff will participate in a two-week professional development institute (PDI) before the first day of school with students. PDI activities may take place on and off site and may require overnight arrangements.

EMPLOYMENT AT WISDOM ACADEMY FOR YOUNG SCIENTISTS

Licensure and Certification

Core Teaching Staff

All teaching staff, further defined by the terms of the charter as “core” teachers, including substitutes shall be certified by the Commission On Teacher Credentialing with a valid credential and shall be required to pass the CBEST. However, teachers-in-training who are working toward a credential and others with specialized and appropriate experience may also be retained if their skills and abilities will further the educational mission of the Charter School and if they are in the process of securing a credential.

Non-Core Teaching Staff

Non-core teachers are not required to hold credentials but must demonstrate subject knowledge and the ability to work well with students, as well as the ability to carry out the roles and responsibilities as stated in their specific job description.

Other Staff and Consultants

All other staff must demonstrate the abilities necessary to effectively carry out their responsibilities and do not require a California Teaching Credential.

Performance Standards and Evaluations

Each employee shall be evaluated by his/her supervisor on an annual basis based on criteria set forth by the employee’s job responsibilities. Results shall be in writing and included in the employee’s personnel file. Favorable performance evaluations do not guarantee increases in salary or promotions, or even continued employment. Failure to provide performance evaluations will not prevent WAYS from terminating an employee’s employment.

Work Schedule

Teachers are on a ten-month work year and begin official duties on the first day of the Professional Development Institute. Administrators are on a twelve-month work year. The number of months worked each year by other employees may vary. Daily work schedules will vary and will be set by the employees’ supervisors, departments or by contract.

WAYS’ school year calendar (including holidays) is similar to LAUSD’s single track schedule.

Meal and Rest Breaks

WAYS provides hourly employees with meal and rest breaks according to applicable laws. Currently nonexempt (hourly) employees working a shift of between 5 and 10 hours on any given workday will receive at least a 30-minute unpaid meal break. A nonexempt (hourly) employee working a shift of 6 hours or less may waive their meal period if both WAYS and the employee consent to the waiver in writing.

A nonexempt (hourly) employee working a shift of 3 ½ hours or more also is given a 10-minute paid rest break per every 4 hours worked. In practical terms, this means that a nonexempt (hourly) employee who works 8 hours in one day is given two 10-minute rest breaks in addition to the 30-minute unpaid meal break. A full-time nonexempt (hourly) employee who works an 8-hour day should typically take one rest break mid-morning, and one rest break mid-afternoon. Employees should make every effort to take their rest breaks. Rest break time may not be combined with meal break time. Employees who work less than 3 ½ hours in a day are not entitled to a rest break.

If any employee is prevented from taking his/her meal and rest breaks as provided by this section, please report it immediately to the Principal or the School Director.

Timekeeping Procedures

All nonexempt (hourly) employees must record the time their work begins and ends, as well as the beginning and ending time of each meal break on a WAYS time sheet/card or other prescribed method for payroll, benefit, vacation and illness leave tracking purposes. Nonexempt (hourly) employees must also record any departure from work for any non-work-related reason.

Exempt employees, including all faculty must record their attendance on a WAYS time sheet/card or other prescribed method for payroll, benefit, vacation and sick leave tracking purposes.

It is each employee's responsibility to sign their own time record to certify the accuracy of all time recorded. Failure to complete and sign a time sheet/card in a timely manner will result in disciplinary action. In addition, incomplete attendance reporting may result in the delay of the availability of the subsequent pay check or direct deposit. Errors should be reported immediately to the School Director, who will attempt to correct legitimate errors. Altering, falsifying, and tampering with time records, or recording time on another employee's time record is prohibited and subject to disciplinary action, up to and including termination of employment.

Teacher-Student Interactions

Boundaries Defined

For the purposes of this policy, the term "Boundaries" is defined as acceptable professional behavior by staff members while interacting with a student. Trespassing beyond the Boundaries of a student/teacher relationship is deemed an abuse of power and a betrayal of public trust.

Acceptable and Unacceptable Behavior

Some activities may seem innocent from a staff member's perspective, but some of these can be perceived as flirtation or sexual insinuation from a student or parental point of view. The purpose of the following lists of acceptable and unacceptable behaviors is not to restrain innocent, positive relationships between staff and students but to prevent relationships that could lead to, or may be perceived as, sexual misconduct.

Staff members must understand their own responsibilities for ensuring that they do not cross the Boundaries as written in this policy. Disagreeing with the wording or intent of the established Boundaries will be considered irrelevant for any required disciplinary purposes. Thus, it is critical that all employees study this policy thoroughly and apply its spirit and intent in their daily activities.

Reporting

When any staff member becomes aware of a staff member having crossed the Boundaries specified in this policy, he or she must report the suspicion to the Principal or the School Director promptly. All reports shall be confidential. Prompt reporting is essential to protect students, the suspected staff member, any witnesses, and the school as a whole. Employees must also report to the administration any awareness of, or concern about, student behavior that crosses Boundaries, or any situation in which a student appears to be at risk for sexual abuse.

Investigating

The Principal or School Director will promptly investigate and document the investigation of any allegation of sexual misconduct, using such support staff or outside assistance as he or she deems necessary and appropriate under the circumstances. All employees of WAYS will comply with California Penal Code requirements regarding reporting of, or reasonable suspicion of, child abuse to a child protective agency immediately or as soon as practically possible by telephone and to prepare and send a written report thereof within 36 hours of receiving the information concerning the incident.

Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists Employee Handbook

All Federal, State, and Social Security taxes will be automatically deducted from paychecks. Every deduction from your paycheck is explained on your check voucher. If you do not understand the deductions, ask the School Secretary to explain them to you. Federal Withholding Tax deduction is determined by the employee's W-4 form. The W-4 form should be completed upon hire and it is the employee's responsibility to report any changes in filing status to the School Secretary and to fill out a new W-4 form. You may change the number of withholding allowances you wish to claim for Federal Income Tax purposes at any time by filling out a new W-4 form and submitting it to your supervisor.

At the end of the calendar year, a "withholding statement" (W-2) will be prepared and forwarded to each employee for use in connection with preparation of income tax returns. The W-2 shows Social Security information, taxes withheld and total wages.

Whether an employee is exempt from or subject to overtime pay will be determined on a case-by-case basis and will be indicated in the employee's job description or employment contract. Employees may be required to work beyond the regularly scheduled workday or workweek as necessary. Only actual hours worked in a given workday or workweek will apply in calculating overtime. Your supervisor must previously authorize all overtime work. WAYS provides compensation for all overtime hours worked by non-exempt employees in accordance with state and federal law as follows:

For employees subject to overtime, all hours worked in excess of eight (8) hours in one workday or forty (40) hours in one workweek shall be treated as overtime. Compensation for hours in excess of twelve (12) in one workday and an excess of eight (8) on the seventh consecutive workday of the workweek shall be paid at double the regular rate of pay.

Exempt employees may have to work hours beyond their normal schedules, as work demands require. No overtime compensation will be paid to these exempt employees.

Wage Attachments and Garnishments

Under normal circumstances, WAYS will not assist creditors in the collection of personal debts from its employees. However, creditors may resort to certain legal procedures such as garnishments, levies or judgments that require WAYS, by law, to withhold part of your earnings in their favor.

You are strongly encouraged to avoid such wage attachments and garnishments. If WAYS is presented a second garnishment request concerning you, your managers will discuss the situation with you.

2. The School Director will provide the employee with a claim form within 24 hours of knowledge of the injury.
3. The employee takes necessary paperwork and goes to the approved medical center unless they have submitted a predesignation form to name their own doctor as their medical care provider in case of a work-related injury.
4. After the appointment, the employee must return the "pink" copy of the doctor's report to the School Director.
5. The employee's job duties will be modified to adhere to the doctor's requests.
6. The employee cannot return to full/unrestricted duty without the doctor's written consent. When written consent is given the file will be considered closed.

More information is available from the School Director.

LEAVES AND ABSENCES

Holidays

Holidays will occur in accordance with the school calendar. At this time, WAYS does not compensate employees for any holidays

Sick Leave

All salaried employees will accrue one-half day of sick leave each month, up to a maximum of five (5) days of sick leave per academic year. These days are set aside for employees to use due to illness of the employee or the employee's family member or domestic partner. If not used during the year, sick leave will not carry over.

Vacation

At this time, WAYS does not provide its employees with paid vacation.

Family and Medical Leave/California Family Rights Act

Pursuant to the Family Medical Leave Act and the California Family Rights Act (collectively, the "FMLA"), eligible full-time employees may take up to 12 weeks unpaid leave per rolling 12-month period for their own Medical Leaves or to care for an ill child (including a biological, foster, or adopted child, a stepchild, or legal ward of the employee), parent, parent-in-law (including parent of a domestic partner), spouse, domestic partner, or sibling to care for an active duty member of the Armed Forces who is the employee's spouse, son, daughter or parent and who is undergoing medical treatment, recuperation or therapy, in outpatient status or on the temporary disability retired list for serious injury or illness, or for a qualifying exigency arising out of the fact that the employee's spouse, son, daughter or parent is on active duty (or has been notified of an impending call or order to active duty) in the Armed Forces in support of a contingency operation..

FMLA benefits are available to a full-time employee only after the employee has been working at WAYS for a total of at least twelve (12) months and has worked at least 1,250 hours in the 12 month period before the date the employee wants to begin his or her leave. In order to request leave under this policy, employees should fill out an Employee Time-Off Request Form as soon as the employee is aware of the need for such leave. These forms can be obtained from the Principal or the School Director.

WAYS will maintain, for up to a maximum of 12 workweeks of FMLA leave, any group health insurance coverage that an employee was provided before the leave on the same terms as if the employee had continued to work. In some instances, WAYS may recover premiums it paid to maintain health coverage if the employee does not return to work following medical leave.

If an employee is on FMLA leave, but is not entitled to continued paid coverage, the employee may continue his or her group health insurance coverage through WAYS in conjunction with federal or state COBRA guidelines by making monthly payments to WAYS for the amount of the relevant premium. Please contact the Principal or School Director for further information.

Under most circumstances, upon return from FMLA leave, an employee will be reinstated to his/her previous position, or to an equivalent job with equivalent pay, benefits, and other employment terms and conditions. However, during and upon return from an FMLA leave, employees have no greater right to reinstatement than if they had been continuously employed rather than on leave. For example, if an employee would have been laid off had he or she not gone on FMLA leave, or if his or her position has been eliminated during the leave, then the employee will not be entitled to reinstatement.

If an employee is returning from FMLA leave taken for the employee's own serious health condition, but the employee is unable to perform the essential functions of his or her job because of a physical or mental disability, WAYS will attempt to reasonably accommodate the employee. The employee's use of FMLA leave will not result in the loss of any employment benefit that the employee earned or was entitled to before using FMLA leave.

Certification by Health Care Provider

WAYS requires an employee seeking to take FMLA leave to provide certification as noted below, within 15 days of any request for such leave. WAYS reserves the right to request additional re-certification from the health care provider should there be a need to extend the duration of the leave.

If the leave request is for the employee's own serious health condition, the employee must provide a certification from the health care provider indicating:

- Commencement date of the serious health condition
- Probable duration of the condition
- Confirmation that this serious health condition does not allow the employee to either work at all or to perform one or more of the essential functions of his or her position.

If the leave request is to care for a sick spouse, child or parent, the employee must provide a certification from the health care provider indicating:

- Commencement date of the serious health condition
- Probable duration of the condition

Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists Employee Handbook

- Estimated amount of time for care by the health care provider and
- Confirmation that the employee's presence is needed for the treatment of the serious health condition.

If both parents work for WAYS, and they request simultaneous leave for the birth, adoption or foster care of a child, WAYS will grant no more than a total of 12 weeks of FMLA leave for each employee.

If the leave was for an employee's own serious health condition, WAYS will require the employee to provide certification from a health care provider that the employee is fit to return to work. Employees may not return to work without such certification.

Return from Family/Medical Leave

Under most circumstances, employees will be reinstated to their original job or to an equivalent job upon their return from FMLA leave. An equivalent job would be one which has the same pay, benefits and other employment terms and conditions. Employees will also not lose any employment benefit that they had earned prior to going on FMLA leave. However, they do not have a greater right to this reinstatement than if they had been regularly employed. For example, if an employee's job is eliminated whether or not the employee is on leave, and there is no equivalent job, then the employee would not be entitled to reinstatement.

Reinstatement after FMLA leave may be denied to certain salaried "key" employees under the following conditions: (a) an employee requesting reinstatement was among the highest-paid 10 percent of salaried employees employed within 75 miles of the work site at which the employee worked at the time of the leave request; (b) the refusal to reinstate is necessary because reinstatement would cause substantial and grievous economic injury to the School's operations; (c) the employee is notified of WAYS' intent to deny reinstatement at the time WAYS determines the denial is necessary; and (d) if the leave has already begun, WAYS gives the employee a reasonable opportunity to return to work following the notice described previously.

Family/Medical Leave Carryover

If an employee is granted an approved leave under FMLA, it will be counted as part of the 12 work week entitlement in a 12 month period. The 12 month period is measured forward from the date the employee's first family/medical leave began. Successive 12 month periods commence on the date of the employee's first use of such leave after the preceding 12 month period has ended. Employees may not carryover any unused leave from one 12 month period to the next.

Intermittent Family/Medical Leave

Employees may take FMLA leave in shorter blocks of time if the reason for your leave is the employee's own serious health condition or that of the employee's spouse, child or parent and your health care provider certifies that this is medically necessary. The shortest block of time that an employee may take is one hour at a time.

Substitution of Other Available Leave for FMLA Leave

An employee taking FMLA leave must substitute any available sick days (pursuant to WAYS' Sick Leave policy) and may substitute any available vacation days for his or her leave. The substitution of sick pay or vacation pay for FMLA leave does not extend the total duration of the leave to which the employee is entitled.

Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists Employee Handbook

Pregnancy Disability Leave

WAYS complies with the requirements of the California Pregnancy Disability Act, in addition to other family and medical leaves required by law. WAYS will give each female employee an unpaid leave of absence of up to four months, as needed, for the period(s) of time the employee is actually disabled by pregnancy, childbirth or related medical conditions.

Eligibility

To be eligible, the employee must be disabled by pregnancy, childbirth or a related medical condition and must provide appropriate medical certification concerning the disability.

Reasons to Take Leave

The employee is entitled to take up to four months of pregnancy disability leave if the employee is actually disabled by her pregnancy, childbirth or a related medical condition. This includes time off needed for prenatal care, severe morning sickness, doctor-ordered bed rest, childbirth, recovery from childbirth and any related medical condition. Generally, the employee is unable to work at all or is unable to perform any one or more of the essential functions of her job without undue risk to herself, the successful completion of her pregnancy, or to other persons because of pregnancy or childbirth, or because of any medically recognized physical or mental condition that is related to pregnancy or childbirth (including severe morning sickness).

Length of Pregnancy Disability Leave

Pregnancy disability leave may be taken in one or more periods, but not to exceed four months total. "Four months" means the number of days the employee would normally work within four months. For a full time employee who works five eight-hour days per week, four months means 88 working and/or paid eight-hour days of leave entitlement based on an average of 22 working days per month for four months.

Pregnancy disability leave is not counted as leave taken under the California Family Rights Act.

Periodic absences for pregnancy-related illness of limited duration taken prior to an actual leave may be subtracted from the four months of disability leave for pregnancy.

Pregnancy disability leave may be taken intermittently or on a reduced leave schedule when medically advisable, as determined by the employee's healthcare provider. If an employee requires intermittent leave or leave on a reduced leave schedule that is foreseeable based on planned medical treatment, the employee may be transferred temporarily to an available alternative position for which he or she is qualified that has equivalent pay and benefits that better accommodates recurring periods of leave than the employee's regular position. WAYS will also require written notice of a foreseeable leave request except in case of an emergency.

Pay During Pregnancy Disability

An employee on pregnancy disability leave must use all accrued paid sick leave and may use any or all accrued vacation during the otherwise unpaid leave period. The receipt of vacation pay, sick leave pay or state disability insurance benefits will not extend the length of pregnancy disability leave.

Employee Benefits

Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists Employee Handbook

WAYS will maintain health coverage (if applicable) and continue to pay its share of the premium. The employee is responsible to pay her portion of the premium as well (if applicable). Benefits do not accrue while on pregnancy disability leave, but begin accruing once the employee returns from the leave. An employee on pregnancy disability leave remains an employee of WAYS and a leave will not constitute a break in service for purposes of longevity and/or seniority. When an employee returns from pregnancy disability leave, she will resume her benefits in the same manner and the same level as provided with the leave began, without any new qualification period, physical exam, etc.

Medical Certifications

An employee requesting a pregnancy disability leave must provide medical certification from her healthcare provider on a form supplied by WAYS, which may be obtained from the School Director. Failure to provide the required certification in a timely manner (within 15 days of the leave request) may result in a denial of the leave request until such certification is provided.

Requesting and Scheduling Pregnancy Disability Leave

An employee should request pregnancy disability leave by completing a Request for Leave form and submitting it to the Principal or School Director for approval. Employees should provide not less than thirty (30) days or if such notice is not possible, as soon as is practicable if the need for the leave is foreseeable. Failure to provide such notice is grounds for denial of the leave request, except if the need for pregnancy disability leave was an emergency and was otherwise unforeseeable.

Where possible, employees must make a reasonable effort to schedule foreseeable planned medical treatments so as not to unduly disrupt the WAYS' operations.

In most cases, WAYS will respond to a pregnancy disability leave request within two days of acquiring knowledge that the leave qualifies as pregnancy disability and, in any event, within ten days of receiving the request. If a pregnancy disability leave request is granted, WAYS will notify the employee in writing and leave will be counted against the employee's pregnancy disability leave entitlement. This notice will explain the employee's obligations and the consequences of failing to satisfy them.

Return to Work

Upon timely return at the expiration of the pregnancy disability leave period, an employee is entitled to the same position unless the employee would not otherwise have been employed in the same position (at the time reinstatement is requested) because of legitimate business reasons unrelated to the pregnancy disability leave or if the means to preserve the position would substantially undermine WAYS' ability to operate the business safely and efficiently.

If the employee is not reinstated to the same position, she must be reinstated to a comparable position unless there is no comparable position available or filling the available position with the returning employee would substantially undermine WAYS' ability to operate the business safely and efficiently.

When a request for pregnancy disability leave is granted to an employee, WAYS will provide the employee with a guarantee to reinstate the employee to the same position or to a comparable position, unless justified by law. The guarantee will be provided in writing if requested by the employee.

Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists Employee Handbook

Before an employee will be permitted to return from a pregnancy disability leave of 30 work days or more, the employee must obtain a certification from her healthcare provider that she is able to resume work. If the employee can return to work with limitations, WAYS will evaluate those limitations, and if possible, will accommodate the employee as required by law.

Drug and Alcohol Rehabilitation Leave

WAYS will reasonably accommodate an employee who voluntarily enters and participates in an alcohol or drug rehabilitation program, including potentially providing unpaid leave to participate in the program. WAYS will not pay for the costs incurred in attending a rehabilitation program. An employee who wishes to identify him/herself as an individual in need of the assistance of an alcohol or drug rehabilitation program may contact the Principal or School Director. WAYS will take all reasonable steps necessary to maintain the employee's privacy in this situation. The employee may use yearly sick leave, if any, during requested leave.

Nothing in this policy shall prohibit WAYS from refusing to hire or from discharging an employee who, because of his or her current use of alcohol or drugs, is unable to perform his/her duties or cannot perform the duties in a manner that would not endanger his/her health or safety or the health or safety of others.

Bereavement Leave

Employees who regularly work 20 or more hours per week may be granted up to three (3) days of paid bereavement leave if they suffer the loss of an immediate family member. This time may also be used for handling death-related personal affairs. The employee may also be granted up to one full day of paid leave to attend the funeral of a relative who is not in the employee's immediate family.

Employees who work less than 20 hours per week are entitled to unpaid leave to attend the funeral of an immediate family member or other relative.

Any school employee who requires more than three (3) days of bereavement leave must submit a written request to the School Director and must receive written approval from his/her supervisor prior to the taking of any leave.

Jury Duty/Witness Duty

Regular full-time and part-time non-exempt employees will be excused from work for required duty as a juror or witness, but this time shall be unpaid.

All employees should notify the School Director immediately when they receive notice to report for jury or witness duty. Employees must show proof of jury or witness service. On any day of jury service in which an employee is excused entirely or in sufficient time to permit him/her to return to work for a minimum of one-half (1/2) of his/her regularly scheduled work day, s/he will be required to report to work.

Military Leaves of Absence

Military leaves of absence will be granted without pay in accordance with State and Federal Law. However, in order to be eligible, employees must submit verifications from the appropriate military authority.

Time Off for Voting

Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists Employee Handbook

If circumstances prevent an employee from voting during non-working hours, the employee may be given up to 2 hours paid time off to vote. The employee should give at least two (2) workdays notice of the need to take time off to vote. In order to receive paid time off, the employee must provide his or her supervisor with a copy of his or her ballot stub when the employee returns to work.

Assistance for Victims of Domestic Violence

An employee who is the victim of domestic violence will be given a reasonable amount of time off without pay to obtain court relief and obtain other assistance to help ensure the health, safety, or welfare of the employee or the employee's children. Employees must provide WAYS with reasonable notice for the need for such time off. Employees must also provide satisfactory documentation of the need for such leave, as may be required by WAYS.

Time Off to Attend Child's School Discipline

Any employee who is a parent or legal guardian of a child that has received written notice from the child's school requesting his or her attendance at a disciplinary conference is entitled to take unpaid leave to attend the conference. Please contact your supervisor to determine eligibility and scheduling before taking any leave to attend a disciplinary conference.

Time Off for Victims of Crime or Domestic Violence

Employees who are victims of domestic violence or sexual assault will be given time off as necessary in accordance with the law. Employees may be required to provide reasonable advanced notice of the need for time off if feasible and documentation establishing the right to such time off may be requested. WAYS will take all reasonable steps to maintain the confidentiality of any employee requesting crime victim/domestic violence leave. Please notify your supervisor of your need to seek relief as far in advance as possible. If applicable, an employee may use yearly sick leave for these purposes.

Time Off for Victims of Crime

An employee who is a victim of certain crimes (violent felonies, felony thefts and serious felonies as defined by law) or is an immediate family member of a victim, is a registered domestic partner of a victim or the child of a registered domestic partner of a victim will be given time off as necessary in accordance with the law. Employees may be required to provide reasonable advanced notice of the need for time off if feasible and documentation establishing the right to such time off may be requested. WAYS will take all reasonable steps to maintain the confidentiality of any employee requesting crime victim leave. Please notify your supervisor of your need for time off as far in advance as possible. As applicable, an employee may use accrued vacation leave or sick leave for crime victim leave purposes.

Time Off for Volunteer Firefighters

Employees who perform emergency duties as volunteer firefighters, reserve peace officers or emergency rescue personnel will be given time off as necessary in accordance with the law. Employees are requested to alert the Principal or School Director of their status as volunteer firefighters, reserve peace officers or emergency rescue personnel so that WAYS will have advanced notice of the employee's potential need to leave WAYS in the event of an emergency. Any time an employee must perform emergency duties, he/she must notify his/her supervisor before leaving work.

Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists Employee Handbook

STANDARDS OF CONDUCT

Punctuality and Attendance

Any employee who is unable to report for work on any particular day must call their supervisor at least one hour before the start of the scheduled workday. If an employee fails to report to work without notification to their supervisor, the school may consider that employee has abandoned his/her employment and has voluntarily terminated the employment.

Any teacher who is unable to report for work must arrange for a substitute teacher for the duration of the absence. The substitute selected must be from the WAYS substitute pool. The employee must inform his/her supervisor with the name and contact information of the designated substitute prior to their scheduled absence.

Upon returning to work after an absence for any reason, the employee must complete an absence form and turn it in to their supervisor by the end of the workday on which the employee returns. If an employee is absent for medical reasons for more than ten (10) working days, the employee must, immediately upon his or her intended day of return to work, provide the supervisor with a physician's statement certifying that the employee is able to return.

Arrangement for Substitutes

Once teachers know of their anticipated absence, they are required to call their supervisor and then make arrangements for substitutes using designated individuals from the WAYS Substitute Pool.

Personal Appearance and Conduct

Employees are expected to wear clothing appropriate for the nature of our business and the type of work performed. Because each employee is a representative of WAYS in the eyes of the public, each employee must report to work properly groomed, wearing appropriate clothing and maintaining a professional appearance that sets a good example for WAYS students.

Smoking

All WAYS buildings and facilities are no-smoking facilities.

WAYS/Personal Property

All WAYS property – including desks, storage areas, work areas, file cabinets, credenzas, computer systems (including laptops), office telephones, cellular telephones, modems, facsimile machines, duplicating machines, and vehicles – must be used properly and maintained in good working order. They must be kept clean and are to be used only for work-related purposes.

WAYS reserves the right to inspect desks/workstations, as well as any contents, effects or articles that are in desks. Such inspection can occur at any time, with or without advance notice or consent.

Employees are discouraged from bringing personal property of the types noted above to school. The need for such equipment should be brought to the attention of the School Director for review and/or action. Likewise, damaged or broken equipment should be reported as soon as noted so that repairs or replacements can be provided. Terminated employees should remove any personal items at the time they leave the school. Personal items left in the workplace are subject to disposal if not claimed at the time of an employee's termination.

HEALTH AND SAFETY AT WISDOM ACADEMY FOR YOUNG SCIENTISTS

Health and Safety Requirements for Employment

Tuberculosis Test

Before the first day of employment, all employees must have a tuberculosis test as described in Education Code 49406. The current physician's statement must be on file in the office before the first day of employment. Failure to provide documentation on time may result in immediate termination.

Criminal Background Check

All first year employees without credentials must submit fingerprints to the Department of Justice and Federal Bureau of Investigation for the purpose of obtaining a criminal record summary as required by Education Code Section 44237. Such fingerprints must be submitted prior to employment and are a condition of employment. Criminal record summaries will be maintained by the administration in a secured file separate from personnel files, as required by Section 44237.

First-Aid and CPR Training

All individuals working unsupervised with children or in a classroom setting (i.e. core teachers, advisors, non-core teachers, School Directors) must receive, renew, and maintain basic first-aid and CPR certification by the first day of school for students.

Security Protocols

WAYS has developed guidelines to maintain a secure school site. Be aware of unknown persons loitering in walkways, entrances, and exits of the school. Report any suspicious persons or activities to office staff. Secure your classroom or office at the end of each day. When Called away from your classroom for an extended length of time, do not leave students, valuable or personal articles unattended. The security of our facility is directly related to the health and safety of our students and our colleagues. Employees must immediately notify a school administrator when school facilities keys are missing or if security access or codes have been breached.

Emergency Plans

Appropriate fire exit and earthquake preparedness drills will be administered at least two times per year. In the case of an actual emergency, teachers are responsible for staying at the school site (or evacuation staging area) until they are released by a school administrator. During an emergency, teachers must always have a roster of students under their direct supervision.

Accident/Incident Reporting

It is the duty of every employee to immediately or as soon as is practical report any accident or injury occurring during school activities or on the WAYS premises so that arrangements can be made for medical or first aid treatment, as well as for investigation and follow-up purposes.

Reporting Fires and Emergencies

Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists Employee Handbook

It is the duty of every employee to know how to report fires and other emergencies quickly and accurately. Employees should report any such emergency to office staff or school administrators. In addition, all employees should know the local emergency numbers.

Guests and Visitors

All guests and visitors must report to the main office to sign in and receive a guest pass to enter Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists.

INFORMATION AND COMMUNICATION

Use of WAYS Technology and Other Property

WAYS' technical resources, such as its computer system, voice mail system, and e-mail, fax machines, printers, photo copiers, laptops and mobile telephones are provided for use in WAYS business, and are to be reviewed, monitored, and used only for business purposes, except as provided in this policy. Employee computer data, voice mail messages, and e-mail transmissions may be reviewed by WAYS. Employees should understand that they have no right of privacy as to any information or file maintained in or on WAYS' property or transmitted or stored through WAYS' computer systems, voice mail, e-mail, or other technical resources. All bills and other documentation related to the use of WAYS equipment or property are the property of WAYS and may be reviewed and used for purposes that WAYS considers appropriate.

Messages stored and/or transmitted by voice mail or e-mail must not contain content that may reasonably be considered offensive or disruptive to any employee. Offensive content would include, but not be limited to, sexual comments or images, racial slurs, gender-specific comments or any comments or images that would offend someone on the basis of his or her age, sexual orientation, religious or political beliefs, national origin, or disability.

Use of Social Media

Social media can be a valuable and powerful means of communication. The Society recognizes the importance of the Internet in shaping public thinking about the Society and our current and potential services, employees, partners, volunteers, donors and customers. The Society is also committed to supporting your right to interact knowledgeably, responsibly and socially in the blogosphere and on the Internet through blogging and participation in social media sites.

Posting During Work Time

WAYS understands that employees may from time to time engage in online social media activities at work for legitimate work related purposes, and that these activities may be helpful for WAYS affairs. You are, however, prohibited from engaging in personal posting during work time, unless specifically authorized by the Principal or School Director. Further, personal social media activity should be kept distinct from professional social media activity, and communications with purely personal social media sites should be conducted from personal email accounts only.

No Expectation Of Privacy

Because our organization retains the right (but not the obligation) to monitor all files and messages stored on and transmitted through WAYS' electronic devices (such as desktop computers, laptop computers, blackberries, personal digital assistances, and cell phones), remember you have no reasonable expectation of privacy regarding social media accessed through these devices, even if you have used a private account and/or password.

Speak For Yourself, Not WAYS

Unless you have been authorized by the Principal or School Director, your postings should not comment on behalf of WAYS or represent that such authority has been granted. Therefore your postings should express your own opinion, not WAYS' information, positions, strategies or opinions. Make certain that your choice of words does nothing to suggest that you are representing the WAYS' official position, unless you have been authorized by the Principal or School Director to do so.

Protect Confidential Information

Do not post confidential information about WAYS, our employees, our students or any other party. Remember that most student information is protected by the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act, including any and all information which might identify the student.

Respect WAYS policies

Your postings should not violate any other applicable policy of WAYS.

Be respectful of others.

Please be professional and respectful of others in your communications. You may be subject to discipline up to and including termination for posting or displaying comments about competitors, volunteers, coworkers, supervisors, students, parents or WAYS that are false, defamatory, libelous, tortious, vulgar, obscene, threatening, intimidating, harassing, invasive of the privacy of others, or a violation of the organization's workplace policies against discrimination, harassment, or hostility on account of age, race, religion, sex, ethnicity, nationality, disability, or other protected class, status, or characteristic.

Report inappropriate conduct appropriately.

If you feel that employees of our organization are, have been, or will be engaged in any inappropriate conduct regarding the use of social media, please discuss your concerns with your supervisor. Employees are urged to use internal channels, rather than social media, to resolve workplace concerns. This may spare both you WAYS the unintended repercussions of false, half-true, or misleading allegations.

Policy Limitation.

WAYS respects the rights of employees to communicate with one another or with third parties for purposes protected by law, including concerted activity protected by state and federal laws and the National Labor Relations Act. Nothing in this policy will be interpreted to prohibit such communications, nor shall any employee suffer any adverse job action due to such communications.

Media Relations

It is our goal to give the press a clear, consistent, and up-to-date message about our school and its programs and vices. Since information about our activities change often, it is easy to provide the press with information that may be inaccurate or misleading.

All calls from newspapers, magazines, or radio and television reporters should be immediately referred to the School Director of Development and Community Assets.

ENDING EMPLOYMENT

Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists Employee Handbook

Dismissal, Discipline, and Termination of Employment

All employees are expected to observe certain standards of job performance and good conduct. When performance or conduct does not meet WAYS' standards, the employee may be subject to discipline, up to and including termination.

By way of example (but by no means is this intended to be an exhaustive list), the following constitute grounds for discipline and/or termination:

- Unsatisfactory performance,
- Unfit for service, including the inability to appropriately instruct or associate with students;
- Insubordination;
- Falsifying or concealing information on employment records, employment information, an employment application, time record, or other WAYS record;
- Willfully or maliciously making false statements regarding any coworker or WAYS, making threats or using abusive language toward fellow employees, supervisors, students, parents, or visitors;
- Theft or the deliberate or careless damage or destruction of WAYS property, or the property of WAYS employees, students or anyone on WAYS property;
- Possessing weapons on WAYS property at any time or while acting on behalf of WAYS;
- Violation of WAYS' Policy Against Harassment;
- Excessive absenteeism
- Violating any safety, health, security, or school policy, rule or procedure;
- Refusal to comply with any federal or state regulation or law, or refusal to comply with any WAYS policy or procedure.
- Possession of or being under the influence of illegal drugs or alcohol while performing any professional duties or when publicly representing WAYS, such as a professional conference;
- Engaging in criminal conduct whether or not related to job performance;
- Gross negligence leading to the endangerment or harm of a child or children;

Discipline may range from verbal or written reprimands, unpaid or paid suspension to termination depending upon the nature and severity of the offense, and at the sole discretion of the School Director and/or the WAYS Board of Directors. The rules set forth above are intended to provide employees with some guidelines regarding expected conduct and performance that might lead to discipline and/or termination. Employees should be aware that conduct not specifically listed also might result in disciplinary action, up to and including termination.

Any employee may submit a grievance regarding dismissal, discipline, and termination pursuant to the grievance process outlined in the Grievance section of these policies.

Exit Interviews

All employees who leave employment at Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists will take part in an exit interview with their supervisor to reflect upon their challenges and growth while employed at Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists. Information shared during an exit interview will be treated as confidential and acted upon in a timely and appropriate manner.

SAFETY PLAN

SAFETY PLAN

Statement of Purpose

The Wisdom Academy for Young Scholars' mission is to create a transformational learning climate in which students become empowered to be leaders, self-responsible learners, agents of change, and true scientists. A comprehensive Safety Plan helps to ensure a safe school environment, thereby enhancing the learning experience and improving student academic achievement. This plan is implemented to protect the safety of students and staff and to provide emergency preparedness and guidelines. This plan addresses the following objectives:

- Protect the safety and welfare of students and staff.
- Provide for a safe and coordinated response to emergency situations.
- Protect the school's facilities and property.
- In the case of an emergency, allow the school to restore normal conditions with minimal confusion in the shortest time possible.
- Provide for coordination between the school and local emergency services when necessary.

This Safety Plan consists of the following Sections:

- I. Staffing
- II. General Policies and Procedures for Handling Safety and Specific Emergency Situations
- III. Drugs, Alcohol and Tobacco
- IV. Child Abuse Reporting
- V. Campus "Coming and Going"
- VI. Harassment Policy-Appendix A
- VII. Disciplinary, Suspension & Expulsion Policy-Appendix B

VIII. Incident Report-Appendix C

This plan encompasses a broad range of potential safety issues and major emergencies. Such incidents may include earthquake, hazardous materials, widespread power outage, and similar events affecting normal operations at the school.

I. Staffing

A. Employee Preparedness

A number of measures are taken on an ongoing basis to ensure that school staff is prepared to respond immediately and appropriately to disasters. These include:

1. Review of this Plan and any other emergency policies and procedures;
2. Review of an employee's role during an emergency;
3. Knowledge of how to conduct and evaluate required drills;
4. Familiarity with the layout of buildings, grounds and all emergency procedures;
5. Review of the location of all emergency exits, fire extinguishers, fire alarms and emergency equipment and supplies;
6. Attend update training in first aid, CPR, use of fire extinguishers and search and rescue as necessary.

B. Employee Responsibilities

At the beginning of each school year, all instructional and non-instructional staff will be asked by the Wisdom Academy for Young Scholars ("School") Director, or his/her designee, to identify those with special skills or experience that may be helpful during an emergency. These employees may be asked to fulfill certain emergency management roles (i.e., first aid, CPR, search & rescue and/or fire extinguisher training & certification).

Instructional staff is responsible for the following:

1. Present instruction to students about emergency preparedness plans for the site and student responsibilities in case of a major emergency;
2. Keep attendance sheets readily accessible at all times in order to check attendance in the event of evacuation;
3. Update the contents of classroom emergency kit and keep it in a safe, accessible location;
4. Participate fully in fire, earthquake and evacuation drills;
5. Have planned activities for students for use during periods of confinement during an emergency situation.

The Director, or his/her designee, is responsible for the following:

1. Assign employees to roles and responsibilities for an emergency, taking into consideration the skills, abilities and normal functions of employees;
2. Ensure that all employees are familiar with the site maps and evacuation plans and are trained in emergency response and preparedness roles and responsibilities;
3. Update the list of employees who are trained in first aid, CPR, the use of fire extinguishers, and search and rescue. Arrange for update training as necessary;
4. Update as necessary the site floor plan showing evacuation routes and the location of assembly areas, emergency supplies and equipment, fire extinguishers, fire alarm pulls, master electrical panels, and main water and gas shut off valves;

5. Ensure that emergency procedures are posted in classrooms, hallways, school office, cafeterias and employee lounges;
6. Update the list of any disabled students or employees or those who may need evacuation assistance or other special assistance;
7. Test the site warning system and ensure that the system's signal(s) is recognized and understood by employees and students;
8. Conduct an inventory of all emergency supplies and equipment and replace used or outdated supplies and equipment;
9. Maintain a list of emergency phone numbers in a readily accessible location.

C. Employee/Student Special Needs

Staff with temporary or permanent impairments of sight, hearing or mobility may self-identify indicating what assistance may be required in the event of an emergency. Students with special needs are identified at the beginning of each school year. Parents are asked to provide written information/instructions concerning specific needs.

Those areas of the school that have employees and/or students with permanent mobility impairments should maintain any necessary evacuation device on each floor where such employees and/or students are located.

D. Emergency On-Site Personnel

Staff emergency phone contacts will be kept on file at the school office. Staff with specific training in emergency response, safety, CPR, etc. will also be noted on a list kept at the school.

E. Notification List

In the event of an emergency or safety risk, the following personnel will be notified as appropriate:

II. General Policies and Procedures for Handling Safety and Specific Emergency Situations:

The purpose of the safety and emergency sections of this Plan is to provide safety and emergency preparedness and response instructions to protect the safety and well being of students and staff at the time of an emergency. Specific goals include:

1. Protect the safety and welfare of students and staff;
2. Provide for a safe and coordinated response to emergency situations;
3. Protect the school's facilities and property;
4. Enable the school to restore normal conditions with minimal confusion in the shortest time possible;
5. Provide for interface and coordination between the school and local authorities and resources.

A. Emergencies

In the case of an emergency, the general policy is that actions should be taken to allow the school to remain in operation to the extent possible. The situation should be addressed to minimize interruption of normal operations at the school, and students will usually be cared for until regular dismissal time. Where an emergency situation poses a serious threat to the safety and well being of students and staff, evacuation will occur until any danger has passed. When necessary, school may be dismissed by the Director, or his/her designee.

• Fire:

In the case of a school fire, the following procedures should be implemented:

1. Sound building fire alarm.
2. Notify Fire Department by dialing 911. The Fire Department is to be notified of any fires larger in size than a wastebasket. The Fire Department should be given the following information:
 - School name and phone number.
 - Building address, including nearest cross street(s).
 - Exact location of the fire within the building.
3. Have students and staff evacuate the building in accordance with established procedures.
4. Evacuate to outdoor assembly area.
5. All doors leading to the fire should be closed. Do not re-enter the area for belongings. If the area is full of smoke, students and staff should be instructed to crawl along the floor, close to walls, thus making breathing easier and providing direction. Before opening any door, place a hand one inch from the door near the top to see if it is hot. Be prepared to close the door quickly at the first sign of fire to avoid the spread of fire.
6. Clear access routes for emergency vehicles. Remain at a safe distance from the fire and away from fire fighting equipment.
7. Render first aid as necessary.
8. Check attendance. Remain with students.

• Medical Emergency:

Medical emergencies and accidents can occur at any time and may involve a student or employee. Some emergencies may only require first aid care, while others may require immediate medical attention. When in doubt, it is better to err on the side of caution and dial 911.

1. Medical emergencies involving any student or employee must be reported to the Director, or his/her designee. Dial 911 or direct someone to do so. Provide the following information:

- School name and phone number.
- Building address, including nearest cross street(s).
- Exact location within the building.
- Your name and phone number.
- Nature of the emergency.
- Do not hang up until advised to do so by dispatcher.

2. Notify the school office that an individual has been injured and an ambulance has been called.

3. Ask someone to dispatch a first aid/CPR trained employee to the victim.
 4. Stay calm. Keep victim warm with a coat or blanket.
 5. Do not move the victim unless there is danger of further injury. Do not give the victim anything to eat or drink.
 6. Draft written incident report and submit it to School Director, or his/her designee, before the end of the next workday.
- Earthquakes:

Earthquakes strike without warning and the major shock is usually followed by numerous after shocks, which may last for weeks or months. An earthquake's effect on buildings will vary from building to building.

The major threat of injury during an earthquake is from falling objects and debris, and many injuries are sustained while entering or leaving buildings. Therefore, it is important to remain inside the building and quickly move away from windows, glass, partitions and shelves. In the case of an earthquake, the following procedures should be followed:

1. Take cover under a sturdy desk or table, in a doorway, or against an inside wall until the shaking stops. Give DROP AND COVER command.
2. After shaking stops, check for injuries, and render first aid.
3. If ordered by the Director, or his/her designee, evacuate.
4. Do not return to building.
5. Do not light any fires.
6. Keep a safe distance from any downed power lines.
7. Check attendance whether or not evacuation takes place. Report any missing students to the Director, or his/her designee.
8. Stay alert for aftershocks.
9. Beware that shaking may activate fire alarm or sprinkler systems.
10. Elevators and stairways will need to be inspected for damage before they can be used.

11. The School principal, or his/her designee, will issue further instructions.
12. Should there be a major earthquake, children will remain under the supervision of school authorities until parents or responsible adults can pick them up.

• Assaults:

Assaults involve acts of striking or inflicting injury to a person and are regarded as serious matters. Any threat or assault on students or employees should be reported immediately to the Director, or his/her designee. The Director (or designee) will determine if law enforcement officials should be notified.

If a serious assault occurs:

1. Dial 911.
2. Seek first aid or medical attention, if indicated.
3. Have photographs taken of any injuries.
4. Write down a physical description of the assailant (sex, age, height, weight, race, clothing, and any weapon used) as soon as possible after the incident.
5. Obtain names and telephone numbers of any witnesses.
6. Draft incident report and submit it to the Director, or his/her designee.
7. The Director or his/her designee will submit incident report to the local law enforcement if incident is serious.

• Hazardous Materials:

Hazardous material spills may occur inside a building, such as a spill in a chemistry lab. Incidents of disaster magnitude may occur outside, such as a tank truck accident involving large quantities of toxic material. Procedures:

1. If a spill is minor and inside, notify buildings and grounds personnel immediately for clean up. Open windows for ventilation.
2. If a more serious spill occurs inside or outside:
 - o Call 911. Notify Fire Department, Emergency Response Unit, and/ or Public Health Department.
 - o Provide the following:

School name.

Building address, including nearest cross street(s).

Your name and phone number.

Location of the spill and/or materials released.

Characteristics of spill (colors, smells, visible gases).

Name of substance, if known.

Injuries, if any.

3. Notify buildings and grounds personnel.
4. Close all windows and doors if the spill is outside.
5. Request that buildings personnel shut off mechanical ventilating systems if it might spread toxic material.
6. Remain inside building unless ordered to evacuate by the Fire Department.
7. Fire Department will advise of further actions to be taken.
8. Do not eat or drink anything or apply cosmetics.
9. If there appears to be imminent danger, a fire drill may be called while approval for student release or site evacuation is sought.
10. The Director, or his/her designee, if necessary, will give approval for student release or site evacuation.

• Civil Disturbance:

A civil disturbance is any situation where a person or group of persons disrupts operations or threatens the safety of individuals. The following precautionary protective measures should be taken:

1. Notify local law enforcement authorities-Dial 911.
2. If participants enter the building, remain calm and do not provoke aggression. Report disruptive circumstances to school Director, or his/her designee.
3. Do not argue with participant(s).
4. Have all students and employees leave the immediate area of disturbance.
5. If the disturbance is outside the building, remain inside building, unless instructed otherwise by the Director or police officials. Lock all doors. Stay away from windows and exterior doors.
6. If the disturbance is inside the building, follow procedures for evacuation of the school site.
7. Follow further instructions as police officials and other local law enforcement authorities issue them.
8. Draft incident report for School Director, or his/her designee.

• Vandalism:

The following procedures should be used in the case of school vandalism:

1. Notify school principal, or his/her designee.
2. Notify building and ground maintenance personnel.
3. The Director, or his/her designee, will assess the seriousness of the situation and determine the level of assistance needed, including local law enforcement.
4. If possible, identify the parties involved.
5. Interview witnesses and obtain written statements.
6. Document the incident as soon as possible and give the incident report, with any witness statements, to the Director or his/her designee.
7. Notify parents or legal guardian.

8. Determine what disciplinary measures are appropriate (in-house or police involvement). See Disciplinary, Suspension & Expulsion Policy.
9. Determine any monetary restitution issues and amounts.

• Utility or Power Failure:

The following procedures should be used in case of utility or power failure:

1. Staff and students should remain in classroom until further instruction.
2. Custodial and maintenance personnel should determine cause of incident and seek outside assistance if necessary.
3. Staff and students outside of a classroom at the time of the incident should report to main office.
4. Building and grounds personnel report to utility company if necessary.
5. If situation requires long-term maintenance and repair and prevents class activities, the Director, or his/her designee, may take measures to dismiss school for the day.
6. Where utility failure presents an emergency, evacuation procedures should be implemented immediately.

• Bomb Threat:

Person receiving call:

1. Listen - Do not interrupt caller.
2. If possible, alert other staff by a pre-arranged signal while the caller is on the line.
3. In the event that a bomb threat is received, it is important for the person receiving the call to attempt to keep the caller on the telephone as long as possible. It is also important to listen carefully to all information provided by the caller and to make a note of any voice characteristics, accents, or background noises.
4. Attempt to ask questions and elicit the information required to determine the severity of the threat.
5. Notify School Director, or his/her designee, immediately.

The Director or his/her designee will:

1. Notify Police Department – Dial 911.

2. With the assistance of responding law enforcement personnel, conduct a thorough search of the building & surrounding areas:

- o Classrooms and work areas.
- o Public areas - foyers, office bathrooms and stairwells.
- o Lockers and unlocked closets.
- o Exterior areas -- shrubbery, trashcans, debris boxes, gas valves, etc.
- o Power sources -- electric panels, telephone panels, computer rooms, etc.

3. With assistance from responding law enforcement personnel and/or Fire Department, the Director, or his/her designee, will evaluate the threat and will determine whether to evacuate the building and/or to continue to search the premises.
 4. If there appears to be imminent danger, a fire drill may be called while approval for student release or site evacuation is sought. The Director, or his/her designee, must grant approval for student release.
 5. An incident report should be drafted before the end of the workweek.
- Explosion:

If an explosion occurs at the school, the following procedures should be used:

1. Give DROP AND COVER command.
2. Sound building fire alarm. This will automatically implement action to leave the building.
3. Notify Fire Department – Dial 911.
4. Provide the following information:
 - School name.
 - Building address, including nearest cross street(s).
 - Exact location within the building.
 - Your name and phone number.
5. Evacuate to outdoor assembly area.
6. Check attendance. Remain with students.
7. Render first aid as necessary.
8. Notify grounds and building personnel.
9. Keep students and staff at a safe distance from the building(s) and away from firefighting equipment.

10. Public safety officials will determine when the building is safe for re-entry, and along with the Director, or his/her designee, whether student release from the school site is necessary.
11. Draft incident report by the end of the week.

- Fighting or Riot:

School staff should follow these guidelines when a fight occurs:

1. Send a reliable student to the office to summon assistance.
2. Speak loudly and let everyone know that the behavior should stop immediately.
3. Obtain help from other teachers if at all possible.
4. If students are starting to gather, attempt to get students away from the commotion as quickly as possible.

5. Call out the names of the involved students (if known) and let them know they have been identified.
6. For the safety of all students, get additional help from law enforcement personnel if confronted with a serious fight, especially one that involves weapons.
7. Attempt to separate the involved students by speaking to them in an assertive tone of voice. Consider the age and/or size of the students, as well as personal safety, before stepping between/among those involved in an altercation. If successful in separating the students, try to avoid using further confrontational behavior.
8. Remember that no one can "cool down" instantly; give the students time to talk in a calm setting and gradually change the climate of the situation.

Staff should follow these guidelines when a riot occurs:

1. The Director, or his/her designee, should encourage teachers and staff to be sensitive to the emotional climate of the campus and attempt to defuse any tensions prior to the eruption of problems.
2. Notify local law enforcement of the disturbance and meet at a pre-designated site to evaluate the situation.
3. Have a law enforcement officer evaluate and call for any necessary resources such as back-up help, emergency medical help, etc.
4. Activate needed emergency plans, which may include:
 - a. Instructing office staff to handle communications and initiate lockdown orders.
 - b. Notify transportation to bring appropriate numbers of buses for evacuation or transportation if necessary.
 - c. Assign staff a temporary detention facility, such as a gymnasium, to secure students and log information.
 - d. Direct a teacher or designee to initiate lockdown and immobilize the campus.
 - e. Brief a representative to meet the media.
 - f. Assign staff to a pre-designated medical treatment/triage facility.

• Hostage Situation:

In case there is a hostage situation at the school, staff should attempt to follow these guidelines:

1. Stay calm.
2. Don't be a hero.
3. Follow instructions of captor.

4. Cooperate; be friendly if possible; don't argue with or antagonize captor or other hostages.
5. Inform captors of medical or other needs.
6. Be prepared to wait; elapsed time is a good sign.
7. Don't try to escape; don't try to resolve situation by force.
8. Be observant and remember everything that is seen or heard.
9. If a rescue takes place, lie on the floor and await instructions from rescuers.

The Director or his/her designee should be responsible for the following:

1. Immediately notify law enforcement.
2. Move other students and teachers completely away from those who are in the hostage situation.
3. Keep everyone as calm as possible.
4. Be prepared to answer questions from media or family.

• Death of a Student:

By far the worst crisis situation is the death of a student. When a student dies, emotional trauma is a natural occurrence for students, faculty, and staff. A student's death, which occurs on campus, particularly as a result of school violence, is admittedly the most extreme case of trauma for family and the school community. There is no procedure that fits every scenario; each case requires individual attention. Certainly, there is no prescribed method for dealing with such tragedy; however, the following are suggestions for a school's response to death, particularly death that occurs as a result of school violence:

1. After the initial response, administrators and counselors will meet immediately to review what has happened. Responding to the psychological needs of both staff and students as soon as possible is the best prevention for the development of post-traumatic stress.
2. Get as much information as possible from the family and ask their permission to share it with the students, faculty, and staff. Ask if they have any objection to students, faculty, and staff attending the funeral.
3. Relay the information to the students in a factual way, careful to avoid breaching the student or family's privacy. The Director and a counselor might consider moving from room to room to tell the students what has happened. They should tell the truth, allow for expression of feelings, and affirm any expressions or feelings the students have. Students need to be told that they may visit a counselor's office for special assistance if they need to talk.

4. If possible, allow a break after telling the students in order to give them an opportunity to express their grief with other students.
5. Upon returning to school, students should be allowed time to discuss their feelings, talk about the deceased, and discuss memories. Give students, faculty, and staff information about the funeral and allow them to attend, provided the family has granted permission.
6. Watch for trouble signs among the students. Be prepared to call in extra counselors if necessary.

- Intruder or Individual With Deadly Weapon:

If someone enters the school grounds or buildings with a deadly weapon, the staff should follow these guidelines:

1. Avoid confronting the student or gunman.
2. Notify the Director, or his/her designee, or school office immediately.
3. Identify the student or gunman (if known), the student or gunman's location, and the location of the weapon.

The Director or his/her designee should follow these guidelines:

1. Notify law enforcement immediately.
2. Identify the student or gunman (if known), the student or gunman's location, and the location of the weapon.
3. Determine the level of threat. If the level of threat is high, call for additional backup.
4. Attempt to get the weapon from the gunman or student through negotiation, or take other appropriate action with the aid of local law enforcement.
5. If the level of threat is low, call the student to the office and have law enforcement take the appropriate action.

B. Evacuation

In the event conditions in the community or within the school itself necessitate a site evacuation, the following steps should be taken:

The Director or his/her designee should:

1. Notify the school district office, county official or designee.
2. Notify local law enforcement authorities.

3. Notify school transportation support.
4. Note the special needs of students or staff.
5. Direct clerical staff to take schools master enrollment list.
6. Direct school nurse or designee to prepare emergency medications to be transported.
7. Direct all personnel to leave the building and secure the building.
8. Notify students' parents or legal guardians as situation permits.

School staff should:

1. Plan to evacuate his/her class and ride the bus or walk as situation dictates.
2. Take a copy of class enrollment list.
3. Take emergency instructional materials and first aid kits in the event the evacuation lasts several hours.
4. Notify the Director or his/her designee of any special needs of students and their requirements.

The first choice for a shelter during a building site evacuation is another building designated by the school district, county or other local authority. Once staff and students have arrived at the host site, the following steps should be taken:

1. Notify school nurse or local medical personnel of any medical emergencies.
2. Consider how students will be fed and restroom needs met.
3. Activate crisis intervention team to deal with any emotional trauma.
4. Provide area and materials for parents who may arrive to pick up students.
5. Provide an area for non-school community evacuees.

C. Floor Plan

©EdTec Inc. ECO v.1.0

Last Revised August 17, 2011

A floor plan of the school site buildings and grounds, which indicates the location of all exits, utility shut-offs, fire extinguishers, and emergency equipment and supplies, will be maintained and updated, as necessary. The floor plan should also indicate outdoor assembly area(s) and evacuation route(s) from the site.

A copy of the floor plan will be posted in each classroom at the school, in the school hallway and at the school's main office. Staff should familiarize themselves with the contents of the floor plan and with evacuation procedures.

D. Fire Drills

The school shall conduct fire drills on a quarterly basis to prepare for possible evacuation in case of an emergency. The Director, or his/her designee, will specify the date and time of fire drills.

Fire drills will be conducted on a monthly basis. Earthquake "drop and cover" drills will be conducted once per quarter. All students and staff are required to participate in these mandated drills.

The Director, or his/her designee, will designate an outdoor assembly area(s) where students and staff will gather whenever the building is evacuated. Unless instructed otherwise by public safety officials, students and staff will gather by class and attendance will be taken. The names of any missing individuals will be relayed to search and rescue teams and public safety officials.

E. Annual Inspections

The Director, or his/her designee, with the assistance of local support personnel where necessary, will conduct an annual inspection for situations that pose potential hazards. Of particular importance is proper storage of chemicals and correct labeling of all containers. Failure of one or more of the utilities (electricity, gas, water) constitutes a condition that must be dealt with on a situational basis. A walk-through inspection of each area of each building will be conducted using a checklist of the following:

1. Classroom
2. Corridors
3. Laboratory/Shop
4. Cafeteria/Auditorium (use for all assembly areas)
5. Kitchen
6. Office (also used for conference rooms)
7. Teacher's Workroom and Employee Lounge
8. Toilet
9. Custodial
10. Boiler Room
11. Storage Room (also use for File Rooms)

12. Yard (or Grounds)

Where multiple rooms of the same type are to be inspected (e.g., classrooms, offices), be sure to note the exact identification (e.g., Classroom 14, Room 7; second floor women's restroom). Complete each section of the checklist. Provide a brief description of the problem in the section provided.

Appropriate measures will be taken to correct the problem at the direction of the Director. When possible, personnel at the site (e.g., custodian) will handle corrections or repairs and may provide an estimate of the necessary repairs and corrections. The custodian or other buildings and grounds personnel will advise the Director, or his/her designee, of problems that cannot be corrected by site staff.

F. Parental Notification

In the case of an emergency requiring evacuation of the school site, parents will be notified as soon as possible. At the beginning of each school year, all parents will be asked to provide emergency contact information, sign an emergency medical release form for their child, and designate persons who are authorized to pick-up their child in the event of an emergency.

In the event of an emergency, parents/guardians should keep radios tuned to the local radio station for advisory information. Parents should not call the school because we must have the lines open for emergency calls.

G. Classroom Safety Kits

Emergency and first aid supplies are necessary when an emergency or injury occurs at the school. Emergency and first aid supplies should be kept in the school's central office and in individual classrooms as needed. At the beginning of each school year, each classroom will receive a classroom safety kit. Suggested items in case of an emergency:

- Blankets
- Matches
- Pillows
- Bottled Water
- Flashlights
- Paper Towels
- Batteries
- Wet Ones

Tweezers
Bandages
Instant Ice Packs
Ace Bandages
Package of Sewing Needles
Slings
Anti-bacterial salve
Steri-strips or butterfly stitches
Disposable gloves

In case of an emergency evacuation, staff will take this kit to the evacuation site, along with an attendance sheet.

H. School Safety Management Team

©EdTec Inc, ECO v.1.0

Last Revised August 17, 2011

page VI-F-27

The Director is the overall director of the School Safety Management Team and will appoint those members of the staff necessary to respond to issues of safety at the School and in the case of an emergency. Depending upon the nature of an emergency, additional administrative, teaching and support staff may also be part of the team, but may act only when assigned specific duties by the Director.

I. Guidelines for Handling the Media

Whenever a natural disaster or crisis situation occurs, media coverage is a certainty. School staff and administrators are encouraged to follow these guidelines when dealing with the media. The Director should assign a school spokesperson to deal directly with the media.

- Develop a written statement for dissemination.

- Get the maximum amount of information out to the media - and thus the public - as rapidly as possible.

Appoint a spokesperson (usually the principal).

Keep the staff informed through one person.

Be proactive with the media.

Contact the media before they contact the school.

Set geographic and time limits.

Explain restrictions.

Hold the press accountable.

Create positive relations with the media before an emergency crisis occurs.

Stress positive actions taken by the school.

Announce new changes made after the incident has passed.

J. Drugs, Alcohol and Tobacco

The use or possession of drugs, alcohol or tobacco are strictly prohibited at the school or around school grounds. If a member of staff suspects that a student is in the possession of a controlled substance, he or she should:

1. Identify the parties involved.
2. Notify the Director or his/her designee immediately.
3. Follow-up with a written incident report, including any witness statements.

The Director, or his/her designee, should do the following:

1. Assess the situation and determine the level of assistance needed (i.e. school counselor, police)
2. Isolate the parties involved for interview/investigation.
3. Notify parent or legal guardian.
4. Obtain witness statements and document in a written incident report.

5. Determine disciplinary consequences. See School Disciplinary, Suspension & Expulsion Policy.
6. Determine what intervention or follow-up procedures are necessary including counseling.

K. Child Abuse Reporting

Child abuse shall be reported in compliance with the procedures set forth in the school's Employee Handbook and in accordance with California law. The reporting of suspected child abuse is mandatory.

All employees of the School are committed to children. Professionals who work with or regularly come into contact with children have a crucial role in their protection. Mandated reporters are designated as such because they are in a position to receive information that a child is or may be at risk, and to pass this information on to the agencies that can intervene to protect the child.

When a teacher or other school staff suspects a case of child abuse, he or she should contact the appropriate child protective authorities immediately.

L. Campus "Coming and Going"

Visitors and guests are welcome at the school. However, to safeguard students and staff, reasonable precautions should be taken.

Visitors should:

1. Always report and sign in at the office.
2. Be provided with a visitor's badge.
3. Be prepared to provide identification to school personnel.
4. Respect school rules.

School personnel should:

1. Ensure all exterior doors are marked with a notice to visitors to first report to the office.
2. Exterior doors should remain locked, except doors near the office area.
3. Staff should receive training on how to greet visitors. The first question is "May I help you?"
4. Someone should greet every visitor.
5. Any intruder found roaming the building should be escorted to the office. Someone can then provide any additional information or directions. (NOTE: An intruder is anyone without a visitor's badge or lacking visible identification stating who they are, i.e., school employee)

Visitors who fail to comply with school procedures:

©EdTec Inc. ECO v.1.0

1. Should verbally be informed they are in violation of school policy. (Example - "Sir, you must report to the office immediately. If you fail to do so, you will be considered a trespasser, and school security will be called.")
2. If this fails:
 - Notify the office of the situation.
 - Follow the person, if possible, and continue to give notice of the violation of school rules.
3. Police should be notified, or call 911.
4. Office should activate building-wide notification plan concerning intruder:
 - PA announcement using pre-determined code phrase.
 - Classroom doors should be closed.
 - Students should remain in current areas.

M. Notifying Teachers of Dangerous Pupils

1. The Director will inform teachers and other relevant staff of students who are defined as dangerous as set forth in the California Education Code sec. 48900, including the exceptions to this rule provided therein. The School will provide this information to the teacher based upon any records that the school maintains in its ordinary course of business, or receives from a law enforcement agency, regarding a pupil described in this Section. The School is not civilly or criminally liable for providing information unless it is proven that the information was false and that the School employee knew or should have known that the information was false, or the information was provided with a reckless disregard for its truth or falsity.
2. Any information received by a teacher pursuant to this Section shall be received in confidence for the limited purpose for which it was provided and shall not be further disseminated by the teacher.

N. Harassment and Discrimination

Harassment and Discrimination are prohibited. They include the following:

Last Revised August 17, 2011

page VI-F-29

- Verbal Threats
- Threatening Behavior
- Hazing
- Intimidation
- Gang Behavior
- Fights

Policies for dealing with harassment and discrimination are described in the Employee Handbook.

If harassment or discrimination occurs, school staff should:

1. Evaluate the seriousness of the situation and determine the level of assistance needed. If intervention is required, contact support staff. Where a threat of serious bodily injury and/or weapons are involved, call 911.
2. Identify the parties involved and give specific verbal directions to discuss the situation. Where a physical altercation is occurring, or is about to occur, call for staff support and immediately separate the parties involved.

3. Document the incident, including the names of witnesses and any statements.
4. Give incident reports to the Director, or his/her designee, as soon as possible.

The Director, or his/her designee, should:

1. Assess the seriousness of the incident. If assistance is needed, call necessary support staff. Where a threat of serious bodily injury or weapons is involved, call 911.
2. Identify the parties involved.
3. Seek written documentation from witnesses.
Determine disciplinary consequences. See Employee Handbook; and Disciplinary, Suspension & Expulsion Policy.
5. Determine what intervention or follow-up is necessary, including referral to a school counselor, psychologist, or local law enforcement.

Child Abuse Reporting

WHAT IS CHILD ABUSE AND NEGLECT?

Child abuse can be caused by family members, acquaintances, or strangers.

CHILD ABUSE IS:

- physical injury that is inflicted by other than accidental means on a child by another person;
- sexual abuse or molestation;
- mental suffering or well-being endangered;
- unjustifiable punishment;
- neglect, including failure to provide food, shelter, or proper hygiene;

- unlawful corporal punishment or injury.

CHILD ABUSE IS NOT:

- a mutual affray between minors;
- an injury caused by reasonable and necessary force used by a peace officer acting within the course and scope of his or her employment as a peace officer.

WHO MUST REPORT?

This is a select list of mandated reporters employed with Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists. A complete list of mandated reporters is found at section 11165.7 of the Penal Code. The absence of training shall not excuse a mandated reporter from their duties.

- A teacher
- An instructional aide, teacher's aide, or teacher's assistant.
- A classified employee of any public school.
- An administrative officer or supervisor of child welfare and attendance, or a certificated pupil personnel employee of any public or private school.
- An administrator of a public or private day camp, youth center, youth recreation program, or youth organization.
- A licensee, an administrator, or an employee of a licensed community care or child day care facility.
- An employee of a school district police or security department.
- Any person who is an administrator or presenter of, or a counselor in, a child abuse prevention program in any public or private school.
- A physician, psychiatrist, psychologist, intern, marriage, family and child counselor, inter or trainee.

PENALTIES FOR FAILURE TO REPORT

Child abuse and neglect reporting is an individual duty.

Failure to report is a crime!

Any mandated reporter who fails to report is guilty of a misdemeanor punishable by up to six months confinement in a county jail or by a fine of one thousand dollars ($1000) or by both a fine and punishment.

WHAT IS A REASONABLE SUSPICION?

General Considerations

Reporting is an individual responsibility and requires independent judgment. People may differ on what would make them “reasonably suspect” child abuse or neglect.

Trust your instincts. When you feel that you have enough information, you should report.

You may want to write down, for yourself, the factor or factors that make you suspect abuse or neglect. Articulating your concerns on paper may help you determine whether you feel that you have enough information. This will also be helpful if and when you file a written report.

Don't worry about statutes of limitations or whether suspected abuse happened in the past. If you reasonably suspect that child abuse occurred at any time, report it.

DO NOT investigate the abuse yourself. Leave it to the professionals.

Youth pregnancy alone does not necessarily constitute reasonable suspicion.

WHAT IS A REASONABLE SUSPICION?

Physical Abuse

Any number of factors may contribute to your individual determination regarding a reasonable suspicion of physical abuse. The following are examples of indicators, but this list is by no means definitive.

- The type and location of an injury can help distinguish accidental injuries from suspected physical abuse. Injuries to the elbows, knees or forehead are typical locations of accidental injuries, like trips and falls. Typical locations of injuries resulting from abuse are the back surface of a child's body from the neck to the knees, or injuries to the face.
- A statement by the child that the injury was caused by abuse. Children rarely lie about abuse, so take their comments to heart.
- The child has a history of previous or recurrent injuries.
- The parent cannot explain reason for an injury, or there are discrepancies in the explanation.

The following behaviors are often exhibited by abused children:

- fear of parents or caretakers;
- the child and/or parent or caretaker attempts to hid injuries;
- child is frequently absent from school or misses physical education classes if changing into gym clothes is required;
- the adolescent exhibits depression, self-mutilation, suicide attempts, substance abuse, or sleeping and eating disorders

WHAT IS A REASONABLE SUSPICION?

Physical Neglect

Neglect includes both acts and omissions by a parent or caretaker. California law defines two categories of neglect: severe neglect and general neglect.

- Severe neglect means the negligent failure of a parent or caretaker to protect the child from severe malnutrition or a medically diagnosed non-organic failure to thrive. It also includes situations where the parent or caretaker willfully causes or permits the body or health of the child to be endangered. This includes the intentional failure to provide adequate food, clothing, shelter or medical care.
- General neglect means the negligent failure of a parent or caretaker to provide adequate food, clothing, shelter, medical care or supervision where not physical injury to the child has occurred. Neglect may be suspected when one or more of the following conditions exist:
 - The child is lacking adequate medical or dental care;
 - The child is often sleepy or hungry or malnourished
 - The child is often dirty, demonstrates poor personal hygiene;
 - The child is depressed, withdrawn or apathetic, exhibits antisocial or destructive behavior, shows fearfulness, or suffers from substance abuse, speech, eating or habit disorders (biting, rocking, whining).

WHAT IS A REASONABLE SUSPICION?

Sexual Abuse

- The single most important indicator is a statement by the child to a friend, classmate, teacher, or other trusted adult. The statement may be hypothetical ("I know someone who.....), or direct.
- The disclosure may be delayed. This is rarely an indication that the story is fabricated, as children seldom invent allegations of sexual abuse.
- Pregnancy of a minor does not, in and of itself, constitute the basis of reasonable suspicion of sexual abuse. You may develop a reasonable suspicion, however, based on information inferring coercion, rape, or a large age gap between the child and the person she states is the father.
- Abused children sometimes display a detailed and age-inappropriate understanding of sexual behavior.

HOW TO REPORT

First by telephone:

Once you have determined that a reasonable suspicion exists, you must report immediately or as soon as is practicably possible by telephone.: 800-540-4000 is the child abuse hotline.

- Report must be made to the police department, sheriff's department, county probation department if designated by the county to receive mandated reports, or the county welfare department.
- You MAY NOT report to school district police or security department.
- Be prepared to provide the following information by telephone:
 - your name, business address, and telephone number
 - your job title
 - the child's name and address, present location
 - the child's school, grade, and class
 - the names, addresses, and telephone numbers of the child's parents or guardians
 - the information that gave rise to the reasonable suspicion of
 - child abuse or neglect and the source or sources of that information
 - the name, address, telephone number, and other relevant
 - personal information about the person or persons who might have abused or neglected the child
- You must make a report even if some of this information is not known or is uncertain.

HOW TO REPORT

- A written report must be sent to Child Protective Services within 36 hours of your initial report. An official copy should be available in the front office at your school site and from Child Welfare and Attendance.
- Keep the copy marked "Reporting Party" for your own records.
- If you determine on a Friday, or before a holiday, that reasonable suspicion exists, you should make the written report that day because the deadline may fall when school is not in session.
- If two or more mandated reporters have a reasonable suspicion of child abuse, they may elect one person to make the report. EACH PERSON STILL HAS AN INDIVIDUAL DUTY TO MAKE SURE THAT IT IS DONE. Follow up with the elected person and verify that the report was made. If in doubt, make the report yourself.

CONFIDENTIALITY

- Mandated reports are confidential and may be disclosed only among agencies receiving, investigating, and prosecuting.

- Any violation of confidentiality is a misdemeanor punishable by imprisonment in a county jail not to exceed six months, by a fine of five hundred dollars ($500), or by both imprisonment and fine.
- Do not discuss the details and information with your colleagues, except as suggested by District policy.
- A mandated reporter cannot be required to disclose his or her identity to their employer.
- Do not tell the parent about the report, even if you do not suspect that the parent is responsible.
- Deflect parental contact. Parents sometimes guess who was responsible for reporting. Tell the parent that you cannot discuss it.
- If the police or a child protective services worker discloses to anyone that you made a report, call their supervisor.

IMMUNITY

- Mandated reporters are immune from both civil and criminal liability when making reports.
- Any person, who, pursuant to a request from a government agency investigating a report of suspected child abuse or neglect, provides the requesting agency with access to the victim of a known or suspected instance of child abuse or neglect shall not incur civil or criminal liability as a result of providing that access.

School Discipline

A. Statement of Rules and Procedures On School Discipline

Education Code 44807:

"Every teacher in the public schools shall hold Pupils to a strict account for their conduct on the way to and from school, on the playgrounds, or during recess. A teacher, vice principal, principal, or any other certificated employee of a school district, shall not be subject to criminal prosecution or criminal penalties for the exercise, during the performance of his duties, of the same degree of physical control over a pupil that a parent would be legally privileged to exercise but which in no event shall exceed the amount of physical control reasonably necessary to maintain order, protect property, or protect the health and safety of pupils, or to maintain proper and appropriate conditions conducive to learning."

B. Notification to Students and Parents

Education Code 35291:

.a. Parents and students shall be notified of the District and school site rules pertaining to student discipline at the beginning of the first semester, and at the time of enrollment for students who enroll thereafter. The discipline policy shall be reviewed annually with input from the site administrators, campus, staff, students, and parents.

Suspension & Expulsion Policies

Student Suspension and Expulsion Policy

The Pupil Suspension and Expulsion Policy will be established and adopted by the governing board in order to promote learning and protect the safety and well being of all students at the Charter School. In creating this policy, the Charter School has reviewed Education Code Section 48900 et seq, which describes the non-charter schools' list of offenses and procedures to establish its list of offenses and procedures for suspensions and expulsions.

Suspension Procedure

Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists will provide a Student Handbook to each family upon enrollment that delineates the list of offenses and progressive discipline procedures and expectations to provide adequate safety for students, staff, and visitors to the school in order to serve the best interests of the school's pupils and their parents/guardians. School staff will enforce all disciplinary rules and procedures fairly and consistently among all students.

Suspension and Expulsion Periodic Review

The Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists' Board of Directors or a committee appointed by the Board of Directors will hold an annual review of the Suspension and Expulsion Procedures to make sure that the policies and procedures are in the best interest of the school, are aligned with applicable law, and are efficient, effective, and fair. As part of the review, the Board of Trustees will make any necessary modifications to the list of offenses for which students are subject to suspension or expulsion.

The principal will provide a report to the Board which shall include consideration of the findings of the annual reports of student conduct, including suspensions and expulsions; input from faculty, staff, parents and pupils, to be collected from sources such as surveys and meetings; and changes necessary to comply with applicable state and/or federal law.

When the Policy is violated, it may be necessary to suspend or expel a student from regular classroom instruction. As outlined in sections A and B below, there are listed serious offenses for which expulsion may be mandatory or recommended. This policy shall serve as the model for the Charter School's policy and procedures for student suspension and expulsion which will be updated yearly for the school handbook in order to reflect Education Code changes. If changes occur after publication and the board approves the changes, students and families shall receive notice of these changes both in writing and on all documentation associated with the school, such as published handbooks and the website. Charter School staff shall enforce disciplinary rules and procedures fairly and consistently among all students. These Policy and its Procedures will be printed and distributed as part of the Student Handbook and will clearly describe discipline expectations. Corporal punishment shall not be used as a disciplinary measure against any student. Corporal punishment includes the willful infliction of or willfully causing the infliction of physical pain on a student. For purposes of the Policy, corporal punishment does not include an employee's use of force that is reasonable and necessary to protect the employee, students, staff or other persons or to prevent damage to school property.

The school administration shall ensure that students and their parents/guardians are notified in writing upon enrollment of all discipline policies and procedures. The notice shall state that these Policy and Procedures are available on request at the Principal's office.

Suspended or expelled students shall be excluded from all school and school-related activities unless otherwise agreed during the period of suspension or expulsion.

Wisdom Academy for Young Scientist shall provide due process for all students, including adequate notice to parents/guardians and students regarding the grounds for suspension and expulsion and their due process rights regarding suspension and expulsion, including rights to appeal.

Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists shall ensure that its policies and procedures regarding suspension and expulsion will be periodically reviewed, and modified as necessary, including, for example, any modification of the lists of offenses for which students are subject to suspension or expulsion.

Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists shall ensure the appropriate interim placement of students during and pending the completion of the Charter School's student expulsion process.

Wisdom Academy will implement operational and procedural guidelines ensuring federal and state laws and regulations regarding the discipline of students with disabilities are met. If the student receives or is eligible for special education, Wisdom Academy shall identify and provide special education programs and services at the appropriate interim educational placement, pending the completion of the expulsion process.

Wisdom Academy shall utilize alternatives to suspension and expulsion with students who are truant, tardy, or otherwise absent from compulsory school activities.

If it is determined by the Board of Directors that a student has brought a fire arm or destructive device, as defined in Section 921 of Title 18 of the United States Code, on to campus or to have possessed a firearm or dangerous device on campus, the student shall be expelled for one year, pursuant to the Federal Gun Free Schools Act of 1994.

The term "firearm" means (A) any weapon (including a starter gun) which will or is designed to or may readily be converted to expel a projectile by the action of an explosive; (B) the frame or receiver of any such weapon; (C) any firearm muffler or firearm silencer; or (D) any destructive device. Readmission

Students found to have committed any non-discretionary offenses will be expelled for one school year. The Charter School's governing board shall adopt rules establishing a procedure for the filing and processing of requests for readmission and the process for the required review of all expelled pupils for readmission. Upon completion of the readmission process, the Charter School's governing board shall readmit the pupil, unless the Charter School's governing board makes a finding that the pupil continues to pose a danger to campus safety. A description of the procedure shall be made available to the pupil and the pupil's parent or guardian at the time the expulsion order is entered. The Charter School is responsible for reinstating the student upon the conclusion of the expulsion period.

Progression of Discipline, Teachers to Administration

Teachers are responsible for the day-to-day discipline in their classrooms while working with their students to meet their individual needs in order that learning takes place. WAYS has a discipline structure and character-building program that delineates uniform, school-wide expectations for conduct. When it become necessary to implement disciplinary action, the following options are available to the teachers: warning, detention, parent-teacher communication, counseling referral, written assignment, and discipline referral to the Principal. Prior to suspensions and expulsions, students may receive any or all of the following: warnings, detentions, phone calls home, parent conferences, and a behavior contract. Any WAYS teacher may assign a teacher's detention to a student. During detention students may have to write a reflective response about their conduct that could require a parent signature. Detentions will be held onsite during lunch or after school. A teacher may elect to hold detention in a classroom or in a designated detention room.

Offenses That May Result in a Teacher's Detention

Teacher and Administrative detention process is the same. As a general rule teachers assign a Teacher Detention for minor classroom misconduct such as: cell phone usage, passing notes, making noises, minor inappropriate conflicts with others, or cheating. Repeated violations by individuals will be referred to the Principal. When there is a serious violation of the rules, the student will be referred to the Principal. A serious violation may include any violation listed under Suspension of Expulsion section in this element of the charter petition below:

Suspension is intended to remove the student from peers and the class environment. This separation provides the student time to reflect on his or her behavior and a possible pattern of behavior that will be more positive, as well as to protect the student body as a whole from dangerous and disruptive behavior.

A student serving on campus suspension reports to school at the regular time. Each teacher will give the student written assignments that he or she must complete under the direct supervision of the Principal or designee. The student will eat lunch in the assigned room.

Whether suspension occurs in school or out, the maximum number of consecutive days a student may be suspended five (5), unless the suspension is extended pending an expulsion hearing from the recommendation of the Administrative Panel. Upon a recommendation of Expulsion by the Panel, the pupil and the pupil's guardian or representative will be invited to a conference with the Administrative Panel to determine if the suspension for the pupil should be extended pending an expulsion hearing. The Administrative Panel will make this determination: 1) the pupil's presence will be disruptive to the education process; or 2) the pupil poses a threat or danger to others. Upon either determination, the pupil's suspension will be extended pending the results of an expulsion hearing. Students shall not be suspended for more than twenty (20) school days in a year, unless the suspension has been extended pending an expulsion hearing. Students on suspension pending an expulsion hearing may request that academic work be made available for pick up at the office.

Suspensions shall include the following procedures:

Conference - Suspension shall be preceded, if possible, by a conference conducted by the Principal or the Principal's designee with the student and his or her parent and, whenever practical, the teacher, supervisor or Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists employee who referred the student. The conference may be omitted if the Principal or designee determines that an emergency situation exists. An "emergency situation" involves a clear and present danger to the lives, safety or health of students or Charter School personnel. If a student is suspended without this conference, both the parent/guardian and student shall be notified of the student's right to return to school for the purpose of a conference.

At the conference, the pupil shall be informed of the reason for the disciplinary action and the evidence against him or her and shall be given the opportunity to present his or her version and evidence in his or her defense. This conference shall be held within two school days, unless the pupil waives this right or is physically unable to attend for any reason including, but not limited to, incarceration or hospitalization. No penalties may be imposed on a pupil for failure of the pupil's parent or guardian to attend a conference with Charter School officials. Reinstatement of the suspended pupil shall not be contingent upon attendance by the pupil's parent or guardian at the conference.

Notices to Parents/Guardians

At the time of the suspension, an administrator or designee shall make a reasonable effort to contact the parent/guardian by telephone or in person. Whenever a student is suspended, the parent/guardian shall be notified in writing of the suspension and the date of return following suspension. This notice shall state the specific offense committed by the student. In addition, the notice may also state the date and time when the student may return to school. If Charter School officials wish to ask the parent/guardian to confer regarding matters pertinent to the suspension, the notice may request that the parent/guardian respond to such requests without delay.

Authority to Expel

A student may be expelled by the Board following a hearing before it or upon the recommendation of an Administrative Panel. The Panel would be convened as part of the suspension and expulsion process once it was determined that there is any reasonable concern that the pupil was in danger of expulsion or extended suspension. The Administrative Panel should consist of at least three members of the faculty or professional representatives who are certificated but are neither a teacher of the pupil or a Board member of Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists' governing board. The Administrative Panel may recommend expulsion to the Board of any student found to have committed an expellable offense.

Expulsion Procedures

Students recommended for expulsion are entitled to a hearing to determine whether the student should be expelled. Unless postponed for good cause, the hearing shall be held within thirty (30) school days after the Principal or designee determines that the pupil has committed an expellable offense.

In the event an administrative panel hears the case, it will make a recommendation to the Board for a final decision whether to expel. The hearing shall be held in closed session unless the pupil makes a written request for a public hearing three (3) days prior to the hearing.

Written notice of the hearing shall be forwarded to the student and the student's parent/guardian at least ten (10) calendar days before the date of the hearing. Upon mailing the notice, it shall be deemed served upon the pupil. The notice shall include:

1. The date and place of the expulsion hearing;
2. A statement of the specific facts, charges and offenses upon which the proposed expulsion is based;
3. A copy of the Charter School's disciplinary rules which relate to the alleged violation;

4. Notification of the student's or parent/guardian's obligation to provide information about the student's status at the school to any other school district or school to which the student seeks enrollment;
5. The opportunity for the student or the student's parent/guardian to appear in person or to employ and be represented by counsel or a non-attorney advisor;
6. The right to inspect and obtain copies of all documents to be used at the hearing;
7. The opportunity to confront and question all witnesses who testify at the hearing;
8. The opportunity to question all evidence presented and to present oral and documentary evidence on the student's behalf including witnesses.

Special Procedures for Expulsion Hearings Involving Sexual Assault or Battery Offenses

Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists may, upon a finding of good cause, determine that the disclosure of either the identity of the witness or the testimony of that witness at the hearing, or both, would subject the witness to an unreasonable risk of psychological or physical harm. Upon this determination, the testimony of the witness may be presented at the hearing in the form of sworn declarations which shall be examined only by Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists or the hearing officer. Copies of these sworn declarations, edited to delete the name and identity of the witness, shall be made available to the pupil.

1. The complaining witness in any sexual assault or battery case must be provided with a copy of the applicable disciplinary rules and advised of his/her right to (a) receive five days notice of his/her scheduled testimony, (b) have up to two (2) adult support persons of his/her choosing present in the hearing at the time he/she testifies, which may include a parent, guardian, or legal counsel, and (c) elect to have the hearing closed while testifying.
2. The Charter School must also provide the victim a room separate from the hearing room for the complaining witness' use prior to and during breaks in testimony.
3. At the discretion of the panel conducting the hearing, the complaining witness shall be allowed periods of relief from examination and cross-examination during which he or she may leave the hearing room.
4. The panel conducting the expulsion hearing may also arrange the seating within the hearing room to facilitate a less intimidating environment for the complaining witness.
5. The panel conducting the expulsion hearing may also limit time for taking the testimony of the complaining witness to the hours he/she is normally in school, if there is no good cause to take the testimony during other hours.
6. Prior to a complaining witness testifying, the support persons must be admonished that the hearing is confidential. Nothing in the law precludes the person presiding over the hearing from removing a support person whom the presiding person finds is disrupting the hearing. The panel conducting the hearing may permit any one of the support persons for the complaining witness to accompany him or her to the witness stand.

7. If one or both of the support persons is also a witness, the Charter School must present evidence that the witness' presence is both desired by the witness and will be helpful to the Charter School. The person presiding over the hearing shall permit the witness to stay unless it is established that there is a substantial risk that the testimony of the complaining witness would be influenced by the support person, in which case the presiding official shall admonish the support person or persons not to prompt, sway, or influence the witness in any way. Nothing shall preclude the presiding officer from exercising his or her discretion to remove a person from the hearing whom he or she believes is prompting, swaying, or influencing the witness.

8. The testimony of the support person shall be presented before the testimony of the complaining witness and the complaining witness shall be excluded from the courtroom during that testimony.

9. Especially for charges involving sexual assault or battery, if the hearing is to be conducted in the public at the request of the pupil being expelled, the complaining witness shall have the right to have his/her testimony heard in a closed session when testifying at a public meeting would threaten serious psychological harm to the complaining witness and there are no alternative procedures to avoid the threatened harm. The alternative procedures may include videotaped depositions or contemporaneous examination in another place communicated to the hearing room by means of closed-circuit television.

10. Evidence of specific instances of a complaining witness's prior sexual conduct is presumed inadmissible and shall not be heard absent a determination by the person conducting the hearing that extraordinary circumstances exist requiring the evidence be heard. Before such a determination regarding extraordinary circumstance can be made, the witness shall be provided notice and an opportunity to present opposition to the introduction of the evidence. In the hearing on the admissibility of the evidence, the complaining witness shall be entitled to be represented by a parent, legal counsel, or other support person. Reputation or opinion evidence regarding the sexual behavior of the complaining witness is not admissible for any purpose.

Record of Hearing

A record of the hearing shall be made and may be maintained by any means, including electronic recording, as long as a reasonably accurate and complete written transcription of the proceedings can be made.

Presentation of Evidence

While technical rules of evidence do not apply to expulsion hearings, evidence may be admitted and used as proof only if it is the kind of evidence on which reasonable persons can rely in the conduct of serious affairs. A recommendation by the administrative panel to expel must be supported by substantial evidence that the student committed an expellable offense.

Findings of fact shall be based solely on the evidence at the hearing. While hearsay evidence is admissible, no decision to expel shall be based solely on hearsay and sworn declarations may be admitted as testimony from witnesses of whom the Board of Directors, administrative panel or designee determines that disclosure of their identity or testimony at the hearing may subject them to an unreasonable risk of physical or psychological harm.

If, due to a written request by the expelled pupil, the hearing is held at a public meeting, and the charge is committing or attempting to commit a sexual assault or committing a sexual battery as defined in Education Code Section 48900, a complaining witness shall have the right to have his or her testimony heard in a session closed to the public.

The decision of the Administrative Panel shall be in the form of written findings of fact and a written recommendation to the Board of Directors who will make a final determination regarding the expulsion. The final decision by the Board shall be made within ten (10) school days following the conclusion of the hearing. The decision of the Board of Directors is final.

If the administrative panel decides not to recommend expulsion, the pupil shall immediately be returned to his/her educational program.

Written Notice to Expel

The Principal, following a decision of the Board of Directors to expel, shall send written notice of the decision to expel, including the Board of Directors' adopted findings of fact, to the student or parent/guardian. This notice shall also include the following:

- Notice of the specific offense committed by the student
- Notice of the student's or parent/guardian's obligation to inform any new district in which the student seeks to enroll of the student's status with WAYS.

The Principal or designee shall send a copy of the written notice of the decision to expel to LACOE. This notice shall include the following:

- The student's name, and
- The specific expellable offense committed by the student.

Additionally, in accordance with Education Code Section 47605(d)(3), upon expulsion of any student, Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists shall notify the superintendent of the school district of the pupil's last known address within thirty (30) days, and shall, upon request, provide that school district with a copy of the cumulative record of the pupil, including a transcript of grades or report card and health information.

The Board of Directors' decision to expel shall be final.

If a student is expelled from Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists, the school shall forward student records upon request of the receiving school district in a timely fashion, WAYS shall also submit an expulsion packet to LACOE immediately or as soon as practically possible, containing:

- pupil's last known address
- a copy of the cumulative record
- transcript of grades or report card
- health information
- documentation of the expulsion proceeding, including specific facts supporting the expulsion
- student's current educational placement
- copy of parental notice expulsion
- copy of documentation of expulsion provided to parent stating reason for expulsion, term of expulsion, rehabilitation plan, reinstatement notice with eligibility date and instructions for providing proof of student's compliance for reinstatement, appeal process and options for enrollment.
- if the Student is eligible for Special Education, the Charter School must provide documentation related to expulsion pursuant to IDEA including conducting a manifestation determination IEP prior to expulsion. If the student is eligible for Section 504 Accommodations, the Charter School must provide evidence that it convened a Link Determination meeting to address two questions: A) Was the misconduct caused by, or directly and substantially related to the student's disability: B) Was the misconduct a direct result of the Charter's failure to implement 504 Plan?

Staff Notification of Dangerous Students

Notification to Teacher Re: Violent or Dangerous Student

Ed Code 49079 requires that we notify classroom teachers of students who have engaged in, or are reasonably suspected of engaging in certain suspendable or expellable acts.

The goal of the plan is to define a system whereby every classroom teacher and substitute will have immediate access to the names of those students currently enrolled in his/her classroom who meet the criteria of Education Code section 48900, regarding violent or dangerous acts.

Each classroom teacher will be notified of any of his or her students who have committed an offense by e- mail or other means within a reasonable time from the date of offense.

Sexual Harassment Policy

Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists is committed to maintaining a working and learning environment that is free from sexual harassment. Sexual harassment of or by employees or students is a form of sex discrimination in that it constitutes differential treatment on the basis of sex, sexual orientation, or gender, and, for that reason, is a violation of state and federal laws and a violation of this policy.

Wisdom Academy considers sexual harassment to be a major offense, which can result in disciplinary action to the offending employee or the suspension or expulsion of the offending student in grades four through twelve. Suspension or expulsion as a disciplinary consequence for sexual harassment shall not apply to students enrolled in Kindergarten and grades one through three.

Any student or employee of the District who believes that she or he has been a victim of sexual harassment shall bring the problem to the attention of the proper authority (whether in an office or a school) so that appropriate action may be taken to resolve the problem. The District prohibits retaliatory behavior against anyone who files a sexual harassment complaint or any participant in the complaint investigation process. Any such complainant is further advised that civil law remedies may also be available to them. Complaints will be promptly investigated in a way that respects the privacy of the parties concerned.

The California Education Code Section 212.5 defines sexual harassment as any unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, or other unwelcome verbal, visual, or physical conduct of a sexual nature made by someone from or in the work or educational setting, under the following conditions:

- Submission to the conduct is explicitly or implicitly made a term or a condition of an individual's employment, academic status, or progress.
- Submission to, or rejection of, the conduct by the individual is used as the basis of employment or academic decisions affecting the individual.
- The conduct has the purpose or effect of having a negative impact upon the individual's work or academic performance, or of creating an intimidating, hostile, or offensive work or educational environment.
- Submission to, or rejection of, the conduct by the individual is used as the basis for any decision affecting the individual regarding benefits and services, honors, programs, or activities available at or through the educational institution.

Sexual harassment may include, but is not limited to:

- Unwelcome verbal conduct such as suggestive, derogatory comments, sexual innuendos, slurs, or unwanted sexual advances, invitations, or comments; pestering for dates; making threats; or spreading rumors about or rating others as to sexual activity or performance.
- Unwelcome visual conduct such as displays of sexually suggestive objects, pictures, posters, written material, cartoons, or drawings; graffiti of a sexual nature; or use of obscene gestures or leering.
- Unwelcome physical conduct such as unwanted touching, pinching, kissing, patting, hugging, blocking of normal movement, assault; or interference with work or study directed at an individual because of the individual's sex, sexual orientation, or gender.

- Threats and demands or pressure to submit to sexual requests in order to keep a job or academic standing or to avoid other loss, and offers of benefits in return for sexual favors.

Definitions: Incidents, Emergencies, Disasters

Incident

An incident is an occurrence or event, either human-caused or caused by natural phenomena, that requires action by emergency response personnel to prevent or minimize loss of life or damage to property and/or natural resources.

Incidents may result in extreme peril to the safety of persons and property and may lead to, or create conditions of disaster. Incidents may also be rapidly mitigated without loss or damage. Although they may not meet disaster level definition, larger incidents may call for managers to proclaim a "Local Emergency".

Incidents are usually a single event that may be small or large. They occur in a defined geographical area and require local resources or, sometimes, mutual aid. There is usually one to a few agencies involved in dealing with an ordinary threat to life and property and to a limited population. Usually a local emergency is not declared and the jurisdictional EOC is not activated. Incidents are usually of short duration, measured in hours or, at most, a few days. Primary command decisions are made at the scene along with strategy, tactics, and resource management decisions

Emergency

The term emergency is used in several ways. It is a condition of disaster or of extreme peril to the safety of persons and property. In this context, an emergency and an incident could mean the same thing, although an emergency could have more than one incident associated with it.

Emergency is also used in Standardized Emergency Management System (SEMS) terminology to describe agencies or facilities, e.g., Emergency Response Agency, Emergency Operations Center, etc.

Emergency also defines a conditional state such as a proclamation of "Local Emergency". The California Emergency Services Act, of which SEMS is a part, describes three states of emergency:

- State of War Emergency • State of Emergency • State of Local Emergency

Disaster

A disaster is defined as a sudden calamitous emergency event bringing great damage, loss, or destruction. Disasters may occur with little or no advance warning, e.g., an earthquake or a flash flood, or they may develop from one or more incidents, e.g., a major wildfire or hazardous materials discharge.

Disasters are either single or multiple events that have many separate incidents associated with them. The resource demand goes beyond local capabilities and extensive mutual aid and support are needed. There are many agencies and jurisdictions involved including multiple layers of government. There is usually an extraordinary threat to life and property affecting a generally widespread population and geographical area. A disaster's effects last over a substantial period of time (days to weeks) and local government will proclaim a Local Emergency. Emergency Operations Centers are activated to provide centralized overall coordination of jurisdictional assets, departments and incident support functions. Initial recovery coordination is also a responsibility of the EOC's.

District and Parent Responsibilities for Students

District Responsibility

- If the superintendent declares a district emergency during the school day, the following procedures will be followed:

IN CASE OF A DECLARED EMERGENCY DURING SCHOOL HOURS, ALL STUDENTS WILL BE REQUIRED TO REMAIN AT SCHOOL OR AT AN ALTERNATE SAFE SITE UNDER THE SUPERVISION OF THE SCHOOL PRINCIPAL OR OTHER PERSONNEL ASSIGNED BY THE PRINCIPAL.

- 1.) Until regular dismissal time and released only then if it is considered safe
 - 2.) Until released to an adult authorized by the parent or legal guardian whose name appears on district records.
- 3.) If students are on their way to school, they will be brought to school if bussed, or they should proceed to school if walking.
 - 4.) If students are on their way home from school, they are to continue home.
- During a Declared Emergency, those students who have not been picked up by their parents or other authorized person may be taken by district personnel to another site where consolidated care facilities can be provided. This information will be given to the media stations and posted at the site to keep parents informed.

Parent Responsibility

- Parents and legal guardians of students will be provided with a Student Disaster Preparedness Form or emergency Card each year. In case of a Declared Emergency, students will be released ONLY to persons designated on this form. Parents are responsible for ensuring that information on the Disaster Preparedness Form or Emergency Card is current at all times.
- Parents are asked to share with the schools the responsibility for informing students of what they should do in case of a severe earthquake or other major emergency. Parents need to give specific directions to each student to follow the policy outlined above and to follow the directions of school personnel.

- School authorities will do everything possible to care for each student while he/she is under district supervision.
- It is critical that students do not have directions from parents that are contrary to the district's stated policy on retention at school and authorized release in case of a severe emergency.

Responsibilities for a School Disaster

- Everyone at Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists will have some responsibilities in an emergency based on their job, and some people will have additional responsibilities. Below is a short discussion of how the Standard Emergency Management System (SEMS) and the Incident Command System (ICS) will be adapted at our school.
- Every emergency, no matter how large or small, requires that certain tasks be performed. In ICS, these tasks are called Management, Planning, Operations, Logistics, and Finance/Administration.
- Under SEMS, the ICS team can be expanded or reduced, depending on the situation and the immediate needs. One person can do more than one function.

Critical Information for 9-1-1 Calls:

When to call:

POLICE: for any situation that is suspicious or where you feel that you or another person may be harmed or in danger. □ FIRE: Any fire. Any hazardous situation (chemical spills, flooding, downed wires, etc)

AMBULANCE: Any severe medical problem of an adult or child.

What to expect when you call 9-1-1:

You will be asked to remain on the line if you are in a place of safety.

- Try to remain as calm as possible.
- Remember that the dispatcher does not have to hang up in order to send help. They may remain on the phone with you and another dispatcher will send assistance.
- Do not assume the dispatcher knows where you are located. Always provide a location of occurrence.

Earthquake Drill

The earthquake emergency procedure system shall encompass, but not be limited to, all of the following:

Drop procedure:

"Drop procedure" means an activity whereby each student and staff member takes cover under a table or desk, dropping to his or her knees, with the head protected by the arms, and their back to the windows. A drop procedure practice shall be held at least once each semester in secondary schools.

Protective measures to be taken before, during and following an earthquake. A program to ensure that the students, certificated and classified staff are aware of, and properly trained in, the earthquake emergency procedure system. (Education Code Section 35297)

Whenever an earthquake alarm is sounded, all students, teachers and other employees shall immediately begin Duck, Cover and Hold procedures:

- DUCK, or DROP down on the floor.
- Take COVER under a sturdy desk, table or other furniture with backs to the windows. Protect head and neck with arms.
- HOLD onto the furniture and be prepared to move with it.
- Stay in this position for at least one minute or, in a real situation, until shaking stops.
- Evacuation. An Evacuation should NEVER be automatic. There may be more danger outside the building than there is inside.
- If administrative directions are not forthcoming, the teacher will be responsible for assessing the situation and determining if an evacuation is required.
- Pre-determined evacuation areas should be in open areas, without overhead hazards and removed from potential danger spots (covered walkways, large gas mains, chain linked fences [electric shock potential]).
- Make it clear that a post-earthquake route differs from a fire evacuation route, and that appropriate non hazardous alternate routes may be needed.
- Practice evacuation using alternate routes to the assembly areas. Students are to remain with their teacher in the evacuation area. Teachers shall take their roll books, take roll once in the evacuation area and be prepared to identify missing students to administrators and/first responders. The principal or designee shall keep a copy of each drill conducted on the Emergency Drill Report form and file a copy with the Assistant Superintendent of Student Services.

Standards for a Successful Earthquake Drill:

- The Earthquake Alarm can be heard by all staff and students.
- Immediately after the earthquake alarm sounds, all students, teachers and other employees shall:
 - DUCK, or DROP down on the floor.
 - Take COVER under a sturdy desk, table or other furniture with backs to the windows. Protect head and neck with arms.
 - HOLD onto the furniture and be prepared to move with it.

Evacuations shall occur when directed by the Principal/designee. When evacuations are included as part of the drill, appropriate non hazardous alternate routes, avoiding building overhangs, electrical wires, large trees, covered walkways, etc, shall be utilized by staff and students in order to reach the designated evacuation areas.

Teachers will take roll once in the evacuation area. Any missing students are immediately reported to the Principal/designee.

Upon sounding of the all clear students and staff return to their appropriate classroom and the teacher takes roll once more. Missing students are reported to the attendance office.

Fire Drill

Principals shall hold fire drills at least once a month in all elementary and middle schools and at least twice each school year at all high schools. (Code of Regulations, Title 5, Section 550)

1. Whenever the fire alarm is given, all students, teachers and other employees shall quickly leave the building in an orderly manner. Teachers shall ascertain that no student remains in the building.
2. Designated evacuation routes shall be posted in each room.
3. Teachers shall be prepared to select alternate exits and direct their classes to these exits in the event the designated evacuation route is blocked.
4. Evacuation areas will be established away from fire lanes.
5. Students are to remain with their teacher in the evacuation area.
6. Teachers shall take their roll books, take roll once in the evacuation area and be prepared to identify missing students to administrators and/or fire marshals/designees.

The principal or designee shall keep a copy of each drill conducted on the Emergency Drill Report form

Standards for a Successful Fire Drill:

1. The Fire Alarm can be heard by all staff and students.
2. Orderly evacuation begins immediately and is completed within 5 minutes of the initial alarm, with minimal congestion at exit gates.
3. Teachers and students are staged in an orderly fashion away from fire lanes.
4. Teachers have taken roll once in the evacuation area. Any missing students are immediately reported to the Principal/designee.
5. Upon sounding of the all clear students and staff return to their appropriate classroom and the teacher takes roll once more. Missing students are reported to the attendance office.

Medical Emergencies

- Typically medical emergencies should be handled by calling 911 and following the directions given by the 911 operator. In the event that 911 cannot be reached or because of disaster conditions medical help will be delayed it may become necessary for staff to assist victims.
- In the event of an emergency involving injuries or immediate severe illness when medical services are not available, calmly and carefully, assess the medical emergency you are faced with. Take only those measures you are qualified to perform.
- Each school should have a list, updated annually, of those employees who have current certification in CPR and First Aid who will act as the core medical emergency response team. This list should be immediately available to administrators, health clerks, and the school secretary.

Lockdown Drills

A school lockdown confines all staff and students to the classroom due to a perceived or real threat; isolation of staff and students inside the school limits exposure to risk to outside contaminants: people, exposures or situations. The practice of lockdown drills pertains to both staff and students to the process and probability, and ultimately avoids unnecessary responses.

There are several reasons for a school to determine that a lockdown status is most protective of its staff and students. There may be an unwelcomed person or persons on the campus grounds; local law enforcement has notified administration of a situation (i.e., chemical accident) or person of concern in the vicinity; or a menacing animal has been seen on the grounds. In short, there is some sort of event occurring, or threatening to occur, that the school believes can be mitigated by limiting access to staff and students.

The following are steps that will be taken during a lockdown:

- Lock classroom and office doors
- Call 9-1-1 (only in a real emergency/threat)
- Cover windows
- Turnoff lights
- Build barricades (only in a real emergency/threat)
- Review classroom
- Review off site evacuation locations
- Calm and reassure students

Be aware that it is impossible to fully prepare for all possible scenarios with an internal threat. For instance, if an armed intruder enters the main office, it may not be possible to make an announcement.

During a lockdown drill or situation, parents must not attempt to enter the building until the area has been secured by local law enforcement or cleared by administration.

Intruder on Campus

- The campus intruder is defined as a non-student or a student on suspension who loiters or creates disturbances on school property. Intruders are committing the crime of Criminal Trespass. Dangerous and/or concealed weapons are forbidden on school premises unless carried by law enforcement officers.
- Have the person(s) under suspicion kept under constant covert surveillance.
- Approach and greet the intruder in a polite and non-threatening manner.
- Identify yourself as a school official.
- Ask the intruder for identification.
- Ask them what their purpose is for being on campus.
- Advise intruder of the trespass laws.

- Ask the intruder to quietly leave the campus or invite him/her to accompany you to the office. If the intruder refuses to respond to your requests, inform him/her of your intention to summon law enforcement officers. If the intruder gives no indication of voluntarily leaving the premises, notify Police and Administration.
- If Intruder(s) are on playground or grounds at breakfast or lunch time:
- Outdoor Supervisors should notify the office by cell and move all students into the gym/dance studio/classrooms unless otherwise directed.
- If the intruder is armed and dangerous, a school lockdown will be taken into action.

Hostage Situation

- Staff and students should sit quietly if the situation is in their presence. Try to remain calm. Staff should set the example if the armed intruder is in their presence by doing anything possible for the staff member and students to survive. If gun fire starts, staff and students should seek cover or begin rapid movement procedures.
- Do not engage in a conversation or try to persuade the intruder to leave your classroom or school. Remember, you are in an illogical situation so any logical argument may go unheard. The intruder is probably aware of the potential danger that he/she would be facing if he/she left the classroom. The intruder may perceive himself/herself as being sane.
- If the intruder speaks to you or to your students, then answer him or her. Do not provoke him or her. Don't try to take matters into your own hands. Students should be told not to whisper to one-another, laugh, or to make fun of the intruder. Remember, the intruder is disturbed and probably mentally ill, and more than likely paranoid. Any whispering or laughter may be perceived by the intruder as directed at him or her.
- Students should be taught to respond on their own when threatened. Incidents can occur which leave no time for signals. If students are outside unable to find access to a room, they should, depending on the situation, initiate Action "TAKE COVER" position or run in a zig-zag fashion to the staging areas and STAY CALM.
- If and when possible, call Administration and/or 9-1-1.

Bomb Threat

The person receiving the bomb threat will:

- Attempt to gain as much information as possible when the threat is received. Do not hang up on the caller.
- Use the "bomb threat checklist" form (attached) as a guide to collect the information needed. Don't be bashful about asking direct, specific questions about the threat. Keep the caller on the phone as long as possible. If the threat is received by phone, attempt to gain more information.
- The most important information is:
- When will the bomb explode and where is the bomb located?
- Immediately after receiving the bomb threat, the person receiving the call will verbally notify the building administrator of the threat received. Complete the "bomb threat checklist" form (attached).

- Turn off cellular phones and/or walkie-talkie radios (transmits radio waves-- could trigger a bomb).

Building Administrator will (IF NECESSARY):

- Call 9-1-1. Give the following information:
- Your name
- Your call-back phone number
- Exact street location with the nearest cross street
- Nature of incident
- Number and location of people involved and/or injured

Most likely, threats of a bomb or other explosive device will be received by telephone.

- Evacuate involved buildings using fire drill procedures.
- Implement a systematic inspection of the facilities to determine if everyone is out.
- Fire Department or Police Officers shall organize a search team to check for suspicious objects; a bomb can be disguised to look like any common object.
- Site employees should be ready to assist as needed.
- Maintain an open telephone line for communications.
- Secure all exits to prevent re-entry to buildings during the search period.
- Be certain people stay clear of all buildings; a bomb(s) may be planted against an outside wall. The blast will be directed in large part away from the building.
- Re-occupy buildings only when proper authorities give clearance

Questions to Ask:

- Exact Wording of Threat:
- Caller's Voice: (circle all that apply)
- Caller's
- Language:(circle all that apply)
- Caller demographics
- Background sounds

1. When will the bomb explode?
2. Where is the bomb right now?
3. What does it look like?
4. What kind of bomb is it?
5. What will cause it to explode?
6. Did you place the bomb?
7. Why?

8. How did the bomb get in the school?

9. Where are you calling from? If voice is familiar, who did it sound like?

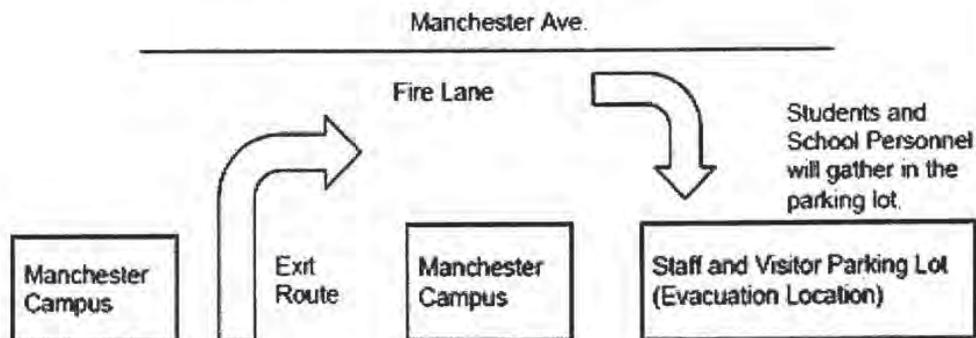

10. What is your name, address, phone?

Other Observations:

Campus Evacuation & Emergency Assembly Location

Recovery

It is critical to provide a mental health response for students, staff and parents after a crisis that has impacted a school. Often, this can be provided by district or local community resources.

Victims of a crisis experience a real need to return to normal, but normal as they once knew it may be changed. Counselors and crisis survivors find the concept of a "new normal" to be very reassuring and accurate.

One of the most important actions is simply to listen and allow victims to express his/her own needs and feelings. Encouragement and support, while avoiding judgmental remarks, is the goal.

When the needs of the victims exceed the immediate resources available to the school, Los Angeles County Mental Health and the agencies working under its umbrella is available to support schools.

Numerous agencies under the Los Angeles County Mental Health Department umbrella currently provide on-going mental health services to students and families both at schools and within the neighborhood communities. These services are provided by licensed therapists, social workers or supervised interns. The services typically involve a one-on-one or family-oriented approach requiring a different skill set than an emergency mental health response to a community or school crisis. Local agencies, like BCHD, may also be available for support. School staff should have contact information for local mental health resources.

State of California Authorities and References

Schools are required by both federal statute and state regulation to be available for shelters following a disaster. The American Red Cross (ARC) has access to schools in damaged areas to set up their mass care facilities, and local governments have a right to use schools for the same purposes. This requires close cooperation between school officials and ARC or local government representatives, and should be planned and arranged for in advance.

California Emergency Services Act (Chapter 7, Division 1, Title 2, California Government Code).

The Act provides the basic authorities for conducting emergency operations following a proclamation of Local Emergency, State of Emergency, or State of War Emergency by the Governor and/or appropriate local authorities, consistent with the provisions of this Act.

California Government Code, Section 3100, Title 1, Division 4, Chapter 4.

States that all public employees are disaster service workers, subject to such disaster service activities as may be assigned to them by their superiors or by law. The term "public employees" includes all persons employed by the state or any county, city, city and county, state agency or public district, excluding aliens legally employed.

The law applies to public school employees in the following cases:

- When a local emergency is proclaimed.
- When a state of emergency is proclaimed.
- When a federal disaster declaration is made.
- The law has two ramifications for School District employees:
 1. In the event of an emergency, it is possible that public school employees will be pressed into service as disaster service workers by their superiors, and may be asked to do jobs other than their usual duties for periods exceeding their normal working hours.
 2. When pressed into disaster service, employees' Workers' Compensation Coverage becomes the responsibility of state government (OES), but their overtime pay is paid by the school. These circumstances apply only when a local or state emergency is declared.

The Governor's Office of Emergency Services has stated that inadequately trained school staff render school officials potentially liable for acts committed or omitted by school staff acting within the scope of their training during or after a disaster. (Sub Sections 835-840.6).

It requires that school districts be prepared to respond to emergencies using SEMS. (Section 8607, the Petris Bill).

California Civil Code, Chapter 9, Section 1799.102

It provides for "Good Samaritan Liability" for those providing emergency care at the scene of an emergency. ("No person, who, in good faith and not for compensation, renders emergency care at the scene of an emergency, shall be liable for any civil damages resulting from any act or omission. The scene of an emergency shall not include emergency departments and other places where medical care is usually offered.")

California Education Code, Sections 35295-35297 (The Katz Act), Section 40041, 40042 requires that a school site disaster plan outline roles, responsibilities, and procedures for students and staff. It also requires that the school site emergency management organizational structure comply with SEMS, Title 19 Section 2400, and be ready for implementation at all times.

California Emergency Plan

The California Emergency Plan was established in accordance with the California Emergency Services Act. It defines overall statewide authorities and responsibilities, and describes the functions and operations of government at all levels during extraordinary emergencies, including wartime. Section 8568 of the Act states, in part, that "...the State Emergency Plan shall be in effect in each political subdivision of the state, and the governing body of each political subdivision shall take such action as may be necessary to carry out the provisions thereof." Therefore, local emergency plans are considered extensions of the California Emergency Plan.

Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists Student Fee Policy

Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists

Student Fee Policy

PROPOSED

Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists Student Fee Policy

Student Fees Policy

Compliant with Assembly Bill 1575 (2012), Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists ("WAYS") has adopted the following policies and procedures regarding student fees.

1. Students enrolled at WAYS shall not be required to pay "pupil fee" for participation in an "educational activity."
2. All supplies, materials, and equipment needed to participate in educational activities shall be provided to students free of charge.
3. Any "supplies list" is purely a recommendation and is not required for admission or participation in educational activities at WAYS.
4. WAYS does not intend to establish a two-tier educational system by requiring a minimal educational standard and also offering a second higher educational standard that students may only obtain through payment of a fee or purchase of additional supplies that the school does not provide.
5. WAYS does not offer course or credit privileges related to educational activities in exchange for money or donations of goods or services from a student or the student's parents or guardians, nor shall the school remove such credit or privileges for failure to make a donation.
6. Voluntary donations of funds or property or participation in fundraising activities are encouraged and allowed, but such fundraising is completely voluntary.
7. WAYS Charter advocates school uniforms. The purchase and/or wearing of this apparel is completely voluntary and not required to participate in our educational program.
8. All fees allowed under Ed Code § 48904 regarding damaged or unreturned items remain allowed under this policy. Specifically, computers, books, or other materials provided free of charge to students must be replaced if lost or damaged. Given the nature of WAYS as a public charter school of choice, in which a parent enrolls their child partly with the intent to instill a sense of personal responsibility in the child, WAYS believes that when a student loses or damages an item, the school's responsibility to instill that responsibility includes an obligation to repay the school for that item in the form of cash or services equivalent to the value of the lost or damaged item(s) at a rate of $10 per hour of service.
9. Purely recreational activities may be subject to mandatory fees (dances, attendance at optional outdoor education programs, leadership development, or athletic events).
10. WAYS will not discriminate in any way based on whether a pupil, parents, or guardians contribute time or money to the school.
11. WAYS allows the purchase of optional items such as yearbooks, school pictures, etc. and does not consider those as required fees.

Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists Student Fee Policy

12. WAYS does not ask families to donate a specific number of service hours to the school, but does encourage volunteering and attendance at events (such as Back-to-School Night, Open House, Parent-Teacher Conferences, School Site Council Meetings and Events, and community outreach events). Parent participation in school events is a vital element in the success of our students and the strength of our WAYS Community; however it is completely voluntary.
13. Parents or guardians who believe they are being charged a fee for anything they believe is illegal under AB1575 should contact the Principal or Office Manager immediately to file a complaint under WAYS' Uniform Complaint Procedures.
14. Complaints will be investigated and resolved within 60 days of receipt of the complaint. If the complaint is resolved pursuant to an investigation, the WAYS School Board shall issue a written decision stating the findings of fact and the reasons for the disposition of the complaint.
15. If a complaint is found to have merit, the school will reimburse all affected pupils, parents, or guardians.
16. If a complainant is not satisfied with the decision of the board, the complainant may appeal to the State Superintendent of Public Instruction directly.

This policy will be published in the school's "Family and Student Handbook" and posted on the school website.

Handbooks are updated

When the Policy is violated, it may be necessary to suspend or expel a student from regular classroom instruction. As outlined in sections A and B below, there are listed serious offenses for which expulsion may be mandatory or recommended. This policy shall serve as the model for the Charter School's policy and procedures for student suspension and expulsion which will be updated yearly for the school handbook in order to reflect Education Code changes. If changes occur after publication and the board approves the changes, students and families shall receive notice of these changes both in writing and on all documentation associated with the school, such as published handbooks and the website. Charter School staff shall enforce disciplinary rules and procedures fairly and consistently among all students. These Policy and its Procedures will be printed and distributed as part of the Student Handbook and will clearly describe discipline expectations. Corporal punishment shall not be used as a disciplinary measure against any student. Corporal punishment includes the willful infliction of or willfully causing the infliction of physical pain on a student. For purposes of the Policy, corporal punishment does not include an employee's use of force that is reasonable and necessary to protect the employee, students, staff or other persons or to prevent damage to school property.

Suspended or expelled students shall be excluded from all school and school-related activities unless otherwise agreed during the period of suspension or expulsion.

WAYS shall provide due process for all students, including adequate notice to parents/guardians and students regarding the grounds for suspension and expulsion and their due process rights regarding suspension and expulsion, including rights to appeal.

WAYS shall ensure that its policies and procedures regarding suspension and expulsion will be periodically reviewed, and modified as necessary, including, for

Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists Suspension and Expulsion Policy

WAYS shall ensure the appropriate interim placement of students during and pending the completion of the Charter School's student expulsion process.

WAYS will implement operational and procedural guidelines ensuring federal and state laws and regulations regarding the discipline of students with disabilities are met. If the student receives or is eligible for special education, WAYS shall identify and provide special education programs and services at the appropriate interim educational placement, pending the completion of the expulsion process.

WAYS shall utilize alternatives to suspension and expulsion with students who are truant, tardy, or otherwise absent from compulsory school activities.

Upon completion of the readmission process, the Charter School's governing board shall readmit the pupil, unless the Charter School's governing board makes a finding that the pupil continues to pose a danger to campus safety. A description of the procedure shall be made available to the pupil and the pupil's parent or guardian at the time the expulsion order is entered. The Charter School is responsible for reinstating the student upon the conclusion of the expulsion period.

Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists Suspension and Expulsion Policy

C. Suspension Procedure

WAYS will provide a Student Handbook to each family upon enrollment that delineates the list of offenses and progressive discipline procedures and expectations to provide adequate safety for students, staff, and visitors to the school in order to serve the best interests of the school's pupils and their parents/guardians. WAYS staff will enforce all disciplinary rules and procedures fairly and consistently among all students.

Progression of Discipline, Teachers to Administration

Teachers are responsible for the day-to-day discipline in their classrooms while working with their students to meet their individual needs in order that learning takes place. WAYS has a discipline structure and character-building program that delineates uniform, school-wide expectations for conduct. When it becomes necessary to implement disciplinary action, the following options are available to the teachers: warning, detention, parent-teacher communication, counseling referral, written assignment, and discipline referral to the Principal.

Prior to suspensions and expulsions, students may receive any or all of the following: warnings, detentions, phone calls home, parent conferences, and a behavior contract. Any WAYS teacher may assign a teacher's detention to a student. During detention students may have to write a reflective response about their conduct that could require a parent signature. Detentions will be held onsite during lunch or after school. A teacher may elect to hold detention in a classroom or in a designated detention room.

Offenses That May Result in a Teacher's Detention

Teacher and Administrative detention process is the same. As a general rule teachers assign a Teacher Detention for minor classroom misconduct such as: cell phone usage, passing notes, making noises, minor inappropriate conflicts with others, or cheating. Repeated violations by individuals will be referred to the Principal. When there is a serious violation of the rules, the student will be referred to the Principal. A serious violation may include any violation listed under Suspension of Expulsion section in this element of the charter petition below.

Suspension

Suspension is intended to remove the student from peers and the class environment. This separation provides the student time to reflect on his or her behavior and a possible pattern of behavior that will be more positive, as well as to protect the student body as a whole from dangerous and disruptive behavior.

A student serving on campus suspension reports to school at the regular time.

Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists Suspension and Expulsion Policy

Each teacher will give the student written assignments that he or she must complete under the direct supervision of the Principal or designee. The student will eat lunch in the assigned room.

Whether suspension occurs in school or out, the maximum number of consecutive days a student may be suspended five (5), unless the suspension is extended pending an expulsion hearing from the recommendation of the Administrative Panel. Upon a recommendation of Expulsion by the Panel, the pupil and the pupil's guardian or representative will be invited to a conference with the Administrative Panel to determine if the suspension for the pupil should be extended pending an expulsion hearing. The Administrative Panel will make this determination: 1) the pupil's presence will be disruptive to the education process; or 2) the pupil poses a threat or danger to others. Upon either determination, the pupil's suspension will be extended pending the results of an expulsion hearing. Students shall not be suspended for more than twenty (20) school days in a year, unless the suspension has been extended pending an expulsion hearing.

Students on suspension pending an expulsion hearing may request that academic work be made available for pick up at the office.

Suspensions shall include the following procedures:

Conference - Suspension shall be preceded, if possible, by a conference conducted by the Principal or the Principal's designee with the student and his or her parent and, whenever practical, the teacher, supervisor or WAYS employee who referred the student.

The conference may be omitted if the Principal or designee determines that an emergency situation exists. An "emergency situation" involves a clear and present danger to the lives, safety or health of students or Charter School personnel. If a student is suspended without this conference, both the parent/guardian and student shall be notified of the student's right to return to school for the purpose of a conference.

At the conference, the pupil shall be informed of the reason for the disciplinary action and the evidence against him or her and shall be given the opportunity to present his or her version and evidence in his or her defense. This conference shall be held within two school days, unless the pupil waives this right or is physically unable to attend for any reason including, but not limited to, incarceration or hospitalization. No penalties may be imposed on a pupil for failure of the pupil's parent or guardian to attend a conference with Charter School officials. Reinstatement of the suspended pupil shall not be contingent upon attendance by the pupil's parent or guardian at the conference.

Notices to Parents/Guardians

At the time of the suspension, an administrator or designee shall make a reasonable effort to contact the parent/guardian by telephone or in person. Whenever a student is suspended, the parent/guardian shall be notified in writing of the suspension and the date of return following suspension. This notice shall state the specific offense committed by the student. In addition, the notice may also state the date and time when the student may return to school. If Charter School officials wish to ask the parent/guardian to confer regarding matters pertinent to the suspension, the notice may request that the parent/guardian respond to such requests without delay.

Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists Suspension and Expulsion Policy

D. Authority to Expel

A student may be expelled by the Board following a hearing before it or upon the recommendation of an Administrative Panel. The Panel would be convened as part of the suspension and expulsion process once it was determined that there is any reasonable concern that the pupil was in danger of expulsion or extended suspension. The Administrative Panel should consist of at least three members of the faculty or professional representatives who are certificated but are neither a teacher of the pupil or a Board member of the Charter School's governing board. The Administrative Panel may recommend expulsion to the Board of any student found to have committed an expellable offense.

E. Expulsion Procedures

Students recommended for expulsion are entitled to a hearing to determine whether the student should be expelled. Unless postponed for good cause, the hearing shall be held within thirty (30) school days after the Principal or designee determines that the pupil has committed an expellable offense.

In the event an administrative panel hears the case, it will make a recommendation to the Board for a final decision whether to expel. The hearing shall be held in closed session unless the pupil makes a written request for a public hearing three (3) days prior to the hearing.

Written notice of the hearing shall be forwarded to the student and the student's parent/guardian at least ten (10) calendar days before the date of the hearing. Upon mailing the notice, it shall be deemed served upon the pupil. The notice shall include:

Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists Suspension and Expulsion Policy

1. The date and place of the expulsion hearing;
2. A statement of the specific facts, charges and offenses upon which the proposed expulsion is based;
3. A copy of the Charter School's disciplinary rules which relate to the alleged violation;
4. Notification of the student's or parent/guardian's obligation to provide information about the student's status at the school to any other school district or school to which the student seeks enrollment;
5. The opportunity for the student or the student's parent/guardian to appear in person or to employ and be represented by counsel or a non-attorney advisor;
6. The right to inspect and obtain copies of all documents to be used at the hearing;
7. The opportunity to confront and question all witnesses who testify at the hearing;
8. The opportunity to question all evidence presented and to present oral and documentary evidence on the student's behalf including witnesses.

F. Special Procedures for Expulsion Hearings Involving Sexual Assault or Battery Offenses

WAYS may, upon a finding of good cause, determine that the disclosure of either the identity of the witness or the testimony of that witness at the hearing, or both, would subject the witness to an unreasonable risk of psychological or physical harm. Upon this determination, the testimony of the witness may be presented at the hearing in the form of sworn declarations which shall be examined only by WAYS or the hearing officer. Copies of these sworn declarations, edited to delete the name and identity of the witness, shall be made available to the pupil.

1. The complaining witness in any sexual assault or battery case must be provided with a copy of the applicable disciplinary rules and advised of his/her right to (a) receive five days notice of his/her scheduled testimony, (b) have up to two (2) adult support persons of his/her choosing present in the hearing at the time he/she testifies, which may include a parent, guardian, or legal counsel, and (c) elect to have the hearing closed while testifying.

2. The Charter School must also provide the victim a room separate from the hearing room for the complaining witness' use prior to and during breaks in testimony.

3. At the discretion of the panel conducting the hearing, the complaining witness shall be allowed periods of relief from examination and cross-examination during which he or she may leave the hearing room.

4. The panel conducting the expulsion hearing may also arrange the seating within the hearing room to facilitate a less intimidating environment for the complaining witness.

5. The panel conducting the expulsion hearing may also limit time for taking the testimony of the complaining witness to the hours he/she is normally in school, if there is no good cause to take the testimony during other hours.

6. Prior to a complaining witness testifying, the support persons must be admonished that the hearing is confidential. Nothing in the law precludes the person presiding over the hearing from removing a support person whom the presiding person finds is disrupting the hearing. The panel conducting the hearing may permit any one of the support persons for the complaining witness to accompany him or her to the witness stand.

7. If one or both of the support persons is also a witness, the Charter School must present evidence that the witness' presence is both desired by the witness and will be helpful to the Charter School. The person presiding over the hearing shall permit the witness to stay unless it is established that there is a substantial risk that the testimony of the complaining witness would be influenced by the support person, in which case the presiding official shall admonish the support person or persons not to prompt, sway, or influence the witness in any way. Nothing shall preclude the presiding officer from exercising his or her discretion to remove a person from the hearing whom he or she believes is prompting, swaying, or influencing the witness.

8. The testimony of the support person shall be presented before the testimony of the complaining witness and the complaining witness shall be excluded from the courtroom during that testimony.

9. Especially for charges involving sexual assault or battery, if the hearing is to be conducted in the public at the request of the pupil being expelled, the complaining witness shall have the right to have his/her testimony heard in a closed session when testifying at a public meeting would threaten serious psychological harm to the complaining witness and there are no alternative procedures to avoid the threatened harm. The alternative procedures may include videotaped depositions or contemporaneous examination in another place communicated to the hearing room by means of closed-circuit television.

10. Evidence of specific instances of a complaining witness's prior sexual conduct is presumed inadmissible and shall not be heard absent a determination by the person conducting the hearing that extraordinary circumstances exist requiring the evidence be heard. Before such a determination regarding extraordinary circumstance can be made, the witness shall be provided notice and an opportunity to present opposition to the introduction of the evidence. In the hearing on the admissibility of the evidence, the complaining witness shall be entitled to be represented by a parent, legal counsel, or other support person. Reputation or opinion evidence regarding the sexual behavior of the complaining witness is not admissible for any purpose.

G. Record of Hearing

A record of the hearing shall be made and may be maintained by any means, including electronic recording, as long as a reasonably accurate and complete written transcription of the proceedings can be made.

H. Presentation of Evidence

While technical rules of evidence do not apply to expulsion hearings, evidence may be admitted and used as proof only if it is the kind of evidence on which reasonable persons can rely in the conduct of serious affairs. A recommendation by the administrative panel to expel must be supported by substantial evidence that the student committed an expellable offense.

Findings of fact shall be based solely on the evidence at the hearing. While hearsay evidence is admissible, no decision to expel shall be based solely on hearsay and sworn declarations may be admitted as testimony from witnesses of whom the Board of Directors, administrative panel or designee determines that disclosure of their identity or testimony at the hearing may subject them to an unreasonable risk of physical or psychological harm.

If, due to a written request by the expelled pupil, the hearing is held at a public meeting, and the charge is committing or attempting to commit a sexual assault or committing a sexual battery as defined in Education Code Section 48900, a complaining witness shall have the right to have his or her testimony heard in a session closed to the public.

The decision of the Administrative Panel shall be in the form of written findings of fact and a written recommendation to the Board of Directors who will make a final determination regarding the expulsion. The final decision by the Board shall be made within ten (10) school days following the conclusion of the hearing. The decision of the Board of Directors is final.

If the administrative panel decides not to recommend expulsion, the pupil shall immediately be returned to his/her educational program.

I. Written Notice to Expel

The Principal, following a decision of the Board of Directors to expel, shall send written notice of the decision to expel, including the Board of Directors' adopted findings of fact, to the student or parent/guardian. This notice shall also include the following:

1. Notice of the specific offense committed by the student
2. Notice of the student's or parent/guardian's obligation to inform any new district in which the student seeks to enroll of the student's status with WAYS.

Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists Suspension and Expulsion Policy

The Principal or designee shall send a copy of the written notice of the decision to expel to LACOE.

This notice shall include the following:

- a) The student's name, and
- b) The specific expellable offense committed by the student.

Additionally, in accordance with Education Code Section 47605(d)(3), upon expulsion of any student, WAYS shall notify the superintendent of the school district of the pupil's last known address within thirty (30) days, and shall, upon request, provide that school district with a copy of the cumulative record of the pupil, including a transcript of grades or report card and health information.

The Board of Directors' decision to expel shall be final.

If a student is expelled from WAYS, WAYS shall forward student records upon request of the receiving school district in a timely fashion. WAYS shall also submit an expulsion packet to LACOE immediately or as soon as practically possible, containing:

- pupil's last known address
- a copy of the cumulative record
- transcript of grades or report card
- health information
- documentation of the expulsion proceeding, including specific facts supporting the expulsion
- student's current educational placement
- copy of parental notice expulsion
- copy of documentation of expulsion provided to parent stating reason for expulsion, term of expulsion, rehabilitation plan, reinstatement notice with eligibility date and instructions for providing proof of student's compliance for reinstatement, appeal process and options for enrollment.
- if the Student is eligible for Special Education, the Charter School must provide documentation related to expulsion pursuant to IDEA including conducting a manifestation determination IEP prior to expulsion. If the student is eligible for Section 504 Accommodations, the Charter School must provide evidence that it convened a Link Determination meeting to address two questions:

Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists Suspension and Expulsion Policy

A) Was the misconduct caused by, or directly and substantially related to the student's disability? B) Was the misconduct a direct result of the Charter's failure to implement 504 Plan?

J. Disciplinary Records

The Charter School shall maintain records of all student suspensions and expulsions at the Charter School. Such records shall be made available to the authorizer upon request.

K. No Right to Appeal

The pupil shall have no right of appeal from expulsion from the Charter School, as the Charter School Board's decision to expel shall be final.

L. Expelled Pupils/Alternative Education

The Charter School shall work cooperatively with parents/guardians as requested by parents/guardians or by the school district of residence to assist with locating alternative placements during expulsion.

Outcome Data

WAYS shall maintain all data involving placement, tracking, and monitoring of student suspensions, expulsions, and reinstatements, and make such outcome data readily available to LACOE upon request.

Rehabilitation Plans

Pupils who are expelled from the Charter School shall be given a rehabilitation plan developed by the Administrative panel upon expulsion as approved by the Charter School's governing board at the time of the expulsion order, which may include, but is not limited to, periodic review as well as assessment at the time of review for readmission. The rehabilitation plan should include a date not later than one year from the date of expulsion when the pupil may apply to the Charter School for readmission.

Readmission

The Charter School's governing board shall adopt rules establishing a procedure for the filing and processing of requests for readmission and the process for the required review of all expelled pupils for readmission. Upon completion of the readmission process, the Charter School's governing board shall readmit the pupil, unless the Charter School's governing board makes a finding that the pupil has not met the conditions of the rehabilitation plan or continues to pose a danger to campus safety. A description of the procedure shall be made available to the pupil and the pupil's parent or guardian at the time the expulsion order is entered. The Charter School is responsible for reinstating the student upon the conclusion of the expulsion period.

Special Education Students

In the case of a student who has an Individualized Education Plan ("IEP"), or a student who has a 504 Plan, the Charter School will ensure that it follows the correct disciplinary procedures to comply with the mandates of state and federal laws, including IDEA and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Plan of 1973. An IEP team will meet to conduct a manifestation determination and to discuss alternative placement. Wisdom Complaint and Grievance Procedures

From our Personnel Handbook

Policy Against Sexual Harassment

All employees should be able to work in an atmosphere free of sexual harassment. WAYS will not condone or tolerate sexual harassment of any type by any employee. This policy applies to all employee actions and relationships, regardless of position or gender. WAYS will promptly and thoroughly investigate any complaint of sexual harassment and take appropriate corrective action, if warranted.

Sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexually suggestive nature constitute sexual harassment when:

1. Submission to such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of employment.
2. Submission to or rejection of such conduct is used as the basis for personnel decisions, including but not limited to appraisals, promotion, salary increases, and termination.
3. Such behavior has the purpose or effect of interfering with an individual's performance on the job or creating an intimidating, hostile or offensive working environment.

Each supervisor has the responsibility to maintain a work place free from any form of sexual harassment. Consequently, should supervisors become aware of any conduct that may constitute sexual harassment or other prohibited behavior, immediate action should be taken to address such conduct.

Employees are expected to behave in a positive and professional manner and to contribute to a productive work environment that is free from harassing or disruptive activity.

Prohibited conduct by anyone includes but is not limited to:

- Sexual flirtations, touching, advances or propositions;
- Verbal abuse of a sexual nature;
- Graphic or suggestive comments about dress or body;
- Sexually degrading words;
- The display in the workplace of sexually suggestive or offensive objects or pictures.

Any employee who has experienced or is aware of a situation, which is believed to be sexually harassing, has a responsibility to report the situation immediately to the individual's supervisor and/or to the appropriate human resources representative. A Sexual Harassment Complaint Form may be obtained from your manager or the human resources representative. The School Director and the individual's supervisor will conduct an immediate investigation into the allegation(s) and determine whether the allegations have merit. A written report, including findings related to the allegations, will be completed. In all cases, when the allegation(s) is determined to be valid, appropriate remedial action will be taken immediately and may include disciplinary action up to and including termination.

If the alleged sexual harassment involves the employee's supervisor or School Director, or if the employee is not satisfied with the outcome of the investigation, the employee should bring the matter to the attention of the President of Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists Board of School Directors.

All complaints of sexual harassment will be investigated promptly, objectively and as confidentially as possible. Employees are required to cooperate in any investigation. Retaliation against any employee for filing a complaint or participating in an investigation is strictly prohibited and shall be cause for termination.

As the Charter School has also agreed in its charter to comply with Government Code Section 1090, in addition to the Political Reform Act, this Code intends to conform to the requirements of that Section.

II. DEFINITION OF TERMS

The definitions contained in the Political Reform Act of 1974, the regulations of the Fair Political Practices Commission, specifically California Code of Regulations Section 18730, and any amendments or modifications to the Act and regulations are incorporated by reference to this Code.

III. DESIGNATED EMPLOYEES

Employees of this Charter School, including governing board members, who hold positions that involve the making or participation in the making of decisions that may foreseeably have a material effect on any financial interest shall be "designated employees." The designated positions are listed in "Exhibit A" attached to this policy and incorporated by reference herein.

IV. STATEMENT OF ECONOMIC INTERESTS: FILING

Each designated employee, including governing board members, shall file a Form 700 Statement of Economic Interests ("Statement") at the time and manner prescribed below, disclosing reportable investments, interests in real property, business positions, and income required to be reported under the category or categories to which the designated employee's position is assigned in "Exhibit A."

An investment, interest in real property or income shall be reportable, if the business entity in which the investment is held, the interest in real property, the business position, or source of income may foreseeably be affected materially by a decision made or participated in by the designated employee by virtue of his or her position. The specific disclosure responsibilities assigned to each position are set forth in "Exhibit B."

Filing of Annual Statements. All Statements shall be supplied by the Charter School. All Statements shall be filed with the Charter School and the Charter School's filing officer shall make and retain a copy of the Statement and forward the original to the County Board of Supervisors.

V. DISQUALIFICATION

No designated employee shall make, participate in making, or try to use his/her official position to influence any Charter School decision which he/she knows or has reason to know will have a reasonably foreseeable material financial effect, distinguishable from its effect on the public generally, on the official or a member of his or her immediate family.

In the case of a designated employee who is head of an agency, this determination and disclosure shall be made in writing to his/her appointing authority.

B. Governing Board Member Designated Employees

Financial interest in a contract: Where a Governing Board member has a personal, material financial interest in a contract, the financial interest will be reviewed under Government Code Section 1090 to determine whether the remote or non-interest exceptions apply. Should the Board determine that no applicable remote or noninterest exceptions apply, the Board must either: (1) not enter into the contract, as Government Code Section 1090 prevents the entire board from voting on the contract; or (2) prior to the Board of Director's discussion of and/or taking any action on the contract at issue, the Board member must resign from the Board of Directors. The resignation shall be made part of the Board's official record.

Re: Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists ("WAYS") April 11, 2014
Public Records Act Request

Dear Ms. Brady:

On behalf of WAYS, we write to follow up regarding our outstanding California Public Records Act request dated April 11, 2014. This letter raises the same issues regarding video surveillance records that were raised in my June 20, 2014 letter. We have not received a response to that letter from you or anyone else at LACOE on these issues.

We requested 38 categories of records from the Los Angeles County Office of Education ("LACOE") in order to review the "evidence" against WAYS referenced in both the audit of WAYS by the CSIS Fiscal Crisis and Management Assistance Team ("FCMAT") and in the Notice of Violation issued by the LACOE Board of Education ("NOV"). Our request also specifically noted that, because of litigation between the parties, it was LACOE's obligation to preserve all documents related to WAYS.

You responded on April 23, 2014 that because our request was "extensive," you anticipated no records would be available for two months because LACOE staff needed to "research[] the relevant documents" for production. We later learned that during those two months when LACOE staff was supposedly "researching the relevant documents" to produce to us, your office was actually preparing revocation proceedings against WAYS for presentation to the LACOE Board of Education. LACOE staff presented the NOV for revocation of the WAYS charter to the LACOE Board of Education before we even received a single record of the evidence against us. The NOV was based almost entirely on the FCMAT report and the unproduced "evidence" we requested.

On June 19, 2014—three days after LACOE's own arbitrary deadline—you produced two flash drives in response to our PRA that you claimed contained all of the requested documents. We reviewed the flash drives immediately and responded the following day that the production was grossly inadequate for several reasons. As noted in your own April 23, 2014 letter, WAYS sought thirty-eight categories of records, yet LACOE staff only produced a total of twenty-three documents. All of the documents were WAYS' own board resolutions, agendas and emails—documents WAYS clearly already has. One of the flash drives (Flash Drive #2) contained only empty folders and corrupt documents that could not even be opened. This production was completely void of any of the useful, substantive records that WAYS had formally requested. No reasonable person could believe LACOE's production of documents was sufficient. Worse, the LACOE Board of Education had already given WAYS a deadline of July 31, 2014 to prepare a comprehensive, document-heavy response to each and every allegation in the NOV and FCMAT report. While LACOE staff stalled in producing the “evidence” against WAYS, it was impossible for WAYS to work on the response the Board of Education requested.

Finally, on June 23, 2014 we received two more flash drives that contained approximately 5,000 pages of records. While some of these documents were responsive to our requests, many were copies of items WAYS already possessed, including some LACOE staff had already previously produced and many documents we specifically informed you WAYS did not want. Further, the production included more than 1,000 documents that were duplicates of one another. By producing 5,000 pages of mostly duplicative, non-responsive records, and our own documents, it appeared to us that LACOE staff was attempting to “bury” us in paper ahead of the NOV response deadline. For all of the time that LACOE staff claimed it needed to “research[] the relevant documents,” it appeared to us that your office jumbled 5,000 pages of records together at the last minute, leaving many of our requests unfulfilled and producing mostly useless records.

We again note that our April 11, 2014 PRA request contained thirty-eight separate and distinct requests for records including, but not limited to, records regarding the basis for the allegations contained in the FCMAT audit report. After more than three months, numerous letters requesting compliance from our office, and two rounds of document production, WAYS has still not received any documents or other explanation responsive to some of our requests. Below is a list of our April 11, 2014 requests that LACOE staff has entirely failed to respond to:

5. Any and all records that show, substantiate, provide backup explanation, or are in any way related to the statement on page 3 of the Audit that “county staff cite . . . [that WAYS] management is unresponsive to reasonable requests for timely financial information for supporting documentation regarding implementation of the WAYS policy and procedure regarding . . . attendance reports.”
22. Any and all records LACOE received or created, such as Board minutes or audio recordings, that verify, substantiate, provide backup explanation, or are in any way related to the statement on page 4 of the Audit that “three of five [WAYS] board members resigned, citing similar complaints that are verified in the minutes and audio recordings of board meetings.”

Courtney M. Brady
August 4, 2014
Page 3

30. Any and all "written complaints" received by LACOE that "the vice principal of WAYS was working at Innovative WAYS Academy" as referenced on page 38 of the Audit, as well as any and all records related to these "written complaints."
31. Any and all records that show, substantiate, provide backup explanation, or are in any way related to any and all "verbal complaints" received by LACOE "that "the vice principal of WAYS was working at Innovative WAYS Academy" as referenced on page 38 of the Audit.
32. Any and all LACOE Board of Education meeting agendas, minutes, transcripts and/ or audio or video recordings that reflect the Board of Education's approval for Judy Higelin and/ or any other LACOE staff to hire a private investigator to investigate any current and/ or former employee of WAYS, as referenced on page 38 of the Audit.
33. Any contract, engagement agreement, or other agreement between LACOE and the private investigator referenced on page 38 of the Audit.
34. Any and all video records, and any other records, of the "direct surveillance and video [of a WAYS employee] on 16 separate occasions between March 5, 2013 and April 22, 2013" referenced on page 38 of the Audit.

We have not received any indication that LACOE is willing to produce the records responsive to these requests, many of which we know exist. For instance, we know from information we received from FCMAT that LACOE staff initiated the FCMAT audit and provided the auditors with "evidence." Please provide immediately all evidence that LACOE provided to FCMAT.

In particular, in request #34 above, we asked for video surveillance records of Deara Okonkwo. You and I discussed these surveillance records at length when I spoke to you on the telephone on June 17, 2014, and you confirmed to me that such records exist. In fact, you specifically stated that LACOE had the video surveillance records on DVD versus CD. As you may recall, you and I went back and forth about which format LACOE would produce the video in. Your letter the very next day stated that LACOE suddenly did not have possession, custody, or control of the records after all. What happened to the surveillance records? The FCMAT report states that LACOE engaged the services of a private investigator to record video surveillance of the school's vice-principal. FCMAT also informed us they do not have possession of these records. Who has possession of the video records, if not LACOE or FCMAT? We have very serious concerns with the fact that it appears LACOE staff has lost, or given a third party control of, video surveillance records of WAYS' vice-principal, which the vice-principal herself has not been permitted to see. If the video records were destroyed, then LACOE is in violation of our litigation hold request. Either way, LACOE staff's handling of this situation has been completely opposite to the public policy underlying the Public Records Act and we believe unethical.

Courtney M. Brady
Page 4

As you know, WAYS' response to the NOV issued by the LACOE Board of Education was due last week. Yet LACOE staff never provided WAYS with all the "evidence" that formed the basis for the allegations in the FCMAT report and NOV. This failure greatly prejudiced WAYS' ability to respond to the NOV. LACOE staff's pattern of delay and failure to produce records that we know are in its possession, custody, and control, has created grounds for a suit by WAYS against LACOE for failure to properly respond to WAYS' public records request.

We again request LACOE to produce all of the above records by August 8, 2014. We wish to avoid legal action to enforce WAYS' rights under the California Public Records Act.

Very truly yours,

REPORTS / STUDY TOPICS

EARLY HEAD START GRANT APPLICATION

Ms. Yolanda Benitez, Chief Academic Officer for Educational Services, introduced the report to the County Board.

She reported that LACOE proposes to expand its comprehensive birth-to-five continuum of services by requesting $12 million ($7,761,952 basic budget, $194,049 training and technical assistance, and $4,044,000 start-up) to serve 372 infants and toddlers. Of the 19 zip codes identified for services, 11 are part of the federally recognized Promise Zone, two are considered high poverty in the funding opportunity announcement (FOA), and the remaining are in high need of services. LACOE will primarily serve parenting teens, homeless families, incarcerated women, families on public assistance, and foster children.

Ms. Benitez said that LACOE proposes a program design that layers LACOE and its delegates' California Department of Education, General Child Care funding to enhance services provided to infants and toddlers; improves teacher qualifications and staff development; and expands the resources available to support children and their families. She said that LACOE will contract with five existing delegate agencies: Mexican American Opportunity Foundation, Para Los Niños, Plaza de la Raza Child Development Services, Inc., Pomona Unified School District, and St. Anne's Maternity Home. These delegates were selected for expansion based on the following criteria: (1) operates a California Department of Education, General Child Care (CCTR) program; (2) has organizational capacity to expand; (3) committed to a five-year expansion project; and (4) assigned service area aligns with the ZIP codes identified and designated for LACOE. Ms. Benitez said that the grant application is based on the Four Pillars of Responsibility.

Ms. Keesha Woods, Director for the Head Start Division, gave an Early Head Start-Child Care Partnership Application Overview presentation to the County Board that included background information, the application proposal, criteria for selecting delegates, the proposed service areas, need by service areas, the service delivery and changes between the existing LACOE Early Head Start program and the proposed LACOE Early Head Start program.

Ms. Braude informed the County Board that this would be an adhoc committee that would be dissolved when its final report to the County Board has been made. She also indicated that the composition of the committee would be three County Board members. She reminded the County Board regarding the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors motion and read: Accept the Chief Executive Officer's recommendation and add language to the County Superintendent of Schools employment contract that articulates that the Superintendent will be responsible for collaborating with the Board of Supervisors or their designee, and the Board of Education, to develop a framework to annually evaluate the instructional program performance of LACOE-operated programs, based on student outcomes, with the evaluation report annually submitted to the Board of Supervisors.

Ms. Braude said she wanted to highlight the framework and that the charge of the committee would be to develop that framework and not write a full lengthy report. She said that the committee would determine, based on the information made available by staff, how the framework would be developed and what information would be included.

Material by the Superintendent's office was distributed to the County Board and made available to the public.

The written response shall be due by the end of the remedy period identified in the Notice of Violation.

(2) Attach to its written response supporting evidence of the refutation, remedial action, or proposed remedial action, if any, including written reports, statements, and other appropriate documentation. (Emphasis added)

The Notice of Violation issued by the County Board specified that WAYS was to "provide a detailed, written response addressing each of the specifically identified violations that has been approved by the WAYS Board (and evidence of such approval)" by July 31, 2014. (Emphasis added)

Re: Public Records Act Request re Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists
("WAYS")

Douglas R. Boyd

José Z. Calderón

Dear Ms. Proctor:

Rudell S. Freer

Raymond Reislser

Rebecca J. Turrentine

The Los Angeles County Office of Education ("LACOE") is in receipt of your August 4, 2014 correspondence regarding the Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists ("WAYS") public records act request. Your correspondence contains false allegations that LACOE staff was attempting to "bury" you in paper. This is simply not true. WAYS submitted an extensive records request and LACOE produced the responsive records. You have repeatedly complained that we produce records that were from WAYS; however, many documents generated by WAYS were responsive to your request. LACOE was required to produce these records in order to be compliant with the California Public Records Act.

The majority of your request was for records supporting statements made by FCMAT in their March 14, 2014 audit of WAYS. LACOE is only able to provide records in its custody, possession, and control. As I have repeatedly explained, FCMAT conducted its own investigation into WAYS and may have additional documents. Also, you have requested records regarding the basis for various statements in the FCMAT audit. LACOE did not author the FCMAT audit. We do not have knowledge of which particular document FCMAT used to support each statement that FCMAT made.

You also complained that you received many duplicates. WAYS' records request sought records that were provided to a variety of people and LACOE had provided the same documents to each person. You were provided with the documents as produced to each person resulting in duplicate production. To not produce these records would have resulted in non-compliance with the California Public Records Act. You have been provided with the documents LACOE produced to FCMAT.

Ms. Greta A. Proctor
August 7, 2014
Page 2

In regards to the specific categories of records identified in your August 4, 2014 correspondence, LACOE responds as follows:

5. All responsive documents to this request in the possession, custody, and control of LACOE have been produced.
6. LACOE has produced the board minutes and other written documents responsive to this request.
30. LACOE is not in possession of any written complaints of this nature. All other responsive documents to this request in the possession, custody, and control of LACOE have been produced.
31. All responsive documents to this request in the possession, custody, and control of LACOE have been produced.
32. The records requested do not exist.
33. The record requested is protected by the attorney-client privilege.
34. As I have repeatedly explained to you, LACOE does not have possession, custody, or control of this video recording. The report of the private investigator, containing stills of the video surveillance, has been produced to you. That is the only responsive document LACOE has regarding this request.

Sincerely,

Courtney M. Brady
Deputy General Counsel

Re: Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists' ("WAYS") Response to your letter dated August 7, 2014

Dear Ms. Higelin:

On July 31, 2014, Armando Espinoza, Board Chair of the WAYS Board of Directors, submitted to the Charter Schools Office the WAYS Governing Board's response to the Notice of Violation ("NOV") issued by the Los Angeles County Board of Education. That letter provided a "detailed, written response addressing each identified violation," and provided extensive documentary evidence refuting LACOE's allegations and/or describing meaningful remedies, as required by the regulations. To our surprise, your only response to date has been your letter dated August 7, 2014, demanding that WAYS submit additional "evidence that, prior to its submission, the WAYS Board took action to approve the July 31, 2014 response and its submission to the County Board." This is astounding in light of the fact that you receive audio recordings of all WAYS' board meetings, including July 30, 2014 where the NOV response was explicitly agendaized and discussed by the WAYS board. The following paragraphs explain that there is no such legal requirement for you to impose; but in any event, we provide additional "evidence" as you ask.

The WAYS Governing Board chose to respond to your NOV, and unanimously voted to submit the detailed response you timely received on July 31, 2014, in full compliance with Title 5, section 11968.5.2(c) of the California Code of Regulations ("CCR"). Enclosed with this letter is a copy of the draft minutes from WAYS' July 30, 2014 board meeting, which reflect the WAYS board's vote approving WAYS' response to the NOV. Of course, these minutes are in draft form because minutes of a board meeting cannot be approved by the WAYS board until its next meeting.

Your letter apparently assumes, albeit incorrectly, WAYS was required to provide additional "evidence" to you of the WAYS board's approval of its response to the NOV, other than the signed letter itself submitted on behalf of the board. There is no such requirement. The Charter Schools Act and the State Board of Education's regulations have fully occupied the field of the charter revocation process. Pursuant to 5 CCR 11968.5.2(c), the WAYS board "[chose] to respond" to the NOV by "submit[ting] to the chartering authority a detailed, written response."

Your office received that response July 31, 2014. Your letter quotes the NOV (drafted by CSO staff) that asks for such “detailed, written response” to be “approved by the WAYS Board (and evidence of such approval).” You cannot unilaterally add to or subtract from the requirements prescribed by the Legislature or State Board of Education in the Charter Schools Act and regulations. (See, e.g., UTLA v. LAUSD (2012) 54 Cal.4th 504, 513-16.) The “evidence” is the response letter itself, which was signed by WAYS’ Board Chair. No further “approval” or “evidence” is required. It is a basic precept of law that a board’s president may execute documents on behalf of the entire board. (See, City Street Improv. Co. v. Laird (1902) 138 Cal. 27 [signature of a corporation’s board president is ample evidence that the action was authorized by the corporation].) Even the MOU between LACOE and WAYS identifies the governing board’s president as the duly authorized representative.

By this letter, we are also requesting, again, that LACOE CSO staff comply with the requirements of the MOU with regard to delivery of notices to WAYS and its board. The MOU requires LACOE to provide all notices to the school by way of the Executive Director at the school’s address. Your letter was inappropriately addressed to individual WAYS board members and delivered to their personal email addresses, which were inappropriately listed on your letter. This is significant because in the NOV, CSO staff complained that in the past, it has received overlapping correspondence on behalf of WAYS from individual WAYS board members as well as WAYS’ Executive Director. The NOV listed that kind of duplicative correspondence as a reason for revocation of the WAYS charter. Now, your letter has entirely cut out the Executive Director—the school’s designated point of contact—and asked each WAYS Board member for a separate response. This is not only a violation of the MOU, it appears to be an improper attempt by LACOE CSO staff to bait WAYS board members into the behavior for which the CSO staff has asked the County Board of Education to revoke our charter.

We believe this letter fully resolves any concern or question posed by your August 7, 2014 letter.

Sincerely,

Ed Cabil
Executive Director

Re: Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists ("WAYS") Public Records Act ("PRA") Request
Regarding Report of Investigation

Dear Ms. Brady:

On behalf of WAYS and pursuant to the California Public Records Act (Gov. Code, § 6250 et seq.), we request copies of all records that relate to the Subrosa Report of Investigation ("Report") by the Titan Group dated April 30, 2013 regarding Deara Okonkwo. Below is a non-exhaustive list of specific records we seek related to the Report.

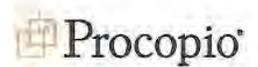

As you know, WAYS requested numerous documents from the Los Angeles County Office of Education ("LACOE") on April 11, 2014 which included requests for the Report and related documents. Despite your assertion to the contrary, LACOE never produced to WAYS the Report or related documents. WAYS recently obtained a copy of the Report from a third party.

To be clear, this letter is not a new Public Records Act request. The requests in this letter are subsumed under our previous requests in our April 11, 2014 letter. The purpose of this letter is to describe specific documents covered by our April 11, 2014 requests that LACOE has failed to produce, which we now know exist because we have recently reviewed a copy of the Report provided by a third party.

We remind LACOE that for purposes of the Public Records Act, "public records" include electronic correspondence (email) and phone records. (Gov. Code, § 6252.)

We request to inspect and copy the following public records pursuant to Government Code section 6253(b), which are encompassed in our April 11, 2014 Public Records Act request:

- 1. Any and all communications to, from, or between LACOE staff members and The Titan Group's investigators, staff or contractor(s) related to the investigation of Deara Okonkwo.

Courtney M. Brady
September 2, 2014

2. Any and all records of instructions, directions, or assignment information provided by LACOE to The Titan Group's investigators, staff or contractor(s) related to the investigation of the subject Deara Okonkwo.
3. Any and all records that comprise or are related to any contract, engagement agreement, retainer agreement, or other agreement between LACOE and The Titan Group for services, including any "master contract" as well as any contract specific to the investigation of Deara Okonkwo.
4. Any and all invoices, receipts, records of payment, pay stubs, or accounting, for The Titan Group's services related to the investigation of Deara Okonkwo.
5. Any and all records, including communications to or from LACOE, related to any surveillance or investigation(s) initiated, requested or contracted by LACOE of any other charter school by The Titan Group or any other investigator, including any investigation of another charter school's board members, officers, or employee(s).
6. Any and all records of phone logs, audio recordings or notes of phone conversations between LACOE and The Titan Group's investigator(s), staff or contractor(s) related to the investigation of Deara Okonkwo.
7. Any and all records, which may include background information, biographical information, profiles, or other materials, provided by LACOE to The Titan Group's investigator(s), staff or contractor(s) about WAYS or any member of the Okonkwo family.
8. Any and all records that show or evidence approval by any person at LACOE for the surveillance and investigation of the subject Deara Okonkwo.
9. Any and all records that comprise or relate to Deara Okonkwo's "contract with LACOE" that is mentioned throughout the Report, including on page 2 in the first paragraph under the "Results" subheading.

Note that these requests are not time-limited. For instance, they include any communications before, during or after the investigation by The Titan Group.

We understand that you have already withheld records responsive to this request from WAYS (e.g. the Report itself). At the same time, LACOE staff has asked the Board of Education to rely upon some of these records (e.g. the Report) as evidence against WAYS in pending revocation proceedings. This is a violation of WAYS' due process.

LACOE has also failed to provide WAYS with a written justification and cite to any exemption claimed, as well as the names, titles and positions of each person responsible for the withholding of records, as required under the Public Records Act. (Gov. Code, §§ 6253(d), 6255.) We also note that if a record that would otherwise be exempt from disclosure was previously disclosed to another member to the public (e.g. the Report, which we obtained from a third party), any claimed exemption is thereby waived and the record must be disclosed upon request. (Gov. Code, § 6254.5.)

We request production of the above documents immediately.

1 3. After efforts to resolve the matter informally were unsuccessful, LACOE initiated
2 the mediation procedure through AAA, culminating in single-day mediation on June 15, 2012.
3 The mediation resolved with a one-page agreement (the "Mediation Agreement"), whereby the 4 Parties agreed that WAYS would "revise its charter to reflect LACOE's conditions of approval
5 and MOU attachments F and G", and provided a timeline such that the matter would be resolved
6 by September 14, 2012.

7 4. Thereafter, WAYS made substantive revisions to the Charter Renewal Petition and 8 presented it to LACOE in August 2012, and understood that it had complied with the Mediation
9 Agreement. LACOE disputed that contention, and on or about May 21, 2013, LACOE initiated
10 this arbitration proceeding by filing a Demand for Arbitration pursuant to Element 14 of the 11 Charter Renewal Petition (the "Dispute").

12 5. In order to resolve the Dispute, the Parties have met and conferred concerning 13 additional revisions to the Charter Renewal Petition. Without admission of fault or wrongdoing, 14 the Parties stipulate to this Stipulated Consent Order because they wish to resolve all matters
15 arising from and/or relating to the Dispute, and to avoid incurring additional costs and attorney
16 fees litigating this Dispute.

17 THE PARTIES HERETO AGREE AND STIPULATE AS FOLLOWS:

18 6. The document attached hereto as Exhibit 1 is the Charter Renewal Petition, as

Introduction & Self Assessment

Introduction

Merle Williamson Foundation doing business as Wisdom Academy for Young Scientists (WAYS) is a public charter school of 520 students. WAYS became a charter school in July of 2006. WAYS is located in its original opening location in the South Los Angeles Barea of Green Meadows Villa. WAYS serves Kindergarten through grade five students. Now in our fifth year of operation, WAYS has quickly gained a strong reputation as an academically high performing charter successfully serving a population of students traditionally labeled as underperforming. As a charter school, WAYS is authorized by the Los Angeles County Board of Education (the "County") and the California State Board of Education, and receives public per-pupil funding, federal and local grants and in-kind donations to support its operations. B

In our diligent task of seeking a renewal of the WAYS charter petition, the WAYS community has engaged an authentic and reflective examination process. We have thoroughly analyzed the strengths and weaknesses of our school community, and in doing so, highlighted our successful academic and fiscal results as well as made recommended adjustments. As a school community we are inspired by our successes and accountable to our challenges. We are committed to the ongoing vitality of WAYS and will highlight ways in which we seek to better serve our students and families. We respectfully submit this petition for charter renewal for the 2011 - 2012 – 2015 - 2016 school years. B

We believe that WAYS provides a proven educational program in which all stakeholders – students, parents, teachers, community leaders and the school administration embrace a shared vision for the goal of providing a high quality, transformative learning experience that is steeped in principles of learning for the twenty-first century and is equitable for every child that joins the WAYS family. B

Mrs. Okonkwo is an embodiment of a humanitarian to many and she continues to inspire children of the local community by her overflowing benevolence, words of wisdom and community outreach for South, Los Angeles. B

A detailed analysis of the school student achievement data including STAR/CST, API and AYP Data B

We believe the viability of WAYS' academic programs can be validated by assessment data that exemplifies WAYS success at educating those students whom the school seeks to educate. Our assessment outcomes indicate that WAYS is making an unprecedented effort in achieving its mission of providing a transformational learning climate by closing the achievement gap for African-American and Latino students. WAYS has consistently exceeded both Los Angeles Unified School District (the "District"), state and neighboring school outcomes on the California Standards Test in the areas of English Language Arts, Math and Science throughout the implementation of the charter. According to the following assessment results, WAYS has met the minimum criteria for B renewal set forth by Education Code 47607. B

2007 – 2008 B	774 B	7 B	Yes B
2006 – 2007 B	782 B	5 B	Yes B

Our success at making AYP and achieving an unprecedented API score for our local area is but one indicator of our success. In an effort to convey a detailed composite of the WAYS' success we will employ a benchmarking strategy of our schools performance against similar schools and against public schools in our neighborhood. ELA trend analysis B

When we compare school years by conducting an analysis of students scoring B advanced and proficient, we find that overall the performance of our students in B ELA has given us room for growth. When we analyzed the results of our 2008 B assessments we designed new approaches to teaching reading comprehension B and writing. We believe that reading comprehension and writing must be taught B systematically and explicitly. B We conducted an assessment of our ELA B curriculum materials and at this time adopted supplemental materials to aid in the B teaching of comprehension and writing. We also dedicated considerable to time B to analyzing student progress in these areas. The results reflect school wide B growth in our targeted areas with WAYS students who test advanced on ELA B achieving yearly gains, growing from 5% during our initial testing year to 43% in B 2009 – 2010. An explanation of how other periodic, formative assessment data is used informatively to guide instruction for all stakeholders

We believe that periodic assessments drive rigor. We regularly and systematically administer periodic and formative assessments that are given to teachers in advance, to be used as a road map to guide instruction. We use these assessments to track student progress throughout the year to provide meaningful data that can be used to make a difference in instruction. Beginning with the end in mind, teachers first create rubrics and benchmarks for student progress and use curriculum maps to plan their instruction for the year. An assessment calendar is generated that is aligned with curriculum maps and focuses on the standards that need to be assessed and re-assessed for proficiency. The curriculum maps and periodic assessments act as the guide for sound data-driven instruction.

B

We have seen an improvement in the effectiveness of teaching due to our use of B software tools that allow us to successfully aggregate student data and analyze B the results for strengths and weakness in instructional delivery, allowing teachers B to change strategies in response to changing needs. B

The results of periodic and formative assessments are regularly communicated B with students and parents as part of our collaborative culture. B

A description of best practices that fulfilled our school’s mission as well as challenges from the prior petition period

We attribute our accomplishments to a variety of factors B

During the initial petition period, WAYS accomplished the following successes B

- B Effective instructional techniques – By creating an environment that is B responsive to each students individual needs and designing lesson plans B that differentiate instruction, our teachers are able to closely identify with B each Young Scientists.

- B High Expectations for Student Achievement – When one examines the B programs of our school it is apparent that the strength of WAYS is student B achievement. We are most encouraged by our student’s performance. B ISchool wide indicators of success reveal that we are meeting the goals of B the charter as it is evident that our students are learning. We B acknowledge that our charter is a contracted agreement with the County B with student achievement as the foremost expected outcome. We further B acknowledge our student achievement results:
 - B We have met any required AYP in every year of operation

- B We have been ranked in API decile 8 among statewide B demographically comparable schools
 - B The academic performance of our students is greater than the B academic performance of the majority of the public schools that our B pupils would otherwise have been required to attend as well as the B academic performance of the schools in LAUSD taking into account B the composition of the student population whom we serve
 - B 43% of our students are scoring advanced on the CST in English B language arts and 76% are scoring advanced or proficient.
 - B 56% of our students are scoring advanced on the CST in math and B 85% of our students are scoring advanced or proficient in math on B the CST.
 - B Less than 19% of our students are scoring at below basic or far B below basic on the CST in English language arts, math
 - B Less than 10% of our students are scoring below basic or far below B basic on the CST in science
- B Meeting the needs of Exceptional Students – Another success we have B achieved that adds to our strength of diversity is success with our B exceptional population of students. Our exceptional students include B students with Individual Education Plans with specific goals for Speech B and Language Impairments, Development Delay, Specific Learning B Disability and Autism.
 - B Flexible scheduling – Once we have aggregated and analyzed periodic B and formative assessment data, adjustments in the daily schedule are B sometimes needed that allow for additional time to master learning B objectives that lead to standards mastery. Flexible scheduling also allows B our students to delve deeper in concepts they are learning through the B application of project – based learning. B
 - B Extended School Day/Increased Instructional Time – Since the charter’s B inception, WAYS has provided a longer school day as well as a free after B school program for families in need of such service. With the awarding of B the ASES grant, we have been able to develop a comprehensive, B academically enriched after school program that is tailored to meet the B needs of our Gifted and Talented students as well as those who need B intervention to progress at minimum one level of proficiency each year as B measured by the California Standards Test. Students groups specific to B the after school program have been created in Data Director, our B assessment software program. This program is used to monitor the B effectiveness of intervention and enrichment instruction provided during B after school hours as well as communicate progress to parents. Physical B fitness and enrichment activities such as Mock Trial, Entrepreneur’s Club, B

Doctor's Club, Kimya's 21st Century Nook Readers' Club, Princess, Club, B Noble Men and Dance occur during the after school program.

- B *Integrated Core Curriculum with an Inquiry based approach – The WAYS B curriculum is integrated as a whole and connections are made between B content, processes, knowledge and skills. We believe providing real time B applications of what students learn increases the relevancy and B meaningfulness of learning for our students. When you visit WAYS you B will see classes in which all subjects are taught, multiple modalities to B learning utilized with critical thinking and inquiry being promoted through B the use of Bloom's Taxonomy.
- B *Exemplary Science Education - We believe we are dispelling the B achievement myth that exists with underserved students and girls in B science. We are making a bold attempt to prepare our students for 21st B century career choices that will weigh heavily in the sciences. We are B most proud of our accomplishments in science as they relate to our girls B with 50% of our participating girls scoring advanced in science on the CST B and 78% scoring advanced or proficient in science on the CST.
- B *Diversity -WAYS is proud to support a learning environment that mirrors B our community. The Green Meadows Villa area of Los Angeles is located B two miles from the historic Watts area of South Los Angeles. The B community has a racial mix of African-American and Hispanic -Latino B residents. WAYS' student population is proud to represent both sub-B groups. Our Hispanic – Latino student population has grown significantly B during the petition to closely reflect that of the neighborhood. Similar to B WAYS most students in the Similar Schools Rank qualify for Free or B Reduced Lunch. B

B

- B *Highly qualified leadership, teachers and support staff – Our faculty has B been selected for their innovative yet complimentary talents, team attitude, B diversity and commitment to urban students and their families. All of B teachers and instructional aides are highly qualified and No Child Left Behind compliant. In addition to completing rigorous teaching training B programs, many of our teachers have received Clear credential status B through participation in the Beginning Teacher Support and Assessment B Program. Our faculty embraces the mission of the school and is B encouraged to act as change agents in the lives of the students we serve.

- B Provided a transformational learning climate by succeeding with underserved students – A feature that sets us apart from traditional B charter schools is our efforts to educate the whole child and continuously B find ways to meet the individual needs of all of our students. We are proud B of our success with underserved students. We have never expelled or B “kicked out” a student from WAYS. We utilize interventions such as B Student Success Team, parent education and counseling to address the B unique needs of our student population.
- B Growth in Balance of Racial Ethnicity in Student Population–We B conducted a comprehensive outreach program to attract a diverse B population of students, however due to our strong academic culture many B of our students come to WAYS through the referral of our parents. B Community involvement and engagement is an essential component of B our success. We make intentional efforts to promote a school climate that B systematically promotes communal bonds amongst students as well as B encourages community awareness and service. Over the course of the B petition period, students have learned to care for and rely on classmates B of diverse backgrounds while drawing from the unique attributes of those B other personalities and cultures. B

- B Student, Parent and Community Engagement – We celebrate the B success of our students with our parents and enjoy their input during B monthly Family Nights. Parents serve on the Parent Advisory Council, B which is elected yearly. Through their service we have held several B successful fundraisers that have enabled our students to form the Student B Travel and Research (STAR) program. Through the efforts of our parents, B WAYS students have participated in science excursions to Ensenada, B Mexico, Sacramento, Lake Arrowhead Ranch Outdoor Science Camp and B the Aquarium of the Pacific, Under the Sea Stars overnight stay.

Challenges of initial petition period B

Although accomplished in several dynamics, success has come with challenges B that we humbly acknowledge and address B

- Leadership Transitions –During the first year of operation WAYS was B initially led by a leadership team consisting of consultants from California B State University, Los Angeles. During this initial year of operation an B alternative was sought to placing the leadership of the school at the B direction of consultants. The WAYS Governing Board decided to hire a B Principal as school leader. The first Principal of WAYS was Jan Lyle. B Later during the initial year, Alake Watson joined WAYS as Principal. We B are grateful for the contributions of the initial leaders of WAYS. B

In addition to the principal another leadership transition occurred with the B recruitment of Loretta McDonald as Chairman of the WAYS Governing Board. Ms. McDonald has led the WAYS governing board for the past 3 B years and has helped to provide sound counsel on fiscal matters as well B as strategic leadership for the growth and development of WAYS. Ms. B McDonald was chosen to lead the WAYS governing board for her B knowledge of charter school operations and her expertise in charter B school finance and governance. She is a former charter school business B executive. Ms. McDonald is a graduate of USC's Marshall School of Business and USC's Chief Business Operator Program for Charter B Schools. B

B

- B Outsourcing to a food service vendor– We believe one important aspect of B providing a transformational climate for our students involves feeding them B a diet that is healthy, sustainable and nutritional in value. For this reason, B we have struggled with the concept of outsourcing our meals to a food B service vendor. We have made attempts to work with different vendors on B menu planning and preparation; however, we feel it is most beneficial to B prepare our students meals on-site. The outsourcing of our meal program B is a challenge that we would like to remediate during the new petition B period.
- B Facility Expansion – Our student population continues to grow along with B the reputation of the quality of our school program and although B encouraged by the aspect of growth, we are challenged due to a lack of B space in our current facility that will accommodate our entire student body. B For this reason WAYS has a satellite site nearby in which two B kindergarten classes are held.

B

We've found a number of solutions to remediating our challenges B

- B To address our leadership challenges and after careful consideration, we B made another transition during our first year and hired our second B Principal, Alake Watson. Ms. Watson was chosen for her strong B commitment to urban education, instructional expertise on implementing B standards – based, data – driven instruction and for her ability to lead a B dynamic staff as a visionary. We are confident that we have the right B person on board as we are experiencing outstanding school wide results B under her leadership. Ms. Watson is a graduate of Pepperdine B University's Educational Leadership Academy and is a current Doctoral B Student in Pepperdine's Organizational Leadership program. B
- B To address our challenge of meal program outsourcing we have B constructed a commercial kitchen that has received all necessary B clearances for preparation of meals as commercial kitchen. (building and B safety requirements) B
- B To address our facility expansion needs, WAYS is strategically planning to B partner with local schools for additional space. B

A detailed analysis of the extent to which WAYS has achieved its mission intended in the initial charter petition

17

Achievement of mission B

The mission of WAYS is to create a transformational learning climate in which B students become empowered to be leaders, self-responsible learners, agents of B change, and true scientists. The mission is the centerpiece of the school’s B educational plan. The mission consists of three main concepts: Empowering B students to be leaders, through high quality education that is anchored in the B California State Standards, enabling them to become true scientists who are B global citizens as evidenced by their participation in a rigorous content rich B science program and expecting them to be leaders who will act as change B agents in their local community. We have made measurable strides toward our B mission during our past 4 years: B

- B Closing the achievement gap for underserved students in science – We B are proud of our accomplishments in science education and more B remarkably our success with dispelling the norm of low performance in B science amongst girls. Through a rigorous application of the California B State Standards for science we have been able to strengthen and expand B our FOSS curriculum to include meaningful real-time science education for B our students through high quality instruction that is standards – based, B thematic and partnered with scientific organizations such as Heal the Bay, B The California Science Center, The Aquarium of the Pacific, Arrowhead B Lake Science Camp. For effective science instruction, teachers use the 5 B E model of instruction in which teachers are to Engage, Explore, Explain, B Elaborate, and Evaluate. Students learn from these guided principles B through hands on activities, such as games, and projects. WAYS’ B students have participated in hands on science through the extensive care B of animals, which they were able to “adopt” and care for during non-school B hours. Our focus on science is a factor in the strength of our API score. B When we benchmark the progress of our students against those in our B neighborhood schools we find that our students benefit greatly from an B educational program with science as a focus:

- B Implementation of a rigorous California standards based education – WAYS’ educational program uses inquiry-based approach to create a B student-centered learning community, and address students’ individual B interests, developmental levels, and learning styles. The curriculum is B grounded in the California standards and adheres to the concepts and B goals identified in the state frameworks. Instruction emphasizes power B standards that focus on depth of instruction instead of quantity of B instruction by systematically pacing instructional units. WAYS’ program is B structured around a dynamic and integrated curriculum that has been B aligned with the California core curriculum of English-Language Arts, B Mathematics, Science, and Social Science. The infusion of purposeful B technology serves to stimulate students’ enthusiasm and interest in linking B students to the global community in the learning process. B
- B Partnerships with community service organizations that promote student leadership – Partnerships with organizations such as the American B Leukemia Society and Heal the Bay, give our students opportunities to B fulfill the WAYS mission of empowering our students to be leaders. B Recently our students raised nearly $700.00 for the American Leukemia B

Society's "Pennies for Patients" program. In collaboration with Heal the Bay our students have assisted with Malibu and Santa Monica Beach Cleanups, as well as in Coastal Cleanup Day, the world's largest volunteer event that occurs annually in September. WAYS participates as one of only a few sites that are located in the metropolitan Los Angeles area. WAYS students were recently featured in a one – hour documentary on the significance of Coastal Cleanup Day which aired on September on KTLA. WAYS' partnership with Heal the Bay began through a collaboration with the Watts Gang Task Force in which we've partnered to be active participants in remediating gang activity in the immediate area of WAYS. Each year we host Thanksgiving dinner for families and friends of WAYS and give away gift baskets of food provided through a partnership with Neighborhood Outreach Council. This is a student led event in which turkeys are given away to families in need and the entire school community is invited this celebratory event.

B

- Parent Participation - Our parents act as integral part of WAYS helping us to achieve our mission through partnering with us in their child's education. Parents are encouraged to willingly volunteer 30 hours per year as well as participate in parent education and training classes and monthly Family Nights. We created Family Nights as a means of providing our parents a window of opportunity to grasp the concepts and objectives of their child's learning through their participation in fun, hands-on activities with their children that promote the California state standards.

How WAYS meets the needs of subgroups African American, Socio-Economically Disadvantaged, English Learners and Students with Disabilities

African American

Our African – American students benefit mostly from a positive growth in school climate where high expectations for learning as well as behavior are upheld. As a Professional Learning Community, we monitor the progress of our students through supportive management tools that are tracked through Response to Intervention and Instruction(RTI^{2R}). Through home visits we develop we develop

Economically Disadvantaged B

The saying, “It takes a village to raise a child” is apparent and observable at B WAYS. As a school community, we believe and expect all of our students to B become high achievers. We have found success with our African-American B students through adopting a whole – child approach to education. We are B cognizant of the fact that a child’s education is socially dynamic and therefore B must reach beyond the classroom to include families, extended family , teachers, B the student and all stakeholders involved in the child’s educational success. As a B means of collaboration with our families, we conduct home visits, have monthly B Family Nights where dinner is served to all attendees. We also partner with B social welfare organizations such as Operation School Bell where children in B need receive school uniforms and the Neighborhood Outreach Council which B provides free food that is available to families in upon request. At WAYS we B maintain an open door policy within our school community where the school B administrators and teachers are highly accessible. B

Curriculum Framework

The California State Content Standards operates as a guiding framework for both B curriculum and assessment development at WAYS. WAYS will transition from the B CA State Content Standards to the Common Core Standards when deemed B appropriate and mandated by the State of CA. Until such time, the CA Standards B will be used in the following ways: B

- BUsed to map curriculum into units and lessons B
- BUsed to as a guide when writing behavioral level performance objectives B for lessons. B
- BIncorporated into Adopted Text Program outcomes and assessments B
- BUsed as a guide when developing formative and summative unit level B benchmark performance assessment rubrics. B
- BAggregated into benchmark performance indicators for tri-yearly B summative benchmark performance assessment. B

Professional development at WAYS focuses on improving the ability of teachers B to Bensure Bacademic Bsuccess Bfor B'all Blearners. An example of a recent SMART goal analyzed B the recent performance data of third grade students in ELA, specifically writing B conventions. A SMART goal was developed to increase the percentage of B students demonstrating proficiency on both periodic assessments and the CST. B Strategies and action steps were developed that addressed scheduling, grouping B of students into groups that delineate the level of support needed as intensive, B strategic or benchmark. Through collaboration, a key component of the PLC B model, grade level teams continue to monitor the performance of students in B groups with the expectation of student movement to benchmark groups as well B as moving up one proficiency level on the CST, within a designated period of B time.
